MOCK CRASH FOR PROM AT PAULDING COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS

By: Sue Knapp

On April 23 at 10:00 a.m. Paulding County Fairgrounds was the site of a "crash" that involved two deaths.

Andrew Mott, Haden Sholl, Taylor Hatcher, Melinda Slattman and Heather Hemker were coming home from a party. All but one had been drinking. Only two of the kids were wearing seat belts. Haden, who was drunk, was driving his father's car. He would not relinquish the keys to the one sober teen. Haden swerved and hit a guard rail. He received superficial injuries but couldn't get the door open to get out of the car. Melinda, who was in the front seat, flew out of the car and landed on the cement. After a few minutes she died. Taylor, who was in the back seat driver's side also received superficial injuries and got out of the car. She found her cell phone and called into 911. Heather Hemker received many internal injuries, she had to be life flighted and spent five weeks in the hospital, three of which she was on a ventilator. Andrew, who was in the back on the passenger side, was passed out drunk, he died on impact.

Soon you could hear the sirens from the Police Cars, EMS units and Fire Engines. You could also hear the Pro-Medica Air and Mobile helicopter coming.

checked Melinda and then covered her with a sheet. Next, Taylor was checked. They were able to get Haden out and he was very angry and defiant and resisting help,the troopers got him to the EMS unit. That left Heather and Andrew in the car. Because of Heather's intensive injuries and the fact that Andrew's door had a guard rail stuck into it, the rescue units had to use the jaws of life to get the roof off the car. After gently getting Heather out and assessing her injuries she was transported by ProMedica to the hospital. They were then able to get Andrew out of the car. The corner ruled Andrew and Heather dead. They then put Andrew in a body bag, put him on a gurney and slid him into the back of the mortician's Hearst.

They gave Andrew a breathalyzer test and ruled him 5x's over the limit for drinking. They then tried to cuff him, which took two policemen. They took him to jail. Andrew will be held on drunk driving and vehicular manslaughter, if convicted he could spend two twenty year sentences consecutively in prison. He would never again hold a driver's license.

What the insurance doesn't cover, Haden's dad is responsible, which could mean loss of their home. Heather later had to have a hip replacement and also had facial problems. Haden's dad could be paying her medical bills for the rest of her life.

RESISTING THE POWER OF TEMPTATION

By: Pastor Joel DeSelm, Woodburn Missionary Church

A silly story has been going around about a young man who was hitchhiking through one of our Southern states. A farmer driving an old pickup truck stopped to give him a lift. As they rode along, they got to talking about the local moonshine whiskey. The young man said he didn't drink very much. Moonshine would probably be too strong for his tastes.

"Nonsense!" said the farmer. "You gotta try some." He fished around behind him and finally produced a small jug. "Here," he said handing the mar to the lad. "Take a drink!"

"Oh, no thanks," said the young man. "I really don't think I care for any." "No, I insist," pressed the farmer. "Have some."

"No, thanks—really," said

the young man.

The farmer wasn't going to take no for an answer. He stopped the truck and grabbed his shotgun from the rack in back. He pointed the gun at the lad and roared, "I said, take a drink!"

"Okay! Okay!" said the young man. "I've changed my mind! I guess I will have some after all." The young man took a few swallows before he realized how powerful the stuff was. His throat muscles tightened, his eyes watered, and he made a choking sound.

"What do you think of it?" asked the farmer. "Good, ain't it?"

"Yeah," gasped the lad, "I guess so."

Then the farmer handed the young man the shotgun and grinned. "Here! Now you hold the gun on me and make me take a drink!"

I laughed out loud when I read that story. It struck me as so comical, picturing this old farmer not only forcing the young man to take a swig of whiskey, but then handing the guy the shotgun and telling him to make HIM take a drink!

All of us are lured into doing what we really don't want to do at various times during a given week. Either the power of peer pressure, the media, or just our plain old sin nature causes us to be tempted into doing wrong. But what I find interesting is that seldom does our enemy, the devil, have to put a gun to our heads! He merely plays to our weaknesses. That's why it's so important to know the areas of your own vulnerability. Know your weaknesses. Understand your liabilities. And then protect yourself at those points. Purposely refuse to put yourself into situations where you KNOW you will be tempted. Plan ahead. Think it through.

