NEW HAVEN'S MONAGHAN RETIRING... SORT OF

By: Brett Hess, The News-Sentinel

To call Pat Monaghan a "throwback" or "old school" would be a disservice to the

New Haven boys track and field coach. Sure, he started his coaching career in the district in 1966 and, yes, he was once known as an intimidating figure. He even learned his coaching techniques from black and white coach-and field coach, a post he's held since 1972.

Asked if he is retiring from coaching, Monaghan will only say that he needs time this a summer to step back and enjoy some time off. He may be back with the Bulldogs next season as an assistant or even volunteer. It's almost impossible to imagine New Haven track and field without Monaghan. Then again, we won't have to: four of his assistant coaches as well as head girls coach Larry Stemmler, all ran track for Monaghan at New Haven over the years. And they all plan to be back.

"Coach is the symbol of New Haven, both in school and in athletics," said one of those assistants, Jim Fitzgerald (1980 grad). "His influence is everywhere in this community with the students he's taught and coached over the years. Even the track is named for him."

Stemmler, a 1992 graduate, says it was Monaghan's teaching and coaching style that drew him to the profession.

"I saw the difference he made in people and how he cared, even for the kids like me who were not all-stars," Stemmler said. "I even started coaching for Pat while I was in college (1994)."

Stemmler said it was Monaghan's dedication that stands out the most.

"He was watching film long before any other high school coach was doing it," Stemmler said. "He wanted to do everything he could to help his athletes get better. And the harder they would work, the harder he would work."

Monaghan said he had to work hard because he didn't have a track background and always felt like he was trying to catch up. Growing up in Iowa he was a wrestler and went on to compete at St. Ambrose University. After a two-year stint in the Peace Corps in Venezuela, he applied for teaching and wrestling coaching jobs all over the Midwest. In 1966 he landed at Village Woods Junior High and after one year he moved over to New Haven Junior High.

At both schools, he started wrestling programs, but New Haven's high school wrestling coach was rather young, so Monaghan joined the track and field coaching staff. He coached the sprinters and hurdlers. When he became head coach a few years later, there was no one to coach the throwers, so he became a student of the shot put and discus events. The result: New Haven once had a 20-year streak of sending at least one thrower to the state meet.

"I learned pretty early that technique could make a big difference in this sport," Monaghan said. "So we studied (film) of the very best and broke down film of our own athletes."

Fitzgerald says Monaghan's reputation back then was different than it is today.

"I know a few guys around town who ran for Pat in his first few years," Fitzgerald said. "They say he was a big, tough, intimidating coach. When he gave you a command, you jumped."

Monaghan didn't perceive himself in that way but does admit that people tell him he's changed over the years.

"I'm sure I was more intense, but I was just trying to challenge kids," Monaghan said. "Whether it was out on the track or in history class, I was excited about the subject and I think the kids recognized that."

SUPPORTING OUR VETERANS

By: IN State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

A dedication to serve our country is engrained in our Hoosier roots. During the Civil War, 75 percent of eligible men from Indiana fought for the Union army—second to only Delaware in per-capita enlistment.

Along with Indiana's commitment to serve comes a resolve to honor and assist those who protect our freedom in the military. It's no secret that returning to civilian life brings about challenges for many veterans. That's why the General Assembly enacted legislation this session to remove some of the roadblocks veterans face.

One bill requires Indiana's public colleges and universities to provide administrative and educational assistance to veterans. This includes having a centralized location for admission and financial aid services, fitness accommodations for disabled veterans, academic guidance, counseling services and job-search assistance.

Once these veterans are accepted to college, our public universities will now automatically grant them in-state tuition through Senate Enrolled Act 177. Military service often requires those serving to leave the state for an extended period, in many cases losing their in-state eligibility. Honorably discharged veterans will now be eligible for this lower tuition level rate, regardless of whether they are from Indiana or have lived here long enough to meet the school's residency requirements.

The state is also looking to support veterans seeking to start their own businesses. Senate Enrolled Act 564 sets a goal for the state government to secure at least 3 percent of all its supply contracts with veteran-owned businesses. The Indiana Economic Development Corporation will assist these businesses in qualifying for state contracts.

Unemployment remains stubbornly high across the country. For post-9/11 veterans, the unemployment rate is even higher. We as a state owe it to our veterans to help them succeed in civilian life. I believe the bills passed by the General Assembly this year are a step in the right direction. What do you think?

EARTH DAY AT LAFARGE

To celebrate Earth Day, Lafarge North America's Paulding Cement plant in Paulding, Ohio mounted a bat shelter in one of the plant's several wild-life habitat areas.

"As a site certified by the Wildlife Habitat Council, we make it a priority to be aware of the needs of our surrounding wildlife," says Tim Weible, Senior Environmental Manager at Lafarge's Paulding plant. "Bats are an essential part of a balanced eco-system. Building this shelter is our response to the needs of a declining bat population."

Bats help control pests, such as mosquitoes, and are also vital pollinators and seed-dispersers for countless vegetation. However, in many areas their habitats are being destroyed, leaving no place for bats to nest and consequently, creating a critical gap in the regeneration of local plant life.

"By installing a bat shelter on-site, we hope to attract more bats to the area and help restore the bat population by providing a safe place to roost," says Weible.

The Paulding site has wild-life habitat areas on-site, such as grass plains, a lake and wild-flowers, in order to preserve a natural habitat for local wild-life and vegetation. Making more durable cities and communities through sustainability and environmental stewardship programs like this is one of Lafarge's key priorities. Local initiatives, such as those put forth by the Paulding site, maintain this commitment and work towards maintaining the environmental integrity of Lafarge U.S.'s operations.

WHO HAS GOD CALLED YOU TO LOVE?

