NATIONAL SCHOOL BUS SAFETY WEEK IS OCTOBER 20-24!

The Antwerp Local School District joins school districts and transporting agencies throughout Ohio and the nation in celebrating the importance of National School Bus Safety Week, October 20-24.

This year's theme, "Stop on Red, Kids Ahead," reminds Ohio's motorists to be mindful of the presence of stopped school buses and to stop any time a bus is loading or unloading children. Student injuries and fatalities occur as a result of motorists who attempt to pass a stopped school bus with flashing red warning lights while students load or unload. Ohio Revised Code 4511.75 requires motorists to stop for a school bus any time it has stopped for students to load or unload. Motorists may not resume motion until the school bus has resumed motion.

Nearly eighty percent of Ohio students ride on school buses each day, and nearly 17,000 bus drivers, mechanics, trainers, secretaries and supervisors are dedicated to providing safe transportation for children in the state. National studies show school buses are the safest method

"Ensuring the safety of students as they enter and exit the bus is crucial," said Superintendent Mark Hartman. "We are training our bus drivers to be cautious, but we need help from parents to make sure they watch for school buses stopped to load and unload children. No issue is so urgent that motorists cannot wait for a school bus."

Antwerp's transportation department offers the following tips to remind your child while getting off and on the bus:

**Always remain in direct eyesight of the bus driver;

**Get to the bus stop in plenty of time;

**Take 10 giant steps back from the curb while waiting for the bus and 10 steps when exiting the bus;

**Never reach underneath the bus; **Always follow the driver's directions for how to

er's directions for how to cross the street;

**Be alert to traffic and look both ways;

**Always cross in front of the bus, but only when the bus driver signals it is safe to do so.

STATE ACCREDITS PAULD-ING COUNTY BOARD OF MR/DD FOR FOUR YEARS

The Paulding County Board of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities has been accredited by the State of Ohio for the quality services and supports it provides to people with disabilities.

An accreditation certificate has been issued to the Board by the Director of the Ohio Department of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities effective June 1, 2008.

The comprehensive state review was conducted in February and March, 2008. The accreditation review is a very rigorous and thorough process and takes nearly six months to complete. A team of surveyors from the Department of MR/DD reviewed all areas of county board operations including personnel administration, services and support, major unusual incidents, residential services, behavior support, adult services, transportation, early intervention, and the general efficiency and effectiveness of the county board.

The results of the review found that the Paulding County Board of MR/DD achieved substantial compliance with minimum standards and subsequently obtained a 4-year period of accreditation.

County boards are often given at a minimum of nine months notice to prepare for the review. The preparation of an accreditation review requires many staff hours and a great deal of coordination between programs and departments.

The administrator and staff of the Paulding County Board of MR/DD should be commended for their efforts.

Mr. William Priest, President of the Paulding County Board of Mental Retardation and Development Disabilities stated that "The results of the accreditation process and review awarding Paulding County Board of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities a four (4) year certification is a tremendous accomplishment. The leadership team, staff, and members of the Board, as well as the PC Workshop not-for-profit Board members have the Board's highest praise for ensuring quality programs and services which meet all laws and rules on behalf of those citizens of Paulding County that have mental retardation and other developmental disabilities."

The Melrose UM Church is planning some good home made soup, and sandwiches made by the best cooks in the area on the 22nd of October from 4:00-7:00 p.m.

in the Holy Place.

What does this mean

"abomination of desolation"?

This is the sign they will see,

and it was spoken of through

Daniel the prophet. This phrase occurs twice in the book of Daniel and the word

'abomination' occurs three times - Daniel 9:27, 11:31,

12:11. What Daniel is talking about here is the pollution of God's house, the temple. This was fulfilled the first time in

167 BC, when Antiochus Epi-

phanes-a King of the Seleucid empire—erected a pagan altar over the altar of burnt offering, sacrificed a pig to

Zeus, then forced the Jewish people to offer up swine daily on his altar. In the Catholic Bible I have, you can find this in I Machabees 1:54-64;

II Machabees 6:1-5; also in

Josephus' writing of Antiquities 5:4. These books I and II

Machabees are not inspired books, they are books written by men as part of their way of keeping a record of the Jewish verse 15, when it says, "let the reader understand" is in parenthesis. Why would this be in parenthesis? What Jesus

Notice in the last part of history.

On the menu will be chicken noodle soup, vegetable soup, potato soup, sloppy joes, hot dogs and lots of good pie to choose from.

The church family invites you to come and spend the evening meeting old friends and making new ones. The meal will be by donation only.

OF BAROMETERS AND HURRICANES

By: Pastor Joel DeSelm, Woodburn Missionary Church

I stumbled upon a true story of a man living in the Stamford, Connecticut suburbs who decided to fulfill a long-standing desire. He had always wanted to own a real-life barometer. After doing some catalog shopping and reading about the various types available, he finally walked two miles to the Abercrombie and Fitch Department store in downtown Stamford.

There he purchased the exact model he wanted. Delighted with his acquisition, the man took his new barometer home and spent the rest of the afternoon reading the directions and owner's manual. He then proudly hung the instrument on his living room wall. There was one small problem-the reading indicated "Hurricane!" Disgusted, the man wrapped it back up and walked back to the department store. He handed the barometer to the clerk and snorted, "You sold me a defective instrument!" All it does is register "Hurricane!" The sales person, quite embarrassed, replied, "No problem, sir. We'll replace it with a perfect one." Again the man headed for home with his new barometer. When he arrived, though, he discovered that his house had been blown away by a hurricane! It was the great 1938 New England hurricane that came almost without warning-except for those people who had barometers-and more importantly-those people who believed what the barometers said.

As I read that account I was immediately reminded of how the Word of God is like that barometer. It unashamedly states the truth. It tells us that we are sinners. It states that God's principles will give us freedom and blessedness when obeyed. And it warns us of the severe problems that will result when God's principles are violated.

GREAT FOOD FOR ALL NOW TAKING PAYMENTS ELEC-TRONICALLY

Great Food For All is a food service that has helped many families in our community to have access to top quality food items at a fraction of the retail cost. Christ's Cupboard Ministries brought this service to the Hicksville area earlier this year, and already over 150 families from our community have benefited from this program. We are now excited to announce that Great Food For All (GFFA) will be even more accessible to individuals in our community.

