HOTEL FITNESS CHAMPIONSHIP
By: Beth Stauffer
 If you are a golf fanatic, this coming week may very well seem like a dream come true.
 For the first time in history, Sycamore Hills Golf Club in Fort Wayne will host the debut of the Hotel Fitness Championship, the first stop on the inaugural Web.com tour Finals series. The series will bring the top 75 players from the 2013 Web.com Tour money list, as well as the players who finished 126-200 on the 2013 PGA TOUR FedExCup points list to Fort Wayne.
 On the line are 50 highly coveted PGA TOUR cards for the 2013-14 season and $1 million dollars in prize money. The inaugural champion of the Hotel Fitness Championship will walk away with a purse of $180,000.
 In addition to bringing some top notch golf to Allen County, the Hotel Fitness Championship is expected to make an economic impact of between $4 and $5 million dollars on Fort Wayne and the surrounding area in the coming week.

 As one might imagine, in order to pull off an event of this magnitude the Hotel Fitness Championship organizers were in need of some serious help in a variety of areas, from hospitality to score keeping. Nearly 550 volunteers were recruited to assist with the inaugural outing to be held August 26 - September 1, 2013.
 Local golf club Whispering Creek, which is located just minutes away from the heart of downtown New Haven, is one of the businesses that stepped up to assist with this historic golf tournament. Approximately 10 representatives from Whispering Creek will be volunteering as Marshals at the Hotel Fitness Championship next week, including Whispering Creek Pro Shop employee Dan Flint, who will be stationed at Hole #4 during his time at Sycamore Hills.
 The personable Flint, who is the proud grandfather of nine, is retired from Lincoln Financial and has worked for Whispering Creek in the Pro Shop for about a year. As a Marshall, Flint will be responsible for keeping the pace moving along on the golf course and providing general assistance to the players as needed.
 When asked what he enjoys the most about the game of golf, without missing a beat Flint responded with a laugh, "Well, I don't know that I would say I enjoy the game of golf." Continuing with a humorous tone to his voice, Flint added, "I started playing golf poorly when I was in my 30's, and once I retired, I decided that I would like to get a job at the golf course so I could play more and improve my game. So far, it isn't helping."
 I suspect that there are quite a few golfers who will be watching from the sidelines at Sycamore Hills this week who will identify with Flint. Perhaps Flint will pick up a few new tips and/or tricks this week that he can share back in the Whispering Creek Pro Shop as he mans Hole #4 during the Hotel Fitness Championship.
 For sure, Flint is hoping to see some competitive golf on the green up close and personal from his marshaling post. "I'm really hoping to be able to see the players tee off, and just really see some good golf this week," said Flint.

Jamie Blank will be the emcee, accompanied by Jeager, the Wonder Dog. Jeager is Jamie and Susi's Boston Terrier who loves to knee-board with their daughter, Kristy, and to ride in their boat. No mutt, no matter! The FDHS is encouraging people to take pledges and join in their walk to help the Fort Defiance Humane Society. This way, devoted cat lovers and folks who feel their dog would not enjoy the festivities can still help raise money to help the animals at the shelter and enjoy a fun-filled day. The shelter will be closed the day of the Mutt Strut so most of the shelter dogs can participate in hopes of being adopted. For more information, call Nancy Porter at 419-395-2125.

PPEC PRESENTS THE HEALTH INSURANCE COVERAGE OPTIONS FOR BUSINESS

The Affordable Care Act is a big change for US Employers and a presentation took place at Paulding-Putnam Electric Cooperative to help employers understand the new rules that are going into effect very soon.

A representative of The State Bank, presenting the program, opened the morning introducing their officers and employees for people who had questions. She then introduced Dennis J. Recker, insurance agent of Putnam? The event was sponsored by State Bank.

Dennis said since 2002 there has been a 97% increase in medical insurance and healthcare costs.

He explained his version of how the law was passed. It really doesn't matter at this point, but he felt it necessary to explain the history.

He continued to explain that needed changes are not going to happen with the current political dynamics in Washington. The new system starts January 1, but employers need to be ready before them.

It is not a single payer system. It will stay as a commercial style system that is currently in place. It is a massive new law requiring everyone to purchase insurance. These new regulations happen at the federal level. The medical side does not change much other than moving all records digital.

The main changes will regulate with insurance companies to keep them under control. 80% of all money brought in must be spent on patient care only 20% on administration and other expenses.

Ohio has not included the medicaid expansion yet, even though Gov. Kasich did approve it. The house did not include it in their bill.

ACA is Affordable Care Act (AKA as Obamacare).

The "Metal" Plans are what employers can choose for the employees. Bronze is 60%, Silver is 70%, Gold is 80%, Platinum is 90% with a + or - 2% to be qualified for these standards. It makes it easier to compare between plans offered by different insurance companies

A couple of examples included: A family of 4, much will be subsidized and cost cannot go over 4.17% of total income. The cost above that percentage will be subsidized by the government.

There will be no more questionnaires about people's health or gender. They cannot ask about health risks, because everything will be flat. This will be good news for people with health problems, but not always good for people who don't have health issues.

CMH SPONSORS BUMP CLINIC

AMERICAN RED CROSS OFFERS SAFETY TRAINING FOR THOSE PARTICIPATING IN SPORTS AND RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Back to school also means back to practice for thousands of student athletes and coaches. The American Red Cross has training and resources available for people to learn how to treat a variety of emergencies and injuries that may occur throughout the sports season.

"School and neighborhood coaches, athletes and spectators should know how to help prevent and respond to common sports injuries such as strains and sprains, fractures, cuts and concussions," said American Red Cross of Northwest Ohio Regional CEO Tim Yenrick.

Safe Kids Worldwide reports that every 25 seconds a child is hurt playing sports and that more than 1 million emergency room visits are made due to sports injuries each year. Sports injuries account for about 20 percent of all injury-related emergency room visits for young people, according to their study.

Red Cross has developed a number of resources for everyone involved in sports and recreational activities:

- First Aid, Health and Safety for Coaches is an on-line program for teens and adults who coach at any age level. Developed with the National Federation of State High School Associations, this course covers first aid skills including breathing emergencies and injuries to muscles, bones and joints. Coaches are encouraged to take a CPR/AED course as well.

- Family First Aid and CPR is an online course for those not required to have OSHA-compliant certification. Participants learn how to treat cardiac, breathing and first aid emergencies until help arrives. Pediatric modules are also available.

- American Red Cross First Aid App is a free app for smart phones and tablets. It gives users instant access to information on how to handle the most common first aid situations, and includes videos and interactive quizzes. The app puts lifesaving information right in people's hands wherever and whenever they need it.

Information on courses and additional resources are available at redcross.org. A variety of Red Cross apps can be found in the Apple App Store and the Google Play Store for Android by searching for American Red Cross, or by going to redcross.org/mobileapps.

THE BEAUTY OF A LOVED ONE DYING

By: Regan Clem, Riverside Christian Church

I was in Liberia when I heard the news that my Uncle Glen had died. Halfway around the world, my heart filled with sadness as I heard the words over the phone. In the midst of some of the greatest poverty in the world, my heart was stilled by the lost of a beloved uncle and friend.

Going to his funeral would be one of the first things that I would do when I returned.

The funeral was a bitter-sweet experience. My uncle had been suffering with cancer, and I felt relief at his passing. His pain was over, yet he would be greatly missed. He was the sort of Uncle who always made me feel welcomed and special at his house when I would stop by, which I didn't do nearly as much as I should have done.