Paul tells us in Ephesians 4:27, "and do not give a foothold to the devil." Another version expresses it as, "give no opportunity to the devil."

Often the reason for our caving into temptations along the path of life is our own foolishness. We knowingly place ourselves into positions where we are at risk. If complaining and criticizing is a temptation for you, don't hang around people who are constantly griping. If certain TV shows or movies cause you to stumble or sin, turn off the tube and get busy in some productive activity. If you find yourself being sucked into conversations that feed on gossip and rumor, determine to avoid the circles where such talk breeds. By taking such practical steps, we won't be able to eliminate temptation, but we can certainly minimize it.

Sure, temptations and enticements will still come your way. But at least they won't be so much of your own making... not the kind where a shotgun is being held to your head.

GOD'S PLAN - IN THE BEGINNING

By: James S. Potter, Oakwood church of Christ

In the beginning, the word 'beginning' comes from the Hebrew word Reshith and means the first, in place, time, order, or rank. You might ask, why go to the book of Genesis to write a lesson? To answer that question, these lessons or studies are to show the prophecy of Christ and the church, in the Old Testament.

Romans 15:4 tells us, "for whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope." This is telling us that the Old Testament is for you and me to study and to learn from their mistakes, so that we do not do the same thing. The message of Genesis is to reveal God's promise to man and His providence is carrying out those promises. Also this was to reveal man's beginning and the history of his Ephesians 1:4, "according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." This verse is telling you and me that before God created the earth that He had a plan for man. Now to look at this first day in verses 2-5 of Genesis chapter 1. Notice that the earth was without form and void. The word form' used here in Hebrew is Tohu and means wasteness and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

The word 'darkness' comes from the Hebrew word choshekh and means dark, grow dark, be obscured, be surrounded with darkness. This 'without form and darkness', means in its original shape, not as a destroyed earth. A face of the deep, the Hebrew word Tehom and means a surging mass of water. And the spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. This is the first mention of the Holy Spirit in the Bible; among other things He garnished the heavens during the creation, Job 26:13. Notice in verse 3, God said this is His word created and His word is Christ, Hebrews 11:3; John 1:1-4. And then we see that what God had done so far was good. All of God's works or good are perfect.

God does not have to change or redo His work, Read Isaiah 55:11 also in Genesis 1:4-5 we see God dividing light from darkness and calling the light day and darkness he called night. This finishes the first day of creation and God saw that it was good. The word 'day' comes from the Hebrew word Yom and means a 24-hour day.

Please remember Jesus loves you and so do I! For Bible questions please call (419)399-5022 or (419) 393-4775.

INFLATED HOSPITAL FEE IS GOVERNOR'S FUNDRAISER

Guest Column From Representative Lynn R. Wachtmann

With the approaching passage of House Bill1 from the Ohio House of Representatives, a major concern of citizens and legislators alike is the potential effect of the bill's numerous fee increases, many of which will be imposed on hospitals and health care facilities. As elected state representative of House District 75, I will continue to advocate for a quality, secure health care industry while keeping unnecessary fees and taxes low.

In his budget proposal the governor has included a new hospital franchise fee, which is essentially a fundraiser to generate funding for welfare programs and to reduce dependence on general revenue funds. The governor has proposed an additional fee levied on the hospitals' annual expenditures, presently set at 1.27 percent of the total operating costs in 2010 and expected to increase to 1.37 percent in 2011.

Additionally, the franchise fee will be applied to other health care services such as care facilities for the mentally handicapped and nursing homes. Currently, the nursing home franchise permit fee is set at $6.25 daily per bed, and under the governor's proposal the fee will swell to $11 daily per bed. Unfortunately, if the governor's plan goes unchallenged, the short-term financial stability of our state's care facilities will be severely threatened, setting the stage for long-term problems in the future.

The Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS) has estimated that the new hospital fees will cost hospitals nearly $600 million during the upcoming biennium. Thus, the plan has the potential to cost Ohio's health care industry nearly 7,000 jobs in sectors from administration to specialized services, according to the Ohio Hospital Association. Additionally, a proposed one-time funding package worth $5 billion may result in a steep tax increase over the next two years. I fear that the governor's spending increases, funded by the taxpayers' money, will chase hardworking Ohioans out of Ohio as more in-state jobs are

The health care industry, once a thriving sector in Ohio, is facing a substantial deficit in the difficult economy. According to the Ohio Hospital Association, one-third of Ohio's hospitals are planning additional layoffs within the next six months. The governor's fee increases have been singled out as a major cause of the funding anxieties and will exacerbate an already suffering industry. Rather than overtaxing our local hospitals, it would be wise for the governor to allow these dollars to be invested in improved patient care, wider health care access and increased service affordability for every Ohioan.

Balancing the weight of the Medicaid budget on the backs of hospitals is not a policy any state legislator should sanction. Besides being a major source of employment, hospitals determine the quality of life within our local communities by providing essential services. Ohio cannot afford to jeopardize the hospitals' contribution by increasing the financial burden of our hardworking citizens. As my colleagues and I in the Ohio House continue to deliberate the details of the governor's budget proposal, I will voice my concerns on this issue. I welcome your views on

ANTS IN AND AROUND YOUR HOME

By: Jim Lopshire, Extension Agent

There are several kinds of ants that may occur in and around your home ranging in size from less than ½6 of an inch up to ¾ inch long and come in many different colors. Ants may be yellowish, light brown, reddish-brown, brownish-black or jet black in color. Ants are insects with three pairs of legs and three main body regions: the head, thorax, and abdomen.

Most are wingless, but the homeowner sometimes may confuse swarming, winged ants with swarming, winged termites, causing alarm. Ants can be easily distinguished from termites by several characteristics. But, the main characteristic that separates ants from termites is the constricted or pinched waist of ants, while termites do not have the constricted waist.

Ants are social insects that live in colonies or nests that can be found in a variety of places, indoors and out. The location of the colony depends on the species of ant. Each colony contains at least one queen ant that is laying eggs and being taken care of by worker ants. Workers are non-reproductive females that in addition to caring for the queen and her brood also forage for food.

Ants invade homes and other structures in search of food, water, and shelter. Therefore, effective ant management needs to be a combination of control methods that involve inspection, sanitation and exclusion, habitat modification, and often some type of insecticide.

It is important to check carefully and thoroughly both indoors and outside to determine areas of ant activity, nest locations, and the type of ant present. Indoors, follow ant trails to locate their entry point. Outside, check the foundation, walkways, trees and shrubs, and in mulched areas for ant trails. Look for nests in mulch and vegetation next to the foundation. Check under potted plants, patio blocks, and stepping stones, and in piles of rocks, lumber, and firewood. Inspect the foundation to find possible ant entryways such as areas where pipes enter the building, foundation cracks, and around doors and windows.

Some ant species may require special management considerations. If you are having difficulty controlling an ant problem in your home, it may be helpful to collect a few specimens for proper identification. Take your samples to your local Extension office for identification and to determine management options for control.

During spring and summer, winged ants begin to appear in and around the home. Ants live in large colonies, and as weather warms, ants begin producing winged reproductive males and females to fly to new areas and begin new colonies. If you find a few of these winged ants in your home, the best treatment is to vacuum them up and then throw the vacuum bag into an outdoor trash can. These ants probably wandered in by chance and are not likely to begin a colony inside your home.

