CIVIL WAR REENACTMENTS ALIVE & WELL IN PAULDING COUNTY

By:Sue Knapp

Joe Wilhelm, from Paulding County, is keeping history alive by his interest in the Confederate Army. He has been a part of the Civil War Reenactments for 9–10 years. Joe is a Colonel in the Battalion or Unit headed by

General Eli Beachy of Chippawa Lake in Medina County. General Beachy is the commander of the Army of Tennessee, which includes the 8th Kentucky Battalion. The Willhelm Battery, which is what Joe is a part of, is included in this. The Units have to prove themselves to become a Battery.

The reenactments could be an actual historical battle or a planned battle. The battles include audience participation.

This August the Battalion will hold a reenactment in Paulding at the fairgrounds on August 11-13 (more details on this later). The Battalion has held reenactments in Indiana, West Virginia, Kentucky, and of course, Ohio. They do 6-8 reenactments a vear.

Because the North (Yankees) had more resources than the South (Confederates) the North were able to have more artillery and horses than the South.

Colonel Wilhelm has a lot of replicas and artillery of the Civil War. He has a 1841 6 pounder cannon. This cannon was pulled by 4 horses. The horses were hooked to a limber (held the powder) and the cannon was pulled behind the limber. He also has several replicas of artillery, and makes some of his own as well.

Gene Scarbourgh, of Grover Hill, has painted a Civil War Mural on a wall of the County Extension Building at the Paulding County Fairgrounds. The mural depicts an actual scene from the Civil War. The cannon in the mural is owned by Colonel Wilhelm. Colonel Wilhelm stands behind the cannon, Terry Wilhelm is left of cannon and Jeff Mekus is right of cannon.

Not pictured is Kelly Dreger. Kelly pulls the rope that sets the cannon off. Also not pictured is J. D. Mecus. J. D. is called the Powder Monkey. He guards the powder box and when a round is called for he brings the round to the Patients needing emergency care in rural areas will soon receive the best care possible even faster. Small and rural hospitals in Ohio will work even more efficiently with police and fire departments to quickly transport patients to the hospital thanks to federal funding grants for systems and quality improvements. The grants will also enable hospitals to upgrade necessary software systems and bolster patient safety activities, among other improvements.

Concurrently,

Thirty-four Ohio hospitals are receiving a total of $761,930 through a partnership between the Ohio Hospital Association's Foundation for Healthy Communities and the Ohio Department of Health (ODH). In cooperation with the State Office of Rural Health (SORH), the foundation is awarding 62 grants for hospitals to improve the quality of health care services and emergency medical services in rural areas.

"The creative and efficient ways these funds will be spent provide a unique opportunity for small hospitals to make changes that benefit patients and the community," said Lynne Ayres, director of the foundation. "Some examples of how the funds will be used include nursing education programs, prescription system upgrades, patient safety initiatives, technology, billing and emergency system improvements," Ayres said.

Thirty-four hospitals taking part in the Critical Access Hospitals (CAH) Program will each receive a $14,415 grant for quality improvement, network development, and emergency medical services. CAH designation qualifies hospitals for cost-based reimbursement for Medicare funds. Those hospitals receiving these additional funds for implementation are:

LIVING LIKE CHRIST

By: Pastor Jeff Shadowen, Westwood Fellowship, Woodburn

Two weeks ago, we began this new series of articles dealing with living the Christian life. Once you have made that all-important decision to accept Christ as your personal Savior and Lord, then the main question in life becomes – What am I to do with this relationship? How do I get to know God?

Once you get over the initial shock of realizing that this relationship - a personal relationship - is indeed possible, then comes the day by day effort on your part to see it grow and flourish.

The most important thing to remember is that this is a long-term relationship - friendship for life . . . even eternal life! You will not put everything in place overnight . . . or even over a week or two.

But even in that first day . . that first appointment with God . . . you can begin to make real progress.

It is interesting to note that Eugene Peterson has written a book on Christian discipleship (living like Christ) and entitled it "A Long Obedience in the Same Direction". I don't believe that Peterson would have this to be understood as a long grind, a long struggle, but rather the simple truth that we are friends with Jesus for life and working at that friendship for life. If you have a good friendship, you will recognize immediately that this speaks of a great opportunity, not a great burden.