As I sat there with my own children, wife, parents, and other relatives, holding my little one-year old, I could see those sitting up in the front. His sons. His daughter. His grandsons and granddaughters. And his wife of fifty-five years. My heart went out to them, for in my grief I knew that their grief was greater. I wished that I could somehow magically heal the pain and sadness, but all I had to give was my presence, a hug, and kind words.

Just after that funeral, my high school librarian and friend faced the loss of his wife after forty-three years of marriage. He posted on Facebook, "When the LOVE of your life is in the loving hands of aides and nurses of Home Hospice, all seems so irrelevant. Every moment is MOST important. Life has its journeys, even the final one."

Although it does make the passing so much more painful, there is beauty in being in love with someone for such a long time. In those final moments, we are reminded of how great of a blessing the one we love and are about to lose has been to us all along. Sometimes we forget that important truth during the arguments and disagreements - during the ordinary moments of life. We should cherish every moment that we have with the special people in our lives. There is almost nothing more beautiful than loved shared for many, many years. That truth becomes all too real in those final days.

The passing of someone is more painful when the love shared with them is deep, rich, and long-lasting. Despite it being more painful, it is worth it. For some never get to experience the joy of true, genuine, and lifelong love.

On January 25, 2006, officials went Joyce Carol Vincent's home to repossess it because she was extremely behind on her rent and had not been communicating with them. When they opened the door they found a decomposed body sitting in a chair. Joyce Carol Vincent had been dead for three years. Unopened Christmas presents sat on the floor. She had friends, but no deep connections. She had floated in and out of people's lives for years, and nobody in her life was close enough to her to actually check in on her when she fell off the radar.

Some loneliness may not be as stark as that of Joyce Carol Vincent's. But that sort of loneliness is the type of loneliness that shows we are not living life the way we should. That we are missing out on something greater. We were designed to be in relationships with God and others. As Christopher McCandless, whose story was shared in Into The Wild, wrote in his journal as he was dying alone in the Alaskan wilderness, "Happiness is only real when shared."

At my uncle's funeral, my one-year old started to get fussy during the ceremony, so we made our way out to the church foyer. On the screen was a slideshow of my uncle's life. Time spent with his family. Vacations. Holidays. Just the normal, daily moments of life. Seeing his familiar smile, you could tell he was enjoying life. In the midst of the slideshow, there was a video. It was the last dance of my uncle with his wife of fifty-five years. And that same smile. As many people do in passing, they get a last burst of energy, and my uncle used his burst of energy for one last dance with his wife. His greatest friend. The love of his life. Happiness. Shared. Life as it was intended to be.

I don't envy my aunt learning to live without him. But she is doing well. She is strong, with a beautiful heart, and will learn to live with that hole left in her heart. The love people share when they are together for 55 years may make the death of one all the more sad, but that life lived together makes the life itself all the more great. There is something incredibly beautiful in dying when you are truly loved. There is something beautiful in truly living.

There is something special about living and passing from this life in the Lord. There is beauty in a loved one dying. We just have to see it.

BIBLE QUESTIONS

By: James Potter, Oakwood church of Christ

1. Luke 9:1 - Who did Jesus call together in this verse?
2. Luke 9:1 - What did Jesus give to the twelve?
3. Luke 9:2 - What did Jesus send the twelve to do?
4. Luke 9:2 - What were the twelve to perform?
5. Who are these twelve men?
6. Luke 9:2 - Who is the He in this verse?
7. Luke 9:3 - What were the twelve taking with them?
8. Luke 9:3 - How many tunics or coats were they to have?
9. Luke 9:3 - Why is Jesus telling the twelve to take nothing with them?
10. Luke 9:4 - What is Jesus telling the twelve in this verse?

Comments or questions call 419-393-4775 or 419-399-5022 for Lonnie Lambert. Jesus loves you and so does the Oakwood church of Christ.

Answers to last week's questions:

1. Jesus; 2. Just says someone; 3. That his daughter was dead; 4. The teacher or Jesus; 5. Do not be afraid only believe; 6. Peter, James and John, also the girl's parents; 7. The Bible says all; 8. They laughed Jesus to scorn; 9. The little girl; 10. Little girl arise
- Now some comments on what we have studied in these four verses. First of all we see that Jesus is sending the twelve apostles forth. This is sometimes referred to as the limited commission. Jesus gave them power to do the same kinds of works of mercy that Jesus had done, and thus carry out His mission. Works of mercy and love are inseparable from the true preaching of the Gospel. Through the apostles training and teaching them by Jesus we see the results in Acts Chapter 2.

In Acts chapter 2 we see the spiritual body of Christ come into existence, which is the church. Have you followed the teaching of the New Testament that tells us how to be a Christian? Being a Christian and studying the New Testament helps us to grow strong and more knowledgeable of the Bible.

Ol' Baldy says bye for now, but don't forget to pray, read and study God's holy word, the Bible. Luv ya!

PRAYER

By: Rev. Ernie Johnson

I believe God has a plan for the church. A plan for the future that will amaze and astonish those that give only "lip service" to serving the Lord. There is a tremendous difference between knowing Jesus, and saying we know Him. I believe we live to become one with Jesus, and once that occurs, it matters not what He asks us to do. He may ask us to do the most obscure things that we think are completely meaningless, yet they have far reaching effects, and when we truly know Him we submit to His will. These things are only obscure and meaningless to the world God sees our submission to His will.

There are times of testing that cause us to think we have reached our limit and can go no further. It is at that point we discover the depth of our relationship with Christ and we learn to trust. A good example is Daniel. He trusted God, even to the point of being thrown into the lions' den, yet he remained faithful. How we face our trials demonstrates our faith, and this may lead others to Christ. I think you will agree that no cost is too high if someone comes to Jesus. We reach this relationship with Jesus through prayer.

God's people have the responsibility to pray, fast and seek God's will each day. I urge anyone reading this to PRAY and seek God's will. If you are truly seeking to communicate with God and not just say words, I have a suggestion. Record one of your prayer sessions, and then listen to the way you pray. Now ask yourself this question: Is this really prayer, or just a learned ritual? Would you talk to your earthly father, or a friend, the way you attempt to talk with God?

True prayer is not the idea of approaching God with a "shopping list" or a "let's get this over with" attitude, but with awe and reverence. We must come into His presence believing He is the Creator of the universe. It matters not if we stand, kneel, sit or fall on our face prostrate before Him; we have an awesome privilege of talking with God. All too often, we approach God not out of a holy reverence or fear, but with a list of demands. No one would approach the president with a demanding attitude and a list of demands expecting him to grant them all. We need to change the way we pray, change the way we worship, change the way we approach God and then our relationship with Him will change. Each new day brings new challenges and new ways that I can depend upon my God. I pray you, dear reader; also know the joy of walking daily in the presence of Jesus.

It matters not whether we serve in the spotlight, or just remain in the background, our goal must be to get to know Him. Our purpose, our goal, must be to know Him. Once we know Him, He can use us any way He desires. Perhaps He only wants us to sit at His feet and listen to Him. Attempting to "hide" inside a church building will not work for we are to be His messengers. However, we must wait upon the Lord for running ahead proves to be an exercise in futility. In Him I can do all things, without Him I am worse than useless. I will tire quickly when I run ahead, but I can do all things when I wait upon Him.

Isaiah 40:31, "Yet those who wait for the Lord Will gain new strength; They will mount up with wings like eagles, They will run and not get tired, They will walk and not become weary." NASB

HAVE YOU HEARD THE KNOCKING?