When I look into the faces of people around the municipality it is evident that the weight of the world's problems is becoming cumbersome. The nation is fighting wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The economy is at its lowest level in over thirty years. Pirates are attacking our ships on the high seas. Terrorists threaten our existence every day. Reading the newspapers proves that many of the nation's schools are failing in academics. Unemployment numbers continue to rise on a weekly basis. Reality declares that we cannot hide our heads in the sand and iust hope that things will get better, but there is something we can do for ourselves to renew our strength. Mental health

vacation or distraction can

Therefore, the Antwerp Community Development Committee is sponsoring a three-day event for anyone who has ever attended the Antwerp High School. This event is designed to offer a mini-vacation to former Antwerp High School attendees. This will be an excellent chance for you to lay your burdens down for three days and mingle with acquaintances and friends from your past. Perhaps you will recall times of laughter and simpler days when the world was a much different place. It will be an opportunity to visit with old acquaintances and walk down memory lane once again. The A.C.D.C. offered this opportunity three years ago and it was a huge success with over seven hundred people attending the reunion! Already, the committee has people signed up to attend from as far back as the class of 1942 with strong possibilities of even older students coming to enjoy this event in August.

The event is scheduled to start on August 7th at 7:00 p.m. with a "get acquainted time" and record hop inside and outside under the stars at the Antwerp VFW Post. There will be free snacks, cash bar and a DJ will be playing your old time favorites.

On Saturday, August 8th 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. the village of Antwerp will be holding an event called a "Day in the Park" at Riverside Park, East of town. There will be food, refreshments, arts, crafts and entertainment under the large shade trees. Experience, once again, an atmosphere of small town living as you enjoy the food, fun and fellowship offered on this day. No admission will be charged for this event. The main attraction of this three day affair will be the Saturday evening dinner and dance at the "Old School Big Gym." The dinner will be a buffet feast starting at 5:00 until 7:00 p.m. and everyone will eat as they arrive. Once you have filled your plates to the overflowing point, locate the table with your class year and enjoy more food and fellowship. There will be recognition of classes from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. The dance will start at 8:00 p.m. and this will be "The Big One" with Rock 'N' Roll legends, Spike and the Bulldogs playing all the golden oldies. Some of us older folks will want to park our walkers and shake a tail feather when this music gets

On Sunday morning there will be a "Farewell to Ole Friends Brunch" served in the old school cafeteria. The cafeteria has been renovated into the Essen House Restaurant and once again everyone will eat when they arrive between the hours of 10:00 a.m.

The Essen House has been gracious enough to make this wonderful facility available to us. While you are at this facility be sure to check out the attached Manor House assisted living quarters that has been a great asset to the village of Antwerp. It is not uncommon to hear rave reviews from the residents living in this unique

ANTWERP HISTORY

By: Stan Jordan

Some of my readers have asked me to write another bass fishing story. I have always kept to the truth and real facts and I'm about out of fish stories. Lake Istokpoga is about 30 miles north of Lake Okeechobee in south central Florida. My brother-in-law, Ray Gross, and I started fishing there in 1989, but I had been on the lake for 20 years prior to that.

This is a big lake, 28,000 acres. It's a shallow lake, average 5'-6' and sometimes less. It is controlled by the South Florida Water Management District. With a dam on CR 621 the natives call this 'the government cut'. They regulate the depth here and the overflow goes down through The Indian Paraire and finally into Lake Okeechobee. You didn't move a shovel here without these people's ap-

Until recent years, this was a very clear lake, but nobody took care of it and Hydrilla took over as well as Bull Rushes and some type of undergrowth that looks a lot like Texas Mesquite. The last time I was there about half of it was not fishable. The bureau spent millions of dollars for spray on this growth, but they just waited too late. It was one of the best bass lakes in Florida, but not anymore. It is good for Shell Crackers and Crappies and Catfish, but the big bass left with those three big hurricanes about three years

Ray and I went out about 7:00 a.m. and turned and went on the southeast shore. Down there a couple of miles is a canal that drains the overflow area under US 98 into the Kissimmee River and then into Okeechobee. Part of the canal was full of gators and swamp like I suppose the Amazon looks like.

