WOODBURN UNITED METHODIST PRESENTS CHRISTMAS CANTATA

Woodburn United Methodist Church will be presenting the Christmas Cantata, "Silent Night! Holy Night!" on Sunday, December 9 at 9:00 a.m. The cantata was created by Russell Mauldin and Sue C. Smith, arranged and orchestrated by Russell Mauldin, and is under the direction of Dawn Patterson. This cantata uses many of the carols of the season to demonstrate the beauty of the Christmas story.

The cantata begins with the "Love's Pure Light Opener". This medley includes the beloved "Silent Night! Holy Night!" and concludes with the lovely "Birthday of a King".

Next is the "Let There Be Light Medley" which includes the lyrical "Let There Be Light" and concludes with the stirring "We Three Kings".

Next, the audience will hear the story of Mary's message from the Angel in "My Soul Magnifies the Lord" which also includes the traditional hymn "Angels, from the Realms of Glory".

The audience follows the story as Joseph has to accept the task of defending Mary and her anguished response in "Blessings". This song features a solo by Dawn Patterson, joined by the women of the choir.

The story leads on to the first hours after Jesus' birth with the modern song, "Tell the World"

The narration then leads to the "Shepherds Quake Underscore" featuring the skill of the narrator, Judy Copsey.

The audience will then be treated to the "Infant Holy Medley" which includes the title hymn, "Silent Night! Holy Night!", the sweet "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly", and concludes with the Twila Paris song "We Will Glorify". "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly" features the Cantata Quartet of Annette Ruppert (soprano), Dawn Patterson (alto), Dick Hall (tenor), and Tom Cutchin (bass).

The cantata then continues with the thought-provoking "What Christmas Really Means" which includes a reprise of "Birthday of a King" which is sung by the Cantata Quartet.

Finally, the cantata concludes with the "Tell of His Wonder Finale" This medley begins with the lovely title song, "Silent Night! Holy Night!". It then moves on to the rousing "Jesus, What a Wonderful Child", featuring the Cantata Quartet, and concludes with the joyous "Go, Tell It on the Mountain".

The members of the choir

Paulding's modernizing also includes a brand new lab facility that's separate from the ER at the east end of the existing structure. Re-organizing the entire facility with the new addition will provide seven individual rooms with two of them being larger trauma rooms. The new horseshoe shaped nursing station will not have more staff but will offer line os sight to all patient rooms and easier access for nursing and physicians.

The new lab will be attached to the new ER and the existing Draw Station (which will remain in is present location) by pneumatic tubes (like at the bank!) that send the samples to the labs much faster than a person could deliver them by hand walking through the hallways. This alone could save hours everyday, not to mention lives by getting results much quicker.

This is the fourth major project under Gary Adkins tenure similar to other recent projects. The ER expansion will not cost taxpayers any money and is being paid for by operating funds. Even though Paulding Hospital is a county hospital, no funds are received from the county, state or federal government to run the hospital and no tax money or levies have been requested for this renovation project.

Dave and I would like to thank everyone that attended the Miles for the Man of Steel benefit and our children Mandy, David and Chantelle for putting it all together. Thank you to all the bikers that went on the poker run, that was awesome, the people that donated and bid on items at the auction, and everyone that stepped up and helped with everything. Kitchen help, selling tickets, and the bake sale. The VFW and their bartenders and women's Auxilary as well. And Dave's union brothers for donating the hog and Jeff Zimmerman for cooking it for us. The moonwalk was a big hit with the kids. Also DeRossett Printing for the great job on the shirts. I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone that has been there for us since the day of the accident. My family, our wonderful neighbors, friends, his Union bothers, and Sharon McLaughlin for donating the hospital bed and other equipment for his return home. To Charlie, Adrie, Faye, Debbie and Troy for setting it up for us. They all went above and beyond. Another special thank you to the anonymous donor, Dr. Wiley and his wonderful staff, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fairchild and all the others that have stepped up and helped us with dis-repairs on our house and things that Dave would no longer be able to do. Everyone that made it possible for me to stay in Toledo at Dave's bedside and get to and from St. Joe Hospital. Everyone in our community that has been there for us during what I can only describe as a very terrifying and trying time in our lives. Please keep Dave in your prayers during his recovery. God Bless all of you for everything you have done.

NEW HAVEN MERCHANTS AND SHOPPERS HOLIDAY SAFETY CHECKLIST

By: Stephan M. Poiry, Chief of Police City of New

Be on the lookout for suspicious persons in your area when opening or closing your business; it is best to have two or more employees present when opening and closing your business.

Potential robbers may actually come in and pose as a customer only to case your establishment for a later robbery. Please pay extra attention to any suspicious behavior and take note of the particular vehicle they are driving along with the license plate number.

In the event that your business has had a suspicious person or persons casing your establishment, we can have an officer stand by your business at closing time if one is available.

Always have two people take your deposits to the bank. Have one person handling the deposit and another following behind. In the event anything happens they can call the New Haven Police Department.

During this time of year, there is also an increase in counterfeit money so make sure your employees are on the lookout for counterfeit

THE MOST POWERFUL AND LEAST POWERFUL PEOPLE IN THE WORLD, WHICH LIST ARE YOU ON?

