You've seen the bright pink trash totes if you have travelled through Paulding County in the last few years. These were put in place by a small startup company known as Real Waste LLC.

It was started in September of 2010 in the small town of Broughton. Since then, it has relocated to Oakwood. In 2014 it has expanded to Paulding, facing the north side of the courthouse.

Ryan Lassiter, owner, stated, "We have eight trucks in our fleet and 9 employees." With all of this equipment, they serve all of Paulding County, most of Putnam, Van Wert and part of Defiance.

SEVERE WINTER STORM IS OVER, BUT WATCH FOR POTHOLES

Drivers are asked to be on alert for potholes on interstates, U.S. highways, and state routes. The rise and fall in temperatures following last week's severe winter weather was a recipe for potholes to form quickly. As temperatures continue to rise and fall through the winter season, more potholes are likely to form. When the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) is not clearing snow, ice or storm debris, crews are focused on maintaining and preserving the state's roads and bridges, which often consists of pothole patching in the winter months.

Crews are filling potholes as quickly as possible, but with nearly 4,800 lane miles to maintain in the Northeast Indiana District, it is a big job.

Potholes begin when water seeps into the cracks in a road and freezes, expanding the layers of pavement, stone and soil beneath the surface. As the ice melts and contracts, heavy highway traffic further loosens the pavement, forming potholes.

With temperatures too low for paving, most of Indiana's hot mix asphalt plants are now closed. During the winter IN-DOT uses cold mix - a mixture of small stone and liquid asphalt - as a temporary patch. Even after being filled with cold patch, the same pothole requires ongoing maintenance and can reopen several times throughout the winter. When the asphalt plants reopen in the spring, INDOT maintenance crews clean out

2014 ACAC CHAMPIONS

The ACAC Conference Tournament took place this week. It was a year ago when the Woodlan boys basketball team moved on to the ACAC championship game to take on the Bluffton Tigers at Fort Wayne War Memorial Coliseum and they fell hard.

This year Woodlan took on Leo in the first round and won, sending them to round two at the coliseum on Thursday, January 16 against their Bluffton rivals. The game was so fast, it ended in 1 hour and 16 minutes. Woodlan was well ahead, but nearly lost the lead in the last quarter. The Tigers kept fouling Greg White in the last minute of the game but he was able to keep scoring the free-throws even under pres-points, leaving the Warriors to go the championship game on Saturday, January 18 at noon. Final Score: Woodlan 58, Bluffton 55.

The conference championship game has been around since 1924 with New Haven taking the first win. In 1954 the Indiana sportscaster icon, Hilliard Gates, had the first Indiana high school tournament live game broadcast on WKJG 33 at the Allen County War Memorial Coliseum - the ACAC. He did this for 41 straight years. His involvement with high school basketball started in 1940. The television final began in 1954. Mr. Gates was the announcer in the movie Hoosiers representing the Milan team that won the state championship that year. Hilliard announced these games until 1993. He passed away three short years after that at the age of 83 in 1997.

This is the Allen County

Conference championship game. The tradition still continues at the same location and this year the teams making it to the final game were the Woodlan Warriors and the Garrett Railroaders. Last year the Woodlan boys made it to the final game, but fell to Bluffton. This year was different as the Warriors defeated the Bluffton team on Thursday night, kicking them out of the basketball tourna-

What a game! I could probably end it there, but it wouldn't do justice to the hard work put into by the Woodlan team this year. Oh, not to leave Garrett out, but the Railroaders are not in our readership.

A recent financial audit for 2012, of Paulding County Hospital, by the Auditor of State, Dave Yost's office has returned a clean audit report. Paulding County Hospital's excellent record keeping has earned it the Auditor of State Award.

Paulding County Hospital CEO, Gary Adkins, stated, "Paulding County Hospital takes their fiduciary obligations to the community very seriously. This award exemplifies the commitment that the Hospital places on presenting the community with accurate financial records to ensure the public's trust. #### RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS ABOUT PAULDING HS MINI RELAY FOR LIFE

Several years ago two

Middle School teachers wanted to promote a cause in school for community service purposes, which is a value we want all students to value and act on as good citizens. The cause was cancer, and we all have people in our lives that are affected by this terrible disease. The activities over the last couple of years have increased all school year instead of a "Mini Relay". There has been a concern of the use of instructional time to cover the scope of what this has become. There was a request to modify the approach and what was presented to administrators did not look truly different in scope to what had already been done. Suggestions of doing on a Saturday or incorporating with the Paulding Community day of Relay for Life have not been acceptable to those wanting this to continue. We also run into the dilemma of what are we going to do to be fair to other great causes that currently do not get "their day" from the school children.

I want it to be clear that Mr. Hanak, who is new to the district, and the Board of Education, does not 'have a hat in this' as they would all agree to the afore mentioned importance of causes and community service. They have represented the decision of the administrators to stop Relay For Life for the afore mentioned reasons. The staff who have represented this effort are truly great people and valuable lessons of helping others is very important and we do not want to diminish this entirely.