I was in the front of the boat and Ray was in the rear running the electric trolling motor and fishing into the reeds and bull rushes. There was a couple eight foot gators along there, but we didn't bother them and they just laid After a while, I suppose an hour, I had three two-pounders and Ray hadn't hit a thing yet. I had a chance to jab him a little so I did. I didn't get this chance very often. I said, "Ray, you just cast out about 40', leave that bait settle to the bottom or down in the weeds." And lo and behold, I felt a bass pick my bait up and run away with it. Now with a lot of confidence and braggadocio I said, "You take up the slack until you can feel him and then whamo! you set the hook." He was another two-pounder and I had four and Ray nothing. But then he started fishing away from shore like I was and that soon changed. Ray was a lot better fisherman than me and he generally caught more than me. We both belong to the Catch and Release Program and we only ate fish once or twice a week.

On this day we fished around the Old Tree Snag. Years ago a man pushed a sapling into the sand to mark a good Shell Cracker Bed. Well, it started to grow and it was the only tree in the lake for miles. It was good fishing all around there and we always caught a few there. There was a sign on the trunk that told about one old timer that liked that spot so well his ashes were spread around this tree.

That was sort of a basin down there in the east corner of the lake about a good mile in all directions and for years it was one the best parts of the

I always carried two rods with two kinds of bait. If I didn't get a bump in a few minutes I just laid that rod down and picked up the other with different types of bait on

On one of our fish trips to Florida with Ray we were fishing down in this basin. Ray was fishing with his old fiberglass rods and six-pound test line. Well, twice in one afternoon, he got a hit and he set the hook and his old line separated. Well, that was a night that we went to the Golden Corral for supper and right down in that area on US 27 was a marina where we got some new 8 lb. Trilene line. Fish line gets old and weak a lot quicker than you think.

Back in those years, you could buy strong fish line called Spider Wire. Well, we tried some of it and it really is very strong, but you can't cast as far with it and it also has a coating on it. If you cast a lot the line traveling through the eyelets wears the coating off. I figure as good as any

Ben Franklin told me, 'A bad day at fishing is better than a good day at work.'

PRETTY BOY FLOYD

By: Stan Jordan

He was born Chester Arthur Floyd on February 3, 1904 in Adairsville, Georgia.

He was an alleged killer, bank robber, gangster and pretty much had a life of

His first known crime was a robbery of $3.50 in pennies from a local Post Office. He received three years for that one. When he got out he got caught in a payroll robbery in St. Louis, Mo and he received five years for that in the prison of Jefferson City, MO.

After he got out he vowed he would never go to prison again. He joined a bunch of hard cases from the St. Louis area. They committed several bank robberies over the next several years. They pulled a robbery on a payroll truck and the pay master described him as a pretty boy with apple cheeks. The news media always liked to use that name and he hated it until the day

He was corralled in Kansas City, MO on May 1st of 1929 on charges of vagrancy and highway robbery, was turned loose later on in May of the same year.

Then at the end of May, he was arrested in Pueblo, CO for vagrancy. He was fined $50.00 and 60 days in jail.

In November of 1929, his father was murdered in Oklahoma. He returned there for the funeral. His father was killed by his neighbor, John Mills. Mills was acquitted but vanished forever.

In 1930 under the alias of Frank Mitchell, he was arrested in Akron, Ohio and charged with the murder of an Akron police official who was killed where the Floyd Gang was committing a robbery in February of that year.

Then he was arrested in Toledo in March of that year, but I don't know what for or the disposal of the charges.

In June of 1933, Floyd, Vern Miller and Adam Richitti went to rescue Miller's friend Frank Nash from some police who were transferring him to the Union Railway Station. They opened fire on the lawmen who were escorting Nash to a car. Two Kansas City Detectives and one Oklahoma Police chief named Otto Reed and an F.B.I. Special Agent, Ray Coffey, were murdered. There was two more policemen in the car but they played dead and survived. The gunmen fled, but Vern

Miller was found bleeding and choked to death in Detroit in November of 1933. In October of 1935, Richetti and Floyd were confronted in a woods near Wellsville, Ohio by the Wellsville police. Richetti was caught. Floyd had ran out of ammo in the gunfight, he was also wounded, but escaped. Richetti was executed in the gas chamber in the Missouri State Penitentiary in June of 1938. Police Chief Fults called in a Chicago FBI agent named Melvin Purvis to help track down Floyd stepped out of the woods the next morning and walked up to the door of a farm house and asked the lady for food. The lady fixed him up a big farmer's breakfast and they talked a little and he said that's the best meal he ever had. He gave her a dollar which was a goodly amount.

