

PAULDING COUNTY & THE CIVIL WAR

One of the 50 crosses placed by Mark Holtzberry on the unmarked graves of Civil War Veterans buried in Paulding County cemeteries.

The Oakwood Arbor of the Gleaner Life Insurance Society is sponsoring A program on The Men of Paulding County in the Civil War will be held at the Cooper Community Library, Oakwood on Thursday, November 21 at 7:00 p.m. sponsored by The Oakwood Arbor of the Gleaner Life Insurance Society.

Mark Holtzberry will be presenting the program based on his nearly eight years of research locating the graves and compiling the service records of the 900 Civil War veterans buried in Paulding County Cemeteries. He located and erected wooden crosses on the graves of 40 veterans who's graves were unmarked.

Mark is the author of the book Civil War Veterans Buried in Paulding County published by the Paulding County Chapter Ohio Genealogical Society. Our county had the highest percentage of its population serving in the Civil War of any county in the state of Ohio – 2,200 men. Mark, who is the current Education Specialist Paulding County SWCD, has many interesting and some amusing stories to tell of his research.

You may have a tale to tell about your ancestor who served in the Civil War that you would like to share with us. All are welcome to the free program. Refreshments will be served. For more information call 419-594-2797.

DO YOU HAVE THE OLDEST LIBRARY CARD?

The Paulding County Carnegie Library team is searching for the "oldest" card used in the library system. Citizens are encouraged to search for the library card that might represent cards dating back to the mid and early 1900s. "We have samples from the 1990s to today," states Susan Pieper, Library Director. "But we just know there are cards older than those tucked away someone in people's homes, and we would really like to find them."

If you find an old library card, bring it to the historic Carnegie library in Paulding. The staff there will scan it and enter your name into a drawing. You may have the card back unless you would like to donate it to the library. Although drawings for prizes will be held monthly for those who are bringing in old cards, the contest will not end until the Centennial Celebration in 2016.

For more information, contact the library at 419-399-2032.

RAKE & RUN IN NEW HAVEN

By: Beth Stauffer

Even though EACS student's district wide had the day off on Friday, this didn't keep a dozen of New Haven High School's Key Club members from initiating random acts of kindness all over the city. In fact, while I was still lounging around the house in my flannel p.j.'s watching cartoons with my son, this dedicated group of do-gooders had already raked the leaves at the homes of two New Haven citizens and had moved on to a third in my own neighborhood.

According to NHHS Senior Samantha Recht, the Key Club students were participating in a "Rake and Run" initiative. This is when a group of people get together and rake leaves for others in a community that might not be able to do it for themselves, such as the elderly, disabled persons, or widows.

The students were not interested in collecting donations, delivering a message, or passing out literature; they were simply out to help strangers, no strings attached.

Prior to the Rake and Run, fellow Senior Daniel Romary said the students asked faculty and staff at New Haven High School for suggestions about places they could go to help citizens. The students ended up with a list of about a half dozen names of residents they were able to help on Friday while school was not in session.

While raking leaves isn't

NOVEMBER IS NATIONAL HOME CARE & HOSPICE MONTH

Every November, Community Health Professionals joins home health and hospice agencies nationwide to celebrate National Home Care and Hospice Month, honoring healthcare employees and raising awareness of in-home health services available to local residents.

Private duty home care provides non-medical assistance for seniors and disabled clients, allowing them to stay at home amidst familiar surroundings and possessions, which has a positive effect on psychological well-being.

Skilled home healthcare (visiting nurses) is a specific form of home care that is physician-ordered and performed by registered nurses and therapists. Hospice care focuses on relieving symptoms and pain management for patients diagnosed with a terminal illness.

Community Health Professionals provides each of these core services to Paulding County and surrounding area, plus adult day care and inpatient hospice services.

In coming years home care and hospice are poised to play a key role. A wide range of forces is joining to drive care toward home and community-based services. Based on demography and dollars, experts agree that the destiny of health care lies in the home.

The first of the 78 million baby boomers turned 65 last year, and the rest of the boomers will reach their golden years in the next two decades, making health care dollars grow even scarcer. As the "silver tsunami" sweeps on, the most important trend in health care is the shift from hospitals and nursing homes to home care, from treatment to proactive monitoring and care.

However in coming decades, there will be even fewer family caregivers, according to a recent report from AARP. The study states that potential caregivers will be in much shorter supply starting in 2026 when the first boomers turn 80.

The causes of this impending care gap lie in well-known trends including longer life spans, smaller families, more divorces among those 50 and older, more people who never had children, and rising rates of disability associated with the obesity epidemic.

The number of frail older people over 65 is also expected to increase from 11 million in 2010 to 18 million in 2030, the report notes. The percentage of frail older people who are childless is expected to rise from 14 to 18 percent during this period, and the ratio of frail, older people who have only one or two adult children is expected to increase from 38 to 49 percent.

Most of these aging boomers will want to remain in their homes, but they may not be able to count on their families for long-term care when it's needed.

Technology will help close the gap. Telehealth and activity monitors available now promote out-of-hospital care for chronic patients, solutions for healthy aging and help patients to self-manage their care.

But technology will never replace the human touch.

"Nurses, aides, social workers and volunteers are the heart of home health and hospice care," said Brent Tow, CHP president and CEO. "They are more than caregivers for their patients. They also become friends, and almost family."

And that intimate, one-to-one care is another reason why home care is poised to a key role in health care in coming years.