In the past we have only been able to accept cash for the pre-paid food orders. This past week we obtained an electronic point of sale (POS) machine that will enable us to accept and process food stamps electronically, additionally we will also now be able to accept debit, Visa, and MasterCard as payment for food orders. Customers wishing to pay with food stamps can come in or call in with their order, and their EBT card will be swiped and processed on the food distribution day (due to federal regulations, it cannot be swiped prior to that day). Customers wanting to pay with debit or credit cards can come in to the Nazarene Church, and pay with their card at the time they place their order. At this time we can only use the machine at this location; however, we hope to in the future have the capability of using it at the food panty as well. We already used this machine with much success during our recent distribution on Saturday, October 18, 2008. We will still be able to take cash or money orders for the food orders. However, since the national program does not allow us to take personal checks, we are hopeful that this POS machine will increase the buying power for those wanting to participate in the program, which before may not of had the cash available by the order deadline date. The GFFA food service continues to be open to anyone wanting to participate. The program has NO INCOME GUIDELINES AND REQUIRES NO AP-PLICATIONS. Anyone who eats and wants to save money can purchase the food. The only requirement to participate in the program is that an individual place an order for the food during the specified order period for each month. This is done by coming to one of the ordering dates and locations, and placing a pre-paid order for the food. Information about the GFFA program is available for online viewing at www.greatfoodforall.com. The deadline for ordering from the November menu is Saturday, November 1st. We will be taking orders on Fridays, October 24 and 31 from

JAMES DOUGHTY UPDATE

Family and friends,

We got the results Friday that Jim once again has leukemia; he has 50-60% blast cells this time. As you can imagine, we are absolutely devastated. It has been wonderful being in our own home again and spending as much time together as we possibly can. I have been working at a specialty shoe store in Fort Wayne since August and though I am grateful to have my job, I had to take a huge pay-cut and they don't offer any health insurance. Needless to say the past couple of months have been a very hard adjustment for both of us. I am now gone between 50-60 hours a week and the decrease in pay has definitely put us way behind financially. We are currently trying to make cobra payments to keep Jim insured until the paperwork goes thru to have him covered thru Medicare.

We are not sure what the game plan is for treatment this time around. We are assuming more chemo to try to get the leukemia in remission and then hopefully Atlanta can send more donor cells. Our oncologist here, Dr. Whalen has been in touch with the doctors in Atlanta to try to find out what the course of action needs to be. We are thinking he will be starting chemo again this week and hopefully that will be able to be done out of Fort Wayne. If not there, it would have to be out of Cleveland. There is no way for us to go back to Atlanta for treatment again due to the fact that I have to work so we have an income coming in and we don't lose our house, insurance, etc. We also do not have dependable transportation to make the drive itself and then go back and forth to clinic everyday. If the treatment needs to be done out of Cleveland, that will put us in a bad situation as well because I have to have a job to keep the money coming in yet I am responsible for being the caregiver for Jim thru treatment. I cannot express enough the need for thoughts, prayers and donations at this time (we realize it's a tough time for evryone right now... if able to make a contribution, donations can be made thru our website at www.jamesdoughtyfoundation.com and updates are provided there as well). It has been a constant struggle mentally, physically and financially since we have been back from Atlanta and it's going to get even harder once again. We were hoping to celebrate our 8th wedding anniversary on the 21st somewhere nice this year, but I see that we will most likely be in the hospital again. We definitely need to prepare ourselves for yet another fight... Please continue to keep us in your thoughts and prayers as we face more difficult times ahead. I will send out updates as we get information. God's Blessings to you all, —Sera

Kascor scored his first of 3 second half touchdowns on the next possession, going 25 yards for the score and Leo was back on top 21-13. The Warriors came right back, going 78 yards on their next drive, Jayme Schwartz running it into the end zone from 2 yards out and with the Hetrick 2 point conversion, Woodlan had tied the game at 21-21 going into the fourth quarter. One play into the final period, Leo got a 41 yard run for a touchdown from Kascor and on their next possession. Kascor added a 71 yard run for a score for the Lions and a 35-21 lead halfway through the fourth period. Woodlan got a score on a

Hetrick 13 yard run and then hit Luke Schwartz for the 2point coversion to trim the lead to 35-29 with a minute to go on the game. ### LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I have never written a letter to the editor in my life, but my deep concern for the taxpayers of Paulding County—of which I am one—is prompting me to do so. I am especially concerned about the Prosecutor's race. The current environment is a parttime prosecutor that we pay $56,226 (and some change) a year, plus all benefits. The prosecutor current also charges the county taxpayers $850.00 per month for the use of his private business office to conduct county business. Most of us who work fulltime don't even come close to that salary, let alone receive the additional benefits.

Business owners, you tired of waiting several months for prosecution of bad checks? Private citizens, are you tired of waiting several months for prosecutorial action to be taken if you are a victim of crime? How many victims in Paulding County have had faith in the current prosecutors' office that justice will be served, only to discover that plea deals have been made without your knowledge and the offender walks away? I am by no means a political animal. I was raised to believe that right is right, and wrong is wrong. All of the situations that I have described have happened to my family, and more than likely, some of you. Something is gravely wrong with the operation of the current prosecutor. The citizens of Paulding County deserve a full-time prosecutor that will do the work of the people for the people without the distraction of his other employment.

Since I do not reside in Paulding County, I cannot vote to make a change. As a business owner and taxpayer in this fine county I can express my opinion. Our hard earned tax dollars need to be put to better use, budgeted far better than they have been and get results for our investment. This is not a political decision to be made on our part. It is one of looking and planning ahead for the future development and financial growth of our county during a very turbulent time. It is time for a change. Please help make that change when you vote on November 4.

Is Joe Burkard really for victims' rights? I think not! To make a long story short, my three yr. old son was lifeflighted last July while in his biological father's care. His father was uncooperative on the details that caused my son's injuries. After the test results came back at Lutheran it was found that my son had heat exhaustion, dehydration, and had ingested cocaine. Come to find out my son was locked in a car for who knows how long in 95 degree weather with the windows rolled up, and there is no explanation on how he ingested the cocaine. My son's father, who is a repeat felony offender, was indicted on a 2nd degree child endangerment and a 4th degree felony.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

When the first court appearance came, I was not notified. As the minor victim's mother, why was I not notified? Where was our say? I happened to be at the courthouse, and to my surprise his father was waiting to go in for a pre-trial. I went in and spoke with Burkard and let him know exactly what I wanted to happen. I told him that I wanted the max, no plea. He then responded to me not to have any worries that with my son's father being a repeat offender with a long rap sheet that he was looking at least 15 years.

Then once again I was not notified that the next court date was changed. At this court date Burkard made a plea bargain and my son's father only got 17 months on an attempted child endangerment charge! There was no attempt-it happened. Drug dealers and less crimes get more time than he did, and my son almost died. He went through a few agonizing days withdrawing from the cocaine.