We have rallied around our students in times of need (similar to the Noah campaign) and we want to contine to have the choice and discretion of how to do the outreach to our community people in need. The school has several student groups that take on community service and have requirements to do so and have represented multiple causes. We want to encourage students to be active to be change agents in the world on a variety of different issues through the respective conduits of student groups and to keep a reasonable scope of involvement.

UP FOR THE CHALLENGE! LIVING OUT CHRIST'S MISSION HERE ON EARTH

Connie & Don Smith. Photo provided by Toledo Blade. Used with permission when Dr. Joe put him up to

For 10 years now, Don Smith of Continental, Ohio has been in the giving life business. "What do you mean?" you may ask. It all started 10 years ago when he was swimming at the YMCA and he saw a brochure about childhood diabetes. As he was reading it he was challenged by his doctor, Joe Kraska (deceased), of Defiance. Joe said, "Don, I'll give you $100 towards this Diabetes Youth Services if you swim 100 laps."

Don took him up on the offer and the rest is history. He received several more donations for his first 'fundraising' event and he was able to give this money to the Diabetic Youth Services located in Maumee, Ohio.

DYS' mission is "Teaching local children to manage their diabetes every day until there is a cure. Supporting families, preventing complications and improving lives." It's an organization for all of northwest Ohio and southeast Michigan dedicated to showing young people how important it is to manage Type 1 Diabetes. They teach kids in fun and innovative ways such as at camp where they can reach challenging achievements and know how important setting goals is. DYS maintains its core programs, respond to emerging needs, and sustain services for the most significant impact on children with diabetes now and for their future. DYS has emerged as an effective organization serving 34 counties in Ohio and Michigan.

Don and his wife, Connie, didn't really understand what they were raising funds for until they spent a week at the Little Shots camp as counsellors. A chord in his heart was struck as he watched these kids have to do so much more just to live. "We may not think about it in our day-today lives, but these kids do." said Don. He sat down and talked with them and the other camp leaders. As he learned his passion grew for this mission. There is a lot of training to learn the health management that comes with this type of disease. Training the children young is by far the best method for a lifetime of success.

who challenged him at the Y was given a challenge by Don, "If I swim 300 laps will you donate $300.00?" Joe said "yes!" Every year it has grown and of 2013 his annual swimming event has raised over $100,000 for the DYS. Last year alone he fundraised $21,109.00. "My goal is to raise $25,000 and I need your help." He has gone to untold number of events and meetings spreading the word, which is how the West Bend News found out when one of the attendees contacted us.

Don has received many awards for his work, including the 2010 Shaffer Award from Defiance College and the Community Volunteer Award in Toledo, the 2009 Teri Sowers Award and many others. He doesn't do it for the awards, it's for the children.

Through his life Don has worked for the Lima State Hospital, Paulding Mental Health, and the Putnam County Municipal Court Probation (which he started). This year on February 2nd Don turns 65 and is going stronger than ever.

This swimming event will take place on Saturday, February 1st for his birthday at the Defiance YMCA. He will be doing 300 laps, just like he has for the past four years. You can figure out the distance yourself.

If you would like to help, contact Don at 419-596-4277 or mail him at 200 W. Grove St., Continental, OH 45831. You can also contact Diabetes Youth Services direct at 419-887-8739 or email info@ dys4kids.org.

Hicksville recently saw changes to a local medical office. Dr. Ryan Bagley and his practice moved to Old Mill Road. This new location opened on December 21, 2013 and is right around the corner from the previous address at West High Street.

Ryan is 1998 graduate of Antwerp High School who went to Bowling Green University and received his degree. Going on to graduate school, he earned his doctorate in Chiropractic Medicine at the National University of Health Sciences in Chicago

Dr. Bagley moved back to the area after graduating and worked with Dr. Brent Roth in Hicksville. After three years he bought the practice and continued in the same location, renting the office.

He found the space and changes was limited for modern updates and the thought of building his own establishment would be in the interest of his patients and his practice, and thus was born the idea of acquiring land for construction.

The recently built facility has space for new equipment and a large lobby, both to help his patients have a bet-

They were married in January of 2006 after he had moved back and started working in Hicksville. They now have three children Briley (5), Hudsyn (3), and Carter (19 mos.) "My mother worked for a chiropractor and I was a exposed to the chiropractic field when I was young." Ryan explained how his interest in this field began. By the time he was in junior high he was certain this is what he wanted to pursue for his career.

Hicksville has been very welcoming to Dr. Bagley, "They have embraced us since we started. It's a very open community. We get to know our patients very well." Hicksville is not unfamiliar with chiropractic health to have a great resource and understanding of why chiropractic works.

Bagley Family Chiropractic is the first business on Old Mill Road and Ryan hopes more will come in. It will be a benefit to the Hicksville economy as well as to his office with the exposure.