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area

If you were to create a list of the most powerful, influential people in the world who would be on your list? News media outlets offer plenty of lists for the "Best" and the "Most Powerful" people on the planet. For instance, Forbes magazine presents their annual lists for the top 100 celebrities, or for the 400 Richest Americans, or the world's most powerful wom-

Other websites list the top ten most powerful people in the world, or the 50 most powerful people in Washington, D.C. But a website called "24/7 Wall Street" has an unusual twist on this theme. They call it the "100 Least Powerful People in the World List." The list includes corporate executives, athletes, politicians, and celebrities who share one common characteristic-they used to

"Winners" (or "Losers") that qualified for this year's "100 Least Powerful People in the World List":

- Tony Hayward, the former CEO of BP, in 2011 the 4th largest company in the world (based on revenues). After a massive oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico, the BP board of directors eventually fired Hayward.
- Jim Keyes, the former CEO of Blockbuster, once one of the nation's largest retail-
- Mike Jones, the current CEO of the former #1 social network-MySpace, which once had 70 million users.
- Arnold Schwarzenegger, the once powerful actor and politician in California, who is attempting to make an acting comeback after driving his state's finances into the ground.
- Hosni Mubarak, the former President of Egypt who left the country in disgrace.

Some of the individuals on this least powerful list were victims of circumstances; others made poor business decisions; and others lost their influence because of moral failure. But none of them chose to become power-

In contrast, through his birth, incarnation, earthly ministry, and death on the cross, Jesus the all-powerful and sinless Son of God chose to become powerless for our sakes. Philippians 2:5-8 (NIV), "Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death—even death on a cross!

"I bought into the fashionable philosophy of not interfering; letting the children find themselves. When they were getting into trouble—at school, or later with their relationships—I would just bite my lip and tell myself, 'Don't butt in, it's their lives.'"

This quote came from Nick Crews in an article in the British telegraph: I haven't done well as a father, have I? Softer side of the man who fired off 'Crews missile'. When raising his children, Nick had bought into the popular parenting philosophy that we do not interfere in the life of our children. Now that his children are in their late thirties, he is disappointed in them. From the sounds of it, rightfully so. Through living selfishly, they are not providing the safe and stable family that good parents should provide. Realizing this led to him writing a scathing letter to his children. (This letter is reproduced at http://tinyurl.com/clzuayy). The writer of Proverbs taught us to "train up our sponsibility to raise them.

The Israelites took seriously God's instruction to raise their children. The law

You shall therefore lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and the land that the Lord swore to your fathers to give them, as long as the heavens are above the earth. (Deuteronoheart and in our soul, we will have no problem passing it on to our children. Our society might try to teach us not to instruct our children on certain issues, but we won't let that peer pressure stop us. We might feel compelled to not interfere, but we know that passing down spiritual teachings to our children and learning how to handle whatever life may bring is more important than insuring that they know how to read, write, and do arithmetic. That might seem like crazy talk. Reading, writing, and arithmetic are great and essential, but they do not provide the moral compass that instructs us on how we should use our reading, writing, and arithmetic to make this world a better

If you give skills to a person without a moral compass, then you have just created a more empowered monster. They would be good at exporting jobs without caring about the people left unemployed, accumulating wealth just to selfishly indulge, and creating new and inventive ways to screw other people out of their money. A moral compass guides us into using our skills to make our communities a better place.

If we aren't willing to provide a moral compass to our kids, someone is going to instill their moral compass in them. If not us, then who? A popular musician? A wayward teacher? A deceased and disgruntled philosopher? The list goes on and on of people who are willing to raise our children for us and instill in them beliefs that are contrary to what we hold dear. They might grow up to be selfish, self-absorbed leeches on others rather than the blessings that God wants them to be.

Do you really hold dear the teachings of Jesus? You can see whether you do or not by whether you try to pass them down to your children. Do you teach your children to love those picking on them, to try to be a friend to the "unpopular" kids, or to give to others generously? Or do you teach them to fight back, avoid unpopular kids, and to live selfishly? None of us deliberately teach the latter two, but our actions speak much louder than our words. Most of us don't have the teachings of Jesus written on ahead and do that if you would like, but it is most important to have the teachings of Jesus written all over the way we live. We need to be living the life that we want our children to live. We need to be loving others the way that we want our children to love. We need to be seeking after God the way that we want our children to seek after Him. If there is something in our lives that we don't want our children to do, then we need to stop doing it ourselves. Otherwise, our children are more than likely going to do the things we don't want them to do. Likewise, is there something that you want your children to do? Then you need to start doing it with them now. Serve others together. Worship God together. Study together. Be the parent God created you our door frames. You can go

If you don't do it now, it will be too late. And someone else will gladly take your place. Someone is going to instill their beliefs into your children. Is it going to be you? Someone else? Or some stranger? If you let a stranger do it, you increase the chance that you will see your grown up kids living in such a way that it is going to result in messed up grandkids. Nick Crews realized this too late. May we learn from his mistake. We aren't given a second chance when it comes to raising our children. Change today. Our children don't have time for us to change tomor-

Sahara Desert is a three and a half million square mile expanse of arid land in North Africa, west of the Nile River. It is almost the size of the United States, and is growing larger. The history of the Sahara Desert is interesting. Long ago, Romans made this area the granary of Rome by employing soil conservation and water management. When the Romans left, Nomads ruined the land—trees were cut for fuel. Dams and irrigation channels were abandoned. Goat's grazed upon saplings. Topsoil eroded. The land had been highly productive, but when ravaged, it became nothing but "waste." All of us have talents and great opportunities. What we choose to do with our lives will determine if we become "productive" or "wasteland."

value of our soul and prepare he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?'

