OMUN (Ohio Model United Nations) students held a craft sale in the gymnasium on October 1. Proceeds help fund the students' cost for the annual OMUN competition held in Columbus. This year's trip will be held on December

The craft sale featured twenty- five crafters. A bake sale, raffle, and a 50/50 drawing were part of the day's events. Door prizes were awarded throughout the day

A total of $1500 was received. Cost for the convention is $175 per student. Students were given a chance to earn $5.00 per work session to help defray the student's cost of the competition.

Prior to the competition, students are assigned a country. Once a country is chosen, students research information about the country and focus on a problem that faces this country. The students then present the problem and a solution to the problem in a

A HOMECOMING SUCCESS FULL OF SPIRIT

Wayne Trace football team wins big at homecoming.

By: Michelle Schoenauer and Jualina Dull

The students and staff at Wayne Trace High School had a wonderful homecoming week full of Raider spirit. They started the week off with a pajama day where everyone came to school as they were when they woke up. Later that night was a volleyball

Tuesday, students and staff showed up at school wearing stripes with polka-dots and teased hair for crazy hair and clothes day.

As the next day arrived, Wayne Trace High School became a hick school full of farmers and cowboys. A powder puff game followed that evening. The seniors and sophomores walked away with victories and excitement drew for their match-up on Friday with the entire student body watching.

Thursday was a flash back to the 80's with popped collars and acid washed jeans. Class skits full of humor along with a bonfire followed later that night.

Friday, everyone came back to Raider town wearing crazy red, white, and blue. At 2:00 p.m. everyone gathered

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

On behalf of my family, I am writing this letter to show my support for the MR/DD levy that will be on the upcoming ballot on November 8. This is a replacement levy to help continue the work of the county wide Mental Retardation and Development Disabilities services and pro-

I would never have been aware of the benefits of the program until my brother Denny, currently 48 years old and born with Down's Syndrome, started to work at the PC Workshop. About 20 months ago, it started to become apparent that Denny needed more support than the family could provide. The changes in Denny since working at the PC Workshop have been amazing. We feel blessed to have found this program.

Not only has Denny benefited tremendously from the program, I was amazed to see how many people that I knew to be employed by the PC Workshop. If you have never been to the PC Workshop, you would be surprised to learn how many people work there and the amazing things that they are able to accomplish. You would also be surprised to find that you probably know a lot of the disabled folks that are just doing their thing to get by, just like the rest of us.

Not only does the PC Work shop provide opportunities to people with disabilities, there are also many other jobs created to make the program run smoothly. It is such a benefit to the community and the cost is so small to the taxpayer. Without these services, many of the special needs citizens of the county would have to travel away from their families to receive the help they need. In some cases, they might have to do without.

I would like to urge the citizens of Paulding County to vote in favor of the one mill replacement levy when they go to the polls on November 8. The Local County board of MR/DD provides services that benefit all of Paulding

You wonder why I went away and didn't say goodbye. I couldn't bear to tell you, for it hurts me when you cry. My ship came by day, and beautiful to see, for the captain was King Jesus, and he beckoned unto me, I ran across the way, and fell down at His feet, He gently took me in his arms. My rest is now complete.

Here is an Antwerp native that I received a lot of help from. Leota Stanger was born in Antwerp in 1919. She grew up here and remembers a lot of things that I don't. She worked at the A&P Store and the Kroger store and did domestic work for J.B. Johnson. So she knew a lot of people and happenings. She later ,married Fred Davis. She retired from G. C. Murphy in Defiance, and now lives in the Paulding area. In the early 30's, at the corner of Canal Street and Erie Street where the caution light is, on the south west corner was a Sinclair filling station. It was managed by Fred Carr and his son Lavon. Out back was a double horseshoe court where you could hear the shoes ring against the stakes nearly every night. It also had an outside grease rack. You drove your car on the rack and he worked underneath, also, out back was an official Geodetic Survey marker that said our elevation above sea level is 927 ft. 8 inches.

ner of Erie and East Washington extended, was the Carr brothers Grist Mill. As I understand, it burned down about 1930, but the burned out basement remained there for years, until Ed Robison built a new house on that lot. In the mid 30's, Mr. Fred

Carr was appointed Probate

Going on North, the cor-

Judge of Paulding County. About that time a city water system was installed. The water tower uptown was erected. The other tower to the east was built many years later, after the Weatherhead factory needed more water than one tower could handle.

When the water system was installed, Ed Carr became the water superintendent. Most people just called him the "Water Works Man". Ed Carr was a twin brother to Fred Carr. Up on South Main Street where the Bear's Den (or card room) stands, was two, two story buildings. One was a used furniture store ran by Jim Johnson and the other was a body and fender shop. I think the first one in Antwerp. Early one morning the car repair shop caught fire and it consumed both buildings.

