STATEMENT FROM REP. GILLMOR ON THE DEATH OF 180TH FIGHTER WING PILOT MAJOR KEVIN SON-NENBERG

Congressman Paul Gillmor (R-Tiffin) released the following statement after confirming that an F-16 piloted by 180th Fighter Wing Major Kevin Sonnenberg of McClure, Ohio had crashed near Balad, Iraq:

"I join with all of my constituents to offer condolences to the Sonnenberg family during their time of grief. It pains me to imagine the sorrow Kevin's family is feeling at this moment. But the Sonnenbergs do not grieve alone, as our entire community remembers the life of a brave hero.

Our military is the best in the world, and while our men and women in uniform are safer than ever before, nothing can prepare you for a loss such as this. Kevin gave the ultimate sacrifice to make America safer and we owe him a debt of gratitude which can never be repaid.

As we grieve for the loss of our fallen warrior of freedom, we take solace in Christ's words, 'blessed are those who

On June 14, 10:30 a.m., around 250 gathered to watched as ODOT officials and town and county officials broke ground for the expansion of US 24. Representatives from Indiana's News Center channel 21 and Channel 15 out of Ft. Wayne along with Paulding Progress, Defiance Crescent and West Bend News were there to cover the event.

ODOT officials Jim Beasley, Jamie Black and Tim Burkepile along with Senator Steve Buherer spoke on the project and what it will mean to Paulding County in the future. Some also saw first hand the hazardous traffic conditions the citizens in this area have tolerated.

US 24 has become a critical shipping route, with trucks representing a third of the overall traffic. This expansion should alleviate safety concerns about the mixture of truck traffic and residential travel along the current two-lane rural highway.

"Even more than improving safety and mobility, ODOT's highway projects contribute to economic development and job creation," Beasley said. "Projects like the Fort to Port Corridor have the potential to generate the long-term, high value jobs our state must support, as we work together to turnaround Ohio."

Work has started Between Defiance and Napoleon and from US 127 to SR 424. Construction on the segment from the Indiana line to US 127 in Paulding County is scheduled to begin June 18.

"With several miles of construction underway at once, this is truly a unique time in transportation history for this region," said Burkepile. "A four-lane US 24 will transform our highway system in northwest Ohio and open this area for countless opportunities."

BIKER SUNDAY SCHEDULED AT GROVER HILL

Have you heard words like Biker Sunday, Blessing of the Bikes or Poker Run and wondered just what they meant? Two youth of the Middle Creek/Roselms Youth Fellowship, Aryn Denny and Nathan Tumblin, had heard these terms a few times because they have parents who are bikers. The two youth thought it would be fun to invite the motorcycle community to Grover Hill to enjoy a day of good clean fun while raising money for their mission trip in late July. Well because of their hard work all of these events will be coming to Grover Hill, Ohio on June 24, 2007 as the people of the Middle Creek United Methodist Church and the Black Swamp Cruiser Club 06 begin the day by joining hands in worship at the first annual Bikers Sunday Service at the Middle Creek Church. Middle Creek United Methodist Church is located one mile south and one and a quarter mile east of Grover Hill, Ohio on CR 24. The worship service will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will be lead by Pastor Sherry as God is glorified in word and music. Tom Ahl from Lima and others will be present to give their personal testimonies and related experiences.

Following the morning service the bikers and friends will gather at Welcome Park just outside Grover Hill for lunch and the Blessing of the Bikes. The bikes and riders are blessed while asking that God watch over their activities and keep them safe on their rides. The bike blessing will begin about 11:30 a.m.. Everyone is welcome to come and join the celebration, enjoy a good lunch and friendly fellowship.

The main events of the afternoon will begin with a Poker Run with the first bike out at 12 noon and the last bike out at 1:00 p.m. Bikers will ride about an hour to predetermined places and end up back at Welcome Park. They will be dealt a poker hand upon returning and the best poker hand will win a prize. Harmonica John and Nancy will provide music and entertainment as the Grover Hill Lions serve homemade ice cream and strawberries. Proceeds for the day will go toward the youth mission trip to McDowell County, West

History of new U.S. 24 (taken from ODOT web

The proposed US 24 project represents a long-standing commitment of over 30 years by the states of Ohio and Indiana, local governments, regional planning commissions and citizens to improve US 24 between Fort Wayne, IN and Toledo, Ohio. Studies on improvements to US 24 were initiated in the 1960's and have continued off and on through the 1990's.