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

A couple of days ago I was sitting in our living room reading when I heard a knock on our door. It sort of caught me by surprise, the repeated thumping of the knock especially since we have a door bell. When I went to the door to see who was knocking it was a salesman wanting to interest me in their product.

In the day of electronics, door bells that ring, cell phones that buzz to let us know we've received a text, knocking on the door can really get your attention. Regarding the subject of knocking on the door I read the following story this past week:

A nurse on the pediatric ward had a practice that, before listening to the chest of a little one, she would plug the stethoscope into their ears and let them listen to their own hearts. Their eyes would always light up with awe, but she never got a response equal to that of a 4-year old named David.

Gently she tucked the stethoscope into David's ears and placed the disk over his heart. "Listen," she said. "What do you suppose that is?"

He drew his eyebrows together in a puzzled line and looked up as if lost in the mystery of the strange tap, tap, tapping deep in his chest. Then his face broke out in a wondrous grin and he asked, "Is that Jesus knocking?" (from Cybersalt Digest)

The scriptures remind us of Jesus desire to connect with us by His knocking... Revelation 3:20 (NASB), "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and will dine with him, and he with Me."

For those who are reading this article, have you heard the knocking? Have you opened the door of your heart to Jesus?

WE WERE MADE TO BE PLAYED

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

Author and Pastor David Jeremiah wrote about the importance of living out our lives to the fullest by the practice of what drives us the most, our passion for life.

Fritz Kreisler (1875-1962), the world-famous violinist, earned a fortune with his concerts and compositions, but he generously gave most of it away. So, when he discovered an exquisite violin on one of his trips, he wasn't able to buy it. Later, having raised enough money to meet the asking price, he returned to the seller, hoping to purchase that beautiful instrument. To his great dismay, it had been sold to a collector.

Kreisler made his way to the new owner's home and offered to buy the violin. The collector said it had become his prized possession, and he would not sell it. Keenly disappointed, Kreisler was about to leave when he had an idea. "Could I play the instrument once more before it is consigned to silence?" he asked. Permission was granted, and the great virtuoso filled the room with such heart-moving music that the collector's emotions were deeply stirred. "I have no right to keep that to myself," he exclaimed. "It's yours, Mr. Kreisler. Take it into the world, and let people hear it."

We have a message to share. Our heavenly Father created us as exquisite instruments, and the beautiful music we are to make is the good news of salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. We were made to be played. (Turning Point Daily Devotional, 7-26-06)

Crestview and Tinora will be the biggest challenges for the Wayne Trace Raider Football team as the season gets underway. The goal will be to win the GMC and get into the playoffs.

The Raider team was one of the top teams in Northwest Ohio in 2012 losing only one game the entire season.

Only four graduated from the team last year and most of the players have returned, experienced and ready for a too-hot-to-handle season.

Give the Wayne Trace Raiders your support at the games!

THE MEETING AT HORNISH MOTORS IN GOODYEAR, AZ

By: Stan Jordan

Retired Gen. Norman Gugenheim welcomed everyone to the meeting. He introduced all the men and then had the men introduce their wives. It was more like a 589th Fighter reunion for awhile.

Stan Hornish said he would like all the boys of the 589th to come and work for him. He plans on paying top wages and will find work for your wife if she wants to work. We have struck a contract with Cummings Diesel back in Columbus, IN that we will be the only authorized Cummings dealer in Maricopa County. That includes all of Phoenix.

All of our truck mechanics must attend and pass the Cummings Diesel School. We will pay the highest wages in the area and we will charge the highest rates but our record is service and satisfaction. We will have six areas to work on trucks. Your truck will not be off the road for very long. Lots of men will want to work for us.

For now we will stop for rolls and coffees and for talks.

We will have certain areas for any and all tire work, truck and auto.

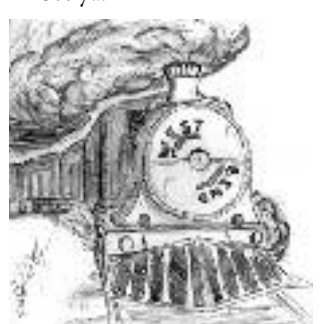

There will be very little credit extended but again, that can be negotiated, some cases are different.

Gen. Norm is our business advisor and his sons are both legal advisors.

The 80 rods closest to the main highway will be called The Hornish Truck Corral and our own trucks will be called Hornish Motors at the south end of the area. The area out front will be neat and clean all the time. The big sales and office building will be accessible from the main highway and made of green and white panels—all very shiny. All the buildings, work areas, and all will have that new comfort called air conditioning.

People will line up to work for us because we pay top wages. But we want all workers to be good at their job, sweet and friendly, fast, neat and clean, we will furnish uniforms. Down the road there will be a P-51-D Mustang with a 589th Fighter Wing logo on a stanchion in the front yard. See ya!

A lad of about 13 years was pushing a used lawn mower down the sidewalk.

It was an old time green Lawnboy that had seen better days.

He met a man coming this way on the sidewalk walking a bicycle.

They stopped to talk a minute and the man said, "I am Tim Albright, the Pastor of the First Asbestos Church back here in the next block. I could use a trimming mower if you wanted to swap for the bicycle".

"Well sure, let me try your bike out for a couple minutes," the lad replied.

So the lad returned to the spot with the bike and was well satisfied and was ready to trade.

But the minister was still pulling the starting rope and said, "Will this mower start?"

The lad said, "Oh yes, but you must use some strong words when you pull the rope."

The Pastor said, "I forgot those words a long time ago."

The boy added, "If you pull that rope a few more times those words will come back to you."

ghost towns of Paulding County. But Molasses Gap is not listed on any of the papers.

Molasses Gap must have been a local name such as here in the Antwerp, Dead Man's Curve, Zuber Cut-off, or the Island or Possum Nob—to name a few.

It is all very interesting. There will be more in next week's WBN.

DAVID BAGLEY RETIRES

By: Stan Jordan

Dave Bagley was born in Van Wert in 1953. His parents were Gene and Joanne Bagley. There were three boys in the family. He spent most of his time on the family farm.

He went to school at Crestview for six years and then six years at Van Wert High School. He graduated there in 1971. He worked in those early years in construction and Aero-Quip.

He entered into BGSU and wasn't too sure about his future. But after he learned from his professors, he knew he wanted to teach and help students and he entered into the education field. He graduated from there in 1975.

He met and married Susan Dunlap of Van Wert in 1975.

They have three children: Trisha, she has three children and lives here in Antwerp; Ryan has three children and lives here in Antwerp; Ashley has one child and lives here in Antwerp.

He started his teaching career in the Van Wert City Schools. He taught the 6th grade for six years but also in phys-ed and coaching in the elementary school. He came to Antwerp in 1981 as the elementary principal for five years. He was the high school principal for two years. He was the school superintendent for 18 years here in Antwerp, he was the superintendent at Fairveiw for eight years—that gave him 38 years in the educational field.

I asked him about hobbies and he has a number of them. Hunting with a bow and arrow is his main hobby. Over the years he has shot four black bear, two elk and a number of mule deer and white tail deer.

He shot a mountain lion with a rifle once down in southwest Texas. We're going to do a story on that later.

They are contemplating a trip to Canada to shoot buffalo. That will be with a rifle. He is also planning a trip to shoot a wolf with a bow and arrow.

Susan has worked in the of K & L Tool for many years. She now works two days a week. So that gives her a full day to be with each family of grandchildren each week.