If you stand on Main Street and look east on the south side of the card room, you will see an opening into the field back there. In that field, in the 30's the Harry Shannon Shows would erect a big tent, and have stage shows for a week. You would sit down in the front and hiss and boo when the villain came on stage. Mrs. Dave Johnson lived where the bank now stands, and she had sleeping rooms to let, and generally the whole cast would room with her.

The Antwerp Insurance Agency building was put up by Jake Tracy in the early at the football field to watch the seniors dominate the sophomores in a "friendly" powder puff game. Later that night the stands were crowded with Raider fans full of homecoming spirit. The battle for Homecoming Queen was between Brooke Rosswurm, Abbie Comer, Mindy Feasby, and Alison McClure, while Trevor Wilson, Nathan Davis, Scott Doseck, and Steve Doseck fought for Homecoming King. In the end, Trevor Wilson and Mindy Feasby walked away as the Wayne Trace 2005 Homecoming King and Queen.

WooHoo!

The Wayne Trace Raiders took on the Holgate Tigers and allowed them to score once early in the game. However, the Tigers were shut down from there till the end. The Raider fans stormed the field as the last second ticked away and a winning score of 53-6 shone for the Raiders leaving them 8-0.

Students celebrated on Saturday at a tropical dance with a theme of Island Eternal. Homecoming for the Wayne Trace Raiders was a spirited week with a successful ending.

EXCEL STUDENTS DEMON-STRATES PROJECT AT AHS

At Antwerp High School a program called Exploratory Course for Exceptional Learners is offered to those students who are identified as gifted or have a teacher's approval.

The purpose of this class is to allow gifted students to explore topics in a manner not generally provided in a regular classroom setting. The first project for this course will involve career education: Students will participate in various activities, including shadowing, interviewing, researching, writing, and visiting college campuses.

Students will be assessed based on a final presentation and project of their choice. For the second project, students will choose one topic of which they hold much interest and then be responsible for exploring the topic in a variety of ways that incorporate all aspects of language arts, including reading, researching, writing. Then, the students will teach their peers on the topic during the duration of one classs period. Final assessment will be based on a project of the student's choice.

This course will: celebrate the talented individual you are;; explain to you what giftedness entails; help you identify your own strengths and weaknesses; encourage you to challenge yourself perpetually; expect you to create meaningful and exemplary work; teach you to follow your own timelines; allow you to explore on a level more advanced than any other class; permit you to demonstrate your giftedness to others.

Expectations for the class are same as other classes with additional computer use and making your own deadlines.

Antwerp senior, Jeff Derck, EXCEL student, presented his final project to the class using a presentation board and a Smartboard. The Smartboard is connected to a computer and allows students to touch the screen to interact with the presentation. For example, he shadowed an engineer at Pyromation, so using the Smartboard, he created a power point with a link to Pyromation's web page. By merely clicking on the screen, the web page pops up.

Next to that was the Masonic Building. The Masonic Lodge was chartered in 1861. I don't know if they were in that building at that time or

The next building, where the pizza parlor is, has had many businesses. In the late 20's John Bakile had a grocery store there. A man named Duncan had a car repair shop in there during the week and held gospel meetings on Sunday. I also remember a frozen food meat locker and a few other businesses in that loca-

On the north side of Dagget St., a grocery store was run by Joe Carr. Joe's daughter, Arletta, married a man named Strayer and they opened a market in Payne.

That building has been home to many endeavors, including grocery stores, restaurants, carpet retail, and many other things.

Next to that, to the north, was a Texaco gasoline station and garage ran by Warren Seslar and his son, Delmar. Pearl, Warren's wife, was bookkeeper. Herb Bender was a very capable mechanic there at the garage in the rear of the building.

I guess the new front was put on the L. Smith and Son building about 1920. That was quite an operation. They had a hardware, furniture, electric appliances, Allis Chalmers Farm Equipment and Buick and Pontiac Automobiles. At one time, L. Smith and Son was the oldest Buick dealership in the United States. That really was exciting that a small Ohio community of 1,000 people had a local business of that distinction.

The next building to the north was Harry Wolf's bakery. It later was added to Smith's Hardware.

The next building to the north was a restaurant ran and operated for many years by Joe and Hattie Yager. After WW2, Dr. James Lynch had it for his office and a number of other people had businesses there. Later on, the V.F.W held their meetings upstairs until they built their new building.