WOODBURN LUTHERAN SCHOOL SUPPORTS LUTHERAN MALARIA INITIATIVE

Pictured is Mrs. Hoepfner's 3rd grade class making the check presentation to Dionne Lovstad-Jones, Lutheran Malaria Initiative representative.

Woodburn Lutheran School designated their first quarter chapel offerings to the Lutheran Malaria Initiative. The Lutheran Malaria Initiative educates families in Africa on the dangers, preventions, and treatments of this disease (Malaria in this area is responsible for nearly 750,000 deaths each year.). In addition to this, they provide families with insecticide-treated bed nets and instruct them on how to use them.

The cost of each net is $10.00. Woodburn Lutheran students tithed diligently, and were able to present the Lutheran Malaria Initiative with a check in the amount of $1,095.58. This amount will provide 100 bed nets.

DO YOU MIND?

By: Rev. Ernie Johnson

The human mind is amazing, but my God is even more amazing. It is difficult, if not impossible to fathom the depths of the human mind. Consider this first, before attempting to delve deeper into why we think, reason, and create. One critical question we must face, and until we find an answer to this question, it is impossible to find any understanding of the human mind. What is the question? It is really a very simple question.

Why, and how, does the mind exist? When one thinks about it, there is no good reason for humans to have a mind that can reason, think or question its own existence. As far as we know, animals do not have this capability and they exist very well. The human, if an animal as many have projected, has no need for any of these things. The brain is capable of providing instructions for daily existence without being aware of itself. Why then do humans have a mind? The answer of course, is that God created us in His own image. If God is removed from the equation, there is no reason for humans, or animals, to exist. As we consider this, it is equally challenging to consider why the brain forms and begins to think. There is really no need for such an event, for the embryo, enclosed safely within its mother's body with every need supplied, has no logical need for a mind to develop.

Yet, we know this happens. After birth, the embryo becomes a separate entity from its mother, and it will eventually begin to question its origin and its final destiny. The mind forms and begins to reason and consider the world around it, and as it does, so questions of where everything came from begin to invade the mind that should not exist, but does. The human mind learns that everything has a beginning and searches for its own origins. As the mind develops and reaches far back into human history, logical questions arise, demanding answers. Those who have been around longer offer explanations, and answers, but each human mind must assess the truth of each "truth" presented.

If everything began by accident, a "big bang" as some claim, then what exploded and where did it come from. There are those that say all matter existed in the form of a tiny ball. They add the explosion occurred because the energy contained within that compressed ball was too great to be contained. This leaves the question of where did the matter come from? This would also raise the question of the origin of life, although many say life was an accident. If we are to accept the universe and life as "accidents" then we must also accept that the universe has no purpose and human existence has no purpose. Humankind is only here to use up every available resource and then vanish into nothingness. That does not leave much hope for the human race does it?

There is another account of human existence, and the existence of the human mind that makes far more sense. The Genesis account says God created the heavens and the earth, and He created humankind, in His image. This account gives a logical answer to the existence of the origin of humans and the human mind. This account also explains the final destiny of humans and shows there is a choice of what happens at death. Hebrews 9:27 says, "Death will come, and after this judgment." Why does the mind exist? How does the mind exist? The best answer I have is to ask God when you meet Him.

TOWARD JESUS' DRUG POLICY

By: Regan Clem, Riverside Christian Church

Last week, I expressed among a group of solid Christians that I am in favor of decriminalizing all drugs. They didn't like the idea. They actually kind of looked at me like I had the plague and followed that up by expressing sentiments that I am out of my mind. So I came home and thought it through. This is what came of it.

The topic of decriminalizing drugs came up because of the recent votes in certain states to tax and/or decriminalize marijuana. Colorado voted to tax marijuana at 25%. Michigan voted to decriminalize possession. The group I was talking with didn't even want to decriminalize marijuana. I just jumped over that line and talked about decriminalizing all drugs.

I want to clarify something before progressing further. We can decriminalize all drugs, and I won't start using them. I am not making this point because I have an itch to do a certain drug. I am making this point because Jesus teaches us to love the least of these, and drug addicts should be considered in that list. We need to figure out how to help them instead of focusing on how to punish them.

Criminalizing drugs only hurts drug users without really benefiting society. Are we really loving addicts by calling them criminals? Instead of deterring them from drug use through imprisoning them, a loving society would try to give them the help they need. I want to be a loving society.

In a purely selfish way, criminalizing drugs like we do costs us dearly. We have to pay for the large prison system, the government bureaucracy that regulates these drugs, the legal system that oversees the laws, and the extra law enforcement officers who handle the crime of drug possession/use combined with the increased crime caused by the illegal distribution of these drugs. In 2010, the federal government spent $15 billion dollars on the war on drugs. If we add in the expenditures of state and local government, the amount spent on the war on drugs reached approximately $40 billion. This year, it is estimated that over 1.6 million Americans will be arrested for drugs. Now, if this was working to create a better society and a system where fewer lives were destroyed by drugs, then I would be all for it. Spend the money. Imprison drug users. Save lives.

But what if our current approach isn't creating a better society? What if our current system causes more, rather than less, lives to be destroyed?

In 2001, Portugal decriminalized all drugs. Now, instead of imprisoning people, the State offers to get them help. And if they refuse help, that's their right. They will not be punished for having or using drugs and refusing help. We can just look at Portugal to see what would happen if drugs were decriminalized. Does it change our preconceived notions? What would happen if instead of using imprisonment as a deterrent we actually offered the people help? According to a Cato Institute study, hard drug use went down in Portugal. Despite our instincts possibly telling us otherwise, the facts show that decriminalizing drugs caused hard drug use to go down.

