3/50 PROJECT IN ANTWERP 10/26

On Saturday, October 26th, the Antwerp Chamber of Commerce would like you to join them in support of our local businesses. This 3/50 event has been created to keep local dollars local. "There are many items that we buy at big box stores, that we can buy right here in Antwerp," said Michelle Dooley, Chamber President. On October 26, you have the opportunity to discover what you can get here in town rather than a chain store elsewhere. The idea is simple. The 3/50 project asks you to think of three businesses that you would not want Antwerp to be without to target for your spending, then spend $50.00 per month in those stores.

Even if a special day is not set aside, you can make a habit of this monthly. Regardless of our economic climate, it is important to know that money spent at local businesses is more likely to stay in the area. If you are wondering how much this impacts our local economy, by spending $50.00 a month spread out over at least three different stores, for every $1.00 spent in an independent business, 68 cents returns to our community through taxes, payroll and other expenditures. Even at a national chain, 43 cents stays in the local community.

Unfortunately, online purchases return nothing locally.

So come out and support the businesses that support our community on Saturday, October 26th.

ST. PAUL GAR CREEK LADIES AID TURNS 100 YEARS OLD

The St. Paul Lutheran Church (Gar Creek) celebrated 100 years of service to the church this year with a luncheon at Richard's Restaurant in Fort Wayne. Edna Hockemeyer organized the event and shared some history about the origins of the group.

On September 21, 1913, the ladies of the congregation remained after the service for the purpose of organizing a Ladies Aid Society to assist the members in practicing works of love and charity. The first president was "Frau" Pastor Beyer and the secretary-treasurer was "Frau" William Wesling. At first, the meetings were held after the church service until 1920 when the ladies decided to hold meetings in the homes of the members. Some of the organizations receiving their charitable contributions were: The Lutheran Hospital and Concordia College in Fort Wayne, Pilgrim House in New York, London Relief, the "poor" in Germany, Lutheran Home (Watertown, WS), Martha Society, Negro Mission, and Luther Institute.

When the new church building was underway in 1928, the ladies agreed to buy the church pews, altar, pulpit and baptismal font for the new church. They also contributed toward the new pipe organ. To help raise money for this venture they organized events like a lunch stand, chicken suppers, and a veal dinner. They worked very hard considering the price of a dinner was 35 or 40 cents for an adult, and 25 cents for children. The ladies have also gathered for many social events such as Christmas, Birthday, and pinochle/euchre card parties. In order to handle the growing membership, meetings were moved back to the church in 1948 and this is where they are still held today.

These days, the Ladies Aid meets every Thursday to quilt and the first Thursday of each month their meeting is held. The group's profits go to various areas. Recently, the ladies donated 23 knotted baby quilts to the Hope Pregnancy Center. Within the last year, the group donated funds for the new stained glass windows in the Narthex. Soon they will assemble gift boxes for shut-ins at Christmastime and hand-deliver each one.

The current President is Betty Hickox, Vice President is Malinda Meyer, Treasurer is Carol Zelt, and Secretary is Beverly Hoepner. "St. Paul's Ladies Aid has contributed in many ways to the church, community and missionaries," according to a group spokesperson. "God has been faithful and so good to preserve the work for 100 years."

LOCAL WOMEN HOST PUMPKIN SOUP BOUTIQUE FOR HAITIAN WOMEN

A group of area women will be hosting an open house called the Pumpkin Soup Boutique to benefit Haitian women this Friday, November 1st and Saturday, November 2nd. The handcrafted items are shipped to the United States and sold at Pumpkin Soup Boutiques across the country. The Boutique features several areas including dolls, children and infants, kitchen items, women's items, and home décor. There will be 18" doll clothes and accessories; infant and children clothing, taggie blankets and blocks, bags, and girls' hair accessories; aprons, tablecloths, napkins, potholders, and casserole carriers; scarves, tote bags, purses, sweaters, and hats; and linens, afghans, and pillows.

There will also be an area set up for refreshments where people may sit and watch a slide show portraying the Cen-

SCRIPTURE OF THE WEEK

"He lifted me out of the slimy pit, out of the mud and mire; he set my feet on a rock and gave me a firm place to stand. He put a new song in my mouth, a hymn of praise to our God." Psalms 40:2-3

HAVE YOU FELT THE FEAR OF FAILURE?

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

I remember as student in school, whether in Elementary, Jr. High, High School or even in the University, I always was afraid of failing. My fear wasn't just in the academic arena but I was fearful of failing those who loved me, who believed in me. I just didn't want to disappoint family and friends who placed their trust and hope in me. Truthfully, the subject of failure is something that is always on the mind of those pushing to succeed, to get better. Have you felt the fear of failure? A recent issue of the Friday Evenings newsletter notes someone once said, "Falling down doesn't make you a failure, but failing to get up does."