How do we build this friendship, this relationship with God? In many ways, just as you would with a special person. You make time for just the two of you. In the case of God, you plan for times of solitude and silence because God is always there with you.

Take a Bible, a hymn book or chorus book, a pad of paper and a pencil or pen and plan to spend time with God-sharing with Him but also listening to Him.

To get alone with a person is the best opportunity to get to know them – the same with God. You would not ask a friend, at least not often, to "tag along" while you take care of life. Don't treat God that way, either. Make some special time for just the two of you. Solitude and silence. Plan to speak to Him, but also plan to listen. God still speaks . . and He will want to speak with you.

ANTWERP CHURCH OF CHRIST ANNUAL BALLOON ASCENSION

Every year (for the last 30 years) the J.A.M. program at the Antwerp Church of Christ has had its annual balloon ascension on the last Wednesday evening of April.

Our local florist, Marilyn of Marilyn's Petals & Vines, fills over 50 balloons with helium, and then we attach name cards with our address and let them go into the atmosphere.

Some have gone as far west as Kansas. We have had some go to the Adirondack Mountains, New York. Two went to Ontario, Canada; several to Pennsylvania; and one to Maryland. One of the most exciting recoveries of the balloons was when one landed in a little girl's front yard on her birthday. She was so happy to get it on her birthday, and she hoped God would send one to her little brother too on his birthday!

The balloon ascension is just one of the many activities that J.A.M. participate in. A couple of Wednesdays ago we went to the Hickory Creek Rest Home in Hicksville. We usually go about twice a year and bring them a program in song. J.A.M. collects an offering each week, and gives it to the Woodburn Christian Children's Home every summer in July. We take a field trip over there in July to fellowship with the children and the families that live there. Around holiday times (Christmas, Resurrection, Thanksgiving, Mother's and Father's Day, Valentine's Day) we have Christ-centered crafts to do, and above all, we learn God's Word each week.

NEWS FROM THE PAYNE USPS

PAULDING COUNTY YOUTH CENTER ORGANIZERS MEET

The Old Antwerp School gymnasium and pool facility got one step closer to becoming a youth center last night with a meeting of local organizers.

Those attending were: Drew Altimas, Bill Cleland, Tim Copsey, Eric Walk, Tom McLaughlin, and Tony and Kay Langham.

The concept is to save the pool and gym vacated by the Antwerp School when it moved into a new facility. Tom McLaughlin bought the real estate and wants the athletic portion to be used by all surrounding area youths. This group is very supportive of our area youth and wants to influence their lives in a positive way.

Bill Cleland stated, "It will be up to the people of this area as to whether we can provide positive leadership for our youth. The adult support will have to come forward.'

Tim Copsey believes programs can be started very soon, because this facility is in such good shape.

Kay Langham related to the group that the Paulding Kiwanis sponsored a youth soccer program and had over 200 young participants, this saved parents from driving to another county for their children to participate. Financial pledges are needed and more people for the Board of Directors are needed. If you want to be a part of this movement call 419-399-8282.

All area citizens are invited to come to the next organizational meeting, Monday, April 10, 7:00 p.m. at the Antwerp Essen House Restaurant.

This is not just an Antwerp program, this is for everyone in the surrounding area.

DEBATE

The new zoning would allow no height restriction, setbacks of 60' from roads and a 5' residential rear setback.

As of right now, the plans are to build 1 bin now with a total of 3 bins when project is done.

Fast also informed the citizens that the Equity now has to store grain out of town, which is less economical and causes more traffic.

The Equity would like to start building the first bin this summer and finish this fall by harvest time.

Council has 30 days to make a decision about the rezoning.

Council had a special meeting after the hearing to discuss the hiring of a new village administrator and approved the bid of $5,500 from Proggemeyer Design Group for easements in the new addition, northwest of town.