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

Becky O'Connell has been given a unique unofficial title—"The Baby Whisperer." Officially, the 65-year-old widow is a temporary foster care worker. According to a 2013 article in the Chicago Tribune, "She keeps baby clothes arranged by size in the guest room. The hand-knit caps are stacked on a table near the door. And the white wicker bassinet is always within reach." Becky O'Connell is prepared because at any moment of the day or night she could receive a call from a social worker who needs to place an infant in her care. Some of the children have been abandoned. Others have been abused. All of them are desperate for love, for touch, and for attention. So far Ms. O'Connell has taken in 77 infants, or about seven babies per year that stay from one night to four months.

The road to this unique call wasn't easy. In 1999 her youngest son, Ian, was killed in a car accident. "For years and years after (his death), I couldn't concentrate," she says. "I looked and acted like a normal person, but you don't feel like a normal person." A few years later, as she was just beginning to regain her balance, she read an ad from a local adoption agency. They needed someone to be a temporary foster parent for newborns. To O'Connell, who had always loved babies, it sounded like a dream job.

If she has a secret, she says, it is simply giving each child her undivided attention. She adds, "People think that babies bring a lot of disorder and confusion to a household," she says. "But I'm here to tell you it's not the babies who are disordered and confused. It's the adults."

O'Connell simply says, "My job is to fall in love with these babies."

O'Connell's passion to love these abandoned, abused babies brings to mind the words of Jesus... "Love your enemies and to love one another." Who has God called you to love?

WOODBURN UNITED METHODIST MAKES BABY BLANKETS FOR BRAZIL

Woodburn United Methodist is involved in a very special mission this month; sending Baby Blankets to Brazil. Two of the missionaries that the Woodburn United Methodist Church help to support are Steve and Maria Newnum who serve in Brazil. On the missionaries' visit earlier this year, when asked how the members could help, besides monetarily, Steve and Maria mentioned that the natives really could use baby blankets. It is a very hot country much of the year, so none of the native homes have heat. When their "winter" comes, it gets down to 50 degrees, which doesn't sound very cold to people in Indiana. But, for them, when it's 50 degrees outside, it's also 50 degrees inside. That's pretty cold for small children.

When the members of the church heard this testimony, they felt they had found a mission that they could fill. So far, the members have turned in 41 baby blankets, and they would like to offer a chance for others in the community to join their mission. The church will be dedicating the baby blankets on Sunday, May 12. If you would like to take part, and/or bring baby blankets for this mission, please join them for worship at 9:00 a.m., which will be followed by Sunday School at 10:15 p.m.

If you would like to donate a blanket, the blankets may be hand-sewn, hand-crocheted, hand-knitted, hand-tied, purchased new, or gently used. Just bring them along and join the members for the "Blessing of the Baby Blankets" on May 12 at 9:00 a.m.

Pastor Terry McDonald and all the members would love to have everyone attend. Woodburn United Methodist is on Becker Rd. behind the Marathon gas station in the center of Woodburn.

ON PAINTING HIGHWAY STRIPES

By: Pastor Joel DeSelm, Woodburn Missionary Church

One man landed a job painting the yellow line down the center of the highway. This was in the days before the automatic paint sprayers used by the highway crews today. Consequently, the guy had to do the entire job by hand.

The worker was pretty impressive the first day. However, as the week wore on, his productivity kept getting worse and worse.

Finally the foreman called the man in and told him, "Look, your first day out, you did great. You painted that striped line for three miles."

"In fact, your second day on the job wasn't too bad either—you went two miles."

"However," the foreman continued, "today was terrible. You've been working all day long and only got a one-mile stretch painted. If things don't start picking up, I may have to fire you."

The employee looked crestfallen and then said, "It's not my fault, sir. It's just that every day I got further and further away from the paint can."

Some people feel as though they get further and further away from God. Perhaps because of neglect, indifference, or just plain old self-sufficiency, many people today sense that they are not close to God.

As has been often stated, "If you find yourself getting further from God, guess who's moved." The Lord has promised always to be available to us and always to love us. However, the stipulation for being close to the Lord is found in the book of Jeremiah.

In Jeremiah 29:13 the Lord states that "you'll seek Me and find Me when you seek for Me with all your heart." That's the key. With all your heart.

Are you doing that? Are you truly seeking after Christ with all your heart? Why not turn to Him TODAY, asking Him to forgive you, to be Lord of your life, and to enable you to be the kind of person HE wants you to be.

You'll be amazed at how near the Lord will be to you. You'll not only be able to "paint more miles of road", but you'll also discover that you'll be a lot closer to the Paint Can.

UPON THIS ROCK - MATTHEW 16:13-18

By: James Wright, First Church of God, Dupont OH

The question that Jesus asked His disciples, "Who do men say that I am?" And His disciples said, "John the Baptist, Elijah, Jeremiah one of the prophets." And Jesus asked again to His disciples, "Who do you say that I am?" And Peter stood and said, "Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God." And Jesus replied, "Blessed art thou Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father in heaven." What was revealed to Peter, could not have been done through man's wisdom, and knowledge, it was through the divine revelation of the Holy Spirit. Christ in return said, "And thou art Peter." Since Peter confessed who Christ was, Christ in return confessed Peter as one of His disciples. "And thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church." The question is who was this rock that Jesus was talking about? There are two words that stand out. Peter and rock. We know that Peter was named Cephas, which means, a stone. The word Peter comes from the Greek word, "Petros" - a stone that is broken off from the mother stone. The word rock on the other hand comes from the Greek "Petra" - a solid unmovable rock. Jesus was telling Peter, "Upon this very rock (Christ) which you confessed, I will build my church." In I Corinthians 10:4, "And did all drink the same spiritual drink: and they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ." He did not say, "Upon thee Peter I will build my church." Peter was only a pillar; he was not the foundation that many believe he is.