During the 1960's, the Bureau of Location and Design of the Ohio Department of Highways, a forerunner to the Ohio Department of Transportation conducted a study of US 24 between Maumee and Napoleon, Ohio. The study proposed new and improved alignment between the two cities. The initial plans to construct a new roadway were defeated shortly after the proposal was presented to the public, largely due to farming interests who were opposed to the appropriation of the land for the new roadway.

Additional efforts by the Ohio Department of Hignways to improve US 24 occurred in the mid-1960's. The Ohio Department of Highways planned a new four-lane alignment between Defiance and Napoleon. The highway was designed and right-of-way was purchased for a four-lane facility. However, due to financial reasons, only two lanes of the alignment were constructed.

In the 1970's, interest improving US 24 arose when US 24 widened between I-475 and Dutch Road in the Toledo area. Circumstances, including financial shortcomings, prevented the development of a comprehensive US 24 project.

In the 1980's "grass roots" efforts to alleviate problems associated with US 24 were initiated after a series of accidents in the Village of Waterville, Ohio. Between 1983 and 1984, a committee to study traffic and congestion problems associated with US 24 was formed in the Village. In cooperation with the Village Engineer and ODOT, the committee analyzed traffic patters and volumes mainly related to Waterville.

As the study progressed, the neighboring communities of Napoleon and Defiance became involved in the efforts. As a result of the Waterville Study, it was determined that the problems associated with US 24 were regional in scope and not limited to Waterville and its neighboring communities. The Toledo Metropolitan Area Council of Governments was asked to assist in forming a larger regional group to study the corridor from Toledo to Defiance.

Also during the 1980's, citizens in the Fort Wayne, IN area held a series of meetings to investigate transportation problems associated with US 24 in the Fort Wayne/New Haven area. In 1989, citizens concerned about US 24 from both Indiana and Ohio met in Woodburn, IN. As a result of this meeting, the Fort to Port Improvement Organization was formed. The focus of the group's efforts has been on improving US 24 in its entirety from a safety, mobility and economic development standpoint.

In the 1990's, the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 identified 21 High Priority Corridors on the National Highway System. Among these corridors is the US 24 roadway facility from Fort Wayne, IN to Toledo, Ohio. The purpose of the NHS is to identify priority transportation corridors that are important from an intermodal efficiency, economic growth and/or user safety standpoint and to target these facilities for strategic improvements.

In response to ISTEA, ODOT completed a statewide transportation study and strategic plan, Access Ohio, October 1993, which identified "Transportation Efficiency and Economic Advancement Corridors" also known as "macro-corridors" throughout the State of Ohio. The US 24 corridor was included in the list of macro-corridors.

To facilitate the goals and objectives articulated in Access Ohio, additional studies have been conducted in the US 24 corridor. Those studies include the US 24 improvement Feasibility Study prepared by Mannik and Smith, Inc., in 1994 and the Orgin-Destination Survey on US 24/Ohio Turnpike Corridor at Ohio/Indiana State Line conducted in 1997 by ODOT Division of Multimodal Planning and Programs - Office of Technical Services. The data provided by these and prior studies have provided the factual basis to develop the US 24 project.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am writing in response to Bryce's letter two weeks ago and to Brad Dysinger's 'Views From The Outside" column. I have to say, I am appalled that our freedom of speech has even come under scrutiny as

However, it does not surprise me in this day and age. I sure hope Brad doesn't run for any office next time around. We need his voice the way it is. If he gets elected, they'll shut him up for sure! And, I applauded the West Bend News for protecting our Freedom of Speech! I think it is time America wakes up and starts defending our civil liberties and freedoms. This country was founded with freedoms for all. Does anybody, besides a few, realize what actually is going on in this country? I challenge each and every one of you to turn off American Idol, Dancing with the Stars, and any other reality TV garbage and start researching the REAL problems with this country. Don't get your info from any mainstream media either. They only give half the story and it is biased for their beliefs. Find CREDITABLE news sources online, or go to your public library and research some books on FACTS. The problem is, we watch Fox news, or CNN, and believe what we hear. It is purposely done this way to gain viewers.

AM radio does the same. It is all garbage. They are what I call "ratings whores." Our country has been divided right down the middle-either we are on the left, or we are on the right. The left watches CNN, and the right watches Fox. Both networks feed on viewers to keep their ratings. Plain and simple.