Here's another disturbing fact. America has 5% of the world's population and 25% of the world's prisoners. Something is wrong.

I just wonder if it really helps anyone to criminalize drug use and throw so many people in jail. Are the streets safer or more dangerous with an illegal drug market of any sort? Are people's lives improved by throwing them in jail for possessing/using a drug? Remember that decriminalizing drugs still means that drug users would be thrown into jail for violent conduct, theft, or any other law they may break while using or trying to obtain a drug.

I recognize that lives have been destroyed by drug use. That is not something to be taken lightly. But that is what I want to improve. I want less lives to be destroyed by drug use. When I talk about decriminalizing drugs, I am actually talking about creating a system where less drugs are used and less lives are destroyed. Those lives that have been destroyed that we want to cite as reasons drug use should be illegal are lives that would be destroyed in our current system where drug use is illegal. I'm proposing a different system in the hope of getting better results. Less lives destroyed, not more.

What would happen if we actually let the love of Jesus influence our views? Not just on issues like the drug problems but on all the issues we face in this world. What if we actually let our views be defined by asking the question, "What is loving?" Would we live our lives differently? Would we stand up for different political agendas? Would we actually be used by God to help create a more just and loving society?

You can read more of Regan's writings at www.regansravings.blogspot.com or stop in to worship God with him and his church family on Sundays at 10:30 a.m. at Riverside Christian Church. Located at the corner of 192 & SR 49.

BIBLE QUESTIONS

By: James Potter, Oakwood church of Christ

1. Luke 10:3 - Before entering a house, what were these seventy disciples?

2. Luke 10:6 - If a son of peace was in that house, what would the seventies peace do?

3. Luke 10:7 - If peace were in that house, what were the disciples to do?

4. Luke 10:7 - What is the laborer worth?

5. Luke 10:7 - What does this mean from house to house?

6. Luke 10:8 - What were these disciples to eat?

7. Luke 10:9 - What were these disciples to do to those in the house?

8. Luke 10:9 - What were the disciples to tell them?

9. Luke 10:11 - What was clinging to the disciples.

10. Luke 10:12 - Why would it be more tolerable for Sodom than that city?

Comments good or bad call me; tell me, at 419-393-4775 or 419-399-5022 for Lonnie Lambert. Jesus loves you and so does the Oakwood church of Christ.

Answers to last week's questions:

1. 70;
2. To strengthen and encourage one another;
3. To every place and city Jesus might go;
4. The harvest;
5. The people in the world who are lost;
6. Few;
7. Pray;
8. Lambs;
9. Peaceable, gentle, patient;
10. Those that have the Gospel preached to them are more accountable than Sodom.

Now for some comments on what we have studied:

V 5-6 - son of peace is a Hebrew idiom meaning a person inclined to peace. The use of it in this context shows that no positive or righteous action is ever lost. If a son of peace be there, this is an expression of good, will, will bless the receiver, but if rejected will return to the giver.

V 7 - go not from house to house - Jesus expressly forbade these representatives of Himself to shop around, as it were for better accommodations.

V 8 - to eat such things - The seventy were thus instructed to eat what they were served.

V 9 - Heal the sick - Christ imparted to the disciples the power to heal as an extension to His ministry.

V 12 - in that day - This is a phrase that was used frequently in the prophetic books of the Old Testament to denote the final Day of Judgment; Sodom: a city of Abraham's time which was so vile that God destroyed it: Genesis Chapter 19.

Loved ones, please continue to pray, read and study the Bible. "Luv Ya". Ol' Baldy says bye for now!

THANK YOU

Thank you for all your love and support and to the First Baptist Church for hosting and giving us the Benefit. And to our church family: Pastor Todd Murray, Kim Kemerer and our family and friends. Thank you to everyone that came out and donated to the silent auction and the bake sale (they both were a great success). Also, to everyone that donated, cooked and served all that delicious Mexican food. God has truly blessed us with friends and family like you.

Thank you and bless you,

THEY TOOK CARE OF OUR PARK!

The Melrose Park was very well taken care of by a few volunteers in our community. Chad Long, Matt White and Ryan Lassiter did a lot of hard work to make our community a better place. If you see either or all, tell them 'Great Job!'

The Village Council and the Mayor of Melrose appreciate all you have done.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I received an email from the state stating due to my not hitting the "end" button when doing taxes online, I was to go back in and finish my tax form. The amount was $2.00 which I received an email stating WITH a confirmation, that I had filed my school tax. I called the state and they proceeded to tell me that I needed to go back in and finish the form AGAIN. I went back in to "finish" the tax form (which by the way was filed in February) and after hitting the "next" button to get to the end, I see they charged me a penalty of $10 and stating I now owe them $12.00 even tho I already paid them $2.00 in February!!! She advised me that I would be receiving a letter from the state and if I didn't pay, penalties would keep being added on. This was a glitch in the state system and I'm being punished for it for a $2.00 school tax? I don't feel I should have to pay this again.

TO WHOM HAVE I SHOWN MY GRATITUDE?

Winning the Battle for a Generation column by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

Some 30 years ago the Lord laid upon my heart one Christmas Eve to write a note of thanks to an uncle who greatly impacted my life. My uncle was touched by this act of showing gratitude.

There are many ways to express our gratitude, thank-you notes, cards, messages but few would rise to the experience of thanksgiving like a missionary had in Tibet.