God's church cannot be built upon human precepts and tradition, but only through divine truth can the church be established. Ephesians 2:20, "And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone." A foundation is laid true from the corner stone, and that corner stone was Christ himself. The prophets of Old taught it, along with the apostles in the New. Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life no man can come to the Father, but by me." God only has one body (church). Not three hundred and fifty, but only one. And the mode of entrance is through Christ - the "door" by faith. Not by any other means can man enter in. Christ is the founder (Matthew 16:18). He is the foundation (I Corinthians 3:11) and He is the head (Ephesians 5:23). The days of going to a priest are over like the days of Old, we go directly to Jesus by faith. It is the truth of God's Word that we are built upon (Matthew 7:24-27).

"Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

"And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."

Christ is the only foundation we can stand on. Our country is in bad shape, people are looking to our president to find the answers. The answers are not in Washington, it is Jesus who is the answer. I pray that your foundation is not built upon some human tradition or precepts, but upon the solid Rock, which is Christ; built upon the truth of His Word. God is shaking us; will we be able to stand?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I think this is news worthy! A statement from the Paulding County dog shelter Facebook page. I copied her post. In all my years of doing dog rescue, this has never been accomplished from our shelter until now. This deserves a big shout out and job well done!

"It is with great pride I share with you our stats for the year... first time EVER!!!!... 82 dogs in... 0 euthanized!!! Hats off to all the rescues who helped make this possible. I couldn't have done it with out their help (August 21, 2012 was the last time a dog was euthanized)! Please support a local rescue group! Last year out of 459 dogs only 41 were euthanized (only due to illness or aggression).

10. Luke 7:33 – What did they say John had?

Comments or questions call James Potter at 419-393-4775 or Lonnie Lambert at 419-399-5022. Jesus loves you and so does the Oakwood church of Christ.

The people and tax collectors (Publicans) having acknowledged what Jesus said about John the Baptist. Luke 7:30 – Some of the lawyers were willing to repent, but the Pharisees completely rejected God's message by refusing to be baptized. ANTWERP SOCCER ASSOCIATION OPENS FOR REGISTRATION

The Antwerp Soccer Association is opening registration for another year of the Antwerp Soccer Program. As in the previous years, all games will be played in the outfields at the Essen House ball diamonds.

The Antwerp Soccer Program is a casual, instructional league. Because of this, we want every young athlete to have as much time on the field as possible. Coaches have been instructed to make sure every player has had close to equal playing time. We welcome kids from all walks of life, no matter their needs.

Antwerp Soccer has four groups. Co-ed 4-5 year olds, 6-8 year old boys, 6-8 year old girls, and co-ed 9-12 year olds. This year we are exploring the idea of dividing the 9-12 olds into a boys' and girls' league. If you are interested in playing only if they are divided by gender, please note that with your registration form.

Games will be held on August 24, Off Labor Day Weekend, September 7, 14, 21, and 28. October 5 will be a rain date. August 17 will be a practice day. Every game will begin with prayer at the middle of the field. We want to combine having fun with having the right focus. Our coaches are instructed to coach with integrity. Our hope is that this will be a positive experience for each young athlete.

Shin guards are not required, but each player wearing a pair will better protect their shins. As in years past, there will not be bleachers around the field, so fans will want to consider bringing a lawn chair to each game when they come to watch their favorite young athlete.

If you are interested in signing up and need a form, please go to Antwerp Soccer Association's Facebook page or Antwerp residents should have an insert in the West Bend News this week's paper.

Baptist and Jesus for different reasons. The children who refuse to play either a joyful game or a mournful one. They would not associate with John when he followed the strictest of rules or with Jesus when he freely associated with all kinds of people. Verse 34 – A friend of tax collectors. Jesus ate and talked with people who were religious and social outcasts. Jesus even called a tax collector to be an apostle.

Bye for now and please continue to pray and study. Ol' Baldy hopes to see ya next week.

OLD DAN & I CHAPTER 35: THE MARMOSETS GET ALL TANGLED UP IN A WAR

By: Stan Jordan
 Our 589th Fighter Wing, moving from Aachen, Germany to CINCPAC in the South Pacific are in trouble all over the United States. The media, on the radio, back in the States has beat the 589th into the ground with only half the truth.
 Let me tell you as much as I know about the story. The United States has agreed with the Isle of Madagascar to furnish 51% of the dog food for the Ring Tailed Marmoset. The ground in Northwest Ohio, whether it's the clay soil or the elements of rock, are good for the dog's well being. The Marmosets will eat this but will not forage in the woods for natural food. The Ring Tailed Marmoset is dumb like a fox. He knows that if he stands around and complains about no food that the Americans will feed him. The people love the Ring Tails—they will stand and watch them and the Ring Tails will watch the people.
 If they espy a man with a fancy camera they will fall right down to the ground in front of him and complain about no food. That is what the American media has gone on the radio about us, that we will not keep up our part of the contract and we surely have.

We have found a Ham Radio operator and he called to Celina, Ohio and has 10 ton of dog food on its way to Madagascar.

A few months ago, the 589th had a raid on Arnun in the Netherlands and we were told we did a good job and they used the word 'heavy water'. When we arrived here we were to pick up two containers of 'heavy water'. It sounds to me like we are into something we don't know about. This is S3 Intelligence work ok but we are not in on it.

Hold everything, here comes Col. Chamberlain he is our S3 man in Washington, let's see what he knows about this deal.

Yes, the Col. knows all about this deal and he is to take these two containers from Leytee Gulf to New Mexico in the States in a big C-54.