She saw a car pull up out front and said, "I wonder who that can be?" Floyd ran out the back door and started across a field to escape. He was shot by Melvin Purvis and other FBI agents outside of East Liverpool, Ohio.

Whey they reached the body they asked, "Are you Pretty Boy Floyd?

He said, "I am Chester Arthur Floyd!" He always hated that nickname! He died in that field in 15 minutes at the age of 30.

There was a lot of songs written about him and a number of movies. He seemed to leave an aura about him after his death. But he had been a bad one.

I think the best 30 minutes of his life was eating that last breakfast at the common old farm house and that friendly

He was standing at the open door feeling the rushing wind and looking at the earth at those little strings running all over the landscape. If he was down on the ground he would see those are roads.

When the plane neared the jump off spot the instructor nudged him a little and out he went.

After he remembered he was in a parachute rig and he was falling it was time to pull the rip cord that would open his chute. Now all his training was coming back to him. But his chute didn't open. After a second of pandemonium, he knew to pull the release on his emergency chute.

He gave the reserve chute a pull, but nothing happened. By now our novice parachuter was getting desperate. He had pulled both chutes and nothing happened. He was at 1,000 feet and hurtling to earth at a terrible rate of speed. His arms were waving wildly and

ODH URGES OHIOANS TO VACCINATE AGAINST PERTUSSIS

Pertussis—also known as whooping cough—sickens hundreds of Ohioans every year and the Ohio Department of Health (ODH) wants to help you protect yourself and your loved ones from this vaccine-prevent-"This common and po-

Because protection can weaken over time, a booster shot of the diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis is recommended between the ages of 11 and

There are vaccines licensed for individuals 10 to 64 years old; please check with your medical providers to see whether they are fully protected. Pertussis is spread when a patient coughs or sneezes while in close contact with others, who may then inhale the bacteria. The disease is similar to the common cold at first with severe coughing after one to two weeks. Children often experience violent, rapid coughs that forces air from the lungs, creating a loud "whooping" sound hence the name whooping cough. PAULDING EXEMPTED VILLAGE SCHOOLS

MAY 2009 NEWSLETTER

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends of the Paulding Exempted Village Schools,

It is difficult to believe there is just a month left in the 2008-2009 school year. Although the calendar indicates the year is winding down, we are actually very busy with end of the year activities. Awards programs, concerts and student programs highlight the month of May. Please check the district calendar and support our students with your attendance at these celebrations. Our last day of school will be May 20, unless we have an additional calamity day.

May 3-9 is National Teacher Appreciation Week with Tuesday, May 5 designated as National Teacher Day. Please take time during this week to thank a teacher who made a difference in your life. Paulding Exempted Village Schools are proud of our teachers and believe they make a difference in the lives of children every day.

The Class of 2009 will celebrate Commencement on May 24 at 2:30 as our 121st graduating class from Paulding High School. The ceremony will be in the high school gymnasium. Everyone is invited to attend. We congratulate our senior class on their many accomplishments in reaching this milestone and wish them the best as they continue on a journey of lifelong learning.

Yours in Education,

Pat Ross

NOTES FROM THE PRINCIPALS

Paulding Elementary-Kevin Dangler

Another school year is quickly coming to a close. The last day of school for students is scheduled for Wednesday, May 20, 2009. This, of course, could change, should we need to close for unsafe weather conditions.

Student fees for the 2008-2009 school year are still being taken. Fees may be paid in the elementary office Monday-Friday, 7:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m. If you send money with your child, please put it in an envelope and mark it Student Fees. Make checks payable to Paulding Elementary School. Listed below is the student fee amount per grade level.