The corner building, K.D.'s Catering was built especially for a Restaurant. Alverda Johnson told me that a man named Jack Place erected it for Al's mother or aunt in the late 1890's. It was copied after the "Occidental" a big Restaurant in New York City. It has always been place to eat and over the years became an institution to people of that era. It had an ice cream fountain also. George Cowell (Tiny) had an old fashioned pop corn machine that ran on a kerosene fire, since there was no electricity at that time. He would push the machine out on Main Street on warm summer Saturday nights. You see, everyone we went to town on Sat. night for the movie, but mainly to buy groceries and just to talk and meet their friends and neighbors. You could smell that popcorn all over town. That corner was a popular meeting place.

Over the years, I had heard about Bert Sigler's grocery store. Leota Davis told me that it was on the southwest corner of Main and Railroad Street. It later housed the Oak Bar & Grill, which later moved to where the Oasis Bar now is.

Where There's Moisture, There's Mold

(NAPSA)—With mold's biggest ally being water, the best way to make war on mold is to not let it get out of control. Mold could be caused by a burst pipe, leaking roof, faulty plumbing, even heavy rain or high humidity. When it gets out of control, the best thing to do is call a certified professional

To mobilize your home against mold, get it inspected.

Mold can grow almost anywhere, even beneath the surface of a wall. That type of mold growth is worse than that visible

The Institute of Inspection, Cleaning, and Restoration Certification (IICRC) recommends calling in a professional to take actions and prevent further contamination. These actions include:

- Verifying that the source of the moisture has been eliminated • Containing the area to pre-
- vent cross contamination.
- Properly removing moisture and vacuum-exposed pockets of growth

 • Isolating, removing and pro-
- perly disposing of heavily contaminated materials

In 2005 Paulding County received $7,040 Emergency Food and Shelter Program dollars. Most recently the United Way of Paulding County coordinated the Hurricane Katrina collection of items sent to the hurricane victims. The United Way of Paulding County is also working with the Lutheran Social Services to collect household items. Household items are collected throughout the year for domestic violence victims, homeless, and now for the hurricane victims. Household items such as beds, tables, chairs, dishes, appliances, towels, sheets, pot and pans are being collected. Quite often Paulding County residents contact the United Way of Paulding County for emergency food and shelter issues. The United Way then refers the resident to social service agency or agencies

The residents in Paulding County have always been very, very generous and giving of themselves. Recently a family in Paulding County donated a van to a Hurricane victim family. Please donate to United Way of Paulding County again this year. Ninety-eight percent of the dollars collected in Paulding stay in Paulding County. If you would like a United Way representative to speak at your group or meeting or if you have any questions, please contact Nancy Hessler, Executive Director of United Way of Paulding County at 419-399-5300 or director@ unitedwayofpauldingcounty. org. PAULDING HIGH SCHOOL'S YOUNG GOLF TEAM GETS THEIR STROKES IN

By: Brice Rios

This year's golf team has played well. Their record was

The team was composed of: Chris Britt, Brady Schroeder, Derek Taner, Brad Mericle, Cory Sholl and Eric Martinez. Their coach, Mike Miller, enjoys working with this young team.

The golf team competed in the Division II Sectional tournament. They came in 11th with a team total of 386.

Congratulations to Chris Britt who advanced to Division II District with a score

Chris Britt is a sophomore at PHS and is already a pro at golf. Chris's golf average is 37.5, and he is constantly trying to improve it. Chris went to Districts when he was at his best. At this rate, there is no doubt that he will be part of the PGA in the future.

Chris was born in Defiance County Hospital on August 24, 1989. His parents, Kim and Frenchie Britt, really encouraged him to play golf. Chris has one brother and two sisters.

He had something unusual happen to him when he was three years old. He got his pinky finger chopped in a door, and it had to be reattached. (This obviously hasn't hindered his golf game.)

Iasked Chris, "If you could say one thing about yourself, what would it be?"

Chris said, "I am the white Tiger and a chick magnet."

(NAPSA)—The key to adding light, style and a feeling of openness to a room may be to bring the outside in with a skylight. Decorators say skylights can transform rooms into splendid spaces while adding value to homes.

"With the fresh air and ventila-tion available through skylights and roof windows, homeowners have attractive and effective tools to improve the quality of natural light and ventilation in their homes," says Joe Patrick, product manager with VELUX America. He offers these tips:

Selection—Skylights are used for overhead, out-of-reach applications or with in-reach applications where egress is not required. There are models specially designed to meet code for safe use in hurricane-prone areas. Roof windows are for in-reach applications and they also open wide to provide egress. Velux Sun Tunnel™ skylights are useful when a view to the outside is not needed as with closets, laundry rooms, hallways and interior baths.