The Carrier, the Franklin D. Roosevelt, has left Madagascar and will refuel in Ceylon. The Captain says we will be doing about 29 knots an hour.

Gen. Guggenheim has arranged a euchre contest between anybody on the ship. The entrance fee is $10 each with any and all winnings going to the ship's benefit fund.

The contest lasted into the second day as there were 3,700 players and everybody had a good time and it ended just before we got to Ceylon.

The wind blew bad in here, but we are in a natural cove, here in Ceylon. We're going to leave here for the Laytee Gulf tomorrow at daylight. We have landed in the Laytee Gulf and unloaded all our planes and supplies. Gen. Norm and Col. Chamberlain are getting all their papers around to go to New Mexico. The big C-54 is already on the tarmac waiting on the two containers. We four P-51's flew escort for the C-54 300 miles on the way to the Marshall Islands to refuel. We turned around and let them journey onto Pearl. We headed back to the airbase on the Laytee Gulf.

 See ya!

Gallagher opened the morning newspaper and was dumbfounded to read in the obituary column that he had died. He quickly phoned his best friend Finney.

"Did you see the paper?" asked Gallagher. "They say I died!"

"Yes, I saw it!" replied Finney. "Where are you callin' from?"

THE MIGHTY MAJESTIC MAUMEE RIVER RAFT RACE

By: Stan Jordan
 I have not talked lately with the Bowers family, the leaders in the Great River Raft Race.

The big raft race is less than two months away. If you are building a raft for the big race you should already have your plans made.

Many memories and good times about the first annual raft race last year have been made.

It is time to start making your plans for the 2nd annual raft race for the last part of June. The Traveling Trophy will be awarded again this year.

See Ya!

BLUE CAST SPRINGS DISCUSSED AT PAULDING COUNTY CHAPTER OF OHIO GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The P.C.C.O.G.S. meeting was held April 10, 2013. After welcoming about 25 members and guests, we were reminded of our Wednesday June 12th 6:00 p.m. "potluck style" picnic and Riverside Cemetery walk in Antwerp's Veterans Riverside Park. The evening program consisted of ACRES Land Trust representative, Jill (Rood) Nolls, who explained who they are, what they do & where they are located. At this time, their only preserve in Ohio is Flat Rock in Paulding County. Recently ACRES reached another milestone: preserving their 5000th acre of land. The acquisition of the 87-acre Blue Cast Springs Nature Preserve in Northwest Allen County, Indiana increased its holdings to 5046 acres.

Blue Cast Magnetic Springs & Sanitarium: "Blue Cast Mineral Water - Carbonated and Bottled at the Springs"

Blue Cast Springs, located about two miles Northwest of Woodburn, Indiana, contains deep ravines, over 3,000 feet of Maumee River frontage, active blue heron nests, mature hardwood forests. It is part of the historic Black Swamp wetlands extending from Allen County all the way to Lake Erie.

Did you know the name "Blue Cast" came from the bluish colored mineral spring located near the Maumee River? Evidence showed a unique magnetic force not typical of mineral water. Folks described the drinking water qualities as an invigorating tonic with metabolic properties. Another spring to the South was found to produce sulfur water and mud, which spawned another business, this one to attract people looking for benefits of therapeutic baths.

In 1902, Henry Schnelker, New Haven, purchased these 87-acres of land. He built a reservoir holding about 5000 gallons of this now popular beverage, collecting the mineral spring water 24 hours a day. Producing over one-hundred cases a day, Schnelker's blue and yellow label was seen throughout the United States and around the world. Bold letters proclaiming "Blue Cast Mineral Water" surrounded an illustration of the "Fire Proof Sanitarium." Six fluid ounce bottles were described as being "Carbonated and Bottled at the Springs," coming from "the Blue Cast Company, Woodburn, Indiana." Schnelker sold the acreage to A.C. Hogue of Toledo in 1912. Hogue moved his family into the large farmhouse located on this land. After opening the Sanitarium for business in 1913, Mr. Hogue expanded the Blue Cast Mineral Water bottling business finding a buyer in 1926. Several Cleveland businessmen bought the company from Hogue, but closed it in 1955.

A.C. Hogue used the ground's sand and gravel to build the sanitarium made of cement and steel. A large lobby and dining room, modern kitchen and two small lounge rooms on the first floor, with 16 bedrooms on the second floor made up the facility. After a second closure the building stood vacant, area youth imagined this place to be haunted and it suffered the consequences of vandalism.

During Prohibition days the sanitarium was said to be used as a "speak easy" and rumors circulated that Al Capone frequented this place. In 1939 the sheriff's department arrested 42 people aged 15 through 26. Gradually, all evidence of the sanitarium had disappeared, other than the footprint of the old cement foundation (Excerpts from The ACRES Quarterly-Spring 2013 Vol.52-No.2).

While there is no other spring of this nature in Indiana, Blue Cast Magnetic Springs gave to Allen County a reputation for the best of natural and properly amplified facilities for the successful treatment of many ills. The renewal powers of the water at Blue Cast Springs become known as a leading health mecca of the Midwest. Iron or steel when immersed in this water would become magnetized. The Blue Cast Spring has been endowed by nature with a peculiar magnetic force rarely found in any mineral water of any kind the world over. Thus Indiana could claim waters of medicinal value at Blue Cast Magnetic Springs.

Anonymous notes told of dark moving shadows, red glowing orbs, cold spots with shouting and other strange noises. Other noted experiences at the rundown sanitarium: The foyer, stairway, bathrooms and gutted out patients rooms on the second floor were marble. Ruins in the first floor were in sad shape in the 60's. Felt being watched, a real uneasy feeling. When the crickets stopped chirping, I got out of there quick! (Excerpts from The Pictorial History of Fort Wayne Indiana: a review of Vol. 2 by Bert Joseph Griswold and Mrs. Samuel R. Taylor - Page 70).