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

As a resident of small communities we have seen many changes over the past several decades. The family owned and operated businesses have always been there for us. The personal services offered by our local restaurants, garages, service stations, lumber companies, grain elevators, grocery stores, flower shops, etc. have been the mainstay in our daily lives. We can go to any of these stores and greet the owners/workers on a first name basis knowing that they will take the time to assists us in finding what we need with professional knowledge. If your purchase isn't what you wanted when you got home or didn't perform as you thought it would, they will make it good, usually by offering you a full refund or replacement, not and in store credit.

When a local school, sport team, volunteer fire department, church or community group is in need of funds, donations or sponsorships these are the same business owners who dig into their pockets without hesitation to help a local cause. The individuals they employ are most often your neighbor, relative, fellow church member, or have children/grandchildren that go to school with your children.

The majority of us go to the big box stores thinking we will get a bargain at a lower price, but quite often of inferior quality, and end up purchasing many things we don't need at a higher price rather than supporting the small community merchant to get what you need.

Fellow community members, it is time that we once again start supporting these local merchants and businesses or we will continue to lose the core of our community and the support they give to us as individuals and orga-

CITY OF NEW HAVEN REMOVES STOP SIGN ON GREEN STREET AT THE GREEN STREET & POWERS STREET INTERSECTION

The City of New Haven Engineering Department completed a traffic study evaluation at the intersection of Green and Powers and has determined that with the low volume of traffic on Powers, the stop sign on Green at Powers (stopping Green for Powers) is no longer warranted and has now been re-

Assistant Director of Engineering Tye Campbell said, The reason this sign was originally placed on Green was because Powers used to be part of U.S. 24. This resulted in a high volume of truck traffic utilizing that roadway at that time." Campbell added, 'Powers has not been a state highway for over 10 years, and now that through traffic and truck traffic utilize 469, there has been a substantial drop in the amount of traffic utilizing that street.

Mayor McDonald has asked motorists to remain aware of this new change and to use caution when approaching this intersection. For more information, please contact Assistant Director of Engineering Tye Campbell at

DONUTS SUPPORT COM-MUNITY PROJECTS

The Woodburn Lions Club has been making donuts for over 50 years. This past year we made over 2,500 dozen for events such as the Woodburn Garage Sales, recycling day, summer & fall festivals, Woodlan home football games and Harlan

The money raised through these sales have gone to many community and State Lions projects including; Woodburn Food Bank, Woodburn Christian Children's home, Maumee Township EMS, City of Woodburn Electronic sign, Woodburn Christmas light maintenance, Woodlan Band, Day in the Park, eyeglass and assistance for students with sight problems, Leader Dog for the blind, Cancer Control, Indiana Eye Bank. The club also sponsors the annual Easter Egg Hunt and Halloween Party in Woodburn and sponsors a team in the Woodburn youth baseball program.

The financial support of these projects would not be possible without your support of our donuts sales. We contiue to need your support. Our membership continues to age and many members, who have served our community for many years, are no longer able to fully participate in our activities. We need new members who are willing to give a small fraction of their time to serve their community. With regular meetings, twice a month - every 2nd and 4th Monday of the month at 7:00 p.m. at the community center, meetings last about 1 hour, and making donuts during the spring, summer and fall - your commitment would be less than 40 hours/year.

Membership is open to both men and women. Without an influx of individuals willing to give a small portion of their time, eventually Woodburn Lions Donuts may become something of the past. The Lions International slogan is - WE SERVE!

If you are interested in attending and/or joining the Woodburn Lions Club call Denny Miesle at 260-312-2674, Clarence Reichhart at 260-632-5345, Bob Buuck at 260-704-5395 or contact any Lion Club Member.

HUNTERS SUCCESSFUL DURING OHIO'S DEER-GUN SEASON OPENING DAY

Hunters checked 29,297 white-tailed deer on Monday, Nov. 26, the opening day of Ohio's deer-gun season, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' (ODNR) Division of Wildlife.

Monday's total represents a 24.1 percent increase from 2011, when rain-soaked hunters harvested 23,600 deer. Counties reporting the highest numbers of deer checked in 2012: Coshocton (1,199), Muskingum (1,102), Tuscarawas (1,091), Guernsey (858), Harrison (845), Knox (830), Ashtabula (816), Licking (805), Carroll (776) and Washington (747). The top three counties were unchanged from 2011.

The deer-gun season remains open through Sunday, December 2. It will reopen for an additional two days, Saturday and Sunday, December 15-16. Approximately 420,000 hunters are expected to participate in this year's season, including many out-of-state hunters. Find more information about deer hunting in Ohio's 2012-2013 Hunting and Trapping Regulations or at wildohio.com.

The white-tailed deer is the most popular game animal in Ohio, frequently pursued by generations of hunters. Ohio ranks eighth nationally in annual hunting-related sales and 10th in the number of jobs associated with huntingrelated industries. Hunting has an $859 million economic impact in Ohio through the sale of equipment, fuel, food, lodging and more.

Hunters are encouraged to donate any extra venison to organizations assisting Ohioans in need. ODNR Division of Wildlife is collaborating with Farmers and Hunters Feeding the Hungry (FHFH) to help pay for the processing of donated venison. Hunters who donate deer are not required to pay the processing cost as long as the deer are taken to a participating processor. To see which counties are involved in this program, go to fhfh.org.

ODNR ensures a balance between wise use and protection of our natural resources for the benefit of all. Visit the ODNR website at ohiodnr.