Allergies May Continue Into Fall Months: Ragweed, Molds And Dust Mites Are Chief Culprits

(NAPSA)-It's a common misconception that allergies are only an issue during the springtime when flowers are in full bloom and people are "spring cleaning." In fact, allergens and pollen levels can be equal to and even greater during fall months

It is important for allergy sufferers to be aware of signs and symptoms, as well as potential allergens they may come into contact with during fall months. The most common triggers of fall allergies include:

• Ragweed—With pollen that can travel as far as 400 miles with the wind, ragweed is most abundant along roadsides and in fields in the Midwest and central United States.

• Trees—Those that pollinate during fall include the cedar elm, Chinese elm, September elm and eucalyptus.

• Molds-Mold counts can peak during fall months. Outdoor molds can be found in leaf piles, soil and rotting wood. Indoor molds are often found in damp areas including basements, showers and near washers and dryers.

• Dust mites—When the air conditioning is turned off, dust mites can accumulate and thrive. When people turn on the heat, dust mites are released into the environment. According to the American Academy of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology, each year more than 50 million Americans suffer from some sort of allergy. One of the areas often affected by allergies is the eyes. When the eyes are affected, it is called ocular allergies. People who suffer from ocular allergies may experience symptoms such as itchy, red and/or watery eyes.

Addressing ocular allergy symptoms before they start may help reduce the severity of the allergic reaction. Experts recommend patients consult their physician before the onset of symptoms. In addition, Dr. Penny Asbell, professor of ophthalmology, Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City, offers the following

 Be aware of environmental triggers that may cause ocular allergies. You may think your symptoms are a result of the common cold, but they may be a result of allergies

 Get an eve exam—especially if there's a family history of eye problems, such as glaucoma, macular degeneration or amblyopia (lazy eye). "If you constantly rub your eyes or someone in your family complains about 'itchy' eyes, don't ignore the problem," says Dr. Asbell. "Fortunately, there are preventative measures your doctor can recommend for ocular allergies, including eye drops.

Dr. Asbell also offers the following advice for people who regularly experience allergies: Change the environment

Remove or reduce the allergyinducing factors such as pet hair, dust mites or pollen. As long as these troublemakers are around. those with allergies will experience symptoms.
• Clean up your act—Wash our hands to remove the problem-causing antigens and flush your eyes with an artificial tears product. Avoid eye drops that solely constrict the blood vessels in the eye, masking the underlying problem. Take showers before bedtime, apply cold compresses to the eyes and keep your hands away from your eyes to avoid introducing germs and triggering more swelling in the eyes.

• See your doctor-If problems persist, seek professional help. Ask your primary-care physician for a referral to an ophthalmologist or optometrist. They may prescribe a preventative medication, such as Zaditor™ (ketotifen fumarate ophthalmic solution, 0.025 percent), which is indicated for the temporary prevention of itching of the eve due to exposure to allergens such as pollen, pollution, dust or animal dander.

GILLMOR RECOGNIZED FOR EFFORTS ON BEHALF OF THE VISUALLY IMPAIRED

Congressman Paul E. Gillmor (R-Old Fort) was recently awarded the 2005 Senior Guardian Medal of Honor Brighter Vision Award during a ceremony in Washington, D.C. The Seniors Coalition and the Age-related Macular Degeneration (AMD) Alliance International presented Congressman Gillmor with the award in recognition of his efforts to help Americans suffering with AMD and other visual impairments.

"Macular Degeneration is affecting more than 15 million Americans over the age of 50 and thousands of those affected are citizens of the Fifth District," Gillmor said. "AMD is an incurable eye disease and the leading cause of blindness for Americans aged 55 and older. However, if detected early, the progression of this crippling disease can be stalled. That is why creating a wider awareness of AMD and educating those at risk of its signs is so important," Gillmor concluded. "Through his commitment to education and action, Representative Gillmor is one of a select group of Congressmen who have made it a priority to ensure that their constituents have the brightest future that can be offered," said Flora 'Grandma' Green, National Spokeswoman for The Seniors Coalition. "Right now, there is no cure for AMD; but with Members of Congress such as Representative Gillmor, who have resolved to take action, we will increase the likelihood of our seniors to catch AMD in the early stages- through educationand we will have a great opportunity- through researchto identify the illusive cure."

The Seniors Coalition is the nation's leading free-market senior education and advocacy organization with a membership of more than 4 million seniors. For more information on The Seniors Coalition, please visit www. senior.org.