PLANNING FOR THE IM-PACT WORLD TOUR IN ITS FINAL STAGES

"Spring Flowers"

The planning committee for the upcoming Impact World Tour has been meeting weekly to discuss the various needs of the upcoming event both of an immediate nature and those further out in Phase 2 and Phase 3. If you haven't heard the events at Van Wert High School Gymnasium and those at Wayne Trace Jr/Sr High "Palace" are being called Phase 1 of an overall attempt to reach the children, youth and young adults in a way that will help their lives be richer and fuller as they continue with school or as they are starting workday lives on a job around the area. This difference is based in getting to know God in a deeper more meaningful way. So why are groups like Team Extreme and the GenXers coming to the Palace at Wayne Trace on April 21 and 22? Yes, you have guessed it they will put on a show of an extreme nature and that show will be integrated with and be followed by a call to the audience to make a Godly commitment to live a Godly or more Godly life.

This event will go on as planned even though in addition to the children, youth and young adults in attendance we need more volunteers, ice, food, good weather, a generator (Wayne Trace does not have enough of the right circuits to power the equipment), fuel for the generator, plywood, various sizes of lumber, blocks for breaking, people to transport kids so parking does not become a problem, the list goes on and on, but we know that it will all come together in one way or another on April 21 and 22 as the extreme youth of our area are introduced to some extreme sports from around the world. The beauty of this is that these events are free, but you must get a ticket before you will be admitted. Tickets will be available at the assemblies, in various locations around the county and a few will be available at the door on a first come first serve basis. Start planning now to come early because seats will fill up fast.

There will be assemblies in the Wayne Trace Jr/Sr High School, Hicksville Jr/Sr High School, the Antwerp Jr/Sr High School, Paulding Jr/Sr High and the Edgerton Jr/Sr High School. These assemblies will be stressing a moral issue with the students with demonstrations of some of the extreme sports and an invitation to come to the Friday and/or Saturday event(s) at the Wayne Trace "Palace". There are prayer walks, counselor training, usher training and 2 more planning meetings before the main event week. Volunteers are still needed to help with many things including set-up and tear-down on April 21 and 22. Setup will begin at around 9:00 a.m. each day. If you can help in any way please contact Becky at 419-263-3215 or on the Internet at rds71@myway. com. If you would be interested in ushering, being a parking lot assistant or counseling please call Paul at 260-312-4444, Amy at 419-263-2017, Don at 419-263-2722, Deb at 419-622-5746 or Bill @ 419-658-2695.

ANTWERP HISTORY By: Stan Jordan A few days ago, I spent a pleasant afternoon talking with Lavon and Bertie Zuber. They have a fine album of old pictures of Antwerp and events that went on years back. The very sad part is, Bryce Steiner down at the West Bend News, said they are not the original prints and would not show up very well in the paper. But we were excited about them, one was about the 1908 ball team and one of the 1926 baseball team. I remembered nearly all those boys.

Bertha Mae was born in 1915, the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Clyde Quaintance. She had four sisters and one brother. She graduated at Antwerp High School in 1933. Her future husband, Lavon was in the same graduating class.

Lavon was born in 1915, on what is now Co. Rd. 204. West of St. Rt. 49, third house on the right. He said at that time it was a small house sitting back in the field. Later it was moved out closer to the road, where the house sits now.

He was the son of Mr. & Mrs Len Zuber. They had 8 children, 4 boys and 4 girls. Farming was their livelihood, as was nearly all their neighbors.

Lavon told me lots of interesting stories about his childhood, I should have taken more notes, instead of getting wrapped up in the history part. He thinks St. Rt. 49 was paved in 1921. He said the black iron bridge that I remember over the Maumee was erected about that time. He said it wasn't finished for traffic so you drove your team and cozy cab to the bridge and then walked across on a plank, and on the other side was a horse and wagon to take you on into Antwerp. After you finished your shopping or business, a wagon would return you to the bridge and to your team & wagon or cozy cab and then head home.

As I understand and remember from talking to the "Old Timers", you could cross the river at the 'ford', which is behind Lynn Bickard's house. Then follow the lane up through Snook's bottom on the north side of the river up to the River Road and then west to St. Rd. 49. I have read somewhere that Snook's charged a toll for crossing their property and using their road. I think at that time 49 was called the Antwerp Pike.