OLD DAN & I CHAPTER 16: DAN & I AT AACHEN

By: Stan Jordan

Dan and I returned from a mission on the Gerbersheim Canal and the Rhine River. That was a busy canal that carried raw materials down the Rhine to the Stuttart; sometimes referred to as the Saar Basin or the Colmar Pocket. When we returned from the mission, I knew that I had something wrong with the calf of my right leg.

I went down to the dispensary, and the doctor on duty was a Major from Cleveland Ohio. He had me lay on my belly and looked at my wound. He said, "Yes, you got hit, but you darn near didn't. That slug went through your clothes and just hit the skin of the inside of your right leg, but it was hot and left a burn and not a hole type wound."

He said, "Really what you have is a second degree burn. I will put on some salve and bandage and mark you 'duty'.'

I am glad that I am back to duty, because I think Gen. Guggenheim is cooking up a new mission. The Gen. came over this morning and had his driver with him. A Gen. carries a lot of weight and they get catered to. When we went down to the mess hall mid-morning, we had coffee and hot cinnamon rolls.

We were all present: Lt. Meyers, Lt. Hornish, Dan, the general's driver and I, in the officers lounge.

Gen. Guggenheim said, "Fellows here is the big picture. We are going to make another napalm raid. Needless to say, it is another hush,

"I will fly the C-47 transport with all of the napalm and ground crew and you three will escort me to Rome, Italy. There is a facility there called the Spaghetti Airbase. It is a big one, reconditioned and in good shape. The Italians used it. We will not have to take guards along, as it has a fenced in security area.

"It is about 1200 miles to Rome and we will need our extra fuel tanks but we will not drop them, we will need

'We will be able to use our radios. I will be Blue Jay and you guys will be Blue Jay 1, 2, and 3. That airbase down there knows we are coming and who we are on the radio, but they are not sure when we are going. I will notify them the morning that we leave

"Now do you fellows have any questions?"

'Ŷes sir," Lt. Meyers said, "Just who is this gentleman here? He certainly is not just The Gen. said, "I knew that someday, that someone would ask that questions, and I don't blame you. "His name is Elroy and he is no common driver. He has been with S-3 and I since June 1941, when he graduated from MIT. "He doesn't wear stripes, but he is a Master Sgt. First Class. He is a very important part of this organization. He can fly the C-47 as my co-pilot but he was never checked

"Okay fellas, any other questions? Fine, well I'm leaning towards the day after tomorrow about mid-morn-

"If you fellows would be all ready to go, Elroy and I will be here and we will all go to breakfast together. Then if we have any changes or corrections we will discuss it then. Okay? Meeting over, see you about 8:00 a.m. Thursday."

ROAD NAMES & NUMBERS NORTH OF THE MAUMEE

Your "presence" is the best of "presents" we could wish for - please come and celebrate the music of the season with us!

1. Of course the Defiance/ Paulding County Line have always used that name and no number.

2. The next road to the south is CR 230 and it was called the Johnson Rd.

3. The next road to the south is CR 220 and it was called Kemerer Rd.

4. (a) In between CR 220 and CR 204 is a short road called a One Half Mile Rd. off of SR 49—to the west it was called the Rogers Rd. after the Arthur Rogers family. That number is 214.

4. (b) Then it skipped a mile and then between Road 43 and east to 53 it is called the Drexler Rd. after Harry Drexler now numbered 216. 4. (c) Then it skips three miles and is still 214 over in Crane Township. I couldn't find a name for that road.

5. The next CR to the south is 204 it is called the Hubbard Rd. That road ends to the east at TWP Rd. 53. Then is skips to the east two miles and then it is CR 206 or the Harvgrave Pike. It runs from Dead Man's Curve onto Cecil.

6. This is a one mile road TWP 190 between 204 and Road 192. I call this the Balser

7. CR 192 or commonly called the River Rd. East or West from SR 49.

8. TWP T-31 is off the River Rd. to the west. The roads changed numbers at the Maumee River. Most of the numbers north of the river end in 3 but south of the river that same road might end in 1.

Next week we have the east/west roads that are south of the river.

See ya!

Dear Friends and Read-

Here at the WBN on our joke or laugh of the day column, we have used the logo of the little fellow looking over the fence.

That logo originated back during WWII over in Europe. It went along with the words Kill Roy Was Here.

It was found all over the E.T.O. even in London's Picadilly Circus. There is a tall marble spire that has been there for many, many years, and very sacred to all English people.

Well, in 1943 during the war they put up a scaffolding and removed the top ornament from the spire and inside this nationally known edifice was the above picture and the words Kill Roy Was

The officials never knew who, when, or how that note got in there but the note and picture was very famous and well-known by all the service men in the European theatre of operations and the Army's weekly publication called Yank.

The bottom picture of the speeding locomotive is called Ol' #9, it was drawn by Joel Steiner a 6th grade student at Antwerp Local School. He is the son of the editor at WBN. I thank Joel for this logo.

SAM RIVERS. INDIAN AGENT CHAPTER 43: BILLY METZGER ARRIVES

By: Stan Jordan

I haven't written for a few days, just too much going

The other evening Gen. Kearney and Lt. Billy Metzger came into the agency to pay a visit to all his old friends.

Well maybe I better tell you, who Billy Metzger is and why we are so glad to see

He was 14 years old when he and his family left Ohio to go to Oregon to grow an apple orchard. He became a sidekick to the wagon master Slim Jim Martin. Billy is very good with horses and mules and was very good taking care of the wagons.