Kindergarten, Grade 1 & Grade 2: $55.00 Grade 3, Grade 4 & Grade 5: $50.00

I would like to remind parents that the school will be offering Kinder Camp to incoming kindergarten students this summer. The camp involves two days. We ask that parents and their child commit to coming to the school for about one hour to interact with other children and take part in some literacy activities. The dates for the camp are Tuesday, July 14, 2009 and Tuesday, August 11, 2009. Parents will receive a postcard reminder in the mail approximately one week before the July camp.

During the week of May 4-8, 2009 our students will be taking part in various reading activities in observance of Right-to-Read Week. Our theme this year is "Reading is Magic" and one of the feature activities will be a performance by a magician.

PAULDING LIBRARY SYSTEM TO CONDUCT IN-HOUSE SERVICE COUNT

From May 4th through May 16th, the entire Paulding County Carnegie Library system will be measuring the use of materials inside the library. This research is called "Output Measures" and is important to gauge public use of library resources. During this time, if you visit any of our libraries to read magazines, newspapers or conduct research, please do not re-shelve your items. Leave them on a table, or give them to a library employee when finished. That way, each item can be counted.

Another two-week count will take place in the Fall. According to Susan Pieper, Library Director, "Sometimes it is difficult for us to ascertain exactly how many patrons are using newspapers, magazines and other resources while they are at the library. If a book is utilized for research or leisure reading, we need to count that statistic, too. Conducting a periodic count throughout the year will provide us with the data we need to make informed choices PH: 419-258-2000 • FAX: 419-258-1313 • westbend@verizon.net and decisions." For more information, contact the library at 419-399-2032.

PATRON OF THE MONTH AT THE PAULDING LIBRARY

The Paulding County Carnegie Library has started a program to recognize some of the library's most faithful and loyal patrons. This program is being launched during National Library Week (April 12-18) with the first patrons being designated for the month of April. Each library location, as well as the Children's Room at the main library, will have their own "Patron of the Month" each month. An entire family can be awarded this title as well as an individual. The winning patron will receive a coupon good for 10 free movie checkouts, their photo prominently displayed and lots of gushing over by library staff.

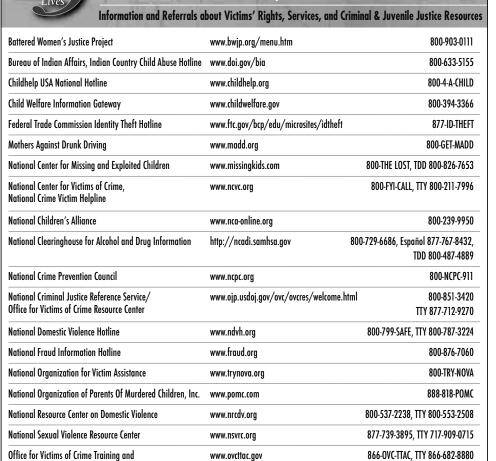

The April Patron of the Month for the Main Library circulation department is Teresa Hittle. Teresa is a frequent library user and takes advantage of many of the library's services. "Teresa is very pleasant and polite and uses a variety of our services," states Vicky Hull, head of Adult Services. "We enjoy the fact that she appreciates all the library has to offer."

HONEYBEES CRITICAL TO reported serious declines

SUCCESS OF OHIO FARM- in their honeybee colonies.

Millions of bees have either

Capitol Letters Weekly Column by: Senator Steve Buehrer

From farmers to laborers to manufacturers, thousands of people have contributed to the growth of Ohio's multibillion dollar agriculture industry, but the future success of our state's farmers and the quality and availability of many of our favorite foods could depend on the health of an unexpected source, the honeybee.

That's right; the honeybee—that yellow and black bug that carries a painful sting—is actually a vital asset to our nation's farmers, pollinating dozens of crops, from fruits and vegetables to nuts and other specialty items. Estimates show that bee pollination accounts for about one-third of the U.S. diet.

However, over the past few years, beekeepers in Ohio and across the country have reported serious declines in their honeybee colonies. Millions of bees have either died or failed to return to their hives. This mysterious trend, which scientists are calling colony collapse disorder (CCD), has left many beekeepers and other people in the agriculture community worried about their future. This problem could also impact the quality and price of the food we eat, as well as the stability of our state's econo-Scientists have several theories about potential causes for CCD, from parasites to poor bee nutrition to high levels of stress in adult bees, but they have yet to identify a specific reason for their disappearance. As research continues in this area, efforts are underway in the General Assembly to address the decline of Ohio's honeybees.