Some more of Dave's hobbies are gardening on a small scale—all of the vegetables for the table. He likes working with wood and now is able to do some projects around the house. He loves to spend time with his seven grandchildren.

We talked about the difference in the manner of education from the three R's to the computer. It is now so much faster and up to date. A textbook now is out of date before you get a chance to use it.

"The new electronic education is the best all around. The students are asked for so much more now, we must stay sharp to stay ahead of the children of the other countries and we can do that with the new teaching system. The three R's were great for their time, but not anymore. It is a big change, we must look ahead and teach change and progress."

Well, Dave, I certainly enjoyed our visit. I'm looking about to when we can do the story of you shooting the mountain lion.

STATE SEN. KRUSE INDUCTED INTO AUCTIONEERS HALL OF FAME

Indiana State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn) was recently inducted into the National Auctioneers Association (NAA) Hall of Fame during the NAA's 2013 conference in Indianapolis.

"The NAA Hall of Fame highlights those individuals who have made excellent contributions to the auction industry, but also made excellent contributions to the National Auctioneers Association, which Dennis has done both of those," said Terry Dunning, NAA Hall of Fame committee chair.

Dunning also said the committee considers an individual's community involvement, adding that Dennis has served admirably in the Indiana General Assembly for nearly 25 years.

Kruse has been an auctioneer since 1964 and some of his career highlights include:

- President, Indiana Auctioneers Association Foundation, 2013
- President & Owner of Reppert School of Auctioneering, Auburn, Ind. 1996-2011
- President, Indiana Auctioneers Association, 2005
- President, National Auctioneers Association, 2005-2006
- Graduate, Reppert School of Auctioneering, 1964
- National Auctioneers Foundation Board of Directors, 2009-2011
- Hall of Fame, Indiana Auctioneers Association, 2007

"It's truly an honor to be inducted into the National Auctioneers Association Hall of Fame," Kruse said. "Without the support of our auctioneering community, whose international reputation has endured throughout the decades, my achievements would not be possible. This honor is for our strong and talented auctioneering network, and I'm incredibly thankful to be a part of that." Established in 1961, the National Auctioneers Association Hall of Fame recognizes leaders within the auction industry. Bronze-etched portrait plaques of Hall of Fame honorees are displayed at the National Auctioneering Museum in Overland Park, Kan. With the addition of the 2013 class, there are 141 members in the Hall of Fame. Induction into the NAA Hall of Fame is considered the highest honor given to an auctioneer.

LEGISLATING IN THE INTERIM

The Pond Report by: IN Rep. Phyllis Pond, House District 85

Because Indiana has a citizen legislature, and given the General Assembly is only in session a portion of the year, I get plenty of questions about the legislative process while we are not in session. The General Assembly has the rare opportunity to spend our summers of the interim delving deeper into issues that we may not have had the time to go over while we were in session at the beginning of the year.

The Legislative Council assigns the topics which will be studied; these range anywhere from school safety to military and veterans' affairs to census data. Summer study committees usually begin towards the end of July and wrap up at the end of October.

These study committees are particularly crucial to the legislative process because it gives representatives opportunities to meet with experts of various fields while conducting in-depth study of topics that are assigned to their committee. These issues that are discussed and studied can be inspirational to representatives when it comes to authoring legislation.

Among others, I was assigned to work on the State Fair Advisory Committee. During this time, I worked with other members of the General Assembly along with the State Fair Advisory Commission to come up with improvements to Indiana's State Fair. We considered items like the Coliseum renovation project which will add the Youth Arena, expanding the Indiana State Fairgrounds public ice skating and youth hockey programs.

A summer study committee was also assigned to a localized issue right here in Ft. Wayne. The Regional Campuses Study Committee was given the task to study the operation of various regional campuses and perform an analysis on the management, growth, needs and future plans of IPFW. The reports of this analysis and study will be presented to the General Assembly.

I look forward to hearing the legislation that comes out of these study committees and informing you of their positive impacts. To see a complete list of the assigned committees, member appointments and what the committees are charged with studying, please visit www.in.gov/house_republicans.

KASICH'S PLAN WILL INVEST $3 BILLION IN OHIO'S TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

Gov. John R. Kasich unveiled a robust plan for improving Ohio's transportation system with a $3 billion investment in infrastructure over the next several years. Kasich's Jobs and Transportation plan will allow the state to eliminate decades long delays on some 41 new construction projects now slated to begin construction as soon as next year in some cases. Various portions of Interstate 75 from Findlay to Toledo will be completely reconstructed and upgraded and will see a 12 to 13-year delay wiped out.

"By thinking outside the box we're attacking Ohio's highway budget deficit without a tax increase and keeping Ohio's highways in top condition," Kasich said. "Our agriculture, manufacturing and logistics industries, as well as so many others, depend on our world class highway system for their success and the $3 billion in new funds made possible from our plan keeps them moving so Ohio's economic recovery can keep moving."

Kasich's plan uses money from the Ohio Turnpike to help rebuild portions I-75. Other northwest Ohio projects getting Kasich's green light include:

- Reconstructing a new interchange at I-475 and U.S. Route 20 in Lucas County ($59 million, 12-year delay eliminated)
- Widening U.S. Route 250 in Erie County ($31.7 million, 12-year delay eliminated)
- Completing a grade separation at McCord Rd. in Lucas County ($29.3 million, 1-year delay eliminated)

Kasich's recommendations await a vote by the state's independent Transportation Review Advisory Council (TRAC) which was slated for Thursday, July 25. The TRAC was established in 1997 to provide guidance to the state for reviewing and approving ODOT's largest construction projects.

Some funds for the Jobs and Transportation plan were made possible by an innovative plan to issue bonds backed by Turnpike toll revenue dedicated exclusively to northern Ohio. The plan helps fill ODOT's budget deficit without raising taxes that would kill jobs.

Here is a complete list of projects across the state included in the governor's Jobs and Transportation Plan:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

What is it going to take to get traffic laws enforced in the west end of Paulding? A bad or fatal accident, a child or a person getting hit or killed by some of these idiot drivers who won't slow down or stop properly at the traffic signs? We have complained constantly about these and other violations especially with the roads being so bad and so much dust because of these speeding drivers. We have told the law officers they can set in our driveways here or at the buildings on Dix St. and observe these violations but nothing is ever done. Yet these speed traps are set regularly on Road 144 and Emerald Rd. as I observed twice in a four-day period and one was sitting in a person's driveway. Guess we don't count in the west end although we pay just as much tax and levies as those on the east end. Must be all the politicians live in the east end so they get special privileges. Maybe the west end should annex and start our own government and make and enforce our own laws.

On Friday the 23rd at approximately 3:20 p.m. I saw a red Grand Prix traveling west on Jackson at 50+ mph—what was the hurry? And so much dust was being kicked up that the car wasn't visible after traveling a block past me. What if a young child would have been close to the road or darted out? Think of this you idiot drivers, and the consequences of your stupid driving.

Oh, and Paulding officials: that water you are having put down in the west end is not solving the problem or making us happy. A waste of water at our expense! So can we possibly get some laws enforced in the west end? You know west of where the RR tracks used to be? There is a lot of money in bins waiting to be collected down here for a little effort.

bring teams for both 6th grade and under and a new 4th grade and under team volleyball league. Ten teams have already signed up with over a week left before the deadline and scheduling begins.