He remembers the race track down in Snook's bottom. He said it was called Snook's Speedway. He said the one called Possum Knob was up west on the River Road on the south side, but he never was there and doesn't exactly know where it was. But he was at Snook's Speedway a number of times. He said it was a big affair. Sometimes they ran Model T's or anything that would run. But occasionally a big name driver (two of the drivers that performed were Buck Jones & a driver with the last name Morey) from Indy would show up, then things got faster and more dangerous. The big boys would crash just like the slower ones. When Lavon talked about the races he would really light up and I would listen because there is not many people left around here that remembers and went to the races.

He told me that in the late 20's on the road to the Maumee River Bridge, what we know as "The Grade", the young boys would speed on that and over the bank they would go. So a sort of cable link guard rail was erected to keep the cars from going over the side. After that didn't work very well, they added a plank from post to post but the boys would go over the side anyhow. He said no one got killed, but wrecks happened there pretty often.

He said he remembers his men cutting ice out of the river in the winter time. They stored it in an insulated ice house at the Harry B. Delong business. It sat where now is Dr. Bricker's stone parking lot.

He remembers that Arista Carr dredged gravel out of the river at the south end of the bridge on the west side. He said that was gravel and pretty good sand and on hot days it was a pretty good swimming hole (with bathing suits).

He remembers well that his Uncle Ed Zuber had a threshing outfit. He ran the steam engine and Ray Zuber ran the separators. There were eight farmers in the thrashing ring. Len Zuber, Weldon Powell, Therman Powell, Dave Manges, Ed Reeb, Harry Carr, Gary Snook and Ray Taylor.

Harry Carr said about where Pat Meyers lives and Ray Taylor lived where Fernie Roth lives now.

Lavon was too young for awhile to hold a big job in the ring so he helped haul water for the steam engine. You went to the river by the way of Snook's bottom. If he was too slow, Uncle Ed would blow the steam whistle to hurry him up a little.

He was telling me about the time they were threshing at Snook's bottom, where Joe

THE CHANGING FACE OF OUR NATION

What's in a name? My last name, Gillmor, has its roots in Scotland. It is a name which means devotee of the Virgin Mary. My wife's last name, Lako, is of Hungarian ancestry. Her grandparents emigrated from Budapest to the United States around 1910. Like most of our neighbors in the Fifth District, we were born in America, but our ancestors came from abroad.

You may already know that the U.S. Senate considered an immigration reform bill last week. This is a debate which began in the U.S. House last December when my colleagues and I passed a border security measure aimed at curbing illegal immigration. As the Senate started their debate, my office received a flurry of phone calls and emails from the Fifth District, bringing even more attention to an already important issue that deserves thoughtful consideration.

Our country was founded as a nation of immigrants and we benefit from liberties unknown to most other societies. The prosperity enjoyed by our citizens makes us the envy of the world. However, our prosperity also makes us a target and we must balance the needs of those good people wishing to share in the American dream, against the threat of our enemies who would use our generosity to cause us harm. Rest assured, the actions taken in Washington are not meant to end our tradition as a welcoming nation but rather to ensure the safety of all our residents. The debate over legal and illegal immigration has been complicated by a history of open borders and too few enforcement agents. However, Congress has provided nearly $54 billion since 2004 for border security operations and raised the number of border patrol agents to more than 11,000 nationwide. While we continue to provide the resources necessary to combat illegal immigration, we must now reassess our current system and debate the merits of protecting our borders and managing the illegal immigrants already within our borders.

When the House began this debate, we started by tackling one issue at a time. For me, border protection is the essential first step to the illegal immigration crisis. That is why I was proud to support the House's bill last December which provided additional Border Patrol agents, the use of widespread state-of-the-art surveillance, greater detention capacity and curbing the business of immigrant smuggling. Once our borders are secure, the legal immigration process will become much more viable and necessary. And any effort to undermine our ability to prosecute and remove those who would break our laws should be rejected.

As this debate continues, I think it is important to maintain our nation as a country which welcomes 'your huddled masses yearning to breathe free' while remaining vigilant against the enemies of our way of life. Simply put, requiring persons from foreign lands to enter America lawfully is a commonsense and fair approach to immigration reform. That is why our laws make the American dream possible for millions of legal immigrants each year.