Okay, if anyone must know, I used to be a Republican until I joined a union and started to vote the way the union brainwashed me to believe. I will no longer be either or. I voted for more Republicans this last election than I did Democrats and I was a registered Democrat.

This two party system has destroyed this country and it will get even worse before America finally puts its foot down. I'm sure our forefathers had no idea things would get this bad. Don't get too used to this freedom of speech thing. It will soon be a thing of the past and will be monitored by our government.

They want to tax internet usage and e-mails. They also want to revamp the internet, so THEY control it.

Don't believe me? Research it for yourself.

ANTWERP HISTORY

By: Stan Jordan

If you remember in last week's column we showed a picture of Railroad Street and the Peoples Elevator, taken some time before 1927. Because it showed a mud street, and all the streets were paved by 1927, that picture had to be taken long before that, probably by 1912 or so. Anyhow, it showed the old elevator with the scale area and the elevator that Exchange is I remember in the 1930's. That the biggest picture loaned to us by Nancy Cromly Lichty. Her grandfather, business in Pete Schmuck, was the elevator manager for many years.

Now that is the position that is filled by Susan Arend, except the business has increased many times over.

I had a fine interview with Susan and then I was escorted into Steve Fast's office. Steve is the C.E.O. of the Antwerp Equity Exchange and we had a nice interview.

Steve was born in the Paulding area in 1958. He graduated from Wayne Trace High School in 1977. He graduated from Ohio State in 1981 with a degree in Economics. He lives with his family, his wife and three boys in the Haviland area. He came to the Antwerp Equity Exchange in 1993 and things have been moving ahead ever since then. Steve realized that they couldn't handle those big farmer crops unless the elevator became more modern.

They added new dryers, new 70 foot scales, a new computer system and bigger and faster lags to move the grain. They have improved and updated pretty regularly since then.

The Co-op is represented by a board of five directors and Steve. These people are constantly thinking of the future and realize they must keep in step with the times.

They have four facilities under their care. The Sherwood Elevator is a busy full time business, The Paulding Elevator is used for storage only as is our (Antwerp's) north facility formally the Jr. Snook Storage Bins.

See that big shiny storage bin on the south side of Railroad Street? I don't know the technical name of that but the government would call it "a big shiny grain storage bin" MIAI! That bin will hold

"The

Antwerp

Equity

354,000 bushels of corn. That is the equivalent of 100 railroad grain cars. You see, when the corn harvest is going strong, you must have a place for the grain on those two trucks and the next two and on and on until closing time. Sometimes the harvest window is shortened by bad weather and we've got to move the grain as it comes in. So far, with the updated machinery we are keeping pace, but we must continue to do so. The price of beans and corn have gone up and I think they might go a little higher. I know there is more acres of corn planted for this year and we must be ready for it.

The Antwerp Equity Exchange is the biggest and oldest business in town. In 2006, we handled 21/2 million bushels of corn, 1 million bushels of beans and 600,000 bushels of wheat. I don't know the exact amount of cash that was paid to the area farmers, but I know it was a little under $11,000,000 because that is what Steve's sales totaled. Now that should shake you a little because nearly all of that goes into Antwerp's economy.

Steve tells me that they represent about 350 farmers in the Co-op. The Board of Directors have an annual meeting where they tell all of their decisions and the good news and the bad news, if any and all of the plans for the future.

They are contemplating adding one more bin just to the east of the present one.

By adding another bin, that will just about double the storage space. You won't see any grain lying on the ground like some of the neighboring cities do.

I asked Steve if he sold any corn to the ethanol plants in Indiana. He said in 2006 he sent two shipments of corn to the plant in South Bend. Then he told me something that floored me. He said most of the corn grown in this area goes into dog food. Yes, dog food!! He said the grains of corn grown around here is full of high grade nutrients needed for dog food. How does that grab you?

Then I asked how he ordered in a certain number of railroad cars. He said he doesn't do that. He sells to a broker and the broker takes care of the shipping.

I talked to Susan about the big storage bin. She explained, you drop your grain as usual and it is dried and then lifted up and over into the metal bin. Later on, it can be loaded onto trucks and shipped out or it can be lifted onto a lag and run back over to the elevator and then into some railroad cars. Whenever they can, they use the lags that they already have.