In 1921, Dr. Albert Shelton wrote an account of his service as a missionary in Tibet. Walking along the road one day, he met an old couple. When they saw him, they got down on the side of the road and began bumping their heads on the ground as a sign of humility. Shelton told them to get up, that he did not allow anyone to bow before him.

Then they brought him an old rooster, a dirty piece of butter and six eggs and reminded the doctor their son had been severely injured in an accident. The doctor had operated on him and saved his life. They had come to thank him. They had walked five days just to say, "Thank you."

Regarding being thankful the Apostle Paul wrote to the church at Colossi... Colossians 3:15 (NLT), "And let the peace that comes from Christ rule in your hearts. For as members of one body you are called to live in peace. And always be thankful."

Whatever it may take for us to express thanks to someone for their help in our life, let's purpose to show gratitude while there's still an opportunity and time.

DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION MEET

Pictured here are the Daughters of the American Revolution - Ohio Society: Chapter Regent of the General Horatio N. Curtis Chapter, Jeanne Calvert of Oakwood; Recording Secretary of the General Horatio N. Curtis Chapter, Mary Clark of Paulding; and Northwest District Director of Ohio DAR Society, Ms. Marilyn Stinehart of Findlay, OH.

By: Caroline Zimmerman

The General Horatio N. Curtis Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met Thursday, October 10 at 6:00 p.m. at the Paulding Carnegie Library for the October meeting. The guest of honor of the North West District Director of Ohio DAR from Findlay, OH, Ms. Marilyn Stinehart. Also, present was a special guest and prospective member from Payne, OH, Marsha Cooper. She was welcomed by the group and it is hopeful that she can soon become a member of this chapter.

The meeting was opened with the meeting rituals of the pledge to the flag of the United States of America, American's Creed and other openings. The minutes were read and approved. The Treasurer Report was given and that dues needed to be paid by November meeting. One member was noted as needing a card from the chapter because of a serious illness.

The NW District Director spoke about the work of the DAR Schools and the DAR Scholarships (both through financial need and endowment). No connections have to be had through DAR to receive one of their scholarships. She also spoke about the eligibility of membership and the different pins members were eligible to wear through the work of the organization. After a member has a membership number, she can order on the internet or otherwise see the pins that are available and other DAR books, materials, information, etc.

Pages are those young women ages 18 through 39 who work for the organization (wearing all white) at functions and are flag marshals also. Member, Caroline Longardner Zimmerman, from this chapter had paged for the state and national DAR for four years (the district director stated that pages are needed very badly at this time. Membership is down for that age group.). Her daughter, Melanie Longardner was a debutante as well as many other members of the John Paulding Children of the American Revolution (Mary Clark was the senior president at the time.). Both boys and girls were members of the CAR before the membership was reduced to disbandment. At one time this was a very active patriotic group in Paulding County.

The program was given by Mrs. Steven Clark (Mary) on Abigail Adams based on a book by Natalie Boler. It was a very interesting review on the life of this woman who was a wife of President John Adams. She was a supporter of independence of England. She and her husband corresponded a lot throughout life because he was gone a lot. She wanted to have her letters burned because she didn't want them to get into the hands of the British, but thankfully, a lot of them were saved, so her biography could be written with some authenticity.

Abigail Adams was 5 ft. 1 in. tall. Her father and grandfather had expensive libraries, so she was brought up to love books and her family promoted educating females. She was smart but shy.

John Adams did not impress her at first, but she married the lawyer in October 1764. She was 19 years old. They moved around a lot, renting houses and raising three sons and two daughters, (one son to become a president). She advocated education for women, she had employees, but was against slavery. In 1776, at the 2nd Continental Congress she hoped the new form of government would be some improvement in women's equal rights.

John Adams was vaccinated for smallpox and she and her children were also vaccinated. That was not always the case in those times. They were not wealthy, but hard workers. She had a business head.

By 1787 they eventually were living in Boston. She had a baby that was stillborn and she had toxemia. They lived in the White House for a short time. She even hung her wash in the East Room to dry. She baby-sat with other people's children. Nabbie, her oldest daughter, died of breast cancer (after having a mastectomy in her mother's home with no anesthetic at about age 50 - ca. 1811). She had a lot of mother's heartaches to be sure.

Abigail Adams died at home in 1818 at age 73. She is buried in Boston, MA at a church cemetery. Her husband died in 1826. If you want to read more about this brave and patriotic woman go to your local library.

dant of a person who fought for the war effort during the American Revolution, please contact for more information: Vice-Regent Caroline Longardner Zimmerman at 419-258-2222 or Chapter regent Jeanne Calvert at 419-594-2052. SARAH & THE OWL

By: Stan Jordan
Here at WBN we have a pretty young lady who is a graphic designer. She is very efficient at her job, until this morning. She arrived at work with hardly any sleep. She was distraught—her pretty eyes were drooping—she had not rested at all. But to make a long story short, it was that darned owl!

The air is chilly and cold with a lot of clouds. It was actually a scary scene and that darned owl made it worse! Won't he ever stop or fly away? Hour after hour all she heard was, "Hoo, hoo, hoo."
Her husband finally came home and went right to bed. After hours of no sleep and not sure what was going on she woke her husband, Jason.
She said, "Can't you hear that darned owl?"
"Yes but he isn't going to hurt you, go back to sleep," Jason replied.
Sarah said, "I haven't been to sleep yet. That darned owl on top of your new barn is keeping me awake!"
"He won't hurt anything, go back to sleep, I'm tired," said Jason.
Sarah said, "I'm just sick of his calling 'Hoo, hoo, hoo' or something like that."
By now it was about 4:00 a.m. and the owl gave it up for the night. He figured he had kept enough people from sleeping so he did a good job of his night's work.
Sarah is a lover of nature but she is down on owls—and besides we still had two nights of Halloween hijinks. I hope that owl goes to someone else's barn!