Can you imagine if this happened to your child? Where was our justice? The sad part it that once he (my son's father) gets out this December, I may have to fight to keep him away. This man has never paid a dime in child support and has been in prison three and a half years of my now four yr. old son's life, and I may have to fight in our crooked system to keep my child safe from him. There are many other things that have happened that prove that my son is not safe with this man. What can I do? The system has failed us. Why would anyone make plea agreements with repeat offenders? Give them the max! Vote Russell Herman for the new prosecutor; we need someone who is really in it for the victims.

-Erica Sanders

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In response to Erica Sanders' letter:

On July 9, 2007, the two year old son of Ms. Sanders was in the custody of the biological father for parenting time. The father reported to the investigating officer that his son was found unresponsive at his home. Father stated that when he went to his car to get medical assistance he found that his keys were locked in the car and he had to break the window. Medical testing did reveal that the child had heat exhaustion and had a trace amount of cocaine in the child's system.

Conflicting statements were allegedly made by the father to Ms. Sanders related to the child being locked in the car and that the father had cocaine in his possession, but to no one else. None of the alleged statements on the locked car situation were either admitted to by the father to law enforcement, or supported by another independent witness. Further, cocaine ingested into a person's system is present for many days in trace amounts in that person's system. Medically, there is no way to determine exactly when the cocaine was ingested or how it was in-

As the State always carries the burden of proof beyond a reasonable doubt, weighing the available evidence, the plea agreement entered into here was appropriate. This was a very serious and unfortunate situation. Based upon information from Ms. Sanders, the child did recover from the July 9, 2007 incident. Had this matter proceeded to trial based on what evidence was available, not mere speculation and statements allegedly made, the father may NOT have served the 17 month sentence in the State Penitentiary. The father was sentenced in the Paulding County Common Pleas Court on October 3, 2007.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Best Fans In The Land, As a student here at Ohio

State and member of the Sportsmanship Council (we promote positive and respectful sportsmanship), I cannot wait until the upcoming game against one of our Big Ten rivals, the Nittany Lions of Penn State. With everyone in Buckeye Nation, we all know what Ohio State stands for: Tradition, People, & Excellence. We especially pride ourselves on tradition, whether it being Block O, the Gold Pants, Carmen Ohio, Hang on Sloopy, Mirror Lake, plus all the others. I for one especially know the potential Ohio State fans have when it comes to showing their support for our loved Buckeyes. But nothing is better than a fall night game in the Horseshoe, with 105,000 screaming fans wearing their scarlet and rooting their team on to victory. But we don't always live up to that potential because we are used to the excellence that I talked about earlier. Well, that needs to change, starting this weekend against Penn State. This Saturday gives us the perfect atmosphere for a titanic clash between two of the nation's best. We need to inject our Buckeye Spirit into the whole stadium, including the fans, players, and coaches in a respectful way. This is our time to shine.

As the season is winding down, I am asking you Buckeye fans to come to the game, cheer for our team, and share a part in the amazing atmosphere. Remember this is our "Scarlet Fever" game. Show Penn State we know how to unite and wear scarlet. It is up to each one of you to show up early, generate excitement, and hopefully sing Carmen Ohio in victory. As you know this game is the game of the week on ABC, so come prepared for a blockbuster! We know we have the Best %#$& Band in the Land; Coach Tressel once said we have the Best %#$& Team in the Land; now it's time for us to show the nation what we truly are:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The members of the faculty council of Paulding High School felt we should write a letter to ask our community for help. We have a renewal (not a new tax) levy coming up in November that is essential to maintain the standard of education in our district. We would like to point out that our high school received an Excellent rating from the Ohio State Department of Education for the 2007 - 2008 school year. This means that we met or exceeded state standards for our Ohio Graduation Tests, our attendance rate, and our graduation rate. There are six rating designations, and Paulding High School received the second highest rating. This is quite an honor for our school, and we are striving to not only keep that rating, but also improve to the highest rating possible.

We would also like to point out that last year's Science Olympiad teams both qualified for state, earning second and fourth place finishes at the regional level. At state, four students earned medals. This is phenomenal for a school our size. Our engineering team continues to earn amazing results in competition. Last year, the varsity team placed fourth at the regional level, seventh in the state, and twenty-seventh at the national level. Twenty-seventh in the entire United States is astounding for any school and is a tremendous point of pride for us. Paulding social studies students have attended the Ohio Model United Nations in Columbus since 2003 and have won awards every year.

Our FFA and FCCLA programs are outstanding. One FCCLA student organized a project three years ago called "Pretty in Pink" that she took to national competition. Our local cancer society has continued this program as an annual fundraiser to help pay the costs of people receiving cancer treatments. Our FCCLA is now organizing an effort to send Christmas trees and decorations to troops overseas. What a difference our young people can make! FFA awards are too numerous to mention, but one that needs recognition is the student who has qualified for a national award in Environmental and Natural Resources. He's in the final four out of 495,000 students!

Paulding High School stages a musical and a play every year. Our band and choir compete in district and state competitions and give concerts throughout the school year. These performances are not only enjoyed by the community, but they also provide our students with priceless opportunities that they may never again experience once they graduate. Our sports teams build character and discipline that prepare participants for real life experiences.

The list goes on and on. The point is that the opportunities and positive experiences that are provided by a caring, dedicated and professional staff are worthy of recognition and support. We urge all citizens of our school district to join us in preparing our youth, the future of this community and our country, for tomorrow's challenges by voting for renewal of the school levy in November. We work hard to do the best we can, but we need the support of the community, and we want to know our community members stand firmly behind us in our efforts. Our young people are our most precious natural resource, and they deserve the best we can give them. Sincerely,

 Faculty Council of Paulding High School, Julie McCullough, Melissa Dearth, Jeanne Windsor,

The Holidays will soon be upon us here in Antwerp. Will some family(s), youth group, school kids, or an organization take over putting up lights and decorations at Antwerp Riverside Veterans Memorial Park this coming Christmas season?

There are many decorations left from last year at the storage building in the park that is available. These were donated from area residents last year, just for the asking. It works two-fold, your storage area will get cleared out of the old stuff and in turn will transform our park into a beautiful lighted holiday display for everyone to enjoy.

Contact the Antwerp Village Administrator at (419) 258-2371 for permission to decorate, and gain entry to the storage building. You must also be willing to take down the decorations afterwards. I would be willing to help get you started. Changes over this past year do not allow me the time and effort to do it again this year.

Please step forward! This is just one more thing our community can do to keep Antwerp alive and people wanting to come patronize our local businesses. Antwerp has been blessed with the one of the largest, shaded, and accessible park in all of Northwest Ohio. Let me tell you, you will be overwhelmed with compliments from everyone and their brother from this community.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Recently, a lady by the name of Sue Metcalf spoke about Paulding County in a disrespectful way. The students were updated at Paulding Jr. High by our teacher. Sue was saying that Paulding County is not a good place to live. I, Tommi Stahl, disagree.