Thomas Edison was a man who saw many of his experiments fail, but he continued doing them anyway. He knew that it was better to get up than to give up.

He was committed to excellence. In his search for a filament for incandescent light bulbs, he experimented with hundreds of fibers and metals.

In 1879, he discovered a method for making an inexpensive filament that would handle the stress of electric current. Today we call his discovery carbonized cotton fiber—thread! However, the filament was so fragile that it easily broke in an open-air environment. Almost by accident, he tried inserting the filament within an oxygen-free tube. To his surprise, the filament glowed! It didn't burn long, but it burned. Eventually he and his helpers discovered the secret was in creating a vacuum within the glass bulb—and using a tungsten filament.

"In the life of the believer, we face many trips, tumbles, errors and failures. The voice that visits us in those moments is not the voice of the Father, but of the adversary. He doesn't say, 'Nice try.' He shouts, 'Failure!' He asserts, 'You can't live this Christian life,' or 'Stay down.' You won't be missed,' or 'You deserve better than this.'

"It's the Other Voice you want to hear. That Voice in scripture that says, 'My strength is sufficient for you. I never will leave you or forsake you. 'I love you.'"

If you've failed at something or failed in disappointing someone, remember that God promises to be with us, to forgive us if we confess our failure, our sin and to love us no matter what we go through... Romans 8:37-39 (NKJV), "Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us. For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

BIBLE QUESTIONS

By: James Potter, Oakwood church of Christ

1. Luke 9:51 - What does this mean should be received up?
2. Luke 9:51 - What did Christ steadfastly set his face to do?
3. Luke 9:52 - Where did Christ send these messengers?
4. Luke 9:52 - Why did Christ send these messengers?
5. Luke 9:53 - What did the Samaritans do?
6. Luke 9:53 - What does this mean, because his face was as though He would go to Jerusalem?
7. Luke 9:54 - What did James and John want to do?
8. Do Gospel ministers today get rejected?
9. Luke 9:55 - What did Jesus say when He rebuked James and John?
10. Luke 9:56 - In this verse what did He come to do?

Questions or comments? Call James Potter at 419-393-4775 or Lonnie Lambert at 419-399-5022. Jesus loves you and so does the Oakwood church of Christ.

Answers to last week's Bible Questions:

1. At the mighty power of God;
2. All things Jesus did.;
3. Pay attention to what I am saying.;
4. Son of Man.;
5. To be crucified.;
6. The disciples.;
7. B part of verse 44.;
8. None.;
9. To be as humble as a little child.;
10. For he who is not against you is for you.

Some comments on what we have studied. In studying the Bible, have you noticed the readiness and resolution of our Lord Jesus in prosecuting His great undertaking for our redemption and salvation? V51 - There was a time fixed for the sufferings and death of our Lord Jesus, and He knew well enough when it was on this prospect He steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem the place where He would suffer and die.

V53 - tells us the samaritans did not receive Him. Can you notice how well Christ was treating them by sending messengers to them? Then the samaritans did not receive Him. This is the problem today with all the world, they send Christ away, because people believe they have a better plan or they could care less for Christ and what He wants to give them.

Loved ones, don't you believe that we draw back and turn our faces another way from His service. Christ steadfastly set His face against all opposition, to go through with the work of salvation.

V 54-56 - when James and John heard about the Samaritans refusing Christ a stay in their village, they wanted to bring fire down from heaven as Elijah did (2 Kings 1:10,12). Notice in verse 55 what Jesus said, you know not what manner of spirit you are. James and John were not aware of what kind of spirit they were, how much pride, passion and personal revenge, covered under the pretense of zeal they had for their master.

Ol' Baldy says bye for now, but continue to pray, read, and study God's Holy word the Bible. Luv ya!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Paulding County Master Gardeners would like to express our appreciation for some outstanding local people. We would like to recognize Endicott Tree Service and Kauser Trucking for the mulch that they donated for our gardens at the Black Swamp Nature Center and the blue building at the Fairgrounds. We would also like to acknowledge Paulding's Soil & Water Conservation District, especially Mark Holtsberry, for the use of the Nature Center building and grounds. These are the kinds of people who make Paulding County a great place to live! If you've not been to the Nature Center lately, make time to check out our native plants garden at the Nature Center and the new information kiosk by the parking lot. These projects were made possible by the patrons of our annual plant sale.