"The blessings we have received with my wife and family including the love and support from my parents and siblings, including my in-laws has been incredible.' Ryan stated. His church family at Woodburn Missionary has been very supportive

Winning the Battle for a Generation by: Rick Jones, Defiance Area YFC

How would you respond if you were to lose all your earthly possessions? Consider with me what happened in a purported that took place at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago in 1923. A popular story recounts a meeting that may have taken place at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago in 1923. There is debate whether the meeting in fact occurred, but what is not in question is the actual rise and fall of the men featured in the story, who were nine of the richest men in the world at that time: (1) Charles Schwab, President of the world's largest independent steel company; (2) Samuel Insull, President of the world's largest utility company; (3) Howard Hopson, President of the largest gas firm; (4) Arthur Cutten, the greatest wheat speculator; (5) Richard Whitney, President of the New York Stock Exchange; (6) Albert Fall, member of the President's Cabinet; (7) Leon Frazier, President of the Bank of International Settlements; (8) Jessie Livermore, the greatest speculator in the Stock Market; and (9) Ivar Kreuger, head of the company with the most widely distributed securities in the world.

powerful and rich men twenty-five years later? (1) Charles Schwab had died in bankruptcy, having lived on borrowed money for five years before his death. (2) Samuel Insull had died virtually penniless after spending some time as a fugitive from justice. (3) Howard Hopson became insane. (4) Arthur Cutten died overseas, broke. (5) Richard Whitney had spent time in a mental asylum. (6) Albert Fall was released from prison so he could die at home. (7) Leon Fraizer, (8) Jessie Livermore, and (9) Ivar Kreuger each died by suicide. Measured by wealth and power these men achieved success, at least temporarily. But it did not surely guarantee them a truly successful life.

What happened to these

Many people think of fame and fortune when they measure success. However, at some point in life, most people come to realize that inner peace and soul-deep satisfaction come not from fame and money, but having lived a life based on integrity and noble character.

The scriptures put it this way, Matthew 6:33-34 (NLT), "Seek the Kingdom of God above all else, and live righteously, and he will give you everything you need. So don't worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will bring its own worries. Today's trouble is enough for today." (From a sermon by Sajeev

The 2014 Volunteer Training Seminar will be held at Hands of Hope on February 1st from 9:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. for anyone interested in learning more about the pregnancy center's work and would like to become a regular volunteer serving four hours a week. Please call 419-399-2447 for more information or to request an application from the Samaritan Center's building manager, Doug Roop, who is available in the building at 1030 W. Wayne Street, Paulding, or by email: yfcroop@yahoo.com. Hands of Hope Pregnancy Services opened its doors on March 1, 2013, in Paulding across from the hospital. In the past 10 months, they have served 16 young women with pregnancy tests, client support, and material assistance. This new pregnancy center has already presented these clients with an amazing total of 155 educational classes. Each client will take the four core topics about options and health issues in pregnancy. Many other classes are offered on prenatal information, child development and safety, healthy relationships, and also some Bible studies. The clients earn Baby Bucks to then use in the Baby Store starting in their 8th month of pregnancy. Hands of Hope will service the moms and their babies until the child's 1st birthday. The program is not a hand-out, but a handup so that the clients will gain self-worth while they learn proper parenting and other life skills. It's an exciting time for all the volunteers who serve at Hands of Hope to see their efforts bringing about good things in the lives of the women who come to the pregnancy center and their families. Hands of Hope provides free pregnancy testing, guidance and material assistance for pregnant women and teens, limited medical services with nurse consultations, and also confidential post abortion support for anyone who requests it. Referrals are given for medical or legal advice, also to WIC and other service agencies, and for adoption. In the near future, they will offer free first trimester ultrasounds under the direction of a medical director. The center is currently open on Fridays from 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. for walk-ins or by appointment. Hands of Hope is funded totally by contributions and is eager to build up its donor base of individuals, families, churches, and local business associates. Donations of money for new cribs and car seats and monthly contributions rational expenses are needed. The center welcomes community members to assist in providing diapers and necessary baby items for these clients. Receipts are given for all charitable contributions for tax purposes. 2014 will be a great year for the clients who come to Hands of Hope Pregnancy Services in Pauld-

WITNESSING THROUGH COMMUNITY

By: Regan Clem, Riverside Christian Church

Saint Patrick, who is remembered yearly by people wearing green and drinking green beer, has a tremendous story that exemplifies what the kingdom of God should be about. Patrick was taken prisoner by the Irish in a raid on England. One night, he escaped his prison and fled back to England. While back in the safety of England, he felt the call of God to go back to the people who imprisoned him in Ireland—the very people he had escaped from-and share the gospel. His ministry to the Irish was an amazing success, and Ireland became a nation filled with Christians. These Irish Christians interesting approach. They would establish a community filled with love for each other right outside of the town that they intended to reach for Jesus. They would welcome people, take care of people while taking care of each other, and their love would overflow into the neighboring town. It was through these healthy communities that mainland Europe was brought to the Lord. Not through some method of apologetics

then moved on to evangelize mainland Europe with an

like we often attempt to bring people to Jesus through. Not from solid doctrinal statements, which the church at that time was unsuccessfully using to reach people. They won Europe to the Lord by exemplifying the life together that should be normal for people living together in the kingdom of God.