When the wagon train reached Fort Bridger, Billy's parents let him sign on with El Passo Sam, Slim Jim, and Hiram Mason the freighter from the California Gold

We arrived at their village and a few of the natives greeted Billy after they found out who he was-he is four years older now. Now there was quite a circle of friends: Gen. Kearney, Billy, Sam, and all four of the soldiers, Limping Buffalo, Pony that Walks, Half Moon, Deer Foot, and a couple of other

They passed the peace pipe around a couple of times and Rooster had brought along the one burner oil stove and he was busy making coffee. Most of the natives can speak enough English to carry on a conversation, so there was a lot of talking and greeting going on.

Billy spent hours talking to Limping Buffalo and Pony that Walks, as he knew them from four years ago. The natives still refer to him as He Talks To Horses. After the pow-wow broke up, Rooster had made bean soup with buffalo meat and he had fried up some deer pieces and baked some biscuits. We ate and drank coffee and talked with Billy way into the night. After we all had breakfast and took care of the horses, looked them all over pretty good. He helped the boys grease the wheels and hubs on all of the wagons. Then they repaired the boards on the back of the barn where the wolves got in. In the middle of the morning, Billy and a couple

After a couple of hours of walking and leading the horses without any action of any type they sat down in the shade to smoke a cigarette and rest the horses a little. The fellows chewed on a

The soldier named Hunter said, "My gosh! Look, there is a bear over by that pile of brush at the bottom of that maple tree."

The bear stood up and looked at the boys and Hunter shot him with his 45-70 but he didn't go down.

Oh my gosh, here he comes!

TRACY'S COUNTRY FLEA MARKET

Tracy's Country Flea Market kicked off their first annual "Snowflakes for Seniors" Christmas project with a blessing by Pastor Tommy Sandefer of Van Wert Victory Church and the lighting of the tree by Mayor Don Farmer.

Gene Tracy, owner of the flea market, along with his wife Melissa, wanted to do something for Christmas for the elderly who are many times overlooked at this time of year so it was decided that the vendors at the flea market along with the Tracy's would adopt individuals from a local nursing home who would not be having Christmas with family or friends this year and the project began.

Snowflakes were numbered rather than named and a wish list on each snowflake placed on the tree. Anyone wishing to pick a snowflake from the tree and be a 'Secret Santa' is welcome to stop in and give us your name, then after shopping for your individual the gifts should be brought to the flea market by December 16th and we will see they are delivered to the nursing home in time for Christmas.

The Tracy's want this to be an annual event and welcome your participation in the project. Stop out at Tracy's Country Flea Market and see the tree and pick up your snowflake and start your Christmas shopping at the same time.

MANOR HOUSE GYM – YEAR IN REVIEW

The past year has been a whirlwind at the Manor House Gym. The gym opened for events in October 2011. Three fall basketball leagues for girls in grades 3-6, boys 3-4 and 5-6 brought 54 players mainly from Antwerp, Paulding, and Wayne Trace school districts. However, the seed was planted for future events. The fall league paid for gym lighting repairs and new water connections for the gym rest rooms. The Antwerp Baseball Association was a huge partner throughout the winter months in renting the gym for throwing and catching fundamentals. Their income repaired the toilets and made the rest rooms usable again. As word spread of the new gym facility, more communities showed their support. A boys spring varsity basketball league was offered and players came from all Paulding County schools and also from Hicksville. A national spring tournament came to Antwerp in conjunction with the Antwerp Local School gyms. Teams participated from Buffalo, NY, Akron, Toledo and Wauseon, OH; Angola, Lagrange and Fort Wayne, IN. Although team numbers were lower than hoped, the communication about the gym spread and opened new opportuni-

Basketball summer leagues were offered on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights in June and July. Monday brought grade boy teams from WT, Paulding, Antwerp, and a team from Marion, OH. Tuesday brought twelve JV boys teams to the Antwerp School gyms and included 10 area Ohio teams as well as two Fort Wavne travel ties for the summer.

JH girls. Teams traveled out of their communities to Antwerp each week from Delphos, Wayne Trace, Bishop Dwenger, Van Wert, and FW Legit. JH Boys played on Thursdays from Paulding, WT, Archbold, Tinora, and FW Legit. Those leagues kept the gym full and hopping. The income was used for repairs in the bleacher mechanics making all four sets usable and retractable again; provided a second scoreboard for divided gym play, and started an account for the future return of heat to the gym. Fall brought a new offering to the gym. A grant from the Paulding County Area Foundation in late 2011 provided the opportunity for the Manor House Gym to purchase volleyball equipment for two courts to play at a time. Twelve elementary teams from as far away as VW, Defiance, and Edon, participated in Antwerp, on Saturday mornings, to try their hand at improving their

The fall also brought a new boys basketball league, a tournament for JH Parochial Schools, and a 6th grade boy's pre-season basketball tournament. Marion, OH again played in the fall league with Antwerp, WT, Paulding, and newcomer Leo, IN. The volleyball season closed with parochial schools from Napoleon, OH; Monroeville, New Haven, Huntington, Fort Wayne, and Elkhart, IN. After having no interest last fall, the pre-season boys' basketball tournament brought two teams from Toledo, a Paulding County combined team and Marion. When the inaugural fall league rolled around again it expanded from three leagues to six. Added to the original three were 3-4 grade girls, 7-8 boys and girls. The whole difference was from the communication from last year's Paulding County players. This year hosted new players from Woodburn, New Haven, Hoagland, and Monroeville, IN; Archbold, Sylvania, Napoleon, Stryker, Edgerton, and all over Northwest OH. The league more than doubled in size. The income from the leagues provided enough to reconnect gas lines, then order and install heat into the

BIRD FEEDING

By: Jim Lopshire, Extension Educator

Bird feeding is a very popular way to enjoy wildlife in your backyard. A bird feeder placed in view of a kitchen or living room window can provide a pleasurable and educational experience. Many people choose to feed birds year round, while others elect to feed birds only during the cold months of winter.