AS I REMEMBER THE 1945 WORLD SERIES

By: Stan Jordan
At the time of the 1945 World Series, I was in Ft. Leonardwood, MO. The war was over and I was waiting to be discharged. I served in Europe with the 9th Armored Division but now I was signed to the 8th Inf. Division. But I wasn't doing much, just sitting around. I could go down to the rec hall and listen to the game on the radio. At that time, if you could stand up and breath you were in the service. A writer at that time, called Frank Graham, jokingly called this series the fat man versus the tall men at the office picnic. Another writer, Warren Brown, called it the worst ever World Series. I know one of the Cubs players was called, Big Bad Bill Nicholson. I guess he had a pretty good year, but in the series he couldn't hit the ground with his hat.
The radio announcer kept referring him to Big Bad Bill Nicholson, but he never produced anything. But the Cubs had a pretty good player named Stan Hack. The Chicago Cubs last won the series in 1908. They lost to Detroit in 1945 and to date, 2013, they have not been in the series yet. If you know sports you know the history of the Chicago Cubs.

IMPORTANCE OF 3/50 PROJECT & "SHOP LOCAL"
Shop local is all about promoting and supporting locally-owned, independent businesses. It's about fueling our local economy and helping to preserve the local town. The national initiative, the 3/50 Project inspires us all to patronize our local businesses. We all know of businesses and services in our community that we would miss if they were not here tomorrow. The 3/50 Project reminds us all to spend our money locally. By spending just $50.00 altogether per month in three local businesses you help to keep that business in town. You don't have to spend $50.00 in each, just $50.00 total at all three.
Civil economics says that $.68 of every dollar spent at a locally owned business is re-invested locally. When only $.43 of every dollar spent at a

SUGAR'S SOUR SIDE

The Nurturing Well by: Jill Starbuck

Nearly everyone loves the taste of sugar. So much so that most of us have become sugar addicts. Unfortunately, other than its taste, there is not much else good about it. Sugar is to blame for a variety of serious health issues. As a result, along with a reduction in the quality of life, our society pays a fortune to overcome sugar's side effects.

• Aging skin - Through a process called glycation, sugar attaches to collagen. This process causes stiff and inflexible skin, which increases deep wrinkles. In an effort to prevent or cover up aging skin, Americans spend upwards of $33 billion each year.

• Depression - Studies show a link between sugar consumption and the reduction of a brain chemical that regulates our mood. Approximately 1 in 10 Americans suffer from depression at any given time. In combination with medical expenses and lost productivity, this ailment costs $83 billion annually.

• Diabetes - Nearly 10% of the U.S. population is diabetic, equating to approximately 30 million Americans. And this number is expected to increase. In 2012, total medical costs of diabetes reached nearly $250 billion. According to the American Diabetes Association, society could save more than two times the amount of medical expenditures in the absence of diabetes.

• Heart disease - This disease kills more Americans than any other disease and affects approximately 62 million people. According to the American Heart Association, reducing sugar, cleaning up diets, and exercising regularly would reduce nearly one-third of deaths related to heart disease. In 2010, cardiovascular diseases cost society approximately $444 billion.¹

• Obesity - Sugar contains no nutrients, yet we eat our weight or more of it. Consequently, the United States has the highest incidence of obesity over any other country. At least 1 in 3 U.S. adults is obese. Obesity costs our society more than $147 billion in medical expenses.²

Sadly, sugar's effects don't stop there. Research indicates that sugar may also cause cancer and memory loss. While other conditions can cause any one of these ailments, we cannot deny the role sugar plays in our health and budgets. So how do we overcome this readily available, sweet-tasting addiction? Check in next week for simple tips to reduce your sugar consumption.

NEW HAVEN OVER NORWELL FOR SECTIONAL TITLE

D'Andre Smith on the run after he intercepts the Norwell ball. More pictures at westbendnews.net

Following their win over the Hotdogs on November 1st, the Bulldogs took on the Norwell Knights last Friday. The New Haven team took a hard hit in the first minute when Norwell's Reid Jutte caught the kickoff and returned it for a touchdown with 11:47 left on the clock. The home team made sure that didn't happen again even though there were a few close calls.

At 7:58 Ariest Vasquez posted the first points for the Bulldogs when the team drove down and needing only a three yard gain for the touchdown and the point after by TJ Moeller increased the score also.

The second quarter added two touchdowns for the Dawgs as Vasquez and Jordan Hogue both posted points.

The third quarter wasn't as intense, but was still good for the home team with Vance Shearer passing the ball to Hogue for a 36 yard touchdown.

D'Andre Smith in the fourth quarter picked up the last set of points with a safety following led by Conner Nash pushing the guest team back into the end zone.

New Haven had a total of 50 tackles, led by Nate Kitzmiller, Dustin Walls and Ariest Vasquez. Adam Hoffer threw in a sack causing a loss for the opposing team of 9 yards.

For the offense, Vance Shearer added 10 completions to his record along with 181 yards. Vasquez had 34 rushes and 267 yards. Smith posted 10 rushes and 39 yards. Javin Easterly had 6 rushes and 66 yards.