Sincerely,
—Sherri Rager,
Paulding County Master Gardener

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

We have 20 tax ballot issues in Paulding County for the November 5th general election. Of those 20, the levy requested by the Library is the 3rd highest in the county. This levy which is a continuing levy will generate approximately $680,761 annually for the library. Our library director states that the library receives more than half of its revenue from the tax levy. If this is only more than half what is the total operating budget? To be an informed voter the voters should know the total operating budget. It would be interesting to see how the total operating budget of the Paulding County library compares to other library budgets for other Ohio counties with a comparable population. If this tax levy were for one third of this amount and were not a continuing levy I would support it. Personally I feel it would be a better use of our tax dollars to put approximately $400,000 of this toward reopening our Paulding County jail and stop paying Putnam County to house our inmates. I urge all property owners and especially farmers to review your tax reords to remind yourself the amount you are paying annually to support the library. And remember, this is a continuing levy.

—Delmar H. Schwab

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am writing to support the renewal levy for the Paulding County Health Department.

The services provided by the Health Department benefit everyone in our county. Whether it be vaccines such as flu shots, water well tests, birth and death certificates or food service inspections, their work contributes to our quality of life.

In my opinion the Paulding County Board of Health and their staff members have performed well and deserve a yes vote on the November ballot.

Sincerely,
—Stan Searing

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Harrison Township voters have several options

This year Harrison Township voters will have five candidates campaigning for two trustee positions. There will also be an election for the unexpired term of our former clerk with two candidates. Election years give voters their opportunity to be heard by their candidates.

I believe that elected officials work for the voters and they are there to serve the needs of the residents as long as the budget will permit. As one of your candidates for trustee I have had the opportunity to visit with several residents and hope to see several more before the election. Please know that I would take the responsibilities very seriously and will work hard for the citizens of Harrison Township. I have been a lifelong resident and business owner in Harrison Township. I have served as Payne Chamber President or vice-president since 2005 while performing several improvements to the community. I have also served on the Paulding County Society for Crippled Children and Adults basketball marathon committee since 1995. In 2007 I began mowing the roadsides as a subcontractor for Harrison Township and have enjoyed improving our township.

I honestly thing that my age, diverse background, and flexible schedule can benefit Harrison Township. The election process has been very interesting and I hope to be a part of your local government. I would greatly appreciate your support on November 5th.

—Chad Benschneider,
Payne

Letter to the Editor Cont'd (from last issue)

I INVITE each and every one of you reading this to come out to 12711 Hook Rd. and read the big sign I have placed on parcel 3 out of the 4 parcels on the property. The sign tells it all. For those of you that don't know where this property is, you can follow the little yellow signs that have been placed south, east, and west of Hicksville. I have spoken to several attorneys about this. They all claim that I have a valid case and will win this in a court of law. HOWEVER, the one in particular that had guaranteed me a settlement wants 33 and one third percent of my money to take this case. It might just be me, but that kind of benefit from someone else's misfortune seems a bit greedy to me. Especially since I shouldn't even need an attorney to start with. I guess if there is a moral to the story it would be to start with, don't just trust that your agent has your best interest in mind. DO NOT trust your insurance company either. Have an attorney look through your policy to make sure that you have the coverage you have been paying for. The 'these' and the 'those' and 'where ifs' and the 'what ifs' don't make much sense to most of us, BUT THAT IS HOW THEY GET YOU! Insurance is a HUGE business, if you don't believe me, just look around at some of the buildings that these big companies have, and look at the cars these people drive. For every dollar these big CEOs save the companies, it is just that much more they receive in bonuses or gratuities, if you will. Most DECENT people will go out of their way and bend over backwards in times like these to try and make things right. I have never personally seen any one go so far out of their way to keep from helping a family, as this company's superiors and its agents have gone. Most of us put our pants on one leg at a time, I would really like to see just what a man that can cause a family so much grief really does look like, or see the trick he uses to put his pants on that makes him so much different than the rest of the working world. Those of us in the world that have bled at our daily jobs, and have struggled at our day-to-day lives are the people that make your cushy sit on your butt and reap the benefits from other people's misfortune possible. I don't wish any bad luck on anyone's family, or you yourself for that matter, but if you had to live and struggle like 90 plus percent of the world does, you might think differently on how you make your daily decisions.

For those of you that do choose to come out and look at my big sign, you can take that information home and look up the company and see for yourself just who these people are that I am speaking of. One in particular is this very person that has never returned a phone call to me, or answered a single e-mail of mine in 10 long months. Yet he is the very man that has signed every letter of rejection to the state, and the man that does the hiring and firing at the Napoleon office, and the man with the final say. I don't know how these people sleep at night. The other is the agent with the memory loss that won't supply me with certain documents that I have been requesting for months. I have finally learned to be a little more at ease any time the wind blows, and fire doesn't make me as uneasy as it has in the past, even though we still have to listen to the twisted metal screech and flop around in the wind. To say the least, my family has gone through a very traumatic experience that I wouldn't wish on anyone. Some people of authority in this world could really use a reality check from time to time. Take care, and to those of you that took the time to read this, I hope that you and yours never have to experience anything like this in your lifetime. And to the Hicksville Fire Dept., I have thanked many of you in person some I know and some I didn't. And to the rest of you that put your lives on the line for my family that night, I am grateful to you and the local papers that have agreed to print this story.