Paulding County is a very beautiful place to live, but just because the buildings are beautiful on the outside does not necessarily mean that what is going on in the inside is not just as great. We understand that, Sue. You also spoke about the school and when you asked your child how school was going he said, "There are drugs, alcohol and violence, and that what they were teaching at the high school was the same thing they taught at a private elementary school."

First, about the drugs and alcohol. If the teachers at any school hear, see, or even are suspicious that a child/student has drugs or alcohol on school premise they report it to someone on a higher level for punishment.

Second, the teachers do not allow students to bully physically or mentally. If any student/child is using violence they (the teachers) punish the student with whatever consequence they deem appropriate.

Last, if your child can read and do math, knows spelling and social studies then it didn't hurt for the extra review as long as the child knows his stuff, it is okay. So, before writing the paper, understand your stuff. I hope you change your mind about Paulding County!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I watched the last debate between Senators McCain and Obama, and was thoroughly shocked by McCain's "I'd do away with all subsidies for ethanol!" What?! You mean you'd cut the farm bureau member's throats, the markets they have at the poet ethanol plants, the control that the U.S. would have on it's own destiny of oil depencountries! I think farmers need to think carefully about who to vote for, I hope that they listened to Obama's statement that "we need to pursue biosoy and other renewable sources grown here." I burn b-20 in my tractors, and I don't want to let Brazil take over our ethanol industries, which bring money into our local markets, and make our farmers more profitable! We don't need more Bush giveaways-look at the auto, clothing, handtool, electronics and other victims of "free trade!" I'm not against fair trade, but the idea that McCain, the "biggest free trader" wouldn't screw our farmers out of a good income with cheap Brazillian ethanol is not that far-fetched! The "drill, baby, drill" policy is not renewing every year, when it's gone, it's gone! Fellow farmers, think hard on who's more farmer-friendly: McCain's policy of 'don't help with ethanol', or Obama's 'invest in ethanol and biosoy', as he did as a senator in Illinois! Don't vote because the farm bureau tells you, vote to take care of your families' best interests! Choose wisely!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The People,

With the presidential election now only days away, it is imperative that we make educated choices. I have read about, listened to and observed the candidates, and for me there is only one choice. I will be voting for our country. I will be voting for my grandchildren's USA.

Our veterans have paid a grave price for the freedoms we enjoy. They have fought to defeat communism, but many are considering and will cast their ballot for a candidate who wants to 'spread the wealth around'. These are the words of Mr. Obama spoken this past week in Toledo. Spreading the wealth around is what communism did. How did that work?

When I was in high school we heard a communist leader say that they would take over the United States without firing a shot. If Mr. Obama wins this election, it will be one sure step toward that goal. The action of Congress these past few weeks shows us that they too are on that same path. Will you help communism take over America or will you help defeat it once again?

Another matter that greatly concerns me, is that so many of us are so willing to ignore Mr. Obama's position on abortion. He is willing to kill babies, through his sup port of abortion right up to when it is time for the babies to take their first breath. He has no more respect for life than that. He condones his position, stating that there must be an exception for the life of the mother. As I understand it, a woman undergoing this abortion procedure would be able to endure childbirth. If Mr. Obama would kill babies, what would stop him from eliminating older people who may become a burden? I'll be voting for the candidate who has served his country well, who has the experience that matters. I'll be voting for John McCain. —Sandra Wann

The Cooper Community Library, a branch of the Paulding County Carnegie Library system, is quite the busy place. Our patrons have checked out over 28,500 items so far this year. This is an increase of 8,700 over last year this time! The library's computers are always busy and we are now able to offer Wi-Fi connection at the branch for all those that would like to bring their own laptop to the library and get on the internet.

In the Children's Room you will usually find children playing in the canal boat, working puzzles, coloring, playing at the enclosed sand table or dressing up with costumes from the costume box. Their imaginations run wild and you never know if the canal boat is a pirate's ship, a speedboat, a clubhouse or if it truly is a canal boat. As the children play, parents are busy picking out the next book in the series they are reading, or finding a new author, looking for a good movie, or talking with their friends. Our Toddler and Preschool Story Times not only provide an organized story time but before and after the programs the children spend time playing together as mothers, grandparents and caretakers enjoy time to talk with their friends.

The Oakwood Library Association, the Friend's Group for the Cooper Community Library, have special events planned each month for community members. These events are well attended and the community is always buzzing with excitement when the next event is announced.

'IF YOU DON'T VOTE, DON'T' COMPLAIN!!!

By: Brad Dysinger

By now I would think that all the readers of The West Bend News would have their minds made up about whether they were voting for me or against me. I can't imagine that anyone who reads The West Bend wouldn't know my positions on the issues. The election this year could affect the direction of our county for years so I'll give you a quick review of my core belief.

Giving the Government more money and not expecting them to waste it is like giving an alcoholic a case of beer and being surprised when the drunk wants more. Neither can help themselves. I won't support the General Tax Levy because I think it's just the jail levy reincarnated. If the county needs a jail levy then rerun it, don't cut everyone else 25% just because the jail levy failed last time. I've looked at current funding and I think there's plenty there now. It's being spent poorly. The county needs to cut out waste and duplicate agencies. I've heard many county officials say that the county needs to educate voters on the need for the tax levy; I say it's time for the voters to educate county officials on the need for fiscal responsibility.

mula and source for Ohio's funds. Instead of libraries receiving funds from the personal income tax, libraries would now receive a percentage of Ohio's general revenue. This was an encouraging plan, with hopes for modest growth, but the economy in Ohio has not recovered and programs are facing additional cuts and shortages.

Paulding County's library system is providing more services with fewer funds. The Board of Trustees has cautiously dipped into savings in order to operate the library, with hopes that full funding would be restored. (Over 90% of our library funding comes from the State.) Our library system is operating as efficiently as possible, and is one of the few left in the state that has not gone to the voters; however, now we see no other way.

This levy will cost a person owning a $100,000 home about 7 cents a day. If a family uses the library once – checking out free movies, books, magazines and using the computers, they will recoup their investment tenfold. And that's just from one trip. Imagine the savings if your family visited the library weekly or daily as many do.

In 2007, over 200,000 items were checked out from the library system. Paulding County residents use their public library, whether it is the main library in Paulding, or branches in the villages of Antwerp, Oakwood or Payne. Help us keep your library strong. We can not do it without you. See you at the library!