The AMD Alliance International is a global nonprofit coalition of vision and seniors organizations working to raise awareness of age-related macular degeneration (AMD). The Alliance is comprised of 48 organizations in 20 countries which promotes regular eye examinations and provides information about prevention, treatment and support services for AMD. GILLMOR BILL SAVES OHIO'S CHILDREN'S HOSPITALS MILLIONS

The House Energy and Commerce Committee passed legislation sponsored by Congressman Paul E. Gillmor (R- Old Fort) which will save states and Children's Hospitals in America millions of dollars. Gillmor's legislation was offered as an amendment during the Committee's consideration of the budget reconciliation, a measure which adjusts revenues and expenditures to meet the figures of the federal budget. The amendment creates a savings to Children's Hospitals and states which provide outpatient services to low-income children through Medicaid.

"Quite simply, this amendment corrects a glitch in federal law which had exempted our Children's Hospitals and Ohio's Medicaid system from millions of dollars in savings every year. The law required a discount be applied for services provided under Medicare, the federal program providing services for Americans over 65 years of age. However, our priceless Children's Hospitals obviously provide services to children, not seniors," Gillmor said. "As a result of this amendment, 75 Children's Hospitals across the United States, including six in Ohio, may see average annual savings of more than $2 million each. In addition, state Medicaid systems will benefit from nearly $300,000 in annual savings per hospital in the state. These savings will help keep outpatient care affordable and allow our Children's Hospitals to continue providing their invaluable services to Ohio's 3 million children. Most importantly, these savings can be provided to the hospitals and the state, without any cost to the government, and without risking patient care," Gillmor said.

The Ohio's Children Hospital Association, representing hospitals in Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, said that these changes will allow the hospitals to "channel those savings into high priority areas." The Association called Gillmor a "dedicated champion for key children's hospital priorities." The National Association of Children's Hospitals also expressed their "enthusiastic appreciation" for Gillmor's "leadership in introducing HR 4036".

Through today's vote, Gillmor's amendment to the budget reconciliation has been cleared for debate by the full U.S. House of Representatives. The act may then be considered by the U.S. Senate before it can be presented to the President for his signature into law.

MR. RIEDY SINGS HIS WAY INTO THE HEARTS OF STU-DENTS AT PHS

By: David Brown

Mr. Riedy, the new business teacher, is fitting in well here at PHS. He doesn't seem to be embarrassed by much, as many of the students and faculty witnessed at the homecoming pep assembly as he sang The Paulding Fight

Mr. Riedy, who is originally from Sandusky, Ohio, is the second oldest of four. He has an older brother, Jeff, a younger brother, Jude, and the youngest in the family is his sister, Kaitlyn.

His parents, Kim and Joe, raised the four of them in a fun environment, all except for the time that his brother slammed the door on his finger and smashed the tip of it off. He was only 1 1/2 years old at the time. Mr. Riedy stated that they went to Cedar Point often, where the Magnum was his favorite ride.

Mr. Riedy's mother, Kim, is the oldest of ten children.

"That makes for very good family get-togethers." Her mother died when she was young, which split most of their family up. They had to go live with aunts and uncles and other relatives, but they never lost contact with each other.

Kim eventually graduated from a high school in Huron. She went on to the Providence School of Nursing, where she studied to be a registered nurse (RN).

Mr. Riedy's father, Joe, is the voungest of six. He met Mr. Riedy's mother at a career center, and things took off from there. Joe is now driving trucks for a dairy company.

Mr. Riedy grew up going to Sandusky St. Mary's Central Catholic School where he graduated in 2000. There were only 70 students in his graduating class.

He played football while in high school, and he also wrestled. In college, Mr. Riedy played rugby.

419-258-2207 Capture a moment in time for a lifetime of memories.

FOR THE PAULDING

Mr. Riedy, the new business teacher at PHS.

He said, "In order to play rugby, you've got to be tough. Rugby is a very rough sport. It is almost like football, just without any pads."

While at Bowling Green State University, Mr. Riedy studied business education.

One day, while Mr. Riedy and his brother were out getting something to eat, he saw someone who caught his eye. Her name was Rachelle Christy. He went up and started talking to her. They dated for about four months, but Mr. Riedy said he knew she was the one after only about a month. They were engaged on August 5, 2005, at a place called Pike

"It was more like a pond," Mr. Riedy stated. They are planning to be wed on June 24, 2006. Mr. Riedy hopes to be happily married and eventually start a family.

"You can't please everyone, so you've got to please vourself."

Mr. Riedy is very optimistic. He hopes to have a good wrestling season this year. Currently he is the assistant head coach of the freshman football team, but he is looking forward to the upcoming wrestling season.

He doesn't get to do much for football, so he wants to make the best of the wrestling season. He said, "You can't please everyone, so you've got to please yourself."

Mr. Riedy said that there are already twelve people who have signed up for wrestling. He is hoping that by the time the season comes around, he will have about fifteen people wrestling for him.

Mr. Riedy wants to win the conference title. He wants to have about half of the team qualify for districts, and he is confident that he will have at least three wrestlers qualify for state competition.