Score by Quarter:
New Haven - 7 14 7 9=37
Norwell - 7 0 0 0=7

New Haven is now 11-1 for their 2013 season. Their next game is regional play-off at Bishop Dwenger who has a 9-3 record on Friday, November 15 at 7:00 p.m. at the Dwenger field. The team winning that game will move to the semi-state championship game on November 22.

WOODLAN STUMBLES IN SECTIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The Warriors arrived back at the game for the sectional title on Friday, November 8 against Bremen following the win against Prairie Heights on the 1st.

The cold evening started with Bremen scoring in the first minute of the first quarter. This didn't help the confidence of the Woodlan boys. The second quarter came around and Woodlan was able to get a 26 yard field goal on the 4th down kicked by I Sar. Jaylin Bennet ran 78 yards for a touchdown on a return kick to score Woodlan's second. This brought the half time score to 13-7 with the Lions in the lead but the momentum clearly had shifted to the Warriors side of the field.

The second half had Woodlan adding a 42 yard field goal by Sar, raising their score to 13 and tying the game. Bremen stole the Warriors spirit by adding a goal by Ryan Zellmer to the score board with 5 minutes left in the third. Neither team posted points in the fourth. The Lions went home with the sectional trophy.

Score by Quarter:
Woodlan - 0 10 3 0=13
Bremen - 6 7 7 0=20

Stats:
(Woodlan-Bremen)
First Downs: 13-15
Rushing Yards: 193-157
Passing Yards: 58-134

Jordan Delagrang led Warrior defense with 10 tackles. Herman Rorick - 7 tackles. Corbin Smith had 7 completed passes for 58 yards. Jaylin Bennet led with 144 yards of rushing followed by Greg White at 39.

Woodlan finished their 2013 football year with a record of 8-4 completing a great season.

SHORT-TERM VS. LONG-TERM INVESTMENTS: WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE

Financial Focus by: Gabe Pollock, Edward Jones Advisor

At various times, many people may feel frustrated by the performance of their investments. For example, they expect growth, and they don't get it — or they think the value of their investment won't fluctuate much, but it does. However, some of this frustration might be alleviated if investors were more familiar with the nature of their investment vehicles. Specifically, it's important to keep in mind the difference between long-term and short-term investments.

What defines long-term and short-term investments? Long-term investments are those vehicles that you intend to hold for more than one year — in fact, you generally intend to hold them for several years. On the other hand, you usually hold short-term investments for one year or less.

You can find several key distinctions between short-term and long-term vehicles. Here are a few to consider:

- They carry different expectations. When you purchase an investment that you intend to keep for many years, you may be expecting the investment to increase in value so that you can eventually sell it for a profit. In addition, you may be looking for the investment to provide income. When you purchase a short-term vehicle, you are generally not expecting much in the way of a return or an increase in value. Typically, you purchase short-term investments for the relatively greater degree of principal protection they are designed to provide.

- They meet different needs at different times of life. You will have different investment needs at different times of your life. When you're young, and just starting out in your career, you may require a mix of long- and short-term investments. You might need the short-term ones to help pay for a down payment on a home, while the long-term ones could be used to help build resources for your retirement. But later in life, when you're either closing in on retirement, or you're already retired, you may have much less need for long-term vehicles, with a corresponding increase in your need for short-term investments.

- They can satisfy different goals. If you purchase investments that you intend to hold for the long term, you probably have a long-term goal in mind — such as building resources to help pay for a comfortable retirement or leaving a legacy. On the other hand, a short-term investment would be more appropriate if you know that you will need a certain amount of money at a certain time — perhaps to purchase a car or to fund a vacation.

- They carry different risks. All investments carry some type of risk. One of the biggest risks associated with long-term investments is volatility, the fluctuations in the financial markets that can cause investments to lose value. On the other hand, short-term investment vehicles may be subject to purchasing power risk — the risk that your investment's return will not keep up with inflation.

As an investor, you'll probably need a mix of long-term and short-term vehicles. By knowing the differences between these two categories, you should have a good idea of what to expect from your investments — and this knowledge can help you make those choices that are right for you.

PCH HONORED BY GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Thursday, November 7th was an exciting day for Paulding County. The Hospital, located on the west edge of Paulding along SR 111 held a press conference and a grand opening for the completion of the new Emergency Room that was started one year ago.

Ohio Governor John Kasich and Lieutenant Governor Mary Taylor sent their representative, Chase Eikenbary, who presented the award to Paulding County Hospital CEO Gary Adkins. The award was an acknowledgement by Columbus of the hard work and excellent planning taking place in the Paulding County area. This is a big step for healthcare in northwest Ohio and is a commended model for future hospitals of smaller size in other communities of similar circumstances.

Even though expenses for hospitals are quite high now, the hospital was able to add on and build this new addition for less than the budgeted amount, saving $60,000. One other newsworthy note: It didn't cost the taxpayers anything nor did the healthcare facility take on any debt.

Emergency Room Addition & Renovation:

In November 2012, renovations for the updated and enlarged Paulding County Hospital Emergency Department began. The first phase of the renovation involved enlarging the ER and doing some renovations before moving the ER to the east wing of the hospital. Once the move took place the construction and renovation continued on the existing ER. This took about 3 months. Then the ER moved back and the east wing was renovated to house the testing laboratory permanently. Once the lab moved to their new home, the ER construction expanded to the old lab space. The total construction took about a year to complete. Important to note is that the lab draw station will remain in the main outpatient area for patient convenience but pneumatic tubes will connect the draw station and the ER to the testing lab for faster result time.