Sincerely,
—Darin Emerson,

SECRETARY OF STATE HUSTED RELEASES NEW BUSINESS FILING FIGURES FOR SEPTEMBER 2013

Secretary of State Jon Husted today announced that 6,239 new entities filed to do business in Ohio in September 2013. These numbers are slightly down compared to September 2012, in which 6,665 new entities filed with the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State's office has assisted with 68,562 new business filings to date in 2013 (January-September). This is an increase from the same time period last year, in which there were 66,734 new business filings.

Though the most visible role of the Secretary of State is that of chief elections officer, the office is also the first stop for individuals or companies who want to file and start a business in Ohio. While recognizing these numbers can't provide a complete picture of Ohio's jobs climate, they are an important indicator of economic activity that Secretary Husted hopes will add to the discussion of how to improve the state's overall climate for business.

NOTE: New business filings are classified as forms filed with the Ohio Secretary of State that declare the formation of a business entity, including for-profit, non-profit and professional corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships, limited partnerships and limited liability partnerships. Filing as a business in Ohio does not guarantee the company will begin operations, be profitable or create jobs.

A 'THIS CENTURY' ICABOD CRANE

By: Stan Jordan

This story is just as true as the fact that McDonald's sells hamburgers. This being Halloween reminds me of this experience.

It was back in 1940 or '41. It was in the spring planting time and I had walked out to my girlfriend's house. We sat around and talked. Her father, he had a long day of planting corn tomorrow, so he was going to bed. If I wanted he would take me home first.

I said, "Oh thanks I can walk that 3 1/2 miles with no problem."

As I started home it sure was dark. You see there were no barnyard lights around and some people didn't have REA yet. Besides it was very cloudy with low hanging clouds with no moon or stars. Let me repeat—it sure was dark. You could not see your hand in front of your face. The road, now CR 43, was sand and I walked in the wheel path. I could tell by the sound of my feet on the gravel.

I passed the Nels Graves place and then on down and past Elmer Parrett's place and then turned on CR 45. I walked past Una Richardson's woods and then realized I was not alone. I could feel in the air that something was beside me on the road. I swung with my right arm and fist, and something let out with a big grunt and a growl and swung itself pretty well. It was a big milk cow and had gotten out and was eating the big grass on the road side.

That cow and I started running the same way, West on 204 towards SR 49. That poor cow was not as good of shape as an 18 year old lad. I ran all the way west past John and Bertha Major's and Albert Trembley's place before I slowed down. I didn't know if that was a milk cow or a bull. It was just as scary as Showboat Crane, I was just as scared as Icabod Crane. There was no light of any kind.

When I reached SR 49 I turned south towards town—about two more miles. I never met a car or vehicle of any type.

This story is true and I will admit I was more scared than the cow!

See ya!

JERRY GRIMES, THE DELIVERY BOY FOR THE WBN

By: Stan Jordan

Jerry was born in Antwerp in 1938. His parents were Sam and Alberta Helsel Grimes.

There were three boys in the family: Jerry, Monty Ray who died when he was about one year old, and David. He attended AHS and graduated in 1956. As a youngster he was a typical boy. He loves to fish in the Maumee River, he hunted and trapped most animals. He worked for Wayne Co-op for awhile, some people called that the cheese factory. Then for awhile he was at Perma-Glass in Payne, then about nine years at B.F. Goodrich. He was in the Indiana National Guard for six years out at Baer Field.

He moved to Texas around Austin and Dripping Springs for awhile. At that time he drove a truck and hauled swinging beef to army bases. Sometimes he hauled milk to stores for Borden's.

He got a job driving truck in Orlando, FL for about 10 years. He then moved to Atlanta, GA for awhile then back to the Kissimmee-St. Cloud, FL area.

He retired from Martin Brower Company in Florida in 2000. He moved back to the Antwerp area in 2001 and settled in the Edon.

Over the years Jerry was married and had seven children: Tonya lives in Indiana and has three children; Rick lives in Antwerp and has three children, and he is the Pastor at the Antwerp Community Church; Tammy lives in Payne and has two children; Tara lives in Columbus and has one child; Jami lives in St. Cloud, FL; Amy lives in Jacksonville, FL—Amy and Jami are twins; Sylvia lives in Tampa, FL and has two children; Jerry has 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Jerry's hobbies are golf, hunting, fishing, but mostly spending time with his family. He is content to be back here as he loves the four season country and his favorite time is the fall.