I support stand alone taxes and I encourage SWCD, the 4H extension, and the fair board to run their own levies and I'll support them, just like I support the library levy this year. I think it's important for the voters to have the say on what they want tax money spent on.

We have some pictures here of the Antwerp Furniture Co. Some of these we have run before but picture #3 has been loaned to us by Marty Hunt.

In picture #1, the one with the old tractor and trailer. This was taken in 1924. It shows around 40 employees. This picture is facing the north and is about where the V.F.W. now sits.

In picture #2, that is the one that shows nearly all of the west wall. That picture is by the courtesy of Barbara

The parking lot used to be a big ravine with a house and barn down in there. Over the years that has all changed and the entire church complex moved to the northeast. This is a story about a man and his pump. Dear Mr. Pumpman,

I ordered a new pump from your store in Arkansaw. I sent you your price of $6.98 cents. I got the box today but no handle. What good is a pump with no handle? You said for 6.98 cents I would get a pump and handle. The pump is no good without a handle. We cannot use our well.

My wife and I, we drink out of the little brook in the meadow, but I don't want our cow, Bessie, to drink that stuff. So please send me a handle for my 6.98 cent pump.

My friend, Chuck, says I will probably need a gallon of Blue Vacuum to get my new pump started, once you send me my handle.

My dear Pumpman, since I wrote this letter, I found the pump handle in the bottom of the box, so please disregard this letter.

My friend, Chuck, keeps mumbling something about a screw loose.

But now I must go to Harold Layman's for a gallon of

FLY-FREE DATE SPURS WHEAT PLANTING

By: Jim Lopshire, Extension Agent

Farmers are busy with the beginning of fall harvest and will also be planting soft red winter wheat. The reason farmers started planting wheat last week is because they need to wait until the sion fly-free date Hes has passed because of the possibility of severe damage by diseases and by the Hessian fly The fly free date was September 24 for Paulding County, September 23 for Defiance County and September 26 for Van Wert County. These dates have been selected and determined from years of research for wherever wheat is grown in the county. The Hessian fly can be one of the most destructive pest species in wheat. This insect originated from Russia and was accidentally introduced into North America when Hessian troops imported straw bedding during the Revolutionary American War. Hessian flies were first observed on Long Island, New York around 1779. To-

Antwerp V.E.T.S. committee gathered in mid-September for its first formally conducted meeting. Along with committee volunteers, additional community members were present. Aside from addressing financial matters and other business, the meetings also provide the opportunity to create history. Ten months have passed since interest in this unique "All Veterans Me-morial" was generated, and research into the creation of Veterans Memorial Park, as well as the present Civil War statue, has been minimal.

Lori Manon, historian, has been collecting published articles, pictures, and related information documenting the committee's progress. A compilation of materials, at the conclusion of the project, will be donated to the Paulding County Library, Antwerp Library, and other interested institutions.

The first visible stage of progress has been made for the memorial with the site layout being staked out and the elimination of a few trees by Goliath Tree Service and Stump Removal. The committee hopes to have fill material brought in to create an appropriate platform area and additionally tackle drainage issues before winter. Also, a billboard illustrating the proposed design by HJS Construction has been erected at the park. V.E.T.S. next fund-raising event will be a 'Beef, Brew, and Band Bash' held at Grant's Reception Hall on Saturday, November 1st. This event promises to be delicious, easy-listening, and enjoyable! Watch for specific news articles and local advertising for BBBB! The next scheduled V.E.T.S. meeting is October 16, 6:30 p.m. at Antwerp American Legion Post 253.

day, they are present in most wheat growing areas of the United States. Around the turn of the 20th century, this insect destroyed millions of bushels of wheat in Missouri.

In late summer and early fall, Hessian fly adults begin to emerge from wheat stubble and the "fly-free date" is set to occur after the peak emergence of Hessian fly adults. When wheat is planted after the fly-free date, there is not a suitable host for females to lay eggs on. These females will then die without laying their full complement of eggs. If these eggs are laid and then hatch, the larvae will feed between leaf sheaths and stems until they pupate in mid-autumn. Infected plants become weakened and fail to tiller. Plants may also "lodge" (plant falls/lies down) during grain fill, which is usually where the damage is noticed the most. Research has also shown

ODOT ISSUES WARNING TO DRIVERS: BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR DEER

The Ohio Department of Transportation (ODOT) says the autumn season often brings the highest number of deer-vehicle crashes, and drivers need to stay alert and watch for deer-crossing warning signs to stay safe.

In 2007, there were a total of 26,304 deer-vehicle crashes, including 11 fatalities and 1,166 people injured. These numbers are down from the previous year. However, many deer-vehicle collisions go unreported to authorities, so the actual number of crashes throughout Ohio may be as high as 60,000 crashes each year.

From October to December, the number of deer-vehicle crashes spikes to as many as 4,200 incidents per month. The average number of crashes is less than half that number, or 1,500 crashes each month from January to September.

Ohio has eight million drivers, 121,000 miles of roadway and 600,000 deer. Trying to predict when and where a deer and motorist will meet is an impossible task. But drivers who understand how deer behave are more likely to avoid a crash.

ODOT advises motorists to use these driving tips to help avoid a collision with a deer:

-Watch for deer-crossing signs and drive with extreme caution especially in areas where those signs are posted.

—If you see a deer near the road, expect other deer will follow.

-The times when deer are most likely to be on the road are dawn when 20 percent of most crashes occur and between 5:00 p.m. and midnight when 50 percent of the collisions occur.

-After dark, use highbeams when there isn't oncoming traffic. This will illuminate deer eyes, allowing more time for the driver to react.

-Always wear safety belts, and drive at safe, sensible speeds for road conditions.

Deer make up the bulk of the 530,000 animal-related auto accidents reported in the United States annually, according to the Ohio Insurance Institute.

HERE WE GO AGAIN... THE PAULDING LIONS CLUB

Lions Clubs International, founded in 1917, is the world's largest service club organization with 1.3 million members in approximately 45,000 clubs in 202 countries and geographical areas. Lions are men and women who volunteer their time to answer the needs that challenge communities around the world. Known for working to end preventable blindness, Lions participate in a vast variety of projects important to their communities. These projects range from cleaning up local parks to providing supplies to victims of natural disasters. Not only do Lions help with these types of projects but they also organize fun community events as well. Currently, the Paulding Lions Club is finalizing the details for their two big community events.

First, the Paulding Lions Club is preparing to sponsor the Paulding Halloween Parade on October 25, 2008.