The basketball courts will be full this fall as we reach out to every school age child. Boys and girls will have the opportunity to participate in five different leagues K-2nd grade, 3-4 grade, 5-6 grade, 7-8 grade and varsity 9-12 grade. The leagues are primarily set up for student athletes that are not already participating in a fall school sport. The leagues allow players to keep a ball in their hand to work on fundamentals while working against some viable opponents. All junior high and high school teams will be divided up per OHSAA sport regulations, with no more than two athletes from any school, on the same team.

Sunday brings a full day of events to the gym. Individual sign-ups are being accepted for JH girls, JH boys, HS girls and HS boys teams. All the leagues will run for six weeks, including league ending tournaments. This will give the players a couple weeks off before winter seasons officially begin.

Monday evening the gym will play host to 3/4 grade and 5/6 grade girls basketball. Tuesday will be the same age groups for the boys. Wednesday evening events are through gym partner K&S Tumblefit. Thursday evening is the only evening with coaching as they bring boys teams to play. 6th grade and under teams from the area, have signed up to participate in the league. Thursday will also play host to the new boys and girls K-2 league. The new 8 foot rims and smaller 27.5" basketballs, purchased with the Paulding County Area Foundation grant, will be put to use for the first time.

Saturday, October 19 and 26 will bring volleyball tournaments to the MAC. A JH girls tournament will be sponsored by the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church on October 19. Eight teams will battle for

FRIDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL IN BULLDAWG COUNTRY

By: Taylor Weddle
 As summer dwindles down and classes are back in session, New Haven High School students have one thing to look forward to: Friday night football games. From the extremely spirited student section to the football team themselves, it's always a good time at the stadium. For freshmen, this is a whole new world they're discovering. For seniors however, it's the bittersweet beginning of an end.

Senior football players, cheerleaders, and band members all prep for their last first game they have to get ready for and practice for, because they know its also their last first impression. This game had set a standard for the rest of the fall season.

For the 2013-2014 team, wide receiver Jordan Hogue, senior, shares that this season will be a "special season", because the team is underrated and has many unknown players. Hogue scored many touchdowns for the Bulldogs this past Friday against Heritage. While both teams fought hard, the Dogs came out on top with a 61-21 win.

Junior Vance Shearer, quarterback, is joining the varsity team for the first time this year. Last year, Shearer was injured and couldn't play but gained back his power for the team. D'Andre Smith, fullback and running back, and a senior as well, referred to his teammate Hogue as a "very dominant player". The varsity team is looking forward to a good year in football with a new set of offense and a new coordinator for offense as well.

Another great part of the home games is the great turnout of family members and peers. When you're a Bulldog, you don't need a jersey or a letterman jacket to be involved. Being apart of that crowd and cheering together brings an entire family together. The student section has their own designated areas and attire. The group of students plan theme nights for the games. It was a black-out theme, while Heritage had a white-out theme. Mariah Shakoor, senior, amongst the tight and large crowd, plans to attend every game and likes how supportive the entire group is of the Bulldogs. It's almost amazing how close-knit everyone is in that moment when the team scores every touchdown and gains every yard.

This year will be an "interesting" one, claimed by senior Corey McKeever. The team is ready for whatever thrown at them, and all of the student section will be there with them waiting. Every senior has mixed emotions about this final year, and every underclassman can't wait for what's to come.

New Haven Football Seniors: DeAndre Smith, Jordan Hogue, Mariah Shakoor, Vance Shearer, and Cory McKeever.

WAYNE TRACE BOYS GOLF INVITATIONAL AT PLEASANT VALLEY GC

On the afternoon of August 22nd High School teams from Lincolnview, Miller City, Wayne Trace, Paulding, Fort Jennings, Antwerp, and Crestview arrived at Pleasant Valley Golf Course to tee off in the Wayne Trace Boys Golf Invitational.

BULLDOGS OVERPOWER PATRIOTS

The Bulldogs opened their season with a high scoring win against the Patriots on Friday, August 23. New Haven had their first game at home with a large crowd of excited students and fans. The team had nearly double the score at half time and extended the lead into the third quarter. The fourth quarter the Bulldogs took it easy but still won the game 61-21.

The football game was exciting to watch. The young men weaved through the opposing team, confusing the Heritage defense numerous times to get to the goal.

Beth Stauffer, writer for the New Haven Bulletin, made this observation regarding the Bulldogs upcoming season:

"Local sports reporters from Indiana's News Center, Tommy Schoegler, Dean Pantazi, and Eric Dutkiewicz, have travelled to practices of all of the EACS District teams. The following is a brief recap of what they think you should know about the teams with less than 48 hours until the season officially gets underway.

"The Bulldogs are 22-13 over the past three seasons, and claimed a 2010 4A sectional championship. The Dawgs know 2013 is yet another year to make a splash," INC Sports reports. With an already strong defense returning 9 starters from last year, expect the Bulldogs to come out of the gate strong and only improve as the season progresses.

"At the center of the Bulldog's offensive strategy is senior Jordan Hogue, who will primarily play at wide receiver and occasionally toss a few snaps at quarterback or take a pigskin hand off as a running back. According to Pantazi, "Jordan Hogue will rarely leave the field for the Bulldogs." Most of the quarterback duties will fall to Vance Shearer who, according to INC Sports, will be behind a "big offensive line."

Head Coach Jim Rowland returns to lead the Bulldogs again this year, a team that INC Sports surmises has a real shot at contending for the Northeast Hoosier Conference championship." (www.newhavenbulletin.com)

WHAT ABOUT THE BANDS?

New Haven and Woodlan Bands supporting their teams at the football games. Lots more pictures at www.westbendnews.net

The school bands, including the band directors, are one of the most important part of the games. A marching or pep band can bring spirit to a game it would not have without the band, even in times when the home team may be on the low side of the score board.

Band directors must work long hours and they don't often receive a lot of praise. The band students go through much of the same training as any other athletes—including camp, and it's not always fun and games! Bands have something more than other groups: a family of people unrelated. They will never forget the great times playing together though they had to sit on the ice cold football bleachers or the gyms that were so hot and humid you could wring the sweat out of the shirt you were wearing. And what about all the times you waited and waited until it was your team's turn at the music competition? Remember some of the crazy band parents who gave all of the their time and energy, and you didn't quite understand why? They just made it that much more fun!

Some bands are larger than others and the size of the school doesn't seem to decide the size of the band, but they all have the same goal of bringing life to the party!

No matter if you support Paulding, Woodlan, Antwerp, New Haven or Wayne Trace or whether you are parent, student, teacher or a bystander at the game, be sure to tell the band members and directors how much you appreciate them and their hard work!

WOODLAN CRACKS BELLMONT FOOTBALL IN SEASON OPENER

Shown in the picture is senior Corbin Smith running the field for a touchdown in the first half. First Touchdown on video and lots more pictures at www.westbendnews.net

Woodlan opened their football season with the annual game against Bellmont. The Warriors appeared up to the task as senior Greg White scored the first touchdown (watch video) with 4:40 seconds left in the first quarter. The Braves realized they were not playing the same team they had played in the past.

Bellmont scored a 3 point field goal and soon after Woodlan scored another touchdown. By the end of the first half the score was 17-11.

The second half of the game continued in the Warriors favor with Woodlan increasing their score by another 26 and taking the victory from the Braves with a 43-18 win.

Beth Stauffer, writer for the New Haven Bulletin had this summary for the Warrior season:

“Word is that over in Woodburn, the Warriors appear to be on an upswing with a bigger team, both in size and sheer numbers,” said Pantazi in a Tweet on August 5th.