I asked Jerry if there was something he always wanted to do but he didn't get it done. He said, "Yes, I always wanted to be a Park Ranger or a Game Warden." But that just didn't work out.

Our weekly WBN is sent electrically on Monday evening to Kendallville. They print it and deliver it back here about 8:00 a.m. on Tuesday morning. Jerry and Bryce load the van with about 10,000 copies and cover all of Paulding County and they stop at the Defiance Post Office, then on to Sherwood, Hicksville then back to the WBN. Then they load the van with 1,600 more copies for Woodburn and 7,800 for New Haven.

When Jerry returns he has covered about 178 miles and it is now 1:30 p.m. He enjoys the trip and the flat country. He gets to some of Paulding County Post Offices in time for Tuesday delivery but mostly it is delivered on Wednesday.

Jerry enjoys covering the area very Tuesday in a van instead of a big 18-wheeler. I go with him once in awhile and I enjoy it also.

Thanks for the ride Jerry!
See ya!

OHIO WILDLIFE COUNCIL PASSES RULE CHANGES FOR PERCH LIMITS, BAIT INSPECTIONS

The Ohio Wildlife Council passed several rule changes at its meeting on Wednesday, October 16, including lowering the statewide daily limit for yellow perch in all waters except Lake Erie and authorizing additional bait inspections to help detect invasive species.

Among the rule changes approved by the Ohio Wildlife Council:

- The statewide yellow perch daily limit was reduced from 40 to 30 to be more consistent with Lake Erie daily limits and help avoid confusion among anglers.

- Bait dealers are required to keep additional records and must allow inspections of bait containers, ponds and tanks for the detection of invasive species.

- Language was added to clarify that it is unlawful to operate a watercraft on any Ohio Department of Natural Resources' (ODNR) Division of Wildlife owned, controlled or administered lake in a manner that does not conform to posted regulations.

- Boaters at Highlandtown Lake Wildlife Area can now use 10-horsepower motors.

See a complete list of approved rules and regulations at wildohio.com.

Public input was gathered for these regulations at open houses on Saturday, August 10, and through an online form available at wildohio.com. A statewide hearing open to the public on the proposed rules was held on Thursday, September 19.

The next Ohio Wildlife Council meeting is Wednesday, January 8, 2014. Council meetings are open to the public. Individuals who want to provide comments to the council should preregister at least two days prior to the meeting by calling 614-265-6304. All comments must be three minutes or less. The next ODNR Division of Wildlife public open house is Saturday, March 1, 2014. ODNR Division of Wildlife staff will be available to answer questions and listen to concerns. For more

EGG DROP EXPERIMENT AT WOODLAN HIGH

Students in Brad McAlexander's Physics class at Woodlan High School demonstrated their skills at creating "splatter-proof egg cartons while studying the topic of velocity." The students were given three weeks to design their prototypes. At the end of the third week, McAlexander tested the creations by dropping them from the marching band observation tower. The majority of the students' projects survived the 40 ft. drop because of their unique packaging. Students used such protective material such as peanut butter, down pillow stuffing, and baggies filled with water.

WARRIORS BLOW UP THE JETS

Woodlan travelled to Adams Central on Friday, October 18 for their ninth game of the 2013 Indiana Football season. With temperatures dropping quickly and winds picking up it made the evening the first cold and uncomfortable game for the fans. The Woodlan boys showed they were on fire and ready take on the Jets.

The first quarter was uneventful with both teams trading possession of the ball. The second quarter was similar to the first until 1:41 left in the half when Greg White rushed 10 yards for the touchdown and I Sar kicked the ball for the extra point.

Jaylin Bennet ran 29 yards for the second touchdown, taking place halfway through the third quarter.

The third touchdown brought in by Woodlan was from receiving the pass from Jets' Andrew Hammond, an interception by Greg White, running 24 yards on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Adams Central brought in their first points to the score board in the fourth quarter with less than a minute left in the game. Kyle Baker had a 6 yard rush into the end zone.

Fans thinking the game had ended, left to be the first getting to their cars, missed a fantastic ending. Greg White received another interception running 75 yards for the touchdown with only two seconds left on the clock.

Woodlan is now 6-3. The sectional tournament for Woodlan starts Friday, October 25 at Central Noble at 7:00 p.m.

NEW HAVEN STOPS HOMESTEAD ON SENIOR NIGHT

Ariest Vasquez picked up fumble recovery and rushed 42 yards to score the third Bulldog Touchdown. More pictures at westbendnews.net

New Haven started their ninth game of the 2013 Football season with senior night for the football players and the cheerleaders. Following the introduction of the seniors the night turned cold and windy.