I recently cosponsored Senate Bill 101, legislation that would establish the Ohio Beekeepers Task Force, a panel of scientists, farmers, beekeepers, legislators and state agency leaders charged with studying the disappearance of honeybees in Ohio and developing a plan to protect and restore our state's bee population.

The Task Force would include members of the General Assembly, the Ohio Department of Agriculture, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, the Ohio State Beekeepers Association, the Ohio State University Extension, the Ohio Farm Bureau and other organizations. The group would be required to submit a report of its findings, along with goals and recommendations, to the Governor, the General Assembly and the Ohio State Beekeepers Association.

Ohio's agriculture industry has weathered many storms over the years, and I am confident that through the work of scientists, beekeepers, farmers, legislators and other experts we will be able to solve the mysterious disappearance of Ohio's honeybees and ensure the continued success of agriculture in our state.

PAGE 12 – WEST BEND NEWS – APRIL 29, 2009 ANTWERP COUNCIL MEET-

By: Sue Knapp

Antwerp's Council met for a regular meeting on April 20 with all present.

Visitors: Dean Rister asked Council if they could delay putting in new sidewalks on 24W until after the new highway is done? He also asked if the town was responsible for a dead tree between two residents houses. The tree is not on Village property and he would have to work it out with the neighbor. He also asked about making two adjacent lots into one. Šarah Keeran advised him that he would need to get a surveyor.

Mary Leinard addressed the Council on the traffic problem on 24W. She read a letter she had composed about this problem. She asked that the speed limit be changed from 50mph to 25 or 35 mph along the business district on 24W. Chuck Starry of Chuck's Tires spoke of accidents and brakes squealing in front of his business. Ella Turner commented that the trucks don't slow down and go 50-60mph through there. Many other residents also commented on this problem. The Mayor said he understands completely. He lives in the area so he is familiar with the problem. Sarah Keeran did send a letter to ODOT and talked to Kirk Slusher from ODOT and was informed that nothing was going to be done and the Village would own that part of 24 once the new highway was done and the Village could make the speed limit whatever they wanted. It was decided that another letter would be written to ODOT as an emergency asking that the speed limit be lowered.

The grant money for the Depot from the Ohio Culture Facilities won't come through until the Village is out of Fiscal Watch. Because of a backup in towns and villages under Fiscal Watch our Village probably won't be out

Loretta Baker and Margaret Womack have been going through old obsolete Village paperwork and furniture, etc. from upstairs in the Town Hall. It was decided that these things would be donated to the V.E.T.S. Organization. Any monies received from these things will go for the V.E.T.S. Memorial.

Police Report: Chief Clemens reported 133 calls for service and 82 offenses. Chief also applied for a grant to help with funding patrolman. It is doubtful that his grant will be approved. Chief also asked about the museum problem. This problem with the items in the museum has been going on for several years now. The Chief needs more room for the police department. The Mayor and Council talked about this and are going to go forth in the process to have the items removed.

Councilman Mike Rohrs asked Chief Clemens about junk cars in yards. This problem will be looked into.

Administrator's Report: Sarah Keeran commented that she had not heard from one family on Main Street about fixing their sidewalks. A motion was passed to start the proceedings for the Village to take on the task. The homeowners would be charged on their real estate taxes for the cost of putting in the new sidewalks. Two Council members voted no on this motion, Karen Lee and Tom VanVlerah; the proceedings will go on.

Sarah Keeran talked about resetting the rear and side setbacks for fencing, all voted Signage for home occupation businesses was discussed. The signage would have a criteria to follow, permits for home occupations would be necessary and a public meeting would be held. This would be in accordance with the zoning board. The Village wants to make it as easy as possible for residents to have home businesses.

Sarah Keeran applied for stimulus monies for road repair. No small villages will get any stimulus money for this.