“According to INC Sports, Woodlan Coach Sherwood Haydock ‘enters his third season at Woodlan on the heels of a three season win in 2012. Those three wins in 2012 equal the total number of wins in the previous three seasons.’ This year, INC Sports adds, the team finally has the experience and depth to perhaps make a few waves in the ACAC and Class 2A sectionals.

“The team will no doubt look to returning running back Jaylin Bennett to make some big plays in 2013, as in 2012 he managed to rush over 1,000 yards in just seven games. Corbin Smith will return at quarterback while 287 pound playmaker DeAndre Woods will see action on both the O and D lines in 2013, said Pantazi.”

PAULDING HS HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES

The next induction into the Paulding High School Athletic Hall of Fame is next Friday, August 30th before the varsity football game with Wayne Trace. This induction will take place at approximately 6:30 p.m. in front of the Paulding home bleachers.

The following are the teams to be recognized that evening:

1957 Football Team:
The 1957 Paulding High School football team was the first undefeated/untied team in school history, as they posted an 8-0 record. This 8-0 record was a part of a 16 game winning streak that spanned two seasons. Not only did this football team finish without a blemish on their record, but they also shut out seven of the eight opponents that they faced, only giving up 6 points to Rockford, giving up less than one point per game. They outscored their opponents by an average of 26 points per game.

This team consisted of three all state performers in John Henry Kauser, Jim Paulus and George Morones and also has Paulding High School Athletic Hall of Fame members in Mike Goings, Michael Connor, John Henry Kauser and Jerry Delong. Some of the members of this team went on to be a part of the 1960 Class “A” State Championship track team as well.

1960 Boys Track Team:
The 1960 Paulding High School Boys track team is the only State Championship team in Paulding High School history. The team had a very successful season, as they also won championships at the Tiffin Relays, Bryan Relays, Paulding Relays and won the Northwest Buckeye League championship. They were runners-up at the Northwestern Ohio District track meet before going on to win the Class “A” State Championship. Coach Paul Nestor said regarding this squad, “sometimes you wait a lifetime for a big winner. I’ve been here only four weeks and the area comes up with a State Championship with Paulding High’s well-knit track squad”.

Several members of the team went on to become inducted individually into the Paulding High School Athletic Hall of Fame. Those members include Mike Goings and Michael Connor.

1988 Football Team:

The 1988 Paulding High School football team is the last team to finish undefeated, going 10-0. The upperclassmen on this team were a part of an 18-2 record that spanned over the 1987 and 1988 seasons. The 1988 team dominated on both sides of the ball as they were the leading offensive and defensive team in the Northwest Conference, and outscored their opponents by 34 points per game. This team finished as the 12th ranked team in the Division III by the Associated Press, with the highlight of the season being putting an end to Delphos Jefferson’s 49 game regular season winning streak with a 17-0 shutout victory.

The Panthers touted many players who were honored as first team all conference members (8), with Max Eifrid and Rob Kesler earning first team all state honors. Max Eifrid was also honored as the AP Linemen of the Year and was also a finalist for the prestigious Ohio “Mr. Football” award. Team members Tony Vogel and Tim Phlipot and Head Coach Jim Caserta are members of the Paulding High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

WORK TO BECOME A BETTER INVESTOR

Financial Focus by: Phil Recker, Edward Jones Advisor

Next week, we observe Labor Day. A federal holiday since 1894, Labor Day celebrates the achievements of American workers — people, like yourself, who work hard for their money. But to make progress toward your long-term financial goals, you need to do more than just earn money — you have to invest it wisely. And that takes work, too.

Fortunately, there's no real mystery to the types of labor in which you'll need to engage to become a good investor. Here are a few suggestions:

- Work to make investing a priority. Many people delay investing until they "have a better handle" on their finances. But these good intentions frequently go unfulfilled because there will always be something else on which to spend one's money. To work toward your important goals, such as a comfortable retirement or a child's education, you need to put away some money regularly. If you're just starting out in your career, you might not be able to afford much, but even a small amount can help. And when your salary increases, so can your investment contributions. To make it easier on yourself, consider arranging for your bank to automatically move money each month from your checking or savings account into an investment account.

- Work to understand what's in your portfolio. Some investors aren't certain about what investments they own — and this uncertainty can lead to poor decision-making if it becomes necessary to make changes. So make sure you know what's in your portfolio — and why.

- Work to keep your portfolio current with your goals. Even if you know why you initially purchased certain investments and how they fit into your portfolio, you can't put things on "autopilot." Over time, your goals may evolve, which means you'll need to be vigilant in working with your financial advisor to adjust your portfolio accordingly.

- Work to diversify your holdings. No matter where you are in your life, you will still need to diversify your portfolio by owning a variety of investments — stocks, bonds, government securities and other vehicles. Consequently, you'll need to review your portfolio regularly to ensure that it's still properly diversified. Diversification is a strategy designed to help reduce the effects of volatility on your holdings, but keep in mind that even a diversified portfolio can't guarantee profits or protect against loss.

- Work to maintain a long-term perspective. No matter what you might hear from anyone else, there's no "shortcut" to investment success. Many people hope they will "hit" on that one investment that will make them rich quickly — but that's pretty much a fantasy. To help achieve your goals, you will need to invest for many years, through good markets and bad. And during those inevitable downturns, you'll need to focus on your long-term objectives and follow a consistent investment strategy, making only those adjustments that make sense for your situation.

As you can see, you'll need to work on many aspects of investing to stay on the road toward success. But you don't have to work alone: Investing can be complex, so you may want to get help from a financial professional — someone who knows both the investment world and your individual needs, goals and risk tolerance.

WEST OHIO FOOD BANK RECEIVES FREEZER FUND DONATION FROM THE MARKET STREET PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The West Ohio Food Bank received a donation from The Market Street Presbyterian Church on August 28, 2013. The Market Street Presbyterian Church donated $2,400.00 to the "Freezer Fund" at the West Ohio Food Bank to aid in the complete update of the 30 year old industrial freezer and refrigeration units. The Check was presented by the Market Street Presbyterian Church Mission Committee members to WOFB, CEO Gary Bright at the West Ohio Food Bank at 1380 E. Kibby Street Lima, OH.

This donation falls in line with one of the Core Values of the church, Nurturing Families — Quoting their website. "We are called to invest significant resources in developing high quality ministries with children, youth, student and adult ministries, which helps to strengthen families." The Church has been serving Lima and the surrounding area for more than 175 years and continues as a significant member of the community. This donation represents the Market Street Presbyterian Church's commitment to building a better community and stronger families.

Currently, the West Ohio Food Bank has raised about $90,000.00 toward the goal of $120,000.00 and has allowed WOFB to begin phase one of this project. This donation of $2,400.00 is the start of the remaining $30,000.00 which is required for Phase 2 of this important Freezer/Refrigeration update.

The Freezer has a capacity of 11 semi truck loads of frozen foods while the refrigeration unit is capable of holding about five semi truck loads of perishable products.

CEO, Gary Bright says, "We are getting excited about seeing the completion of this important project as the donations have come in. We're getting so close, we just need a few more donors to come forward and partner with us." Donors can contact the food bank by visiting wofb.org or call 419-222-7946.

HERB MONROE PARK PHASE II GROUNDBREAKING

PERGOLA STRUCTURE & ELECTRIC GET INSTALLED AT HERB MONROE COMMUNITY PARK

Installing the pergola is (l-r) Dennis Glick, Dave Whirret, John Glick, and Terry Buehler.