Mr. Riedy plans to pin the competition to the floor, and pin the trophies on the wall.

Clean up of community eyesore. The old Varner's Restaurant outside of Antwerp.

VARNER'S RESTAURANT

One of the first goals of the Antwerp Beautification Committee was to tear down Varner's Restaurant. A big thank you goes to Pendergrast Farm Drainage for donating the equipment and to James Pendergrast, Sr. for donating his time to tear down the restaurant.

Russel Haney donated the dirt to landscape the area. Eddie Meyers furnished 2 trucks driven by Cork Hughes and Pat Meyers to help haul the dirt. Kenny Hahn, Harry Harmann and Nick Longardner helped haul dirt with their own trucks.

The restaurant is owned by the state. Renee West made two phone calls to Betty Laymen, who in turn called the state department to receive permission to tear down the building. A big thank you goes to Betty for her help in this endeavor. The goal is to landscape the area with trees, decorative fencing, and possibly a gazebo. The committee will be holding fund raisers to be able to finish the project. Any donations or memorials will be appreciated. You may send your donation or memorial to ACDC ATTN: Antwerp Beautification Committee, P. O. Box 251, Antwerp, OH 45813.

LETTER TO OAKWOOD VIL-LAGE RESIDENTS

We are looking at renewal of a levy to continue to provide police protection within the village. Council and myself are asking your support for this important function of the village.

Many times people report that the service wasn't fast enough, did not see someone out, that the officers don't work at all and even as with everything else not everything is handled to everyone's expectations. Sometimes what we hope for or expect is not possible or reality.

In compiling records for the past year I noted that there are 8,736 hours in a year, our reserves worked 737 hours, the chief as the only full time person is required to work 2080 hours.

This leaves 5919 hours beyond what we pay someone for. Of that the chief was out of service for 433 hours when the sheriff's office covered the community. During this remaining 5486 hours chief remains on call for service and works many of those hours beyond his required 40 process we will see there are many hours we don't see anyone unless they are at our door step.

In 2004 there were: 317 calls for service, 257 handled by the chief, 60 handled by the reserves.

There were 147 calls between 6:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. and 170 calls between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.

Night patrol apprehended 3 burglary suspects in the act of breaking and entry.

There were 5 felony cases filed and 26 misdemeanor cases, 44 traffic citations and 15 other misdemeanor cases. All of these require a large amount of paper work and time spent in mayor's court, Paulding County Court and Paulding Common Pleas

I promised to provide accountability when elected and I believe if we think through the facts presented here, the police department warrants our support, and renewal of the levy this November. We have much more service than we sometimes recognize.

I ask for your support for our police levy this fall.

Respectfully, Bud Henke, Mayor Village of Oakwood

COMMUNITY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL HOLIDAY EX-TRAVAGANZA

The crafts are made, the cookie recipes have been selected, hospital volunteers are busily preparing for the holiday season. All in preparation for Saturday, November 19, a day filled with special events sponsored by the Community Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. All three events-- the Gift Faire, Holiday Luncheon, and Cookie Walk / Bake Sale-will be held in St. Michael's Catholic Church Hall.

From 9 am to 2 p.m., the Auxiliary's 24th Annual Holiday Extravaganza will be open. The Holiday Gift and Antique Fair include antique dealers, as well as vendors who normally sell through home parties, Books Are Fun and home-made craft items.

The Cookie Walk / Bake Sale will also begin at a.m. and Christmas cookies, candies and baked goods of all kinds will be featured. Lunch will be served from 11 am to 2 p.m. (or whenever the food runs out) and will feature soups, chicken sandwiches, taco salad, and homemade pies. Carry-out is available.

The Community Memorial Hospital Foundation will be selling pottery bowls, made for the Foundation by Cecil, Ohio artist, Gloria Craig. Recognizing the hospital's 50th anniversary, will be the Auxiliary's cookbook, Treasured Recipes. This cookbook includes recipes from Auxiliary members, hospital employees, retirees, physicians, and even deceased retirees and Red Cross Grey Ladies. Included with the recipes is a history of both the hospital and the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary is raffling off a set of 30 inch Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls. Tickets for the raffle are available at the Sunshine Gift Shop, at the Bargain Box, and at the Holiday Gift Faire on November 19. The winner of the raffle will be drawn following the hospital's Memory Tree Lighting Ceremony.