I understand the next new bin will sit to the east and will be pretty much the same as this one. I understand they will move the grain about like it is done now.

The Antwerp Equity is spending a lot of money to keep abreast of the farm harvest. I congratulate these people for all of their foresight and you are seeing "history" being made everyday!

See, Ya!

P.S. In last week's column we talked about the four houses that sit on the south side of Railroad Street where the big shiny storage bin is now. I didn't mention anyone in the first big white house because I wasn't sure. Well, Cara Lou Lichty Handy called me and said that she and her brother, Budd, was born there in the late

As I understand, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Busby owned that house and lived there. They lost a baby and Mabel died in 1924. Then I think Harry sold that place and moved in with his mother, Celia, on Daggett Street. Harry died in 1959. Then later on that house was moved down on Erie Street at the west end of East Washington Street.

A smaller house was built on the corner just south of the elevator office. I know for many years the Lavon Zuber family lived there.

Those with chronic back pain can now breathe a sigh of relief thanks to Dr. Drake Hughes and his FDA cleared non-surgical technology, the DRS® System.

The DRS® System treats herniated, bulging and protruding discs, sciatica, facet syndrome, post-surgical pain and degenerated discs.

The treatment has developed as a clinically proven, non-surgical option for those who suffer pain from lower back.

MRI studies taken before and after treatment show that herniated discs may be repositioned and re-hydrated with this technology. Long-term studies have shown lasting results for many

What could be better than spending a Saturday with your friends and neighbors for a good cause.

Saturday, Scott's Community Festivities in Scott, OH helped the Fire Department with money to buy a thermal-imager. Volunteer fireman, John Doster, explained that a thermal-imager is an infra red camera that can detect heat in unseen places. The camera costs $13,000.

There were things going on for adults and children alike. That afternoon the band, Rustic Acres, played blue grass and polka and they also played "Wipe-Out", they were fun and very entertaining.

That evening the rock band, Red Line, played for the younger at heart. There was face painting by Sally M. Geething, who paints in oil. Kids games were going on all day and Bingo was played later in the afternoon. The restaurant had chicken dinners, hot dogs, pop and also held a bake sale.

Mark your calenders, on August 3, the Fire Department will host a hog roast to help raise money again for the much needed thermalimager. Did I hear something about a lawn mower race included in the August 3 festivities?

WHAT HAPPENS IN WASH-INGTON, STAYS IN WASH-INGTON???

The Congressional Report By: Congressman Paul

You have probably heard the slogan; what happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas. This week there is a move afoot in the Capitol Building for a slogan of our own; what happens in Washington, stays in Washington. Every year, the House starts the annual process of directing money to pay for all of the priorities of the federal government—from funding the War on Terror to providing for Medicare, Social Security and Medicaid. The money is allocated through twelve bills which must be passed by both the House and Senate. It is the process by which these twelve bills are designed which is creating such a conflict in the House this

The debate has been whether earmarks requested by Members of Congress should receive a full and open public debate, which I believe they should, or whether they should be dropped in at the last minute, with little time for scru-

In past years, as the Appropriations House Committee considered the twelve individual bills and brought them up for a vote in the House, you would have found a public record of the funding requests of Members of Congress. Examples of appropriate earmarks include the $24 million I have brought back for two dozen worthy projects in northwest Ohio such as wastewater improvements and life saving road loops. Many of these projects had been overlooked or under funded by the state and federal government and they were all very worthy of public funding.

Unfortunately, this year, Democrats in the House, led by David Obey the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, announced that earmarks would not be a part of the public appropriations bills being considered right now. Instead, the projects would be air dropped into the twelve conference committee bills later this year with no opportunity to be amended by either the House or Senate. This backroom deal would leave virtually no time for oversight and much more opportunity for abuse. In fact, only Congressman Obey and his staff would have the final say as to what projects were funded, creating in essence an "earmark czar". After a public outcry and a united response by House Republicans, Democrats were forced to capitulate and end this plan of secretly funding earmarks. I am not going to blame the entire Democrat Party for the decisions of its leaders but in the people's House, public scrutiny should be the cornerstone of our debates. We deserve an opportunity to know which projects being funded are proper and necessary and which projects are abuses of both authority and influence.

got the recipe, but he had used it for years and years. I can remember when I was a kid, Dad would pluck the flower heads off the dandelions and put them in a great big pot. I think he made it out in the 'little house', so there must have been some sort of cooking stove out there at that time. I can vaguely remember a small oil stove, and a small white one that he cooked it Dad wasn't a boozer, but he sure did like to make the stuff! Most of the time he'd give it away to anyone who had the will to drink it. I especially remember one time when he gave a big jug to ol' Doc Caine as payment for medicine for me and Larry which was probably a penicillin shot. For all I know Doc could have been the one who gave Dad the recipe, he was at our house a lot!