Dave Whirret's family had a close bond with the Monroe's, so much so that he travelled from North Carolina to install the pergola structure that will be one of the featured spots inside the green space park. The same day the pergola structure was being installed, Schweller Electric also installed the electric for the park.

The park will honor the late Herb Monroe.

Bright goes on to say, "Once this project is completed, we will focus on our next major project, which will allow us to replace one of our aging fleet of trucks and potentially add a fifth box truck to our fleet. We need to increase the amount of food coming in to the food bank and right now we are limited by not having enough trucks to pick up and deliver the food."

The West Ohio Food Bank is seeking sustaining partners who will share in our pursuit of ending hunger together in our region.

EAU HOSTED ITS BACK TO SCHOOL NIGHT

By: Beth Stauffer
East Allen University hosted its Back to School Night on Tuesday, August 20, 2013 at its shared located with Paul Harding Junior High School on Paulding Road. In its 2nd year of operations, East Allen University in partnership with Vincennes University, is the EACS District's flagship magnet school which offers students the opportunity to earn an Associate's Degree while simultaneously earning their high school diploma from East Allen County Schools. To enter this unique program, students must begin coursework as an incoming 9th grade student. This means that in EAU's second year, its enrollment has more than doubled from 2012 to include over 200 students from all over the district and Allen County, said Principal Doug Hicks on Tuesday evening.

As previously reported by New Haven Bulletin.com, EAU had a stellar first year academically, with a 96% pass rate and 97% attendance rate posted in the school's first 9 weeks of classes in 2012. During the 2012-2013 school year, EAU students accumulated over 1,000 college credits. This is particularly noteworthy because students who qualify for the federal free or reduced lunch program pay no out of pocket costs per credit hour earned, while traditionally enrolled students pay just a fraction of expected costs for EACS staff taught courses. Principal Hicks credited EAU's early success to the dedication and cooperation of the students, staff, parents, and administrators at the school who have come together to create this unique, one of a kind opportunity for students in Northeast Indiana. "We have a very large group of students who think EAU is the best and are absolutely loving it here," said Hicks in an interview in 2012. "Our PTO is very active. It's hard to get high school parents involved, but our EAU parents have really stepped it up. Our staff has put in major amounts of extra time into the program, and I think all of this really shines thru in the successful start EAU has enjoyed," added Hicks.

On Tuesday evening, parents and students were presented with an informative PowerPoint presentation about EAU and then had the opportunity to tour the school and enjoy refreshments in the Lobby. New EACS Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Folks was on hand for the Back to School night to meet EAU parents and students along with EACS School Board Members Robert Nelson and Terry Jo Lightfoot. All of the schools in the EACS District have already or will be having a Back to School Night in the coming days. Upcoming Back to School Nights include: New Haven High School held its Back to School Night on Friday, August 23rd. Heritage Elementary held its Back to School Night on August 27th. New Haven Middle School will hold its 7th and 8th Grade Back to School Night and Parent Meeting on August 29th from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Heritage Jr./Sr. High School will hold its Back to School Night on August 30th from 5:30-7:00 p.m. For more information about any of the schools in the EACS School District, or to learn more about the District's new tagline, "Dream it. Do it.", visit the District's official website at www.eacs.k12.in.us.

SALT IN HIS SHOES: AN EVENING WITH DELORIS JORDAN

Salt in His Shoes: An Evening with Deloris Jordan is an event organized by United Way's Women United to raise awareness about the importance of early childhood education in Allen County. Jordan is co-author of the New York Times Best Seller children's book, Salt in His Shoes, and mother of Michael Jordan, professional basketball hall of famer. This event is open to the public at no cost to attendees. To reserve a seat or for more information, contact 469-4002 or ruthie.krueger@uwacin.org.

It is set to take place on Tuesday, September 10, 2013, from 7:00-8:30 p.m. at the Public Safety Academy: Ivy Tech South Campus, 7602 Patriot Crossing, Fort Wayne, IN 46816.

United Way and Women United are dedicated to ensuring children in Allen County are ready for kindergarten by focusing efforts on early childhood education, a critical factor in a child's success in school and beyond. Longitudinal studies show that children with access to high quality early childhood education are more likely to graduate high school, maintain jobs as adults, and earn higher wages. Salt in His Shoes: An Evening with Deloris Jordan will help raise awareness about the importance of early childhood education. The sponsor for the event is Ivy Tech Community College Northeast.

Quote from Jordan: "As a mother, I've tried to teach all of my children, including Michael, the importance of focusing on their education," shared Jordan. "As a children's author and philanthropist, I was honored to be invited to speak at United Way's Women United event, as I know much of their focus is on early childhood education, which is critical to a child's success down the road."

BOLSTERING LOCAL BUSINESSES BY SUPPORTING OUR VETERANS

Pond Report by: IN State Rep. Phyllis Pond, House District 85
 Servicemen and women of the past and present have made so many sacrifices to preserve the virtues and sovereignty of our nation. Many have paid the ultimate sacrifice to defend our values and freedom, and each veteran deserves the recognition and support necessary upon their return from serving our country. The unemployment rate for post-9/11 veterans in Indiana is more than double the state's unemployment rate at 20.1 percent, ranking our state 47th in the country. It is time for more to be done when it comes to finding solutions to integrate our vets into

PAULDING COUNTY COURT REPORTS

Indiana's workforce. The Veteran Opportunity Partner-Employment Opportunities is a solution to this problem. This program allows for businesses who want to make hiring veterans a priority to fill out an application by entering straightforward information such as the company's name, website, location, industry and a brief description. By doing this, the organization will be listed as a veteran-friendly business.

When a veteran comes back and goes to apply for a job, either through veterans' affairs or the Department of Workforce Development, these companies will show up. They will also have resources to work with them on reentry.

Not only will this program help Hoosier veterans get back on their feet after returning from duty, it will also give businesses a chance to grow their establishment by hiring eager and skillful individuals with supreme work ethic.

Additionally, Governor Pence is encouraging Hoosier veterans, after returning home, to provide Indiana with additional economic opportunities by starting and expanding their own businesses with the Indiana Veteran's Business Enterprise Program. By promoting significant business practices and opportunities, fostering partnerships and integrating Indiana veteran-owned businesses within the business structure of the state, we will ensure a smooth transition for our returning veterans as well as bolster Indiana's economy.

The company must first register with the Indiana Department of Administration. If you need assistance in doing this, call 317-234-3524 or send an email to indianaveteranspreference@idoa.in.gov. After the registration is complete, a letter must be provided from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs to verify VA classification to the prime contractor.

It is imperative that we do all that we can to ease transitions for veterans and offer guidance when it comes to employment information. Not only will this help a Hoosier veteran use his or her skills to provide for themselves and their families, we will also be strengthening our local Indiana businesses.

For more information regarding opportunities through the Indiana Department of Veterans' Affairs, please call 1-800-400-4520 or visit <http://www.in.gov/dva/index.htm>.

ORGANIZED LABOR UP-HOLDS LONG-STANDING, LIFESAVING PARTNERSHIP

On August 22, organized labor in Toledo continued a tradition that has lasted over 25 years by sponsoring a blood drive with the American Red Cross. The Annual United Labor Committee Blood Drive was from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the UAW Local 12 facility located at 2300 Ashland Ave. in Toledo. Dave Kuchcinski, Chairman of the Local 12 Retiree Group, has survived leukemia for 11 years. A month ago he woke up bleeding because his treatment port was leaking. Dave is grateful for the 14 units of blood and 6 units of platelets he received during that difficult time, explaining, "If it was not for the wonderful people who gave blood and platelets, help might not have been available when I needed it. I think I've turned the corner now and am back on the upswing, thanks to those donors."