FIVE THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PER-Sonal Health Informa-Tion

April 9–15 is Health Information Privacy and Security Week.

Your personal health information is a valuable resource to you, your family, and the doctors, nurses, and other healthcare professionals who provide your treatment and care. As Health Information Privacy and Security Week approaches, April 9-15, the health information management (HIM) professionals at Community Memorial Hospital outline five things you need to know about your personal health information:

1. Each of your healthcare providers compiles a separate medical record on you. This means your complete history probably cannot be found in any one place. By keeping your own personal health record (PHR), you can provide your doctors with valuable information that can improve the quality of care you receive. A PHR can help reduce or eliminate duplicate tests and allow you to receive faster, safer treatment and care in an emergency.

2. Federal laws are in place to protect the privacy and give you access rights to your health information. Under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), you can view, request changes to, and obtain copies of health information documents collected and kept about you.

3. Your information can only be seen by those who need it in order to provide your treatment, to facilitate payment for healthcare services, and to make sure quality care is being received. Your information may also be used for research and as a legal document in cases where evidence of care is needed. Anyone else who wants to use it for any other purpose needs your permission first.

4. The healthcare industry and the federal government are working to improve healthcare through the use of information technology. This is done through the use of electronic health records (EHR) and a secure system that would allow EHRs to be shared across healthcare systems and providers to allow you greater access to your health information. Currently most healthcare providers still manage medical records in a paper format.

5. At healthcare organizations across the nation, health information management professionals are working to maintain your health record. These professionals are responsible for ensuring your health record is accurate, complete, confidential, and available when you, your doctor, and other healthcare professionals need access to the information.

Health Information Privacy and Security Week is sponsored by the American Health Information Management Association (AHI-MA) and supported in part by CBay Systems. The week is designed to raise awareness among the public about the importance of personal health information privacy and security. For more information about your personal health information privacy rights, visit www.myphr.org.

AHIMA is the premier association of HIM professionals. AHIMA's 50,000 members are dedicated to the effective management of personal health information needed to deliver quality healthcare to the public. Founded in 1928 to improve the quality of medical records, AHIMA is committed to advancing the HIM profession in an increasingly electronic and global environment through leadership in advocacy, education, certification, and lifelong learning. For information about the association, go to www. ahima.org.

Antwerp, so the whole circus animals, wagons and clowns walked the eight miles to Antwerp. When they neared the corporation limit, one of the elephants roared and scared the farm horses. The sight and the noise was too much for some of the team so they bolted and took the wagon load and all and ran away off across the bottom land. They ran until they came to the tree line at the river. That interrupted things for a couple of hours.

Lavon said they always had some good smart horses. They usually knew where they were going and when they got there. It was usually a team of two, but sometimes a team of five, according to the job to be done. But he added quickly, "I was sure glad when dad got a tractor.

APRIL IS ALCOHOL AWARE-NESS MONTH

Alcoholism, also known as "alcohol dependence", is a disease that includes four symptoms:

—craving: a strong need, or compulsion, to drink.

—loss of control: the inability to limit one's drinking on any given occasion.

—physical dependence: withdrawal symptoms, such as nausea, sweating, shakiness, and anxiety, occur when alcohol use is stopped after a period of heavy drinking.

—tolerance: the need to drink greater amounts of alcohol in order to "get high".

People who are not alcoholic sometimes do not understand why an alcoholic can't just "use a little willpower" to stop drinking. However, alcoholism has little to do with willpower. Alcoholics are in the grip of a powerful "craving" for alcohol that overrides their ability to stop drinking. This need can be as strong as the need for food or water. Although some people are able to recover from alcoholism without help, the majority of alcoholics need assistance. With treatment and support, many individuals are able to stop drinking and rebuild

WE DELIVER YOUR TAX DOLLARS, WE DON'T SPEND THEM

PH: 419-258-2000 • FAX: 419-258-1313 • westbend@verizon.net

Come tax night the Postal Service[™] will be on your side ... twice.