The good news of the kingdom of God is about us being a healthy community that will focus on using our blessings from God to be a blessing to those around us.

Instead of a physical empire to conquer the world, Jesus established a kingdom that was to consist of communities of believers who would love the people in our world.

"Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, Jesus answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming in ways that can be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you," (Luke 17:20-21 ESV).

The kingdom of God, the kingdom we are citizens of if Jesus is our Lord, is "not coming with things that can be observed." This was strange to the original listeners. The Israelites were not expecting a different sort of kingdom. they wanted a kingdom that would free the nation of Israel from the rule of Rome and establish Israel as a physical power in the world again. Jesus' take on the kingdom was a countercultural take on the traditional concept of kingdom or nation, and it still is today. When we think (Continued on Page 5)

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Isn't this new health care system great? We finally get a health care that is reasonably affordable and our government has it so screwed up no one knows what is going on. I have been signed up for over a month now, haven't received my card or any confirmation that I am in the system yet. Only a letter from the company saying they hadn't received my payment yet though it was sent the day I signed up. Our government at work, having to debate whether we deserve the plan we opted for. We can bring someone from another country over, give them free health care and send them home no questions asked, but our own people are treated like we are asking for something for nothing. Our government could screw up a cannonball in a cotton field!

Then companies are cutting workers hours to part time so they won't have to pay insurance. Great "O'bummer' and your crooks, the people now have to pay their own insurance but they aren't making enough to do that and live on! You government crooks are guaranteed full health insurance at our cost but don't want to treat us as equals. Every person in our government should be removed from office and replaced with real people who will take care of the American people who put them there. Obama and his bunch are a bunch of liars who only care about themselves.

On a lighter note, the village workers in Paulding did a very good job of clearing the streets and even alleys after the last snowstorm especially in the bitterly cold weather. The snow started on Sunday and they were right on top of it and kept on it. Hopefully the town paid you well for your work and decided it was better to spend the money and keep the roads clear than try to save a nickel like the last snowfall. I was told that the money from the wind farms went to the county not just the town. Well, Paulding is a part of the county and should get their share to be used WISELY, and snow removal is a wise choice. Hang in there people, I'm sure we will eventually have health insurance as soon as the government feels we deserve it.

of a kingdom or nation, we think of a place with physical boundaries, a capital, a military, a human leader, laws to the keep the peace and the like. But God's kingdom is not what we would consider a normal kingdom. His kingdom has no boundaries, no capital, nor military. It has one high priest. His kingdom is not in the process of taking over the world and bringing about its will by force. His kingdom intends to transform this world by love and

God often surprises us by doing things differently than we would do them. He had Gideon lower the amount of soldiers in his army from 32,000 to 500 before invading another nation. He had Joshua conquer Jericho by marching and blowing trumpets. He saved the world by having Jesus die on a cross. In hindsight, his acts are glorious, just like his kingdom. But at the time, they seem to our mortal comprehension to be a little off.

Who would have ever thought that a kingdom could conquer the world with love and truth? Yet that is God's seemingly irrational plan. In hindsight, we can see that the plan has worked very well. And it will continue to work as long as people like us are faithful, surrender our lives to Jesus' will, and live lives of love together.

The kingdom of God was there among the Pharisees, yet it could not be seen in a physiis here among us. Although I live in America and am an American citizen, my true residence and citizenshipmy ultimate loyalty—is in another kingdom. All of us who profess to follow the lordship of Jesus are acknowledging that we are part of a kingdom that is among us, the people. Our primary nationality belongs to the kingdom of God, not to any of the kingdoms of this world. When the will of God contradicts the will of our nation, we gladly submit to the consequences of our nation while we rebel and do the will of God. And through radically following Jesus, no matter what the cost, we bring the kingdom of God into our broken reality. A city on a hill. The light of the world. Salt of cal and tangible way. And it

I invite you, if you are skeptical that the Good News is the kingdom, to read through the Bible and search for the truth. The good news of the kingdom is found throughout the New and Old Testament.

If you already believe that the good news is the kingdom, it is my hope that we will work together to be a more loving community and be a blessing to Antwerp, and from there to the rest of the world.

And I invite you, if you have not surrendered your life to the kingship of Christ and joined a community of believers, to make that decision and become a brother or sister in the kingdom of God. There is always room in the kingdom, but don't just stay in the doorway. It's crowded, and God has so much more in store for each of us.