The Memory Tree Lighting Ceremony will be held on Sunday, December 4, at 7 p.m. in front of the hospital. This is the twenty-third year for the lighting ceremony which evolved from the tree planted in memory of Paul King by The Hicksville Pharmacy in 1978. Memory Tree coupons are available at the hospital, the Bargain Box, area businesses, and the November 19 Holiday Gift Faire. Again this year, there will also be an opportunity to purchase engraved wood ornaments in honor of loved ones and special friends. The ornaments will be placed on a separate tree in the hospital's lobby and can be picked up between December 19 and January 6 and kept as a momento of the 2005 Christmas season.

For more information about any of the Auxiliary's holiday projects, please contact the Auxiliary office at the hospital.

ANTWERP PLAYGROUND A REALITY

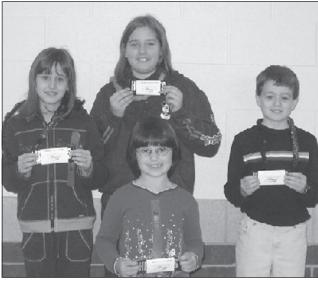

Day 1-Many of Antwerp's men and women showed up Monday to start putting the playground together. Tony Shadwick, from Dynamic Installation, brought the playground and stayed to oversee the installation. Tony was very appreciative of all the people that turned out to help. He had asked for 10, but many more showed up.

Day 2- IT'S ALL UP! Everything is up at the new playground. They are spreading mulch, and are waiting for the second load to come in. Now the cement has to cure and the playground is ready for Sunday!

Dedication Day is Here-Even before you entered the park you could hear the laughing of the children.

Sunday, Oct. 30, at two o'clock the new Antwerp playground was dedicated. It was an afternoon of the community coming together as one to celebrate the opening of the playground. Julie Taylor gave "divine intervention" the credit for being able to complete the project in just one year. The afternoon was filled with games, food and entertainment with many people joining in the celebra-

A big thank you goes to the committee for making this possible. The committee members are Christy DeLong, Michelle Dooley, Kim Franklin, Joni Miesle, Traci O'Donnell, Michelle Reinhart, Missy Richey, Julie Taylor, Christy Williamson, Jeanette Womack. The committee would like to thank the community for their support, which the playground would not be possible without it. Many thanks goes to the volunteers for the time and labor donated in putting the playground up.

Community Memorial Hospital's new Coumadin Testing

COMMUNITY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL ANNOUNCES LESS PAINFUL TEST FOR COUMADIN PATIENTS

Patients on anticoagulation therapy will now have an easier time getting their levels checked thanks to the CoaguChek protime/INR finger-stick meter in use at Community Memorial Hospital. The meter requires just one drop of blood from the finger and results are available in one minute.

Coumadin is prescribed for conditions such as blood clots, artificial heart valves. or to thin the blood to help prevent heart attack or stroke. The medication affects each person differently, so levels need to be monitored on a regular basis. "Some patients get their blood drawn weekly at times. This can be an ordeal for a patient with poor veins, resulting in multiple sticks and bruising. The finger-stick meter should make this process much less painful," says lab manager, Gregg Harpel.

Technical Specialist, Amy Thornell performed correlation studies between the CoaguChek meter and the laboratory analyzer that uses technology that is considered to be the gold standard. "The correlation was impressive at .987 percent. This shows that the INR result is basically identical to the result that we would be getting from a blood draw," says Thornell. She also states that there may be times that a patient will need a blood draw, if the result is abnormally high or if the meter shows an error code, in these events the test will be run on the laboratory's main analyzer.

Current patients coming to CMH for their blood draws simply need to ask for the finger-stick test. Patients not currently getting their protime/INR checked at CMH can have their physician fax an order to Community Memorial's lab at 419-542-5586.

RAILROAD DEPOT

ACDC beautification committee hard at work on train depot in Antwerp. The Antwerp Beautification Committee is also working on repairing the deck, scrapping and painting the building and landscaping. Also, they are involved in taking care of the weeds along the railroad tracks. A big thank you goes to the Beautification Committee for all their hard work in beautifying Antwerp.

A.C.D.C. HONORS NATION-AL "MAKE A DIFFERENCE

October 22 was national "make a difference day" where volunteers across America were encouraged to take part in projects to help their communities. The Antwerp Community Development Committee ironically chose this day to spruce up the old 1880 railroad station that is located on the west end of our town.

This is one of the first buildings inside the city limits that visitors to our town see. Years of neglect had definitely taken a toll on the old historic structure. Armed with no financing and only truckloads of determination a band of our citizens brought their tools, pick-up trucks, and enthusiasm to the site to remove all the decayed decking boards.

Their hopes are to replace it with new deck boards in the spring when they intend to repaint and perform minor repairs to the outside of the structure to give it curb ap-

Special thanks goes to the angels of mercy, Pinkie and Darlene Billman, and Sandra Temple who brought us doughnuts, rolls, and cookies. Pam Zartman and Laurel Hopkins who supplied the sandwiches and Ray Etzler for driving from Van Wert to Antwerp to lend a hand. Others who worked very hard were: Kevin and Renee West, Ed and Lisa Glass, Mike Glass, Kirk Hopkins, and Dan Fowler.