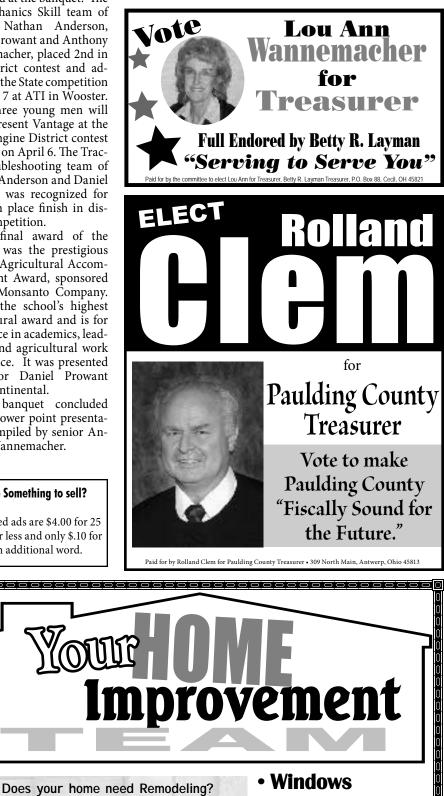

First, we appreciate your business 365 days of the year. We welcome the opportunity to help you fulfill your mission—whether it's paying your monthly bills, sharing your love with family and friends, using the mail to increase your customer base and profit margin, or paying your taxes. Your local postal employees are glad to be able to help.

Second, while we will accept your tax payments, handle them with care, and safeguard them through to delivery, one thing we won't do is spend them. Your Postal Service is financed by the sale of its product and services.

The only funds the Postal Service receives are reimbursements by Congress to provide free mail for the blind and to keep certain postage rates for non-profit and other qualifying organizations below cost.

More than 30 years ago, the federal government performed one of the first successful "extreme makeovers". Congress and the President transformed the two-centuries-old Post Office Department into the U.S. Postal Service®, a new organization with a new mandate: to operate on a break-even basis, without taxpayer subsidies.

That change has been largely successful. Today, your Postal Service is the world's largest and most productive postal system, with mailing rates that are among the lowest in the industrialized world.

Next week, the U.S. House of Representatives will be out of session so that Members of Congress can meet with their constituents in their districts. And that is exactly what Ohio's Fifth District Representative, Paul Gillmor (R- Old Fort), will be doing. In only one week, Gillmor will be conducting more than thirty meetings in all 16 of his counties.

"Discussing the laws pending in Congress with my constituents is one of my favorite parts of this job," Gillmor said. "When Congress is out of session, it's no vacation. We make laws in Washington which effect every American and I need to hear from constituents about how our laws are working. By visiting with people across the district, I hear their thoughts about bills which are coming up, issues which have not yet been addressed, and laws that need to be fixed."

Next week, Gillmor said he will be at many different types of events. Traveling through all 16 of his counties, Ğillmor will be busy touring fire departments; speaking at luncheons and dinners with agricultural leaders, Lions Club Members, and Rotarians; touring six district companies which make everything from ketchup to washing machines; and meeting with local elected officials. Among Gillmor's more than thirty events, he will host a Medicare Prescription Drug Forum with Social Security officials in Bryan and read from the children's book, House Mouse, Senate Mouse, to second graders in Wauseon.

"I try to schedule a variety of meetings in the district so I can hear from as many diverse groups as possible. After a year of success in Congress, it is important to continue asking my constituents how our laws are working and what I can do for them in Washington," Gillmor said.

The program helps in developing a better understanding of achievement and pride that comes with success. David will share experiences of his furry friends and how they inspired him to become and author.

His books will be available for purchase that day and will also have the opportunity to have them autographed.

David was born September 22, 1966 in Fayetteville, Arkansas. His school age years were spent on a dairy farm in the small town of West Fork, Arkansas. After graduation he attended college at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, majoring in Architecture. From there, he attended furniture and home design classes in both Alabama and Oklahoma. David now writes children's books, tells stories to school children, and designs and manufactures custom upholstered home furnishings. David's small furry friends have been the inspiration for his writings. David M. Sargent, Jr., and his friends live in Northwest Arkansas. His writing career began in 1995 with a cruel joke being played on his mother.