The last ER renovation that was done was in the early 1980's featured 5 patient rooms. The current renovation features a Ushaped nurse's station with 7 rooms surrounding it. Line of sight to all patients for nursing and physicians is an additional bonus. Two large trauma rooms have fold back glass walls between them making one large trauma room if needed. This can be used if an emergency requires the medical staff to be close to multiple patients. Also added in the last phase is storage rooms and an area where local EMS personnel can chart and make notes concerning their patients. Another addition was a patient lift that was installed that will help with patients that are difficult to move.

The total Emergency Department space now encompasses 3400 square feet. The renovation added an additional 1000 square feet to the Emergency Department. The project was budgeted at $1,221,701 and will be coming in at approximately $60,000 under budget. No funds were solicited from the community, the project was funded with operational dollars only. No loans were taken to complete the project and in fact, during the course of the project, the hospital went debt free to demonstrate to the community that the dollars generated here will be invested wisely back into the community.

GIVE THANKS TO OUR VETERANS

The Kruse Report by: IN State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. We didn't pass it to our children in the bloodstream. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on for them to do the same.

—Ronald Reagan

Every November 11 we celebrate Veterans Day. We pause to remember and honor all who have served this country and fought for our freedoms.

It's difficult to sum up our deep appreciation for American patriots and heroes on just this one day, because their sacrifice and dedication should be acknowledged every day of the year.

In Indiana, the commitment to serving our country is engrained in our Hoosier roots. The Hoosier State has the sixth-largest National Guard and Reserve in the U.S. According to the Indiana Department of Veterans Affairs, there are nearly 550,000 veterans in Indiana — more than 33,000 of whom are women. In fact, 75 Hoosiers have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for their courage and sacrifice. These service men and women are following in the footsteps of generations of Hoosier heroes.

The freedoms each and every one of us enjoys should be cherished, because as former President Reagan noted they are never more than a generation away from extinction. That's why we are so grateful for the men and women who sacrifice their lives to preserve the values and liberties we hold dear. It's our duty to honor them any way we can, and Veterans Day is one way we can do so. May we never take our freedom — and their sacrifices — for granted.

When you see someone in uniform or a veteran, please take the time to thank them for their service.

May God bless our military veterans, their families and the United States of America.

BUILDING A RUBE GOLDBERG MACHINE IN WT SCIENCE CLASS

The students recently planned and built Rube Goldberg machines in their 8th grade science class at Wayne Trace Jr/Sr High School. A Rube Goldberg machine is a machine that uses many complex steps to reach a simple task. The students had to use at least six energy transfers (steps) to complete their final task. This project finished off their energy unit. Students were able to show off their energy knowledge, leadership abilities, building/engineering skills, and teamwork while working on their machines.

UNITED WAY HALLOWEEN PARTY RAISES $3,589

United Way of Paulding County (UWPC) held a successful fundraiser on Saturday, October 26 at the Paulding Eagle's Lodge. "The United Way Special Events Committee and Board Members sponsored our fourth United Way Halloween Party. United Way raised $3,589 which will go towards our 2013-2014 campaign," said

Pam Miller, Vice President. We began our day helping members of the Lion's Club with their annual Halloween parade. It was a cold, windy day. We started at the Paulding County Carnegie Library signing in all the ghosts, goblins and other scary creatures who then marched around the courthouse square and ended up at the Courthouse lawn gazebo for costume judging. Following this, many went to the Paulding Eagles where Sheriff Jason Landers, Captain Dyson, Deputy Dyson, Deputy Mendez, and Deputy Deitrick were set up with the Fingerprinting ID kits for kids.

Megan Clark, a UWPC board member, stated, "We are so thankful to have the Eagles support our efforts in this community. The steak dinner was delicious, and the entertainment by the Memory Lane Band added special spirit to the night."

Dennis Price, Anna Lee Adams, Ebel's Butcher Shop, Country Times Market, Baughman Tile, and S & P Miller Excavating donated items for the raffle.

Sarah Sajuan, Special Events United Way member said, "I saw the mission of the United Way of Paulding County come to life! From the Eagles to the Sheriff's Office, to the band and the UWPC volunteers, the mobilization of the caring power of our community to improve lives was truly visible! This is what the United Way of Paulding County is all about!"

Rose Shepard stated, "I look forward to attending the United Way Halloween event every year. Wow! What a fun-filled night!" Shepard has made donations and given her time every year to help with United Way's events. The winner of the 50/50 raffle was Don E. Adams of Oakwood, OH. Don stated, "I like the fact that the money raised by the United Way of Paulding County stays in Paulding County to assist the needs in the Paulding County community."

The winner of a Thanksgiving Dinner Basket of goodies donated by S&P Miller Excavating was Ruben Gill from Paulding, OH. Gill stated, "Really! I won something? This is my first time to win anything. Thanks Ray Hacker, a Lion's Club member, for selling me my winning ticket. Maybe this is my first step toward winning a lottery. I wish UWPC the best in reaching their 2013-2014

After the zombie walk started the hauntings at the Woodlan High School library. There, 'guests' were met with a tantalizing array of spine-tingling sites, all produced by Woodlan Service Club members. Jai'la Jackson led the unsuspecting through the stacks, Matt Francis, our resident mad man, was chained to the pillar to keep him from clawing the visitors. Meagan Messman's poor little head was daintily perched on a plate, and Samuel Hathaway's maniacal voice rang through

THANKING AMERICA'S HEROES

Casey's Comments by: IN State Rep. Casey Cox, House District 85

The month of November is often associated with the Thanksgiving holiday. Each year, family members gather together to enjoy food and fellowship. We like to share a nice meal with loved ones, followed by watching a few football games, or perhaps partaking in other family traditions. As the pilgrims gave thanks for the bountiful harvest, we too give thanks for the many blessings that have been bestowed upon us. During this season of thanks, it is especially important that we recognize the selfless contributions of countless individuals who have sacrificed so much to protect our free republic.