Latta continued by adding, "with this decision, the Internet will continue to be the final frontier of free enterprise, innovation, and job creation—it should not be stifled with burdensome government regulations."

winning these days and today was no different. Okay, maybe it was different. "Why?" You asked. Because Woodlan has not won this tournament since the last century, 1997. Yes, it's been a long time in the making for the Warriors, now earning it's 11th ACAC championship.

I don't believe there was ever a point in the game where there was more than an 8 point difference, until the last quarter. I don't understand the thinking of the Garrett coach, John Bodey. With only 43 seconds left on the clock the score was only 3 points different between the Warriors and the Railroaders. Garrett starts the last minute foul routine so many teams use to try and keep the ball. I'm not sure if they knew who they were fouling, but Greg White wouldn't be the person to foul. He must have sunk 5 free throws in that last minute, maybe more, hitting all but one. He was on fire, totaling 12 of 14 free throws, and the Warriors were burning up the court! During one of the time outs when coach David Randall was telling the team what were going to do, a cheerleader back flipped to such a distance, she flipped right into the back of an assistant coach. We all needed an amusing diversion near such a stressful conclusion to the close match. The Woodlan cheerleaders always do a fine job supporting and promoting their team.

By the end of the game Woodlan was 8 points ahead and won 62-54. Coach Randall praised his entire team for the great job they did together. Congratulations to the entire team and the coach for creating a new pattern for future teams to follow.

OLD ANTWERP IN THE 1930'S AS I REMEMBER IT

By: Stan Jordan Washington Street west on the south side. We start at the corner of Washington and South Main as there were no houses on the south side of Washington Street extended. That big house on the corner, where Pastor Regan Clem lives, was built for Hattie Yager but there has been a number of renters there. The next house was the home of Lacey Traylor and Sam Hoover. The next house on the corner was the home of Harry Smith, across Cleveland Street was the home of James Corpening. The John Hertel family was next. The last house in that block was Herbert Seslar. Across Monroe Street was the home of Percy and Ressie Smith. I think his father, William Smith, lived with them. Ray (Zeke) Bissel was in the next house to the west. Sam Banks Sr. was the next house. Then there was a little house and I don't remember who lived there. A Miss Horn lived on the corner of Washington and Madison. Across the street Harry Parrot lived there for awhile but I don't know about the mid-1930's. The next house was the Hallock family, then there was a Mr. Fisher and then the Gerald Noll family lived there for years. Harry and Hattie Bissel lived in the next house. The Joe Swan family lived on the corner of Washington and Wilhelm. Dewey Fett lived across the street to the west, Charles Bissel lived next door (he was the mayor of Antwerp a number of times). In the next house some girls named Douglas lived, I don't remember their parents' names. The next house was the home of Jim Kessler. There were two more houses in that block but I can't remember any names. That takes us up to the Wentworth Road.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN ABOUT THE BALD EAGLE

Q: How long can an eagle live? How long does an eagle usually live?

A: That depends on what might happen to it! Unfortunately, any eagles don't live out the length of the life they are biologically capable of, due to a variety of factors. Contaminants, shooting, traps, cars, trains, wires (electrocution), collisions, and even other eagles, can cut an eagles' life short. Barring any of these events, an eagle is capable of living for 30 or more years. We captured an eagle in 2001 that we have banded in 1976, a female who was still breeding. Eagles held in captivity undoubtedly live longer than those in the wild, since they don't have the stresses that eagles in the wild face (such as finding food every day and defending their territory. Two reports exist of captive eagles living 47 years. See ya!

The Paulding County Jr. Fairboard recently attended the Ohio Fair Managers Conference in Columbus on January 11th during the Jr. Fair Day. The Paulding County Jr. Fairboard had 14 members attend this conference. They began their day with the general session which was an inspirational speaker and they watched the crowning of the 2014 Ohio Fair's Queen. After the general session, youth took part in a variety of different sessions. These sessions included learning about setting goals for themselves as well as the Jr. Fairboard, how to deal with challenging people, how to make a difference at your county fair as well as other topics.

The Paulding County Jr. Fairboard had four senior members take part in an all-day session called A Step Beyond-Experienced JFB Members Explore the World of Entertainment Contracts. This session provided youth the opportunity to work with other Jr. Fairboard members from around the state to provide entertainment for their mock fair. Youths were split up into groups where they got a specific budget and had to plan their entertainment for their fair. Youths got to work with trade show vendors, OFMA Board Members and OSU Extension professionals to explore the many aspects of the fair.

The purpose of this Jr. Fair day was to allow our Jr. Fairboard members to explore and generate ideas that they can bring back to the Paulding County Fair. All the Jr. Fairboard members had a great time meeting new people from around the state as well as attending sessions to help better the Paulding County Fair.