Dad not only made Dandelion wine, he made 'applejack', 'peach wine', 'cherry wine', and he even tried to make beer. He would also make 'grape wine' and 'raisin jack' once in a while. Dad always said raisin jack was good stuff, but really messy to

I remember when the wines done fermenting, Dad and some of the other friends and relatives would have a tasting session as they were putting it in bottles. I don't remember if they capped it or put corks in the bottles.

I doubt if there are many nowadays who would venture into trying to make their own wines. Well, Gary and I tried it, and guess what? We were successful! Smelling that wine 'working' sure did bring some warm memories back of

I don't know who is going to drink this stuff, but, we have three gallons of it, and it will probably still be here when we pass and the kids clean the house out. Well, maybe they'll taste it and wonder where it came from. I won't tell them, if you won't

HB 264 SEEKS TO PROTECT VICTIMS IN SELF DEFENSE SITUATIONS

Weekly column by: State Representative Lynn Wachtmann

For years, governments have enacted laws that state one's home is a place where one should be free of prying and violent attack. Known as "Castle Laws," they are often based on English Common Law from the 1700s. However, over the years many of these laws, while acknowledging the safety and protections of the home, have placed a burden on a person to retreat before being permitted to use force to defend themselves.

In Ohio, if one is attacked in one's own home, one is not forced to flee the home before using deadly force. However, Ohio's current self-defense law places the civil and criminal burden on the victim to prove in court that they were truly acting to defend themselves from serious physical harm or death.

That is why I introduced House Bill 264 this past week, legislation that will give Ohioans the ability to better protect themselves, their families, and their homes from the threat of violence. The legislation seeks to create the presumption that a victim acted in self-defense until it is proven otherwise in a court of law. In addition, HB 264 would grant a victim civil immunity if it is proven in court that they acted in self defense or if the local prosecutor decides not to pursue the case. Companion legislation, Senate Bill 184, has been introduced in the Senate by State Senator Steve Buehrer

By creating a presumption that the victim acted in self defense, the burden is then placed on the criminal to prove they were not there to cause the person harm. Under current law, a person has to prove in court they were acting out of fear of death or serious physical harm and show that the intruder was there to cause such harm. Additionally, since the bill also grants a person civil immunity if there is a finding that they acted in self-defense, regardless if self defense is used outside the home, those who are forced to use self defense will not have to live in fear that they may be later sued by the perpetrator. FBI statistics show that 1/3 of all in-home attacks result in serious injury or death. Because of these statistics, more than 20 states have passed, or are considering, legislation allowing people to stand their ground and protect their homes and families from a violent attack. It is my hope that Ohio will soon join these states by reforming our self-defense laws to give individuals greater protections when defending their loved ones. House Bill 264 has been assigned to the House Criminal Justice Committee, where hearings on the bill will begin in the coming weeks. As the bill works its way through the committee process, I will be sure to keep you updated on its progress.

Our homes are designed to be places of safety, security, and sanctuary for us and for our families. In the unfortunate event that we ever have to come face-to-face with an intruder inside our home. we should be able to defend ourselves without having to worry about being charged with a crime or being sued civilly later. I believe HB 264 is a needed, common-sense reform to our self defense law that will put this burden back on the offender and hold him liable for his actions rather than the homeowner, who is truly the victim.

As always, I welcome your thoughts on any of the matters we discuss here at the Statehouse. I can be reached by phone at (614) 466-3760, by e-mail at district75@ohr. state.oh.us or by writing me, State Representative Lynn Wachtmann, 77 South High Street, 11th Floor, Columbus, Ohio 43215.

LOCAL STUDENT WINS OLIVE GARDEN'S PASTA TALES NATIONAL ESSAY WRITING CONTEST

Ohio-"National Police Officer Day," an imaginative holiday created by Adam Nuest of Payne, was selected by judges as the best written entry by a sixth grader in Olive Garden's 11th annual Pasta Tales national essay writing contest.