The game was not a blow-out for the Bulldogs. The New Haven defense worked hard to stop the Homestead and wasn't always successful. The game was highlighted in the first half by Ariest Vasquez who scored the first three Bulldog touchdowns with one of them from a fumble he picked up and ran straight to the end zone. Later Vance Shearer passes the ball to Jordan Hogue for a gain of 33 yards and the touchdown. The next touchdown was also made on a pass from Shearer to Hogue. The extra points for both failed.

The second half increased the Bulldogs score by 13 points. Not as many as the first but every point counts in this game.

EACS PRINCIPALS COMMENDED BY BOARD AND SUPERINTENDENT

National Principals Month recognizes the essential role that principals play in making a school great. Principals are among the hardest working, yet often least recognized individuals in education. Principals set the academic tone for their schools, and it is their vision, dedication, and determination that provide the mobilizing force for achieving student success. Each October, nationwide we seek to honor these unsung heroes for their tireless efforts in pursuit of excellence in education. National Principals Month is a widely recognized celebration of the principalship. However, the most important National Principals Month celebrations are the ones that take place in schools and communities across the country. With that said the EACS Board of School Trustees, Superintendent Dr. Ken Folks and the entire EACS district would like to wish our East Allen County Schools Principals' Happy Principals Month!

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF "OPEN ENROLLMENT"

Financial Focus by: Phil Recker, Edward Jones Advisor

At many places of work, it's "open enrollment" season — the time where you get to make changes to the various benefits you receive from your employer. As you review your overall benefits package, what areas should you focus on?

Here are three possibilities:

- Life insurance — If your employer offers life insurance as a benefit, and you haven't already signed up for it, consider adding it during your open enrollment period — because life insurance can be important to your family's financial security. If you already have life insurance with your employer, you may want to take the time, during open enrollment, to review your beneficiary designations. If you've experienced a change in your family situation, such as divorce or remarriage, you'll want to update your beneficiaries, as needed.

- However, the amount of life insurance offered by your employer in a group policy may not be sufficient for your needs, so you may want to consult with a financial professional to determine if you should add private, or individual, coverage. You may find that individual coverage is comparable, in terms of cost, to your employer's coverage. Also, individual coverage is "portable" — that is, you can take it with you if you change jobs.

- Disability insurance — Your employer may also offer disability insurance as a low-cost benefit. The coverage can be invaluable. In fact, nearly one in three women, and about one in four men, can expect to suffer a disability that keeps them out of work for 90 days or longer at some point during their working years, according to the Life and Health Insurance Foundation for Education (LIFE). Again, as was the case with life insurance, your employer's disability policy may not be enough for your needs, so you may need to consider additional coverage.

- Retirement plan — Your employer may offer a 401(k) or similar retirement plan, such as a 403(b) plan, if you work for an educational institution or a nonprofit organization, or a 457(b) plan, if you work for a governmental unit. All these plans offer the chance to contribute pretax dollars; so the more you put in, the lower your taxable income. Equally important, your earnings can grow tax deferred, which means your money can accumulate faster than if it were placed in an account on which you paid taxes every year.

Consequently, try to contribute as much as you can possibly afford to your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored plan. If you've gotten a raise recently, consider boosting your contributions during open enrollment. Also, take this opportunity to review the array of investments you've chosen for your 401(k) or other plan. If you feel that they're underperforming and not providing you with the growth opportunities you need, you may want to consider making some changes. You might also think about making adjustments if your portfolio has shown more volatility than the level with which you are comfortable. Your financial professional can help you determine if your investment mix is still suitable for your goals, risk tolerance and time horizon.

Open enrollment season gives you the perfect opportunity to maximize those benefits offered to you by your employer. So, think carefully about what you've got and what improvements you can make — it will be time well spent.

They are the result of ongoing efforts by the Paulding County Health Department to keep our community healthy.

The health department works every day to prevent disease, promote healthy living, and respond to threats to our well being.

Public Health is the science of protecting and improving the health of our community through education, promotion of healthy lifestyles, and research for disease and injury prevention. Public health professionals analyze the effect of health of genetics, personal choice and the environment in order to develop programs that protect the health of your family and community.

Overall, public health is concerned with protecting the health of entire populations. These populations can be as small as a local neighborhood, or as big as an entire country.

Public health professionals try to prevent problems from happening or re-occurring through implementing educational programs, developing policies and administering services. RECOGNIZING GREAT HOOSIER TEACHERS

The Kruse Report by: IN State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

It's important for us to recognize great Hoosier teachers all year long. They spend countless hours educating our children in hopes of leading them down a successful path. At some point during this fall, I encourage you to take the time to reach out to the teachers in your family's life and thank them for all that they do.