Line up will begin at 1:15 p.m. at the Paulding County Carnegie Library. The parade will start at 1:30 p.m. with the Paulding High School Mighty Marching Band leading the way. The Parade will go around the square and end at the gazebo on the square where costume judging will take place. There will be six costume categories. The categories are pip-squeaks (ages 0-3), witches, creepy creatures, mythical characters, barnyard fun and celebrities and sports. The Paulding Chamber of Commerce is donating cash prizes. The village of Paulding will then hold Trick-or-Treat from 4:00-6:00 p.m. Come one, come all, to the village of Paulding and join in on the fun.

The other community event that the Paulding Lions Club is preparing to host is Lunch with Santa. This event will be held at the Paulding Eagles on November 29, 2008. More details will follow when they have been established. Keep watching the paper, as the Lions Club will keep the public updated on information as soon as possible. Remember, Christmas is rapidly approaching.

To raise money to help struggling community members afford eye examinations and eyeglasses, the Paulding Lions Club operated a food booth at several local events. In addition to operating the food booth, members are also holding a raffle to increase the chances of raising money to be able to approve more applications for eye care services.

The raffle drawing will be held at the end of the Lunch with Santa event. The items being raffled include Komet Hockey script tickets, a Mary Kay gift set, 2 autographed Blue Jackets pennants, Splash Universe water park passes, 2 Lafarge goodie packs and a Van Wert YMCA New Youth Membership. Raffle tickets are available from local Lions Club members and are available from now until the end of the Lunch with Santa event on November 29, 2008. The money raised from the raffle tickets will help offset the cost of the growing demand of eye care services because of limited employment and job loss in our rural community.

If interested in finding out how to become a Lions Club member contact Danny Workman at (419) 399-4512. The Paulding Lions Club meets at the Paulding Eagles the second and fourth Thursday of every month at 7:00 pm. The Lions Club would love to have more community members get involved.

Mr. Roger Ruen's students in the junior carpentry class will be getting involved in the project very soon. They will be building custom oak cabinets for the home.

The senior electricity students, under the direction of their teacher, Mr. Mel White, have used their knowledge and skills to install the electrical service to the house, including the breaker panel and electric meter. They have also installed temporary receptacles and lighting for construction purposes.

HOMESCHOOLERS AWAY FROM HOME

By: Lindsay Clem

The Hicksville Area Christian Home Educators (HACHE) recently took a field trip to the Fort Wayne Safety Village to learn about fire safety and proper procedures to escape a house fire safely. Captains Mark, Dave, and Carlos were very accommodating to this unique group. Although they typically gear their interactive presentation toward 3rd graders, they easily adapted to an audience with children whose ages ranged from 2 to 12 years. Even the youngest in the group learned to crawl on the floor when a fire alarm rings, how to feel a closed door for heat before opening, and the proper way to exit a window if necessary. The older students in the group also participated in a simulated house fire, which consisted of realistic flames and smoke. Everyone involved, including parents, received a lot of crucial information and valuable experience.

Families from Hicksville, Antwerp, and Harlan participated in the trip to Safety Village, but HACHE consists of families from Paulding and Defiance, as well. HACHE is a fast-growing community of active and involved homeschooling families. The group tries to organize a field trip once every month. Currently, the first-ever HACHE co-op is taking place twice monthly, where students preschool to 12th grade take part in art, gym, drama, and U.S. History. This semester will end in December and the next semester will take place March through May 2009, with an array of new classes to be offered.

Any homeschooling families (or families considering homeschooling) in the area are welcome to attend the monthly meetings and/or sign up for the next co-op. A family does not have to participate in the co-op to take part in the monthly meetings or field trips. For more information, contact Pam at pnkunesh@yahoo.com.

WARRIOR/RAILROADER FOOTBALL GAME MORE FULL OF INJURIES THAN GAME

By the time Garrett and Woodlan finished their football game on Friday night, it looked like Hawkeye Pierce and Trapper John would be needed on the field. The MASH stars could have kept busy treating injured players. Spencer Burns, Garrett running back, went down just 6 plays into the game with a broken leg and left in an ambulance. Aury Keller, Woodlan running back, was taken off the field later in the game with a season ending leg injury. Play was halted on a few other occasions to bring trainers on the field to attend to wounded players.

In the end, Garrett changed their offensive style, sending Bryce Schendel on the field to run, and relying on the arm of Jak Schultz to get the Railroaders a 27-20 win over the Warriors in ACAC football. Schendel had 52 yards rushing and 2 touchdowns and Schultz hit for 2 TD passes and 144 yards through the air. ### By: Stan Jordan

This is another photo of the eagles loaned to us by Homer Sanders. This was taken last March in the area of where Rd. 53 butts up against US 24. Mr. Sanders got a onein-a-million shot of one of the eagles with an American Flag in the back ground. Homer said that this photo was taken in the front yard of the Ray Friend residence, that is only about ½ mile distance between those two pictures.

That is about two miles east of Antwerp, right on US 24. A number of people who live in that area tell us of seeing the birds. People tell us that you can see eagles all the way to the Power Dam and they frequent both sides of the river. But folks tell me they think there are at least three families of eagles in the 40-50 mile area.

Capt. Oley McMichael has taken Mr. Sanders up and down the route of the new US 24 bypass. Mr. Sanders took up a complete roll of film of the ponds, crossings and closed roads. He has some very interesting shots. He is becoming a very good wild life photographer. And I would like to add, keep those good pictures coming. See Ya!

MEET THE CANDIDATES

By: Sue Knapp

The Paulding Progress sponsored a Meet the Candidates at the Paulding Eagles on Thursday night, October 16. The large crowd enjoyed hors d'oeuvres, punch and socializing.

With two weeks before the election the crowd and the candidates were ready to be heard.

Each candidate gave a statement and then the audience were allowed questions either sent in by mail to the Progress or written before the forum.

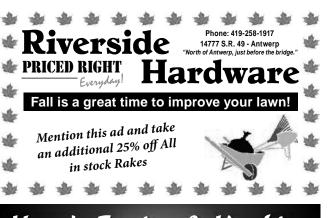

Mr. Nutter, Publisher of the Paulding Progress, opened the meeting and Mike Farmer was the moderator and introduced each candidate.

candidate listed Each their qualifications, cares and concerns. Bob Vennekotter from Vantage Career Center, Pat Ross from Paulding Exempted Village Schools, and Susan Pieper from Paulding Carnegie Library informed the crowd the pros in passing their levies. Sheriff Dave Harrow spoke for the 911 levy and Ed Straley, Commissioner, spoke for the General Levy.

Susan A. Paulus, candidate for Paulding County Treasurer.

Some of the questions presented for the candidates for Commissioners were: What can we do in Paulding County to take advantage of the 127 interchange near Cecil? Brad Dysinger commented we need to have sewer and water run out there so it can be developed, Ray Johanns commented that it needs to be accessible, someone with ideas to develop and a good motel was mentioned; Tony Zartman said that we need to work hand in hand with the Economic Development Office, and Tony Burkley said that a pipe has been laid out there for water and sewer hook-up.