A couple of O.G.S. members recalled Clark Gable stayed in this place and Rita Hayworth's rumored stay was never confirmed.

It is estimated that in the United States an impaired or distracted driver causes a fatal car accident every 30 minutes. The National Highway Safety Transportation Administration (NHSTA) estimates that 40% alcohol-related driving fatalities involve teen drivers; 60% of teen deaths from car accidents involve alcohol. The NHSTA also estimates that on average, eight teenagers in America are killed every day due to alcohol impaired driving.

These statistics indicate that teen drivers are especially vulnerable to making poor decisions behind the wheel, and on May 3, 2013 several New Haven businesses, organizations, and public safety agencies came together to vividly demonstrate for NHHS students the consequences of impaired driving. The New Haven Police Department, the New Haven/Adams Township Fire Department, the Power House Youth Center, New Haven High School, the New Haven/Adams Township Parks Department, Robinson's Wrecker Service and Parkview's Samaritan Air Crew all participated in a mock extraction which was staged in the High School's parking lot.

Junior and Senior students from NHHS and the Power House Youth Center collaborated with public safety officials to stage the event, which included a re-enactment by students involving a major car accident. Two of the students 'died' as a result of the mock accident; one was transported via Parkview's Samaritan helicopter and three others were taken away via a New Haven/Adams Township ambulance due to their faux traumatic injuries. One of the students was 'arrested' for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

NHHS student Courtney Tracey stated that Friday's demonstration made a lasting impression on her. "I thought the extraction was really realistic," said Tracey. "The actors were really believable, and I think it made a lot of the students think about making responsible choices," she added.

"It was a great demonstration today at New Haven High School concerning impaired driving and the consequences," said New Haven Police Chief Steve Poivy of the mock extraction. "I hope that the students not only got the message that driving while impaired is dangerous but also peer pressure to ride along with someone impaired can result in tragic consequences," he added.

ANTWERP HIGH SCHOOL RANKS IN TOP 100 OHIO HIGH SCHOOLS

Recently, 21,035 U.S. Public high schools were reviewed for the top high schools in the country by U.S. & World Report and 234 Ohio school made the rankings. Several Northwest Ohio public high schools made the top 100. These schools include: Columbus Grove High School (#20), Tinora High School (#29), Archbold (#30), Crestview High School (#59), Kalida High School (#60), Antwerp High School (#68), Hicksville High School (#72), and Ada High School (#95).

Ohio high school students must earn at least 20 credits in various subjects, including economics and financial literacy. In 10th grade, students take the Ohio Graduation Tests, which assess reading, writing, math, science and social studies skills, according to the Ohio Department of Education.

Of the numerous Ohio schools ranked in 2013 among the U.S. News Best High Schools, 19 were awarded gold medals, 106 earned silver medals and 109 received bronze medals. To be eligible for a state ranking, a school must be awarded a national gold or silver medal.

WATCH FOR WILDLIFE AS WEATHER WARMS

As the spring brings the next generation of wildlife, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) advises residents to enjoy Ohio's wildlife from a distance.

This advice extends to young or presumed abandoned wildlife. Young animals are usually not abandoned, and the parents will retrieve them, especially when left alone by humans. A wild animal, even when young, is capable of biting, scratching and transmitting diseases and parasites to humans and pets.

Many wild animals are raised by only one adult and are not tended to during daylight hours. For example, a doe white-tailed deer will hide her fawn from predators alone in a secluded spot, such as a meadow or flower bed. The doe tends to the fawn several times each night.

Do not capture and attempt to care for animals. State and federal laws protect and regulate wildlife and endangered species in Ohio. Only persons known as rehabilitators, under special permits issued by the ODNR Division of Wildlife, may possess and care for native wild animals.

The ODNR Division of Wildlife and Ohio Wildlife Rehabilitators Association (OWRA) offers the following advice to reduce human interference with wildlife:

- Think before you act. Check for nests before mowing, cutting trees or clearing brush. It is best to cut trees and clear brush in the autumn when nesting season is over.

- Leave the animal in the wild. If a person disturbs a nest, he or she should wear gloves and replace the animal and the nest material to the original location or as close as possible. It's a myth that wildlife parents will not tend to their young because of human scent. Wildlife parents are devoted parents, and most birds don't even have a sense of smell.

- Keep pets under control so they do not raid nests and injure wild animals. Keep pets inoculated against parasites and diseases.

- Educate children to respect wildlife and their habitat. Tell children not to handle wild animals.

- Contact the local wildlife official or a licensed wildlife rehabilitator before taking action. Trust and follow the advice of these trained professionals. Call 800-WILDLIFE (945-3543) with questions.

More information about how animals care for their young and a list of licensed wildlife rehabilitators is available at wildohio.com. Visit the OWRA website at owra.org to learn more.

NEW HAVEN MIDDLE SCHOOL 'CAREER DAY' A HUGE SUCCESS

Recently, the 2nd Annual Career Day at New Haven Middle School was a huge success! All 8th grade student participated in the event.

There were representatives from 26 different companies and organizations. The professional volunteers for the day included dentists, nurses, social workers, engineers, computer technicians, police officers, firefighters, military servicemen and attorneys. There were also a few electricians and auto mechanics on hand.

Throughout the afternoon, students visited their top four career choices and listened as presenters taught them about their field of employment and the requirements for that field of study. Many students realized their career choices were right on target, while others have decided to re-think their career choices.

The speakers and students showed much enthusiasm and enjoyment. Speakers were challenged by the thoughtful questions asked by the students.