Each year, the Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) conducts a special program to honor outstanding classroom teachers from across the state. In accordance with the National Teacher of the Year guidelines, one teacher is chosen to represent Indiana at the national level. The 2014 Indiana Teacher of the Year was announced earlier this month — Steve Perkins, a Latin teacher from North Central High School in Indianapolis, was awarded the title.

The Indiana Teacher of the Year recognition program is a great way to celebrate teachers who strive to inspire all students to learn and who also positively impact the community outside of school.

Two Northeast Indiana teachers were finalists for this year's Teacher of the Year award: Sarah Shatto-Jones from Homestead High School, and Emily J. Oberlin from South Side High School. I would like to thank them for their service to Hoosier students and for setting examples of excellence in the classroom.

Teachers play such a pivotal role in our society, and one of my goals at the Statehouse is to make sure we recruit and train the best teachers.

To ensure our teacher's receive high-quality training that will benefit our students, the Indiana General Assembly passed Senate Enrolled Act 409, requiring the IDOE to develop performance standards for teacher-education programs at our colleges and universities. These standards will be used to highlight programs that are excelling, and help us determine what makes those programs so successful.

The goal of this initiative is to improve our teacher-education programs across the state so that all Indiana educators are equipped to lead a 21st-century classroom.

Another way we can share positive teaching techniques with our educators is through the Improving Teacher Quality Partnership Program. The program was designed to bring local school corporations and higher education communities together to ensure that teaching methods are adequately preparing young students for success.

The Improving Teacher Quality Grant program was created, funded and operates under the federal legislation known as the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. The program provides funds to create these partnerships within high-need school districts. The funds help support the professional development of teachers in core academic subjects.

It's important that legislators, community leaders, families and students recognize the hard work and dedication of our Indiana teachers. They

NEW ANTLERLESS DEER MUZZLELOADER SEASON A SUCCESS FOR HUNTERS

Ohio muzzleloader hunters enjoyed warm weather as they harvested 5,608 antlerless white-tailed deer during the new antlerless-only muzzleloader hunting weekend October 12-13, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR). "Ohio's first antlerless-only muzzleloader deer season was a success, and we are pleased so many hunters participated," said ODNR Director James Zehringer. "We remain committed to providing Ohio's sportsmen and women with some of the best hunting opportunities in the nation." The new antlerless muzzleloader weekend was the first opportunity to take advantage of Ohio's new extended hunting hours. A half hour of golden opportunity hunting time after sunset was added to all of this year's upcoming deer-gun hunting seasons. The Ohio counties that reported the most checked deer during the 2013 antlerless-only muzzleloader season: Ashtabula (200), Licking (164), Guernsey (144), Muskingum (143), Knox (141), Coshocton (138), Adams (135), Columbiana (128), Carroll (120), Athens (117) and Trumbull (117).

The ODNR Division of Wildlife remains committed to properly managing Ohio's deer populations through a combination of regulatory and programmatic changes. This new early muzzleloader season also serves to help manage the state's deer herd. Progress toward reducing locally abundant herds can be expected, and strides have been made to reduce deer herds in many counties closer to target levels. Ohio hunters are encouraged to hunt more does this season to help the needy in their area. The ODNR Division of Wildlife is working with Farmers and Hunters Feeding the Hungry (FHFH) to help pay for the processing of donated venison. Hunters who donate their deer to a food bank are not required to pay the processing cost as long as funding for the effort lasts. More information about this program can be found online at fhfh.org.

Deer hunting in Ohio continues to be a popular activity for many who enjoy the outdoors. Ohio hunters checked 218,910 deer during the 2012-2013 season. Ohio ranks fifth nationally in resident hunters and 11th in the number of jobs associated with hunting-related industries. Hunting has a more than $853 million economic impact in Ohio through the sale of equipment, fuel, food, lodging and more, according to the National Shooting Sports Foundation's Hunting in America: An Economic Force for Conservation publication. Find more information about Ohio deer hunting at wildohio.com.

ODNR ensures a balance between wise use and protection of our natural resources for the benefit of all. Visit the ODNR website at ohiodnr.gov.

FIRE SAFETY AT GROVER HILL ELEMENTARY

Mrs. Bauer's and Mrs. Wall's kindergarten classes walked to the Grover Hill Fire Department to complete their week long theme on fire safety. Kyle Arn and BJ Fisher showed their classes all about the fire department and the EMS squad. The children also love their neat fire hats!

WOODBURN FIRE DEPT. VISITS LIBRARY FOR PREVENTION WEEK

The Woodburn Fire Department visited the Woodburn Branch Library on October 11 in recognition of Fire Prevention Week. The firemen talked to our children at story time about practicing fire safety in their homes and showed the children how their equipment works in regard to keeping them safe when they are fighting a fire. Of course the highlight of the visit was seeing the fire truck and the ambulance. In the photo above fireman Zach Berning is explaining to the children how they use a turbo flare to get a helicopter's attention.