FIGHT BOREDOM EATING IN THE WINTER

The Nurturing Well by: Jill Starbuck

Winter months are the nemesis for dieters worldwide. Our bodies have to fight much harder to remain active and avoid the fatigue of shorter days and cabin fever. People who gain weight in the winter gain an average of 5-7 pounds. While this amount doesn't seem like a lot, if you've ever tried to lose weight you know that the pounds are much easier to put on than they are to take off. Even though we have to work a little harder in the winter to maintain a healthy weight, don't let boredom be your excuse for piling on the pounds.

We all know that keeping up with exercise, watching what we eat, and other criteria can help us avoid weight gain in the winter months. But what do we do about boredom? Even the most disciplined exercisers and healthy eaters can have a harder time in winter months due to boredom. Harder winters make it even trickier. Try the following methods to help you avoid weight gain simply from boredom eating.

• Drink water. If you find yourself grabbing something to eat just because you have nothing else to do, try drinking a glass of water first. Most times, you are simply looking for something to do and not really hungry. This is the top fail-safe method to avoid overeating.

• Try something new. Nobody says you should stop eating, but maybe you can try a new, healthier avenue. Challenge yourself to try a new fruit or vegetable every time you go to the grocery store. Stock up on these new food items and grab those during times of boredom rather than a bag of chips. You may be surprised what you discover as delicious and nutritious at the same time.

- Chew gum. A small piece of gum will keep your mouth busy and make you feel as if you are doing something. You may be less likely to pick up food if you've recently unwrapped a new piece of gum. However, be mindful that most gums have artificial
- Phone a friend. When you find yourself bored and ready to run to the cabinet, pick up the phone and call a friend instead. Or try chatting online to keep your hands busy. Before you know it, time slips away and your mind has been taken off food.
- Write it down. When you find yourself bored and thinking about food, write down what is occurring at the time. By writing it down, you can determine if there are specific patterns of boredom that lead you to food.

The biggest key to avoid boredom eating is remaining conscious of what you are doing and why you are doing it. Before you know it, the winter months will be over and you'll be more active. In the meantime, recognize boredom and how you associate it with food.

WHAT DO EMPLOYERS WANT FROM INDIANA?

By: State Sen. Dennis Kruse (R-Auburn)

As we begin the 2014 legislative session, one of our top priorities as lawmakers is working to create a businessfriendly environment for employers to grow and hire hardworking Hoosiers.

Since 2005, our state has passed major initiatives aimed at improving Indiana's economic climate. Policies that support employers can help encourage them to set up shop or expand in our state. Area Development Magazine – a leading executive magazine covering corporate site selection and relocation - recently conducted a survey of corporate executives asking various questions about what factors they look into before relocating their busi-

The survey respondents were asked to rank 35 site selection and quality-of-life factors based on importance. The top five most important factors were:

- Highway accessibility
- Labor costs
- Availability of skilled
- Availability of advanced information and communication technology services
  - Ratings of public schools

The goal of this survey was to show states what they can do to attract new investments and bring jobs to their residents. Lawmakers often find these types of surveys helpful when framing policies that encourage business growth.

Here in Indiana, continuing to build on our strong business climate is an ongoing conversation. One of my Senate colleagues recently filed a legislative proposal to boost Hoosier job and economic growth by reducing the state's corporate income tax and business personal property tax.

The business personal property tax is a tax levied on business equipment, from heavy machinery to printers and office furniture. The Senate proposal would also exempt small businesses from personal tax liability if they have less than $25,000 of personal property in a county. The idea behind the tax reduction is to lower costs for employers who are trying to expand and invest in the

The Senate's plan also reduces the corporate income tax rate to 4.9 percent by July 1, 2019. Once fully implemented, this would put $132 million back into the private sector economy annually.

These tax cuts would build upon Indiana's pro-growth tax climate to make Indiana even more attractive to businesses that employ Hoosiers. If this proposal is passed it would give Indiana the second-lowest corporate income tax rate, and the overall eighth-best business tax climate in the nation.

reduction.

What do you think?

The state is able to pass tax cuts because we've been 195 – Alex Hinojosa (T) responsible with spending and have built up a surplus. I def. forfeit 220 - Derek Smith (T) will do my best to ensure that local governments aren't significantly affected by any tax

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR THE UNEXPECTED?

Financial Focus by: Phil Recker, Edward Jones Advisor

When you're working to achieve your financial objectives, you will encounter obstacles. Some of these can be anticipated — for example, you won't be able to invest as much as you want for retirement because you have to pay for your mortgage. Other challenges can't be easily anticipated, but you can still plan for them — and you should.

Obviously, the word "unexpected," by definition, implies an unlimited number of possibilities. However, at different stages of your life, you may want to watch for some "expected" unexpected developments.

For example, during your working years, be prepared for the following:

- Emergency expenses If you needed a major car or home repair, could you handle it? What about a temporary job loss? These events are costly — especially if you are forced to dip into your longterm investments to pay for them. To help guard against these threats, try to build an emergency fund containing six to 12 months' worth of living expenses, held in a liquid, low-risk account.
- Investment risk and market volatility — Extreme price swings are unpredictable, and they can affect your investment success. To defend yourself against wild gyrations in the market, build a diversified portfolio containing quality investments.