The committee thanks Ken and Jan Hahn for giving us a place to unload the scrap lumber. Several of the workers then went to the old Varner's Restaurant to remove appliances for the scheduled demolition of that decaying structure. The tear down on this structure began Tuesday, October 25.

When you read this article the eyesore on the east end of town will be just a memory! The beautification committee and their A.C.D.C. helpers are on the move. Our town is going to look more inviting and will appeal to prospective home buyers.

If you are interested in being a part of revitalizing your hometown just let any of the committee members know and we will notify you of our committee meeting times.

ficials meeting to review county finances was held on Wednesday, October 19. Financial reports for the county general fund were studied and discussed at the meeting. Sales tax revenue continues to run ahead of the calendar year 2004 receipts. Property tax receipts are below estimates. Also, investment revenue continues to be higher than 2004 due to increases in interest rates. The Monday, October 24, meeting included a discussion about the jail ballot issue that appears on the ballot for the November 8 general election. The issue to be voted on is a one-half mill bond issue designed to raise funds to go with a $1,820,000 state grant. The new jail is proposed for the former AEP building on 127 south of the courthouse square. The Paulding County Commissioners purchased the former AEP building as it is a solid structure and has close proximity to the Courthouse. Commissioner Marty Harmon noted that the "current jail, built in 1876, recently held 33 prisoners, more than the old facility is designed to Harmon continued. hold." saying, "since being elected as a Commissioner I've learned about the state standards for jails, the high costs of having to house prisoners in other counties and the real need for an improved jail in our county. I strongly encourage the voters of Paulding County to consider the need for a new jail and approve this bond is-

The five constitutional amendments on the November 8 ballot also generated discussion during the Monday meeting. State Issue 1 relates to infrastructure such as roads and bridges and expanding research in the state for economic development. Issues 2, 3, 4 and 5 would amend Ohio's Constitution to expand absentee voting opportunities, amend political contribution rules, change the process of redistricting legislative districts and create a new board to administer elections. During the discussion, Tony Burkley, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, noted, "any adjustments to the Ohio Constitution must be thoroughly thought out. It is too easy," Burkley continued, "to have a knee jerk reaction to hot button items that may not actually rise to the level of changing the Constitution. The proposed amendments could create greater problems down the road," concluded Burkley.

Tony Langham, Director of the Paulding County Economic Development office, discussed final arrangements for the move into the former Moore clothing store. The building is being remodeled and will be home for Economic Development as well as the Paulding County Area Foundations and the Marshal Memorial Supporting Foundation. Phone service will continue to offer the 399-8282 number. Langham explained to the Commissioners that work to install telephone lines is nearing completion. All three Paulding County Commissioners traveled to Defiance during the day Monday, October 24 to meet with the Defiance County Commissioners. The subject of the joint meeting was to consider bids received for the Carryall Joint Ditch project.

The Commissioners attended the evening meeting of the Paulding County Planning Commission on Monday, October 24 at the OSU Extension building. The Planning Commission heard a report from Tony Langham about a recent county-wide meeting on water and sewer districts. In addition, the Commission members reviewed updated procedures and forms for lot splits and flood plain regula-

COMMUNITY COMMENTS:

"I have been a patient in various hospitals - large (NYC, Toledo, Ft. Wayne) and small, and the care, concern, compassion, and friendly staff was very evident at CMH. Your staff is to be commended for their professionalism and ability to provide all the services and care they do. Thank you CMH."

"Hicksville Hospital is a good hospital. I would go there at any time."

"You have a wonderful staff of caring and loving nurses."

"CMH did a great job overall (excellent nursing care); Dr. Wiley was great. He took very good care of both me and my baby. He was wonderful. The nurses also did an excellent job. They were all very helpful and comforting."

"As far as the service of the hospital, and the care and friendliness of all the personnel I had contact with, I was quite pleased and happy."

"I'm happy and satisfied with our community hospital and the care I received during my short stay. Right now I don't recall the name of the nurses that attended me. They were pleasant and put me at ease. We appreciate not having to go into Fort Wayne for our medical needs. Keep up the good work."

"The nurses all went out of their way to make sure I was okay after my baby was transferred to Dupont NICU. Everybody was wonderful and there are no words except thank you and God Bless."

"The nursing staff provides excellent care. The nursing staff you have now is 100% better than it used to be. These nurses are caring and have good personalities. They make you feel like they are there to help you and you are not putting them out by asking."