How is the old US 24 going to be maintained after the new US 24 is in operation? Tony Burkley said monies from the Wheeler Bill will go for repairs. The Wheeler Bill is financed through gas taxes. ODOT will have to repair the roads damaged by them after the project is done. What's going on with the Children's Home? Ray Johanns reported that the office has a new director and putting children in foster homes means more security for the children. The Children's Home needs repairs and will eventually be used again. Brad Dysinger commented that the monies from the farms goes towards the children. Tony Burkley said they were looking for a family to move into the home and run it and take care of the children. This would produce a more secure atmosphere for the children. The monies for the children goes into a special fund used for the children.

How can we get the megafarms out of the county? Tony Zartman and Ray Johanns said that the county needs to have more control over them, especially in the area of manure and disposing of dead animals.

Brad Dysinger commented that if you have a problem go to the authorities and Tony Burkley said the county can only due so much and the Tiff Tax the farms pay is used for damages incurred by the farms. All concurred that the farms are here to stay.

If elected, how do you plan on funding the 4-H, Soil & Water, etc if the levy doesn't pass.

Brad Dysinger thinks the money is there and needs to be under it's own levy, Tony Zartman said it needs to have it's own levy and Tony Burkley said this year is taken care of through an anonymous donor and to vote for the levy.

Questions for the Prosecutors were: how well you handle abuse or criminal acts by an officer? Joe Burkard said that a special prosecutor would be brought in to review the case, handle it or deem it for insufficient evidence. Russell Herman commented that he would make sure that justice would be served for all.

Which would cost less: a full time or part time prosecutor? Joe Burkard commented that you have a choice to have a private practice while prosecutor and it is cheaper to be part time. Russell Herman said full time would save, needs would be met better and wouldn't need three assistants.

What about plea bargaining with criminals convicted lony crimes? Russell Herman said victims have a right to be heard and the bargaining needs to be stopped. Joe Burkard said that you have to understand all the circumstances including an understanding of the courts and judge. A comment by Mr. Herman about the Victims Rights Advocacy being discontinued raised a rebuttal by Mr. Burkard that it was indeed up and going. It seems that there are a lot of issues between the two candidates for Prosecutor that need to be corrected and that's why meetings like this are important. Door prizes were handed out and kudos go to the Paulding Progress for sponsoring this event.

GUEST COLUMN FROM OUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE LYNN WACHTMANN

This November, in addition to the many local races and issues on the ballot, voters will also have the opportunity to decide several statewide initiatives. This week, I want to focus on Issue 1, which deals with the filing deadline for statewide ballot issues.

Under current law, petitions to place a constitutional amendment or state law on the ballot must be filed with the secretary of state's office at least 90 days before the election in which it will be voted on. Referendum petitions, which ask voters to approve laws or sections of laws approved by the Legislature, must be filed at least 60 days before the election in which it will appear on the ballot. If the filed petitions do not contain enough valid signatures, collectors have an additional 10 days to gather the required number of signatures for the issue to appear on the ballot.

In some cases, as county boards of election and the secretary of state's office are verifying whether the signatures on a petition are valid, they are also working to prepare advertising material and absentee ballots. You many have read about some of these recently, including an issue on gambling and another on payday lenders. All materials for voting on these issues must be ready by the time absentee voting begins 35 days before an election. If a group needs additional time to gather signatures or if there are court cases involving a particular issue, ballots can include issues that have not been completely verified for the election.

If an issue has been placed on the ballot but is subsequently ruled invalid, this can result in voters casting votes for an issue that will not be counted as well as boards of elections spending thousands of dollars on printed materials related to the issue. A scenario like this one occurred just last year, when the secretary of state's office spent nearly $300,000 advertising a statewide issue involving regulations for adult businesses that was ultimately rendered invalid.

To help reduce voter confusion and prevent boards of elections from unnecessarily spending thousands of dollars on statewide issues, my colleagues and I in the General Assembly approved House Joint Resolution 3 earlier this year. This resolution proposes a constitutional amendment that would change the filing deadline for all statewide issues to 125 days before the election at which it is to appear on the ballot. Voters will see this as Issue 1 on their ballots. In addition, Issue 1 would require the secretary of state to determine if there are enough valid signatures on a petition to qualify it for the ballot by 105 days before the election. It also requires all challenges to the petitions and signatures to be filed with the Ohio Supreme Court no later than 95 davs before the election, and the court must rule on these challenges by the 85th day prior to the election. Our local boards of elections work hard each year to ensure that Election Day runs smoothly. They should have ample time to perform duties for complex matters such as statewide ballot issues, and voters should not have to worry that their vote on a particular issue will not count because it was placed on the ballot before it was verified. I believe Issue 1 will make needed changes to Ohio's statewide petition process that will help save money and reduce voter confusion at the polls. As always, I welcome your thoughts on any of the matters we discuss here at the Statehouse. I can be reached by phone at (614) 466-3760 or by writing me, State Representative Lynn Wachtmann, 77 South High Street, District 75, Columbus, OH 43215.

FROM THE DOG WARDEN'S DESK

By: Mandy Lichty, Paulding County Dog Warden

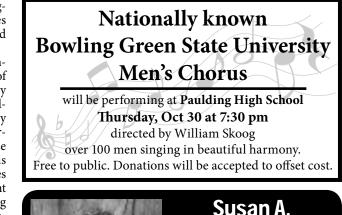

This week's featured pets are Harley and Diesel. Harley and Diesel are two very precious lab/shar pei mix puppies. They have been at the shelter for a long time and they really need to be adopted so they can romp and play like regular puppies.

Also at the shelter, we have a female lab/golden mix, a four month old female setter mix, a very cute brindle medium size mix, a male boston terrier mix, and a male lab mix.

Due to the poor economic conditions facing families adoptions are very low at animal shelters across the county. At the Paulding County Dog Shelter we have a lot of very nice dogs that really deserve a second chance. If you have room in your home and your heart for a new loving family member please call the shelter.

The Dog Warden's Office will be displaying a Christmas tree at the John Paulding Historical Society's Festival of Trees. Photos of the adoptable dogs will be on the tree in hopes of finding them a home for the holidays. If anyone would like to donate a strand or two of white lights for the tree or a few dog-themed ornaments please call the shelter at 419-399-9728.