While diversification, by itself, can't protect against loss or guarantee profits, it can help reduce the effect of volatility on your portfolio. And here's one more thing you can do to cope with the ups and downs of investing: Maintain a long-term perspective. By doing so, you won't be tempted to overreact to short-term

Long-term disability — One-third of all people between the ages of 30 and 64 will become disabled at some point, according to the Health Insurance Association of America. Disabilities can be economically devastating. As part of your benefits package, your employer may offer some disability insurance, but you may need to supplement it with private coverage.

 Premature death None of us can really predict our longevity. If something happens to you, would your family be able to stay in your home? Could your children still attend college? To protect these goals, you need adequate life insurance.

As you approach retirement, and during your retirement years, you may want to focus on these challenges:

- Living longer than expected — You probably don't think that "living longer than expected" is necessarily a bad thing. However, a longer-than-anticipated life span also carries with it the risk of outliving your money. Consequently, you may want to consider investment solutions that can provide you with an income stream that you can't outlive. Also, you'll need to be careful about how much you withdraw each year from your various retirement and investment accounts.
- Need for long-term care — If you had to stay a few years in a nursing home, the cost could mount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. These expenses could jeopardize your financial security, so you'll need to protect yourself. You could "self-insure," but as that would be extremely costly, you may want to "transfer the risk" to an insurance company. A financial professional can help explain None of us can foresee all the events in our lives. But in your role as an investor, you can at least take positive steps to prepare for the unexpected and those steps should lead you in the right direction as you move toward your important goals.

Vantage Career Center offers 16 different high school career tech programs in business, trade and industry and service! Over the next few weeks, you'll have the chance to learn a little about each program. Today's article is about three specialized business programs offered at Van-

For the technologically creative and artistic student, the Interactive Media program offers exciting opportunities. Interactive Media is the study of a combination of elements such as music, sound, computer-generated graphics, and video used for purposes of entertainment, presentation, or advertising. Careers in Interactive Media involve creating, designing, and producing interactive multimedia products and services, including the development of digitally-generated or computer- enhanced media used in business. Students become skilled in manipulating images and information from a variety of sources including audio, video, still photos, animation, text, soundtracks and digital data using computer applications and visual and sound techniques. Internet applications and website creation are also included in this program. Students create a personalized portfolio of projects to demonstrate to employers and colleges the range of skills they possess.

Students interested in the Medical office field can get a head start in the Medical Office Management program, where they will learn business skills, accounting, medical terminology, abbreviations and Anatomy/Physiology. Students develop skills in medical transcription, accounting systems and procedures and learn the importance of medical coding and billing for insurance purposes. Students also learn specialized software, document formatting and computer applications. The demand is great for students with this educational background. Interested in seeing how a computer and its systems

work from the inside out? The Network Systems program provides students with the opportunity to work on new technology and equipment while learning to make basic repairs, network management and troubleshooting within the system. They design, build, install and repair complex computer network systems, develop programming skills for mobile apps, games, and robotics, and investigate computer forensics and information security software to keep systems safe. All Vantage programs provide students with the opportunity to prepare for further education and possibly earn college credits through articulation agreements with local colleges.

If you or someone you know is interested in finding out about career opportunities in any of these fields or have questions about the business programs at Vantage, please call Mike Knott, Student Services Supervisor at 419-238-5411 or 800-686-3944 ext. 2032 or email him at knott.m@vantagecareercenter.com.

LATTA SPONSORED BIPAR-TISAN BILL PASSES HOUSE UNANIMOUSLY

Wednesday, January 8, the U.S. House of Representatives passed unanimously H.R. 724, a bipartisan bill sponsored by Congressman Bob Latta (R-OH), to repeal a duplicative mandate on auto dealers. Cosponsored by Congressman Gary Peters (D-MI), this legislation is the result of bipartisan cooperation. "H.R. 724 is simple, direct, and sends a clear message that hardworking American taxpayers, and specifically auto dealers, should not be burdened with redundant regulatory requirements. This legislation will make the carbuying process a little simpler and let auto dealers spend less time complying with obsolete regulatory requirements and more time developing their businesses, investing in local communities and creating jobs. As this legislation represents, finding ways to reduce unnecessary red tape is not only a policy goal both sides of the aisle can agree on, but it is a policy goal that can actually get done," said Congressman Latta.

Under the current regulation, the Clean Air Act requires auto dealers to present purchasers of new light-duty motor vehicles with written confirmation that the vehicle's emissions system passed either a visual inspection or on-board-diagnostics This requirement has been superseded by standard use of catalytic converters and new vehicle warranties that offer much more coverage than when the agency requirement was first enacted. Further, other statutory measures require new vehicles comply with the Clean Air Act before entering the stream of commerce and information provided by the certificate is available to consumers under the hood or on the Internet.