The 7th Annual Gerry Snyder Memorial Trap Shoot was held at the Antwerp Conservation Club on October 13th. The GSMTS is a 50 target; traveling trophy; Lewis class shoot. Paul Karris Sr. was last year's winner and returned the trophy so it can be handed off to this year's winner. The weather was great on Sunday and 20 shooters participated in the program. The top score shot was a 42, where 3 shooters tied and that required a shoot-off to determine the winner.

Al Ehlinger, Paul Karris Sr. and Sterling Shaaf had the tying scores and shot in a 10 target shoot-off at club yardage. Al Ehlinger won the shoot-off and was awarded GSMTS traveling trophy for 2013. His name will be engraved on the trophy alongside the previous winners. After the shoot, dinner was prepared and provided by Helen Livingston and Donna Snyder where Donna presented the trophy to Ehlinger.

COUNTRY MUSIC PRINCESS, KELLIE PICKLER IN CONCERT

First Federal of Van Wert proudly presents the wildly popular and musically gifted Kellie Pickler to the Niswonger Performing Arts Center on Saturday, January 25 at 7:30 p.m. This young woman is first and foremost a force of nature, known for following her restless small-town dream to the upper reaches of the music world. Kellie Pickler was first recognized as one of the six finalists in the fifth season of the popular reality TV show American Idol. While on tour with Idol, Pickler recorded her first album, which firmly established her in the Country Music industry. Her breath-of-fresh-air personality took her to the top with hits including "Red High Heels," "Don't You Know You're Beautiful," "Best Days of Your Life," and "I Wonder." Kellie's new release "The Woman I Am," comes available on November 11. Pickler combines beauty, wit, humor and guilelessness in a way that has attracted fans from her first days in the spotlight to her crowning glory on Dancing With The Stars. Experience Kellie's most recent video, Someone Somewhere Tonight at www.NPACVW.org.

Kellie Pickler is presented by First Federal of Van Wert. Supporting sponsors include Dark Horse Productions, Mercer Landmark, Your Lima Hometown Stations, T102 WIMT, Willow Bend Country Club, and Cake-Crazy.

For more information contact the Niswonger Performing Arts center at 419-238-6722 (NPAC). The Niswonger Performing Arts Center is located at 10700 SR 118 S, Van Wert, OH.

OHSAA BOARD OF DIRECTORS HIGHLIGHTS 10/17/13
The Ohio High School Athletic Association Board of Directors met Thursday morning in Columbus for its regularly scheduled October meeting.

The following are highlights from the meeting. The complete set of meeting minutes will be posted at OHSAA.org.
• More than 1,200 students from around Ohio attended the OHSAA Foundation Student Leadership Conference October 1 at The Ohio State University. The OHSAA Foundation Basketball Games that are held around the state, along with sponsorship from Wilson and a donation from Drs. Cheryl and John Archer from Bowling Green, allowed for the students to attend the conference without cost to them or their school. Of note, the Archers also serve as ushers for OHSAA district and regional basketball tournament games at Bowling Green State University.
• The financial report from the regional and state track and field tournaments was presented to the board. The total attendance from the 12 regional tournaments was 58,835, including a two-day total of 27,537 at the state meet. Because there are so many expenses with track and field, the net profit was $20,368. Of note, the OHSAA spent $35,359 on trophies and individual medals, $55,852 on personnel (officials, timers, meet workers, etc.) and $20,860 on the official 92-page state meet program.
• 17 member schools were recently penalized for committing infractions of OHSAA bylaws or sports regulations. The list of schools, along with their infractions and the penalties, are always included in the complete meeting minutes posted at OHSAA.org, however media members may request the list from Tim Stried, OHSAA Director of Information Services, at tstried@ohsaa.org.
• The regional and state basketball tournament draw was tabled until the December board meeting due to lack of complete district tournament sites being available at this time.
• Two District Athletic Boards recently filled interim vacancies. In the Central District, Tony Tucker, athletic administrator at Pickerington High School Central, has been appointed to be the ethnic minority representative. In the Northeast District, Rich Berlin, assistant principal at Wadsworth Middle School, has been appointed to be the middle school representative, while Andy Jalwan, athletic administrator at Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary High School, has been appointed to be the Class AA representative.
• The 2014 ice hockey state tournament draw was conducted. The Columbus district champion will play the Sylvania district champion in one semifinal, while the Kent district champion will play the Brooklyn district champion in the other semifinal. In addition, the board approved a change in the ice hockey state tournament structure beginning in 2015 in which a rotation system will be utilized rather than a random draw. In 2015, for example, the Sylvania district champion will play the Kent district champion in one state semifinal, while the Brooklyn district champion will play the Columbus district champion in the other semifinal.