Adoption hours are Fridays from 2:00-5:00 p.m. See the dogs at www.petfinder. org/shelters/OH709.html

PAGE 16 – WEST BEND NEWS – OCTOBER 22, 2008 POSTAL INSPECTORS - PROTECTING YOU AND YOUR MAIL

The United States Postal Inspection Service® has a proud history of protecting postal customers and their mail. Postal Inspectors trace their roots back more than 250 years to Benjamin Franklin.

The Postal Inspection Service is the law enforcement and security arm of the Postal Service™. Stationed across the country are nearly 1,600 Postal Inspectors – federal law enforcement officers who carry firearms, make arrests, serve federal search warrants and subpoenas and enforce roughly 200 federal laws concerning the U.S. Mail™ and the nation's postal system. They work closely with prosecutors and other law enforcement agencies to investigate postal cases and prepare them for court, and with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to ensure that in times of national crisis, the mail continues as a crucial part of America's communications infrastructure.

The Postal Inspection Service maintains a security force of more than 700 armed, uniformed Postal Police Officers who are assigned to key postal facilities across the country. The Postal Inspection Service also operates a forensic crime laboratory in Dulles, VA. Here forensic scientists and technical specialists assist Postal Inspectors in analyzing evidentiary material needed for identifying and tracing criminal suspects and in providing expert testimony for cases brought to trial.

Some of America's more famous crimes were solved by Postal Inspectors. In 1916, the Postal Inspection Service solved the last known stagecoach robbery in the United States, apprehending the bandits within five days of the crime.

In 1972, Postal Inspectors and forensic scientists proved that a handwritten note giving Clifford Irving exclusive rights to write Howard Hughes' biography was a fraud. In 1987, Postal Inspectors found widespread whitecollar crimes on Wall Street, including insider trading and a massive check-kiting scheme. Numerous prosecutions resulted.

In 1991, the Postal Inspection Service broke up a worldwide art fraud ring that was marketing bogus paintings supposedly created by Salvador Dali and Pablo Picasso. In 1996, Postal Inspectors played an integral role in a multi-agency task force that arrested Theodore Kaczynski, the "Unabomber", marking the end of one of the largest and most extensive criminal manhunts in modern history. And in 2000, the Postal Inspection Service led the way in the disruption of a worldwide network in which the mail and the Internet were used to view and distribute disturbing images of child pornography.

Postal Inspectors also have protected some of the world's largest transfers of money and valuables. In 1937, when the United States transferred $15.5 billion in gold reserves from New York to Fort Knox by Registered Mail™ service, Postal Inspectors planned the move and protected the bullion without a single mishap. In 1958, the owners of the Hope Diamond sent it to the Smithsonsian Institution by Registered Mail. Postal Inspectors made sure it arrived safely.

At a meeting between 4-H parents and the Commissioners on Tuesday evening, October 14, the 4-H'rs and parents were told that 4-H was safe for 2009. If the levy doesn't pass an anonymous donor has offered to keep the 4-H going for another year.

A large group of people attended the meeting to get some answers about the future of 4-H. Heather Parrett, Lisa Land and Tina Kesler were the spokespersons for the 4-H parents. They provided a petition with 625 signatures and 40 letters to the Commissioners stating their cause.

Tony Burkley, Marty Harmon and Ed Straley were in attendance with Tony Burkley being the spokesperson for the Commissioners.

It was expressed to the Commissioners that 'can we afford not to give the youth of this county this opportunity?

4-H parents also stated on how 4-H helped them while growing up. The positives are endless in helping children in responsibility, self-esteem and a sense of accomplishment among other things.

One question for the Commissioners was why, if the levy did not pass, they could only guarantee monies for 4-H for one year. Tony Burkley commented that nothing is guaranteed, no one knows what will happen in the future.

Tony Burkley also expressed for the Commissioners that they did not want to see 4-H go, but there is only so much they could do. The answer they came up with is to put OSU Ext. on its own

Capitol Letters Weekly Column by: Senator Steve Buehrer

When Ohio voters head to the polls this November, they will have an opportunity to not only participate in a historic election for the next President of the United States, but help decide the outcome of several congressional campaigns, state house and senate contests and local government races. In addition, Ohioans will be asked to support or oppose a number of statewide ballot issues that could have a significant impact on the growth of Ohio's economy, the efficiency of our elections process and the quality of life in our communities.

Over the next few weeks, I will use this column to provide some background on these issues and discuss how each one could influence the future direction of our state. With so much at stake this fall, it is important that all voters are prepared to make an informed decision.

Issue 1, which the General Assembly approved for the ballot through passage of House Joint Resolution 3 in June, is a constitutional amendment designed to build confidence in Ohio's elections process, streamline elections administration and save taxpayer dollars. It would require all petitions for statewide ballot initiatives to be filed at least 125 days before an election. The current deadline is 90 days.

In addition, the proposal sets firm deadlines for when the Ohio Secretary of State must determine if there are enough valid signatures to qualify an issue for the ballot, as well as a strict timeline in which legal challenges to signatures or petitions must be filed and ruled on by the Ohio Supreme Court.

While these changes may appear trite, they would have a significant impact on voters, local board of elections and Ohio taxpayers. During the past two elections, Ohioans have cast votes for invalid state issues, because legal challenges to petition signatures had not been resolved at the time ballots had to be printed. This not only impacted voters' confidence in Ohio's elections system, but cost the state thousands of dollars. In fact, in 2007, Ohio taxpayers paid more than $300,000 to advertise information about statewide issues that did not qualify for the ballot. Passage of Issue 1 would help alleviate these needless costs and frustrations and restore faith and certainty in the election process.

I would also like to remind all residents of the 1st Senate District that Monday, October 6th is the last day to register to vote in the November election. If you have not registered, please go to your local board of elections to fill out a registration form.

This is a crucial time in our history. What happens on November 4th will have a tremendous bearing on the future of our state and national economy, our country's security, and the quality of life in our communities. I look forward to continuing the discussion about the statewide issues in the coming weeks, and as we approach Election Day, I urge everyone to study the ballot and get involved.

I encourage all residents of the 1st Senate District to contact me with any questions, thoughts or concerns, or if you need assistance working with a state government agency. You can write me, Senator Steve Buehrer, Ohio Senate, Statehouse, Columbus, Ohio, 43215, or contact me by phone at (614) 466-8150. In addition, I can be reached by email at SD01@mailr.sen.state.oh.us.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I would like to take this opportunity to urge you to support the library levy. The branch library in Oakwood has breathed new life in our community. It has become a center of activity for children, teens and adults. I am sure that the ones in Antwerp and Payne have become equally valuable to their communities.

Libraries are one of the great bargains we have in this life and I hope you will lend ours your support.

–Jeanne Calvert

Due to the overwhelming response in favor of the Library Levy, our "Letter to the Editor section was overstocked. More to come next week.