LATTA LEGISLATION HOLDS FED. FACILITIES ACCOUNT-ABLE FOR CLEAN-UP

The U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation that included a bill sponsored by Congressman Bob Latta (R-Bowling Green), the Federal Facilities Accountability Act. This legislation will ensure federal facilities are held to the same level of accountability as private facilities when it comes to cleaning-up the release of toxic substances under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA).

"Some of the most pressing environmental problems exist at current and former federal facilities and States have come a long way in developing strong regulatory programs to protect public health, safety and the environment. It makes sense for federal agencies to comply with these state environmental laws and to clean up contamination at federal facilities to the same standards as everyone else. By updating and bringing clarity to the CERCLA clean-up process, this legislation will result in a streamlined, more efficient government and a more effective use of hard-earned taxpayer dollars," said Congressman Latta.

Current ambiguities around the interpretation of the sovereign immunity provision in CERCLA have resulted in some federal facilities skirting their CERCLA clean-up responsibilities. The Federal Facilities Accountability Act fixes this problem by specifically identifying the types of State procedural and substantive requirements that are applicable to the Federal government under the law. This approach will ensure states have the appropriate amount of involvement and oversight in federal agency cleanups.

SPACES AVAILABLE FOR CERTIFIED FISHING IN-STRUCTOR WORKSHOP IN FINDLAY

Spaces are available for educators, leaders, or conservation clubs who have a sincere interest in taking kids fishing and want to become certified fishing instructors, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR), Division of Wildlife. A free workshop is available Saturday, February 1, 2014, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and will take place at Wildlife District Two Office, 952 Lima Avenue, Findlay, OH 45840. Passport to Fishing is a one-day instructor training program that qualifies individuals to become Division of Wildlife certified fishing instructors. All participants will need to pass a background check before being certified.

Passport to Fishing was developed by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and adopted by the Recreational Boating and Fishing Foundation. Workshops teach volunteers the basics of fishing and how to run a four-station fishing program with a fishing event. These instructors then go back to their communities, with a written curriculum and training aids, to teach youngsters and beginning anglers the basics of fishing.

By becoming a certified instructor, attendees will not only be able to help in reconnecting students with the outdoors, but will also have the skills and resources to do it in a more successful way. Resources available include grants, equipment, brochures, and training.

To register for the workshop, please call Linda at 419-429-8347 by January 24. For additional class information, visit www.wildohio.com.

OHIO WATERFOWL HUNT-ERS INVITED TO OFFER FEEDBACK FOR UPCOMING SEASONS

Ohio waterfowl hunters have the opportunity to provide input on next season's hunting regulations through an online survey, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR).

Survey topics include the timing of the 2014-2015 waterfowl hunting seasons and hen mallard bag limits. The survey will be available at wildohio.com beginning Monday, January 20, and must be completed by Friday, February 14. The survey contains approximately 25 questions and should take less than 10 minutes to complete.

The Ohio Wildlife Council establishes season dates and other regulations in the summer after federal guidelines are provided for the 2014-2015 waterfowl hunting seasons. Input will be used so hunting opportunities can be matched to the preferences of as many hunters as possible within the constraints of federal guidelines.

Similar information was solicited from Ohio waterfowl hunters in 2013 and used to set the 2013-2014 hunting season dates. A full report and a summary of the report are available at wildohio.com on the Waterfowl Hunting Resources

Similar to last year, Ohio Wetlands Habitat Stamp buyers who purchased a hunting license and have provided a valid email address will be emailed an invitation to take the survey in an effort to increase awareness and participation.

Hunters will need their customer identification number to take the survey. The identification number is found on all Ohio hunting and fishing licenses or at wildohio.com. Ohio Wetlands Habitat Stamp customers who wish to provide an email address to receive future invitations can do so by visiting wildohio.com and clicking the Wild Ohio Customer Center.

Warriors Evan Gustin and Caleb Stieglitz fight for to keep the ball in Woodlan possession. More pictures at westbend-

This first round of the ACAC tournament started on Tuesday, January 14 at the Warrior home court. This game was nothing like the girls', being fast paced, with both teams on fire. Woodlan took an early lead, but Leo came back and surpassed the Woodlan score ending the first quarter at 13-19.

While the Warriors scored well in the second quarter, Leo didn't slow down the pace of their baskets and kept the pressure on the home team, leading the half-time score at 44-36.

It was a different team for the second half of the game as the Warriors brought the house down. Woodlan outscored Leo by nearly double in the third quarter with both seniors Kadin Gerig and Jaylin Bennett pulling the points out of the basket.

Starting the fourth quarter the game was close and Leo tried to take back the momentum that was ripped away by the Warriors, but it was fruitless with Woodlan once again outscoring the Lions and taking the win at 83-76.