Nuest's essay was chosen from more than 10,600 entries written by students in 1st through 12th grade who were asked "If you could create a new holiday, what would you name it and how would it be celebrated?" A winner was announced in each of 12 grade categories. Each grade winner receives a $500 savings bond and dinner with their family at their local Olive Garden.

According to judges, Nuest, who is home-schooled, wrote about a holiday that honors police officers across the country. His essay recognizes these men and women "for their commitment to the communities they protect," noted a judge. Nuest wrote, "I feel this would be important because police officers choose to serve people and communities often with little or no recognition." Nuest adds, 'To celebrate, children could make and send cards to thank them. Restaurants could allow officers and families to eat for free on this day. Newspapers could publish an ad thanking officers and put their pictures in the newspaper. Our country needs to recognize the police officers who protect our communities just like veterans are recognized for protecting our country."

Olive Garden's Pasta
Tales is designed to encourage young writers to express themselves and improve their writing skills. Entries were judged on creativity, adherence to theme, organization, grammar, punctuation and spelling by Olive Garden and the Quill and Scroll Society of the College of Journalism and Communications at the University of Iowa.

"Adam's essay displays inventive thinking and demonstrates a whole new level of creativity," said Steve Coe, spokesperson for Olive Garden. "This year, these young writers exceeded our expectations and unleashed their imaginations. We applaud their efforts and talent.

Olive Garden is the leading restaurant in the Italian dining segment with 603 restaurants, 77,000 employees and more than $2 billion in annual sales. Olive Garden is a division of Darden Restaurants Inc. (NYSE:DRI), the world's largest casual dining company in sales and market

New Treatment For Life-Threatening Disorder

(NAPSA)-Scientists have succeeded in finding a "needle in the haystack" of medical treatment that brings hope to patients desperately awaiting solutions to a lifethreatening disease. The Food and Drug Administration has now approved the first treatment for a rare blood disorder: paroxysmal nocturnal hemoglobinuria (PNH).

PNH results from chronic red blood cell destruction that leads to severe anemia, disabling fatigue and recurrent pain. It develops without warning in men and women of all races, backgrounds and ages. The average length of survival is between 10 and 15 years from the time of diagnosis.

The new treatment works by selectively blocking a component of the body's immune system from attacking red blood cells, thereby reducing symptoms. Until now, patients could only manage their symptoms through blood transfusions, immunosuppressive therapy and, infrequently, bone marrow transplantations—a high-risk and painful last-resort procedure

"The Aplastic Anemia & MDS International Foundation [AA& MDSIF] is extremely pleased that PNH patients now have a treatment specifically for their disease. This is a tremendous step forward for all who suffer from PNH-and for anyone with bone marrow failure," said Sherrie Van Vliet, vice-

Doctors now have a way to help people with a rare but life-threatening disease chairperson and the mother of a child with aplastic anemia

Alexion, the company that created the new drug, Soliris (eculizumab), has also introduced Soliris OneSource, a treatment support service for PNH patients and their health care providers. Each patient in the program gets support from a registered nurse case manager who provides information and facilitates solutions to help patients. The company's goal is that all PNH patients who can benefit from Soliris will have access to it.

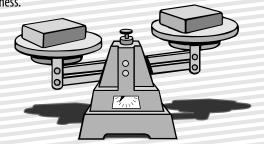

You can learn more about One-Source by calling (888) Soliris (888-765-4747) or visiting www. soliris.net. More information about PNH and other rare diseases is at www.rarediseases.org and www.aamds.org.

HICKSVILLE RELAY FOR LIFE SET FOR JUNE 22 AND

Hicksville The High School track will be the site for the Hicksville Relay For Life this Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23.

The evening will kick off at 6:00 p.m. with opening ceremonies led by Mayor Larry Haver. Honorary cochairs Donn Snell and Victor E. Mansfield-Carr along with all cancer survivors and caregivers will be honored by rounding the track for the first laps of the 18-hour event. Throughout the night and until noon on Saturday representatives of the 21 teams participating will be walking on the track non-stop to raise money for the fight against cancer.

A carnival atmosphere will prevail at the track as each team will offer food, confections and a wide variety of items for sale with all proceeds going towards the team's RFL goal. A silent auction will begin at 5:00 p.m. in the big tent on the track infield and will run through Saturday at 8:30 a.m.