WARRIORS DOWN THE BRAVES ON THE FIELD

By: Jeff Abbott

With all the weather issues this spring, Woodlan finally got a game in at Warriors' Field and downed the Belmont Braves 7-6 in extra innings. The Braves scored a run in the first inning to take the lead, but Woodlan responded with 2 of their own in the bottom of the frame. Jared Emehiser and Rick Ehle got on base and scored on a base hit by Jake Summers. Belmont scored twice in the second and third innings and led 5-3 after 3 complete. Belmont pushed the lead to 6-3 in the top of the sixth before Woodlan responded with 2 in the bottom of the inning on runs by Brad Barker and Joe Lortie. Belmont threatened to score in the seventh, loading the bases, but couldn't push an insurance run across the plate. Woodlan tied the score in the bottom of the inning with a Brad Barker single with 2 outs to score Rick Ehle. The Braves had runners in scoring position in the eighth and ninth, but were unable to break the tie. Garrett Van Brocklin reached base on an error for the Warriors in the bottom of the inning, stole second, went to third on wild pitch, and scored on a throw wide of the plate for the winning run.

Score by the inning:
 Belmont - 1 2 2 0 1 0 0
 0 - 6R 10H 2E
 Woodlan - 2 0 1 0 0 2 1 0

BE AWARE OF THE NEED FOR DISABILITY INSURANCE

Financial Focus by: Phil Recker, Edward Jones Advisor

It probably doesn't show up on your calendar, but May is Disability Insurance Awareness Month. And you might agree that such a month is useful, when you consider the following:

- Three in 10 workers entering the workforce today will become disabled before retiring, according to the Social Security Administration.

- At age 42, you are four times more likely to become seriously disabled than to die during your working years, according to National Underwriter Life & Health.

- Disability causes nearly 50% of all mortgage foreclosures, according to Health Affairs, a health policy research journal.

Given these statistics, it's not surprising that the Life and Health Insurance Foundation for Education (LIFE) sponsors Disability Insurance Awareness Month to encourage Americans to address their disability income needs. Here's the bottom line: You can be really good at budgeting your money and you can be a disciplined long-term investor — but unless you've protected at least a reasonable percentage of your income, your whole financial strategy is incomplete. And all your goals, such as a comfortable retirement, could be jeopardized.

Of course, you may not be totally unfamiliar with disability income insurance; if you work for a large employer, a group disability policy may be part of your employee benefits package. If so, you should certainly accept the coverage, which may be offered to you free, or at minimal cost. However, this coverage might be inadequate to replace the income needed to allow your family to maintain its lifestyle without dipping into your investments.

Consequently, you might need to think about purchasing an individual disability insurance policy. Here are some tips:

- Look for a policy that is "non-cancellable" until you reach age 65. When you purchase a non-cancellable policy, your policy premiums can't be changed, provided you pay them on time.

- Pick the right waiting period. Typically, disability insurance policies don't start paying benefits immediately; there's usually a waiting (or "elimination") period ranging from 30 days to two years. Obviously, a shorter waiting period is more desirable, but it's probably also going to be more expensive. You may be able to give yourself the flexibility of choosing the longer waiting period if you have created an emergency fund containing six to 12 months' worth of living expenses, kept in a liquid account that offers significant preservation of principal.

- Avoid overly restrictive policies. You may want to avoid an "accident-only" policy or one with a limited benefit term (five and 10 years are common). These policies may be cheaper, but they don't cover either a disabling illness or the entirety of your working life.

- Consider adding appropriate "riders." It will likely add to the cost of your policy, but a cost-of-living rider will help protect your future benefits from the effects of inflation. You also might want to add a future income options (FIO) rider, which provides you with the ability to purchase additional coverage in the future with no further medical underwriting.

These suggestions are general in nature. Your financial advisor can help you determine if you need a private disability insurance policy — and, if so, what type of policy is best suited for your needs.

But don't wait too long to take action in this area. You can't predict the future, but you should still prepare for the unexpected.

State Route 111-6.2 – Viaduct and Widening (PID: 89604 and 92830) – The City of Defiance, in consultation with ODOT, proposes to improve low clearance and safety issues at the CSX Railroad Viaduct on State Route 111 by lowering the roadway from the intersection of Cedar Street to Don Miller Drive. Widening of SR111 from Williams Street to Downs/Deatrick/Clinton Street is also proposed to add a left-turn lane to the center. The project will also include improvements to stormwater drainage and sidewalks. Traffic during this project will be maintained in one lane. The construction for this project is currently scheduled to begin in summer/fall of 2014.

Paulding County

Safe Routes To School – Paulding Sidewalks (PID: 90952) – The proposed project is funded with federal funds from the Safe Routes to School Program. The Village of Paulding and the Paulding Exempted Village School District, in consultation with ODOT, have proposed a project on various village streets near the Paulding Elementary School and middle school.

This project will add new sidewalks along Water Street from Jackson Street to Baldwin Street, along Emerald Road from Johnson Road to the school, and along North Main Street from Baldwin Street to Miles Street. It will add new sidewalk at missing sections on Caroline Street between Grant Street and Emerald Road and also construct a raised concrete median in the main school driveway. This project will add school zone pavement markings and flashing signs along Water and Caroline Streets and add curb extensions and crosswalk pavement markings at various intersections near the school.

Other work to improve and/or add sidewalks will occur on the school property as well.

Traffic during most of this project will be maintained at all times. Traffic on Water Street may be detoured for a short period. The construction of the project is currently scheduled for spring/summer 2014.

FORMER CPA WRITES CIVIL WAR ERA MYSTERY NOVEL

A retired Fort Wayne area certified public accountant, C.B. Huesing, has written and published a Civil War era murder mystery, The Trouble with Cass.

An important part of the story is set in Dayton's U.S. National Home for Disabled Volunteers and the Dayton National Cemetery during early 1860's when the hospital unit was filled with wounded and dying Union soldiers.