Those individuals, of course, are our American military veterans. Over the weekend and on Monday, there have been ceremonies and parades to publicly recognize our nation's heroes. While I think these public events are an excellent for us to show our appreciation, they are the very least we can do. In practice, the thanks we share on Veterans Day should be extended every single day of the year.

The freedoms we enjoy as Americans can be easy to take for granted. As citizens of the most unique and exceptional nation on earth, we are free to exercise our faith, our voice and our natural right of self-defense, among many other things. We must remember that these freedoms were not attained without tremendous sacrifice.

Countless men and women have answered freedom's call by serving in our armed forces. Everything we enjoy in this country is owed to these brave individuals. Without their selfless service, our nation may have never realized the blessings of liberty. Further, without superior protection over the years, our liberties could have been taken away by enemy forces.

As we reflect on our blessings during this season of thanksgiving, I encourage everyone to thank veterans not only for their personal sacrifice, but also for the quality of life in America that their sacrifice has afforded each of us. All veterans, particularly those not given a warm welcome home, deserve our appreciation year round. To all of the veterans, I want to thank each of you from the bottom of my heart for serving our country and protecting our freedom.

OHIO'S FURBEARER HUNTING AND TRAPPING SEASONS TO BEGIN

Ohio is among the nation's leading producers of raw furs, and hunters and trappers are expected to encounter good populations now that selected seasons began on Sunday, November 10, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR).

"Ohio offers many opportunities to pursue furbearers through hunting and trapping," said ODNR Division of Wildlife Biologist Suzie Prange. "Ohio furbearer

EACS BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES RECOGNIZE STUDENT AMBASSADOR

At a recent school board meeting, board members along with Dr. Ken Folks, Superintendent recognized Daniel Romary, senior at New Haven High School. He was selected as the 2013 Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Leadership Ambassador, representing New Haven High School and the EACS district. Daniel attended a 4-day leadership conference/workshop at Butler University, with approximately 250 high school students from around the state. This workshop is held to develop future leaders. In the days of training, the Ambassadors are taught how to work outside their comfort zone, and increase their leadership abilities. Daniel represented New Haven High School and EACS very well!

Daniel is an awesome leader at NHHS. He is Student Council President, Senior Class Vice President, SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) President, Principal's Advisory Cabinet Founder & Member, National Honor Society Member, CANstruction Captain, Key Club Member, Varsity Golf Captain, Drama Club Member, Project READS Volunteer, Academic Decathlon Member, and he is currently ranked 1st in his class.

Daniel is the son of Steve and Kim Romary, both teachers for EACS!

populations have remained steady and are expected to be similar to those of the past few years."

Last year, 22,520 fur taker permits were sold in Ohio. The state currently has 69 licensed fur dealers.

Fox, raccoon, opossum, skunk and weasel hunting and trapping seasons are open November 10 through Friday, January 31, 2014. Mink and muskrat trapping seasons are open November 10 through Friday, February 28, 2014.

Erie, Ottawa and Sandusky counties as well as Lucas County east of the Maumee River will remain open for raccoon, opossum, skunk, weasel, mink and muskrat trapping seasons through Saturday, March 15, 2014.

Coyote hunting and trapping has no closed season with an unrestricted bag limit. Special hunting regulations for coyotes apply during the youth deer season, November 23-24, the statewide deer-gun season, December 2-8, and deer-muzzleloader season, January 4-7, 2014.

Beaver and river otter trapping seasons are open Thursday, December 26, through February 28, 2014, and beaver trapping is open statewide. River otter trapping is open in 43 counties.

River otters were reintroduced into Ohio from 1986-1993 and have increased their range in the state. River otters were removed from Ohio's Endangered Species List in 2002. Full details of open counties as well as checking and permit requirements can be found in the Ohio River Otter Trapping Regulations or at wildohio.com.

There will be no daily bag limits, with the exception of river otters. River otter bag limits are dependent on the county where it was trapped.

A fur taker permit is required in addition to a valid Ohio hunting license to hunt or trap furbearing animals, except for coyotes, which may be hunted or trapped year-round without a fur taker permit. A special ODNR Division of Wildlife permit is required to trap beaver and river otter on state public hunting areas.

River otters that are accidentally captured, either in excess of bag limits or in closed counties, must be released unharmed. River otters that cannot be released must be turned over to the ODNR Division of Wildlife. Beaver trappers in particular are advised to watch for river otter sign and modify set placements where necessary. The Ohio State Trappers Association and the ODNR Division of Wildlife published a guide on how to recognize river otter sign and use avoidance techniques while trapping for beaver in areas closed to river otter trapping. A copy of the publication can be ordered by calling 800-WILDLIFE (945-3543).

Additional hunting and trapping information is available in the 2013-2014 Ohio Hunting Regulations, at wildohio.com or by calling 800-WILDLIFE (945-3543).