Every single day, patients just like Dave depend on blood and platelet donors to continue their fight. The American Red Cross depends on dedicated sponsors like organized labor in Toledo, who host blood drives on a regular basis and help meet the blood supply needs of the local community. "The Red Cross Partnership with organized labor in Toledo has helped save lives for a generation. Think of the tremendous impact that has had on local families," said Western Lake Erie Blood Services Region Executive Director Kathy Smith.

"Organized labor is a large part of the community. This is one of their many humanitarian services and they are inviting the community to be a part of their lifesaving tradition," said labor liaison Mark Buford. Donors are encouraged to schedule an appointment for this blood drive by visiting redcrossblood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS.

OHIO WILDLIFE COUNCIL APPROVES WATERFOWL HUNTING SEASON DATES

The 2013-14 waterfowl hunting season dates were approved by the Ohio Wildlife Council at its regularly scheduled meeting on Wednesday, August 21, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR).

Changes for the upcoming waterfowl seasons include a decrease in the scaup bag limit to three, an increase in the canvasback bag limit to two and the youth waterfowl season will now be October 5-6 statewide. See the 2013-2014 Waterfowl Hunting Seasons for more waterfowl hunting information, including zone maps.

Ohio is divided into three zones for duck, coot and merganser hunting. The seasons are split in each zone during the following dates:

- Duck hunting season in the Lake Erie Marsh Zone is October 12-27 and November 9 - December 22.
- Duck hunting season in the North Zone is October 19 - November 3 and November 30 - January 12, 2014.
- Duck hunting season in the South Zone is October 19 - November 3 and December 14 - January 26, 2014.

The daily bag limit for ducks is six, which may not include more than four mallards (no more than one may be female), three wood ducks, one black duck, two redheads, three scaup, two canvasback, two pintails and one mottled duck. The daily bag limit for mergansers is five, of which no more than two may be hooded mergansers. The daily bag limit for coots is 15. Possession limits after the second day are three times the daily bag limit.

Ohio is also divided into three zones for goose and brant hunting. The seasons are split in each zone during the following dates:

- Goose hunting in the Lake Erie Canada Goose Zone is October 12-27 and November 9 - January 9, 2014.
- Goose hunting in the North Zone is October 19 - November 3 and November 30 - January 30, 2014.

• Goose hunting in the South Zone is October 19 - November 3 and November 30 - January 30, 2014.

The daily bag limit for Canada geese is three. Light geese (snows, Ross's and blues) have a daily bag limit of 10, white-fronted geese have a daily bag limit of one and brant have a daily bag limit of one. The possession limit for brant and geese is three times the daily bag limit after the first day.

Hunters 15 years of age and younger will have the opportunity to enjoy a statewide special youth waterfowl season October 5-6. Bag limits established during the regular season apply.

Licensed falconers can hunt ducks, geese, mergansers and coots statewide from February 8 - March 4, 2014, and in the Lake Erie Marsh, North and South Zones whenever they are open to duck hunting.

Harvest Information Program (HIP) certification is required of all waterfowl hunters prior to hunting. Migratory game bird hunters must call 877-HIPOHIO (447-6446) and answer a few survey questions to complete the HIP certification requirement. Once the survey has been completed, hunters will be provided a certification number to write on their Ohio hunting license.

Waterfowl hunters age 18 and older must also purchase an Ohio Wetlands Habitat Stamp, available at any hunting license agent or wildohio.com. In addition, all waterfowl hunters age 16 and older must possess a signed federal duck stamp, which can be purchased at most post offices.

Copies of this season's waterfowl hunting regulations, which include maps of the zones, will be available at wildohio.com or available at all license agent outlets by late September.

COMMON CORE: IS IT BEST FOR INDIANA STUDENTS?

By: IN State Senator Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

With school back in session, it's a good time to think about the classroom standards that guide our students' learning year to year.

Recently, some educators, parents and policy makers have questioned whether these standards are really best for Hoosier students compared with our previous state-created standards.

beneficial to use this space to discuss the positions for and against Common Core.

Educational standards are important. They are the benchmarks by which we measure achievement, from individual students to entire schools.

Prior to Common Core, states created and followed their own academic standards. Then, in 2010, a group of education professionals, researchers and experts in Washington D.C. created the Common Core standards available for adoption in all 50 states.

These standards were designed to help ensure all students nationwide are prepared for college and the workforce.

Indiana along with 44 other states adopted Common Core in place of their state standards shortly after its creation.

Supporters believed Common Core would lead to a more globally competitive education system. As an added benefit, students moving from one state to another would be assured a streamlined, consistent education.

However, new voices of opposition have taken root surrounding Common Core and its quality compared to localized standards.

Opponents of Common Core fear that a top-down, national system undermines state control over the education of each state's own students.

This year, the Indiana General Assembly created the Interim Study Committee on Common Core Educational Standards, of which I am the co-chair, to study this topic and determine whether Common Core is the best course for our schools.

Before the start of the 2014 legislative session, our committee will make a report to the legislature about Common Core.

Above all, I remain committed to promoting a world-class education system for Indiana students.

SQUIRREL HUNTING SEASON BEGINS 9/1

Ohio's squirrel hunting season opens Sunday, September 1, when many hunters will go to the woods with the opportunity to take as many as six squirrels per day, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR).

Ohio's squirrel season is a longtime tradition for many hunters. Ample hunting opportunities are available for fox, gray, black and red squirrels. This is an excellent time to take a young person hunting, or scout for the upcoming deer and fall wild turkey hunting seasons.

Squirrel season will be closed during the one-week statewide deer gun season, December 2-8.

The eighth annual Squirrel Hunting Cooperator Survey conducted by the ODNR Division of Wildlife compared hunter results and nut crop ratings to provide an index of Ohio's squirrel population status. The abundance of nut crops is a good indicator of squirrel populations for the following year.

Primary fox squirrel range occurs in the agricultural landscapes in northeastern and western Ohio, whereas the primary gray squirrel range is in the extensively forested east-central, southeastern and south-central Ohio.

Hunters who wish to participate in the Squirrel Hunting Cooperator Survey, designed to track trends in nut crops and squirrel populations across Ohio, should contact the Waterloo Wildlife Research Station, 360 E. State St., Athens, Ohio 45701, at 740-589-9930 for more information.

BFGOODRICH UNION OKS DEAL

Journal Gazette
Workers at the BFGoodrich tire plants in Woodburn and Tuscaloosa, AL, have approved a three-year labor agreement.

BFGoodrich and the workers' union, United Steelworkers, started negotiating in June to replace the contract that expired July 27.

On July 29, leaders announced that BFGoodrich and United Steelworkers had reached a tentative agreement, but union members later voted to reject it.

Over the weekend, the company announced the approved contract, which covers 2,450 workers in Woodburn and Tuscaloosa.

"The company is pleased this agreement was reached in a very cost competitive and challenging environment," BFGoodrich's parent company, Michelin North America, said in a statement released Saturday night.

United Steelworkers, which represents about 850,000 members, includes workers in the metals, mining, rubber, oil refining and health care industries, among others. Hourly workers at the BFGoodrich tire plant in Woodburn are members of United Steelworkers Local 715.