The novel, which follows the life of the spirited but flawed Cass Brooks, takes the reader through six states and Paris, France.

Huesing, a Purdue University graduate with BS and MS degrees, has long studied the Civil War and its devastating effect on the lives of both the soldiers and their families. He has previously written and had published articles on business and sports in magazines and journals.

In the process of writing his novel, this U. S. Navy war veteran travelled to the Dayton sites and other sites mentioned in the book. The battle scenes are vivid and relevant.

Huesing is currently working on a sequel to "Cass". He lives in Indiana with his wife Nancy. The book is available in soft cover on Amazon and Kindle e-books. His web site is WWW.cbhuesing.com.

OHIO RAIL DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION (ORDC) MEETS IN NW OHIO

The recently purchased Napoleon, Defiance and Western Railroad (ND & W, formerly the M&W RR) was the subject discussed at a meeting held by the ORDC in Defiance, May 2. Tony Langham, Paulding County

Economic Development Director represented Paulding County. Other attendees included: the ORDC, the ND & W, representatives from Gov. Kasich's office, Rep. Latta's office, Sen. Portman's office, Defiance Co. Commissioners and ED office, Henry Co. ED office, and Jobs Ohio. The ND & W runs through Henry, Defiance and Paulding Counties in Ohio and extends into Woodburn, IN.

The goal of all attendees is to upgrade the short line rail for better safety, service and dependability. A cooperative mood was expressed by all as this rail could be a very good economic development asset to all. Avenues for funding repairs to the line were discussed which included pursuance of grants and low interest loans. The next step will be a meeting of the ND & W, Henry, Paulding and Defiance county commissioners and economic development directors to plan on short and long term repair goals and financing.

BEAR WRESTLING AT JPHS

Little did the John Paulding Historical Society men volunteers know they would be wrestling a bear when they came in on Tuesday, April 9th.

The museum received a donation of a 6½ foot carved bear. Arthur Davis of Paulding carved the bear with a chain saw. The men went to the Davis residence and with the help of Terry Slattman and his skid loader, put it on the back of a tractor and the bear was driven to the museum. However, once at the museum it was quickly discovered that the bear weighed too much for the men to stand him up.

A plea for help went out and within an hour or so a fork lift arrived and lifted the bear into position.

MORE TURKEY HUNTERS SUCCESSFUL ON OHIO'S OPENING DAY

For the opening day of Ohio's 2013 spring wild turkey season, hunters harvested 2,762 wild turkeys, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR). The 2013 opening day total is a 24 percent increase from the 2012 opening day tally when 2,227 turkeys were killed.

This year, Ashtabula County had the most checked wild turkeys of the opening day with 114 turkeys. Ashtabula County also had the largest number of turkeys harvested during the 2012 opening day.

Ohio's spring turkey season began Monday, April 22, and closes Sunday, May 19. The spring turkey season is open statewide except for Lake La Su An Wildlife Area in Williams County. Find more information in the 2012-2013 Ohio Hunting and Trapping Regulations, available where licenses are sold, and at wildohio.com.

The ODNR Division of Wildlife estimates that more than 70,000 people will hunt turkeys during the four-week season. Legal hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until noon from April 22 to May 5. Hunting hours May 6-19 will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Ohio's wild turkey population was estimated at 180,000 prior to the start of the spring season.

Only bearded wild turkeys may be killed during the spring hunting season. A hunter is required to check their turkey by 11:30 p.m. on the day of harvest. Hunters with the proper permits may kill a limit of two bearded gobblers during the four-week season, but not more than one wild turkey per day.

A new tagging procedure implemented this year allows hunters to make their own game tag to attach to a wild turkey. Game tags can be made of any material (cardboard, plastic, paper, etc.) as long as it contains the hunter's name, date, time and county of the kill. Go to the Turkey Hunting Resources page at wildohio.com for more information on changes to the game check process.

All hunters must report their turkey harvest using the automated game-check system. Hunters have three options to complete the game-check:

- Online at wildohio.com or ohiogamecheck.com;
 - Call 877-TAG-ITOH (877-824-4864);
 - Any license agent. A list of agents can be found at wildohio.com or by calling 800-WILDLIFE (800-945-3543).
- Game-check transactions are available online and by telephone seven days a week, including holidays. Landowners exempt from purchasing a turkey permit, and other people not required to purchase a turkey permit, cannot use the phone-in option.

The ODNR Division of Wildlife will update the total turkey harvest numbers on Monday, April 29, Monday, May 13, and Monday, May 20, at wildohio.com. The turkey harvest numbers will be listed by county as well as statewide.

Ohio's first modern day wild turkey season opened in 1966 in nine counties, and hunters checked 12 birds. The total number of checked turkeys topped 1,000 for the first time in 1984. Turkey hunting opened statewide in 2000.

Watch Governor John Kasich and ODNR Director James Zehringer share a message to hunters for the start of wild turkey season here: <http://bit.ly/WildTurkeyHuntingWelcome/>.

ODOT CONSTRUCTION & MAINTENANCE PROJECTS WEEK OF MAY 6, 2013

Did you know this highway fact...?

Q. In what year were vehicle license fees introduced as a source of highway revenue?

A. In 1909, motor vehicle license fees were introduced as a source of revenue for roadway improvement with the income distributed equally among the counties as state aid.

Defiance County:
 Ohio 18 from Ohio 15 to Hicksville restricted to one lane through the work zone during the week for berm work. Work is being performed by the Defiance County ODOT maintenance garage.