If you do not have a bird feeding station in your back-yard but are interested in getting into this popular hobby, a little planning and consideration of bird feeding habits can make your backyard habitat more successful. First, let's consider the birds' needs.

Try to put the feeder in a location that is protected from winter winds. If you are placing your feeder on a pole, it should be 5 to 6 feet above the ground. There are some bird species, such as doves, which feed on the ground, so you might want to install a ground platform feeder to meet their needs.

In addition to protection from the cold winter winds, birds need protection from predators that may be attracted, not just for the seed, to your feeder. So, position your feeder within 5 feet of some type of cover such as trees or shrubs for escape from predators. Birds will also use these areas for loafing between meals.

PH: 419-258-2000 • 260-246-8843 • info@westbendnews.net

The type of seed you put into the feeder is an important consideration. There are many premixed bird seeds on the market, but what is in the mix will have an effect on how much is actually consumed. Some birdseed mixes contain seeds, such as milo, wheat, oats and rice, which are unattractive to most birds. The seed that attracts the widest variety of birds is sunflower.

One way to avoid wasted seed is to make your own mixture. A combination of white proso millet and black oil-type sunflower seed will give you the most for your bird-feeding dollar because these seed types are preferred by many types of birds. While the initial cost of this seed combination may be higher, very little seed, and therefore money, will be wasted.

If winter feeding is started

If winter feeding is started it must be consistent throughout the winter when natural foods are in low supply. It is important to place the feeders in a location where you can get to them in the middle of winter. Do not forget to keep your bird feeder clean. Once a week, or as necessary, remove moldy seed and fecal matter from the feeder. If you feed birds during the warmer months, disinfect your feeder at cleaning time with a weak bleach solution.

TIME FOR YEAR-END REVIEW OF YOUR FINANCIAL STRATEGY?

Financial Focus by: Gabe Pollock, Edward Jones Advisor

Now that 2012 is drawing to a close, you may want to review the progress you've made this past year in many areas of your life — including your financial situation. By going over your investment portfolio and other key areas related to your finances, you can learn what moves you may need to make in 2013 to stay on track toward your important objectives, such as college for your children, a comfortable retirement and the ability to leave the type of legacy you desire.

To get a clear picture of where you are, consider asking yourself these questions:

• Am I taking on too much risk? Although 2012 has generally been a pretty good year for investors, we've certainly seen periods of considerable volatility. During these times, did you find yourself constantly fretting about big drops in your portfolio value? In fact, have you consistently experienced this type of worry throughout your years as an investor? If so, you might be taking on too much risk for your individual risk tolerance. Review your holdings to determine if you can lower your risk level without jeopardizing your overall investment strategy.

• Am I investing too conservatively? Just as you can take on too much investment risk, you can also go to the other extreme by investing too conservatively. If your portfolio contains a preponderance of investments that offer significant preservation of principal but very little in the way of growth potential, you may be endangering your chances of accumulating the resources you'll need to achieve your long-term goals. • Am I contributing as much as I can afford to my retirement plans? If you have access to an employer-sponsored retirement plan, such as a 401(k), 403(b) or 457(b), consider yourself fortunate. Your plan has the potential to grow on a tax-deferred basis, and you typically contribute pre-tax dollars — the more you put in, the lower your annual taxable income. Plus, your employer may match part of your contributions. So if you've been under-funding your retirement plan, ratchet up your funding in 2013. At the same time, you may still be eligible to contribute to an IRA; if so, try to "max out" on it. The Paulding Chamber of Commerce celebrated with the owners of Rip It Fit on Friday, November 30th with a ribbon cutting ceremony announcing the opening of the new fitness gym at the corner of Williams and Perry St. in Paulding. Reta and Mark Ptak along with Drew and Brenda Munger have put in endless hours to polish and make shine this landmark building in downtown Paulding. Pulling out all drop ceiling and restoring the original beauty was a priority of the group. "We've utilized little pieces of the building's history in the restoration process," Reta commented.

Each room of the upstairs gym will offer different varieties of fitness-from ellipticals, to weight benches, to treadmills—upon leaving Rip It Fit, a person's fitness goals can be realized. In the downstairs, Reta will continue to offer different exercise classes. The Ptak's and Munger's began this project in May 2012. All their hard work is beginning to pay off.

The gym officially opened Saturday, December 1st. Hours will be Monday through Friday 6:00 a.m. through 9:00 p.m. and Saturday 6:00 a.m. through 12:00

DONATION FOR THANKSGIVING

Paulding County Area

FOUNDATION

THANKFULNESS IS...

By: Lisa McClure, Paulding County Area Foundation

In September 1620, a small ship called the Mayflower left Plymouth, England carrying 102 passengers seeking a new home where they could freely practice their faith and find prosperity and land ownership in the New World.