Co-chairmen Nicki Miller, Danna Kimpel and Kim Kimpel note that there will be some new features this year in addition to the many RFL favorites that keep people coming out each year to support the event. This year, survivors will be honored at a reception which will allow them to visit team booths for special gifts or just sit and enjoy the entertainment and fellowship Relay provides.

Entertainment will also be featured through the evening. Acts planning on appearing on the RFL stage include: inspirational singer Randy Long of Van Wert (6:30 - 7:30); the Fike Brothers Bluegrass Band (7:45 - 8:45); Community Christian Center Praise Band (8:45 – 9:45); The Wannabees (10:45 - 12:15) and Relative Insanity (12:15 - 1:30 a.m.)

The Miss Relay contestants will be introduced at 7:30 p.m. The "beauty" pageant features a male team member decked out in beauty pageant style. The contestants raise money for their team through donations and the contestant raising the most money when the contest ends at 11:00 p.m. will wear the 2007 Miss Relay

At 10:00 p.m. Relay's signature Luminaria ceremony will take place with special music provided by Brooke Schooley and Old Age Stationery (Kassi Brown and Ellen Coplin). Throughout the night themed laps will liven up walkers and karaoke (1:30 - 3:30 a.m.) and movies for all on the big screen from 3:30 – 6:00 a.m. At 6:00 a.m. walkers will rise and shine to reveille, big band music and exercise time. Breakfast will be available to the public in the pavilion at 8:00 a.m. preceding the live auction which begins under the big tent at 9:00 a.m.

A wide variety of antique, handmade and new items including items like a gas grill, Bradford Exchange Collector plates, Vera Bradley items, lawn ornaments, quilts, afghans and filled baskets will be up for bid. Specialty items like a dessert-of-the-month or a gallon of homemade ice cream each month for a year will also be offered to the highest bidder.

The closing ceremonies are set to begin at 11:00 a.m. with the announcement of team tallies for Relay, team awards and the traditional balloon release ending the Relay at 12

Chairs Nicki Miller, Danna Kimpel and Kim Kimpel say that this year the goal for Relay is $75,000 and that with the support of the community the goal is in sight. The Hicksville Relay has raised over $200,000 in the past four years and that RFL funds are used by the American Cancer Society for research to find breakthroughs in cancer treatment and continue to work towards finding a cure for cancer. Nicki, Danna, Kim and all of the Hicksville Relayers invite all to come by the track and see what Relay is all about.

Something as basic as adding window treatments can have an immediate impact and a lasting effect on value—especially since window dressings usually remain in the home as part of the sale. The key is to find practical window fashions with a long shelf life that will add form as well as function. For instance, you can transform the light in a room and block harmful UV rays with products such as Silhouette® window shad-

"Today, people like an open and airy kitchen with a lot of work space," says Robert Irwin, author of "Home Buyer's Checklist." Additionally, a master bathroom, especially with a spa or whirlpool tub, and a separate shower with steam and/or multiple jets, is considered a big asset. • Master Suites—A sumptuous bedroom is on many homeowners' wish lists. Make sure it offers ample storage space and a comfortable place to lounge.

• Natural Materials—Americans increasingly want a connection between the home and outdoors and the serenity that nature brings. Decorate with materials that offer natural tex-

Investing in hardwood shutters increases the value of your home and adds architectural detail.

ASHLEY BURT MAKES TEAM USA

On Saturday, June 9 in Waterford, Michigan, Ashley Burt of Oakwood made Team USA for BMX racing (BMX is motocross for bicycles). Burt placed third in the 11 year old girl's class. This is the first time USA Cycling and UCI have had a BMX National Championship. If Burt can get sponsored she will be able to compete July 26-29 in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada at the World Championships against riders from 42 nations. Ashley, in 2006, was National #12. In the current point standings she is 11th nationally, first in the Midwest and first in the Indiana State Series.

Ashley is considered by many in the sport of BMX as one of the best young talents in the girl's class and has a very good chance to make the main (medal race) at the Worlds. She has only been in BMX four years but races like a seasoned veteran. Ashley will be a fifth grader this year at Wayne Trace/Grover Hill. In 2008 BMX racing will debut at the Olympic Games in Beijing, China. Riders must be eighteen or older to compete in the Olympics.