Ohio 15/18/281 from Clinton Street in Defiance to the south corporation limit on Ohio 15, from Ohio 15 to the Henry County line on Ohio 18, and from Ohio 18 to the Henry County line on Ohio 281 restricted to one lane through the work zone for a grinding and resurfacing project. Work will begin during the week east of Defiance with pavement patching on Ohio 281 and Ohio 15. Work is being performed by Gerken Paving, Napoleon.

Ohio 2 over Tuston Creek just east of the Indiana line closed May 1 for 30 days for bridge rehabilitation. Traffic detoured onto Ohio 18 (Indiana 8), Indiana 101 to Indiana 37 (Ohio 2). Work is being performed by Vernon Nagel Inc., Napoleon.

U.S. 24 from Ohio 15 to the Paulding County line will be restricted to one lane through the work zone during the week for berming of the roadside. Work is being performed by the Defiance County ODOT garage.

Paulding County:
 U.S. 127 north of Paulding will be restricted to one lane through the work zone for sealing of pavement cracks. Work is being performed by the Paulding County ODOT maintenance garage.

Ohio 49 north of Payne will be restricted to one lane at times through the work zone for drainage tile repair. Work is being performed by the Paulding County ODOT maintenance garage.

Ohio 500 at the Ohio 49 overlap will be restricted to one lane through the work zone during the week for drainage tile repair. Work is being performed by the Paulding County ODOT maintenance garage.

Ohio 637 between Ohio 111 and Ohio 66 will be restricted to one lane through the work zone at times during the week for drainage tile repair. Work is being performed by the Paulding County ODOT maintenance garage.

U.S. 127 one and a half miles north of Ohio 114 will be closed for three days beginning May 7 for a culvert replacement. Traffic detoured onto Ohio 114, Ohio 637 and Ohio 613 back to U.S. 127. Work is being performed by the Paulding County ODOT maintenance garage.

U.S. 127 from U.S. 224 to the south corporation limit of Paulding restricted to one lane through the work zone for grinding and resurfacing of the roadway. The project is expected to be completed in one month. Work is being performed by Shelly Company, Findlay.

POSTSECONDARY TRANSITION EXPO FOR NORTHWEST OHIO STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Public school students with disabilities in Paulding County, Putnam County, and Van Wert County had a glimpse of the future on Thursday, April 25, 2013, during the Postsecondary Transition Expo. Approximately 330 attended the event that was held from 8:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Niswonger Performing Arts Center in Van Wert, OH.

The Postsecondary Transition Expo brings together agencies, teachers, school personnel, and students with disabilities who are 14 to 22 years old in an exciting venue. He is the board chair of Project Eye-to-Eye, a national non-profit that provides mentoring programs for students who have learning disabilities and attention deficit disorders, and director of Horne and Associates, LLC. Information is available from www.lederick.com.

The Postsecondary Transition Expo will reach over 1,400 students, teachers, parents, and agency personnel in northwest Ohio by the end of April 2013. Four events were held in April 2013 to accommodate public schools in Defiance, Fulton, Hancock, Henry, Ottawa, Paulding, Putnam, Sandusky, Van Wert, Williams, and Wood counties, and the Fostoria City School District in Seneca County. Three events were held in November 2012 to accommodate Lucas County public schools. The Postsecondary Transition Expo is in its third year.

ANIMAL REPORTS FOR PAULDING 1ST GRADERS

For the past two weeks the first grade at Paulding Elementary has been working on researching and reporting on animals of their choice. Each student was able to pick their own animal and work to find information from non-fiction books and multimedia tools. They had to find the animals' food source, water source, shelter, and habitat. Over the weekend, Miss Schenk's classroom became a habitat of its own! When students arrived at school on Monday, they found that their classroom had become a jungle! As a class, they discussed what habitat the room had become as well as what kind of kind of climate it would be and what kind of animals could be found there. Paulding Elementary first graders are wild about learning!

NEW HAVEN RESIDENT NOMINATED FOR ALL-STAR MOM

By: Beth Stauffer

New Haven resident Sarah Kohl has been selected as an All-Star Mom Finalist in a contest sponsored by Fort Wayne radio station Star 88.3. Sarah was nominated on behalf of her three year old son Isaiah by her friend, yours truly (Beth Stauffer)!

Of course, I think Sarah is an All-Star Mom in every sense of the word to her son, and her unwavering love and dedication to caring for Isaiah is a constant source of encouragement and inspiration to me as a mother to my own little boy.

In my nomination of Sarah for this award, I wrote: "When Sarah's son Isaiah was 1 year-old, he was admitted to the Pediatric ICU, where it was discovered he has type 1 diabetes. His mom, Sarah, never left his side, not even to go to the cafeteria, and she has been a selfless and devoted mom to Isaiah ever since. Because Isaiah's condition requires constant complex monitoring of his blood sugar levels and diet, Sarah rarely gets to have any time to herself. Sarah's family all live in other states, and because her husband is a pastor, Isaiah's well-being is largely dependent on her. Yet in spite of this, Sarah never complains or questions why this had to happen to Isaiah; rather, she is an example and inspiration to other mothers that know her."

What I wasn't able to include in my nomination of Sarah for this award was the fact that I didn't fully realize the extent of what Sarah has to do as a caregiver for Isaiah until we went on a five day Mother/Son trip to Minnesota last December. Sarah amazed me with the level of knowledge and expertise it takes to keep Isaiah healthy in every sense, from calculating the amounts of insulin he needs around the clock to tracking his carbohydrates and prepping his little tushie to insert his insulin pump (Side note: as much as it looked like this hurt Isaiah to have it done, I'm pretty positive that it hurt Sarah more to have to do it!).

Everything Sarah does, she does with a positive attitude and her great big heart for Isaiah's sake; I have little doubt that he's such an amazingly well adjusted, happy and bright little boy as a direct result of her influence.