Squanto, a Native American, came to the colonists who were weakened by malnutrition and illness and taught them how to cultivate corn and catch fish in the streams.

In November of 1961, the Pilgrims first corn harvest proved successful. To show their appreciation the colonists invited those who taught them the art of planting and celebrated America's "first Thanksgiving".

In 1863, at the height of the Civil War, Abraham Lincoln proclaimed all Americans to ask God to "commend his tender care to all those who have become widows, mourners, orphans or sufferers in the lamentable civil strife" and to "heal the wounds of the nation." He scheduled Thanksgiving for the last Thursday in November. It was celebrated on that day until 1939, when Franklin D. Roosevelt moved the date up a week to try and spur the economy during the Great Depression. His plan was met with opposition. In 1941, the president signed a bill making Thanksgiving the fourth Thursday in November.

In many households, Thanksgiving has lost much of its religious significance, instead centering around food, parades and football.

We often take for granted the blessings that have been so generously provided for us. As you finish Thanksgiving leftovers with family and friends, remember to take time to be grateful for what has been given you.

We, at the Paulding County Area Foundation, wish you and your family a blessed holiday season with much to be thankful for.

RESPONDING TO THE AF-FORDABLE CARE ACT

By: IN State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

As members of the General Assembly look toward the legislative session that begins in January, we are preparing to discuss several prominent issues that will impact all Hoosiers. Near the top of the list is the federal health-care mandate. Legislators are tasked with deciding how Indiana will respond to the law's requirements.

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) - often referred to as "Obamacare" - contains dozens of changes to health care and taxation in the United States, many of which require decisions to be made by state governments. One such component is the law's creation of "health insurance exchanges," which serve as one-stop shops for consumers to compare and buy insurance plans.

By December 14, each state must choose to either design and implement its own exchange, let the federal government manage its exchange or operate an exchange under a federal-state partnership. Whoever takes ownership has the authority to decide the criteria for insurance plans offered on the exchanges. These will take full effect in January 2014.

There are some who believe these exchanges will benefit health care in the U.S. overall. According to a study presented to the 2012 Indiana Family Impact Seminar, approximately 930,000 Hoosiers were uninsured in 2011. If fully implemented, ACA could increase insurance coverage and access to care for hundreds of thousands, some say. These proponents also argue the exchanges would lower insurance prices and

However, many also argue that ACA is too costly for states, no matter what option they choose. If Indiana runs its own health This would lead to higher taxes or major spending cuts in other essential areas, some say.

On the other hand, allowing the federal government against the Blazers. More pictures at www.westbendnews.

The Lady Warriors took on Eastside Wednesday evening, November 28 at home. The lady Warriors were warmed and up and ready to proceed for the win. The JV game shortly before produced an outstanding win for the Woodburn team with Eastside not even scoring a basket until the 2nd Eastside scored the first two baskets with Woodlan following with a 3 point basket. By the end of the first quarter Woodlan was ahead by nine points. Woodlan outscored the Blazers in the first three quarters the last quarter went to the guests. The Lady Warriors won the sportsmanship award as Eastside players were not afraid to use inappropriate means of 'getting back'. sonal support or opposition. Throughout the legislative session, the General Assembly will take a closer look at these potential obstacles and determine how to best respond. At the end of the day, our goal as lawmakers is to construct a solution that gives Hoosiers the best health care possible in a financially responsible way.

HUNTERS HARVEST MORE THAN 1,300 TURKEYS DUR-ING OHIO'S FALL SEASON

Hunters harvested 1,338 wild turkeys during Ohio's 2012 fall wild turkey season, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' (ODNR) Division of Wildlife. Ohio's 2012 fall wild turkey hunting season was open Oct. 13-Nov. 25.

This year's total is a 2.5 percent decline from 2011, when hunters bagged 1,372 wild turkeys. The 2010 harvest total was 1,425.

"Wild turkey hunting is a challenging activity that thousands of hunters enjoy year after year with family and friends," said ODNR Director James Zehringer. "Ohio's wild turkey population remains strong, and we appreciate those hunters who participated in the fall wild turkey season this

The top 11 counties for fall turkey harvest were: Ashtabula (61), Coshocton (56), Geauga and Tuscarawas (53 each), Knox (46), Clermont (42), Licking (41), Guernsey (39), Holmes (38) as well as Adams and Richland (37 each). Ashtabula was also the top county in 2011, with 67 wild turkeys.

Prior to the start of this fall's hunting season, Ohio's wild turkey population was approximately 180,000. More than 17,000 hunters, not including private landowners hunting on their own property, enjoyed Ohio's fall wild turkey season. Hunters could pursue a wild turkey of either sex in 48 counties using a shotgun, muzzleloading shotgun, bow or crossbow.

More information about Ohio wild turkey hunting can be found at wildohio. com. Hunters can share photos by clicking on the Photo Gallery tab online.

eTECH OHIO TO HOST 15th ANNUAL OHIO EDUCATION-AL TECHNOLOGY CONFER-ENCE

eTech Ohio, a state agency dedicated to preparing learners for a technology-driven future, will host the 15th annual Ohio Educational Technology Conference (OETC) February 11-13, 2013 at the Greater Columbus Convention Center. This three-day event will bring together more than 6,000 educators, administrators and thought leaders, and will feature over 500 events and sessions. The 2013 theme, * Equip * Engage * Empower *, will explore educational technology models, advancements in pedagogy and practice, and emerging tools for teaching and learning.

'We are excited to once again host educators, students, technology experts and state partners from throughout Ohio here in Columbus" said Greg Davidson, Interim Executive Director of eTech Ohio. "The Conference is a proven resource, equipping attendees with knowledge of educational currents across the state, engaging them to explore new ways of integrat-

gogy, and empowering Ohio students and educators to imagine what our learning environments can be. New this year, and building from Digital Learning Day, to be observed on February 6, OETC will offer Pre-Conference Sessions. These three-hour intensive hands-on workshops covering robotics, cloud-based applications, and coding and programming set the stage for the expanded hands-on workshop offerings through OETC 2013. Our themed programming days provide a streamlined conference experience, allowing administrators and teachers to best utilize their time away from their home schools. Monday's "Blended Learning 101," featuring keynote speaker Heather Clayton Staker of Innosight Institute, will provide administrators and teachers with a quick and easy way to get up to speed on blended learning, an evolving pedagogy combining the best online and face-to-face instruction. "Tech Tuesday" is geared toward educational IT personnel and will feature a keynote by Max Brooks of the Discovery Educator Network. Tuesday's attendees will also experience OETC's first ever Un-Conference. Focused on social media, these sessions will allow attendees to drive the agenda and collaborate to find innovative solutions for common problems as topics emerge organically from participant interests. "Higher Education Wednesday" will close the Conference with a focus on college-level learning in the digital age. The Ohio Board of Regents will host a roundtable discussion on the meaning of disruptive learning for Ohio institutions and students.

The Raider Jr. High wrestling team started off their invitational Consisting of Division II and

Last year the Jr. High Raider wrestlers had been dubbed the Fab 5 as they had a stellar eighth grader in George Clemens III and four solid seventh graders. It was unclear of how this team would fair as only three returned from last year's squad: Ruger Goeltzenleuchter, Brandon Laney, and Caleb Schultz. However, they would be joined by a large seventh grade group and a couple of eighth graders trying the sport out for themselves in 7th as a team after two rounds. As they shook the rust off and calmed their nerves down, some pivotal wins would come. Slowly the Raiders would creep up the team standings. The larger schools would find themselves slipping as the Raiders passed them. In the end, the Raiders would only fall short of passing Elida and finish the tournament as runners' up. Coach Stabler was quick to say, "it was a team effort to accomplish what we did today. Not all of the wrestlers placed, but everyone contributed to the team points and our runner up finish." Hunter Showalter (3-2), Clayson Brown (3-2), Anthony Rooks (3-2), and Brandon Decker (2-2) would all make it to the consi semi's but fall one win shy of placing. Brandon Laney would finish 3rd and Caleb Schultz 2nd for the red, white, and blue. Three champions would be crowned: Ruger Goeltzen-

The Toledo Colony of the Ohio Mayflower Society met Saturday, November 17 at Findlay, OH at Birchhaven Chapel for their annual Thanksgiving Compact meeting and traditional turkey dinner.

Attending from Antwerp were Myron and Caroline Zimmerman. Caroline is a direct descendant of GEORGE SOULE who was a signer of the Mayflower Compact and an indentured servant for seven years of Gov. Winslow. (Mr. Soule was a school teacher and served in many capacities over that time). We were reminded of the struggles of the first year of the Pilgrims and when they arrived at Plymouth, MA, they had sailed much further North than they had intended to. They found that other groups had tried to land at that same spot and live but had failed.

Not only did it take them several years to prepare for the trip to America, in the first year from leaving England on August 5, 1620 they had many mishaps including leaks in one of the two boats that set off for the venture. The "Speedwell" sprung a leak and they both returned and could only take aboard part of their passengers on the already crowded and older ship, the "Mayflower". They had gone later in the year because of pirating and the storms were bad on the ocean. They (even the children) drank beer during the trip. Mrs. Bradford died the first year, but he never mentions it in his writings. More than half of the people died during this year.

The pilgrims would never have survived without the help of the Indians. Even though the Indians were a bit afraid of the white people because they had just had gotten over a terrible outbreak of some disease that had killed many Indians, they still approached the Pilgrims luckily. The Pilgrims also learned how to trap beaver in the first years. The story of the Pilgrims should be remembered and retold each year to your children. It was made a National Holiday in 1863 by President Lincoln.

The November meeting including "the kernels of corn" in which each member was given a kernel of corn and ask to tell what they felt was their greatest blessing of the past year. New members and lost members were announced. The program was given by the State Historian: Ann Fox Gulbransen on "Genealogy in your Jammies". It was a very interesting dialog on a lot of free sites and links and some good information on getting your correct information without making errors on your lineage and applications. She also gave out a excellent handout with lots of information for researchers. If you are interested in joining the Mayflower Society or would like to know more about it, please call Caroline Zimmerman at 419-258-2222, I will try to answer your questions or forward your calls. You must be able to prove your direct line back to a signer of the Mayflower Compact to be eligible. Even though there were only about 50 persons who made it through the winter, there seems to be several thousand people who are eligible for membership thru those who lived thru the winter. The Mayflower Compact was signed before the Pilgrims got off the Mayflower to go onto the shore as a covenant and to combine civil body politic, for better order, preservation and furtherance of ends aforesaid; it was to make things equal to all (Saints AND Strangers as they referred to themselves). The men were each given a weapon and treated equally even though some were servants of others. It was signed in the Cabin of the Mayflower on Cape Cod, November 21, 1620 (November 11 - Old style), as recorded by Gov. William Bradford in his book History of Plymouth Plantation.
