WAYNE TRACE FILLS TWO TEACHING POSITIONS

HAVILAND - With the 2018-19 school year fast approaching the Wayne Trace Local School board met in special session on July 30 at 7:00 a.m. The purpose of the meeting was to fill two teaching positions within the district and to act on the two recommendations by Super-approved one-year contracts for Caitlyn Schmidt and Kelly Foster. Schmidt will be the new music teacher at Grover Hill Elementary while Foster will be a sixth grade teacher at Payne Elementary.

Schmidt has been teaching most recently at Wauseon Elementary while Foster taught at Van Wert. Winans noted that Foster had taken the last few years off from the classroom but has been a teacher since 1995. 'I am excited that we were able to secure experienced teachers at such a late date. Schmidt is a Wayne Trace grad and is looking forward to coming back to the district and Foster has classroom experience so I feel fortunate to have them here in our district," said Winans.

At this time, all positions in the districts are filled with the exception of the elementary guidance counselor.

That position is still open and will be posted for another week. It's getting late in the summer but once we go through the process and if we have a qualified candidate we will move forward at our regular meeting on August 20," Winans commented.

The superintendent also noted he had received word from Western Buckeye ESC that Wayne Trace had received grant funding for the 21st Century program. The program is an after school tutoring and mentoring opportunity for students.

OAKWOOD ARBOR #759 HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

Oakwood Arbor #759 members held their monthly meeting at the Twin Oaks Fellowship Hall July 23, 2018.

Every year the group honors 2 or 3 people who have been actively involved in the community. This year's honors go to Mandi Woods and Ellen Stahl. Both ladies received a clock and an annuity from the Gleaner Insurance Co. who supports the Arbor with quarterly donations. Arbor has been in the Oakwood area for several years and the mission is always to make the community look a little better, support the schools, help those who are dealing with a severe illness and the list is endless. These two ladies had an extensive resume of volunteering.

The sponsored bus trip to the Ark Encounter is filled just waiting for August 11, 2018 to arrive. The bus will arrive at Oakwood Park along state route 66 before 7:00 a.m. and will arrive back in Oakwood around 8:00 p.m. The Red Cross Bloodmobile sponsored by the Arbor and held at the John Paulding Historical Society was a suc cess on July 11, 2018. The nurses were hoping for 14 people to donate blood at this critical time of the year and a total of 16 pints was collected.

We were Enlighted on other activities in the last couple months. Quarterly the group strolls the roadside north of Oakwood to pick up trash, sponsored ice cream treats to the students at Oakwood elementary for their Memorial Day Program, helped to clean the Buckeye Trail, planted flowers in and around Oakwood and recently named the trees and placed a plaque in honor of Oakwood residents who also made a great impression. In and around Oakwood area. On June 23rd a boat safety class was held at the home of Arbor member Mary and Al-

HELPING HANDS AT THE PAYNE COMMUNITY PARK

JPHS Jr Historian, Addie Etzler, paints the tables red in her volunteer work at the Payne Community Park on Saturday.

Jacob Stouffer and Matthew Stouffer from the Wayne Trace Football team drive in rebar to secure the perimeter.

Helping Hands were in abundance on Saturday, July 28th at the Payne Community Park. Volunteers from several entities threw their hats in the ring to lend a hand to beautify the park with needed maintenance and repairs. Payne village council member, Lyn Collis is the chairman of the Parks committee, and she coordinated this Helping Hands day. Volunteers of the day included: Payne Mayor; Village Council members; John Paulding Historical Society Jr Historians Club; Wayne Trace HS Football team and Coaches; and Taylor Made Glass employees - around 40-45.

Work items on the agenda to be completed this day were repainting old playground equipment, installing a safe rubber border and pea gravel, painting picnic tables, painting dugouts, trimming trees, and installing safety lights and cameras. The atmosphere in the park among the workers could be heard with friendly banter between groups with wise guidance encouraging one another with completing their projects. Working together for a common goal is what small town community is all about and it was pleasantly demonstrated in Payne on Saturday.

GOD IN YOU

By: Doris Applegate

A little boy was drawing a picture and when asked what he was drawing he said, "I'm drawing God!" His teacher said that "no one has ever seen God and so we don't know what He looks like." "Well they will when I'm done." He replied.

I love this story.

I see God in so many ways...people doing the so called "small stuff" for others. There is one thing for sure: Our enemy, Satan, will not encourage anyone to do good! He comes "to kill, steal and destroy" but Jesus Christ came "to give us abundant life!" We are born again by the Holy Spirit, then we become "shining lights" in a dark and sinful world. "Let your light so shine before men that they may your good works and glorify your Father who is in Heaven." (Matthew 5:16). The following verse may inspire you.

Let God be seen in you to-

By everything you do and For there are many on your path Who are discouraged and so sad

All they need is just a smile Just a hand to lift a load Just a touch of love from

To change their day by what you do So realize that it is you

God needs to spread some cheer Because we are his hands and feet Left here on earth to dry some tears What a privilege that we have To show the love of God

All is tallied, and records In the realms of heaven

USDA INVESTS IN RURAL COMMUNITY FACILITIES IN 22 STATES

Assistant to the Secretary for Rural Development Anne Hazlett announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is investing $17.4 million in 41 projects (PDF, 154 KB) that will provide essential services for rural communities in 22 states. "Rural America represents a wealth of opportunity from farms to tourism, forestry, mining and manufacturing," Hazlett said. "At USDA, our mission is to be a catalyst to bring those opportunities to life - whether building infrastructure, helping communities to attract jobs, accessing additional capital, or improving the quality of life in these towns." USDA is making the investments through the Community Facilities Direct Loan Program. The funding helps rural areas purchase, construct or improve essential facilities. An essential community facility is one that provides a necessary service for the orderly development or operation of a rural community, such as schools, libraries, health care facilities, day care centers and infrastructure improvements. For example:

United Community Health Center, Inc. in Storm Lake, Iowa, is receiving a $1.9 million loan to renovate and expand a health center serving approximately 4,000 people. The current facility lacks adequate exam rooms and sufficient space for the staff to operate at peak efficiency. The expanded number of exam rooms will improve the flow of business by allowing the staff to clean rooms and collect patient information prior to the physician's consultation. United has also increased its behavioral health services and needs additional treatment space, especially for patients who misuse opioids or other substances. The Springerville Municipal Property Corporation in Springerville, Ariz., is receiving a $350,000 loan and a $50,000 grant to purchase a commercial property. The 47,045-square-foot parcel contains a building on Main Street with 10,919 square feet. It will house the police and fire departments. Currently, the two departments are in different locations, and their work spaces are not sufficient for staff and equipment. Co-locating the departments will allow the town to save money on utility and maintenance costs. The loan and grant will serve residents in Apache County, which is one of the poorest in the state.

The Loogootee Public Library in Loogootee, Ind., will use a $1.1 million loan to construct a new public library for the 5,853 residents of Rutherford and Perry townships. The current 600-square-foot library is too small and lacks sufficient space for meeting rooms, research, special projects or computer connections. The upgraded facility will give schools in the area another resource for their students.

The projects that are being announced will help improve the quality of life for more than 220,000 rural residents in Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, New York, Ohio,

More than 100 types of projects are eligible for USDA Community Facilities funding. Eligible applicants include municipalities, public bodies, nonprofit organizations and federally and state-recognized Native American tribes. Applicants and projects must be in rural areas with a population of 20,000 or less. Loan amounts have ranged from $10,000 to $165 million.

The Fiscal Year (FY) 2018 Omnibus spending bill increased the budget for the Community Facilities Direct Loan and Grant program to $2.8 billion, up $200 million from FY 2017.

In April 2017, President Donald J. Trump established the Interagency Task Force on Agriculture and Rural Prosperity to identify legislative, regulatory and policy changes that could promote agriculture and prosperity in rural communities. In January 2018, Secretary Perdue presented the Task Force's findings to President Trump. These findings included 31 recommendations to align the federal government with state, local and tribal governments to take advantage of opportunities that exist in rural America. Increasing investments in rural infrastructure is a key recommendation of the task force.

HSA FIX BACKED BY LATTA INCLUDED IN HOUSE PASSED HEALTH CARE BILLS

Congressman Bob Latta (R-Bowling Green) joined his colleagues in the U.S. House of Representatives in voting to pass two bills expanding access to Health Savings Accounts (HSAs) and providing patients with more health care options. Included in H.R. 6311, the Increasing Access to Lower Premium Plans and Expanding Health Savings Account Act, was a provision to allow seniors with HSA-eligible coverage that are enrolled in Medicare Part A to contribute to an HSA. This will provide working seniors more options by allowing them to stay on an employer sponsored plan if they choose. Latta had authored legislation to fix this issue after hearing from married constituents who were automatically enrolled in Medicare Part A after one of them began receiving social security benefits.

In addition, H.R. 6311 delays Obamacare's health insurance tax for two years in 2020 and 2021. According to the Congressional Budget Office, the health insurer tax increases insurance premiums by 2.5%. The tax is already suspended for 2019. It also would change Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA) by allowing balances to carry forward up to three times the annual contribution limit. Currently, only $500 contributed to an FSA is eligible to be carried over to the next year according to Internal Revenue Service regulations.

The House also passed H.R. 6199, the Restoring Access to Medication and Modernizing Health Savings Accounts Act, which makes it easier for Americans to use their HSAs and reduce the burden of high health care costs. For instance, the bill will allow HSA-eligible plans to offer a certain amount of first-dollar coverage while still maintaining HSA eligibility. This would provide more flexibility for plans to cover high-value, low-cost services like telehealth or primary care appointments without a deductible. The bill also would allow the use of HSAs to pay for over-thecounter products without needing to obtain a prescription.

Latta also joined his bipartisan colleagues in passing H.R. 184, the Protect Medical Innovation Act, which fully repeals the 2.3% excise tax on medical devices. According to the Tax Foundation, the tax lowered research and development spending by $34 million in

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am so happy when the West Bend News has L-F days. (Latta Free!) Mis-Rep Bob is only self-promoting himself in every article he submits!

While Trump and his horse and pony show is trashing our allies, screwing our farmers with trade wars, going back to poisoning our nation's environment, and crawling in bed with the Russians, Mis-Rep Bob is trying to sound like he walks on water, raises the dead, and has absolutely a perfect outlook on every issue in front of him...EXCEPT those issues that truly matter! He's forgot the real constituents in the 5th district, he's bought and paid for by the Koch Bros., the NRA (National Russian Association, led by a traitor and convicted felon, Oliver North!) and he's beholden only to those large money contributors he's no longer oblidged to list by name! (dark money, thanks to our not so supreme court)

We have a good chance to correct this $174,000 error, even if he draws this huge pension and lifetime insurance when he leaves office! Mis-Rep Bob is so out of touch with the common people in our district, and has no real record of any issues that really affect our district. He shows up for photo ops like he's watched out for the people in his district, then hides in Washington and collects huge amounts of campaign money and lives "above" the people in this district! There's no record that shows his hatred of "job-killing regulations "has actually lowered the unemployment rates in our district, but it did raise his personal wealth immensely! (I want him to prove otherwise to our 5th district residents!) One party rule has wrecked our economy, trashed many safety nets, lost our farmers revenue by not standing up to stupid tariffs his POTUS has stabbed our economy with, and going along with massive cuts to the VA, Medicare and Medicaid, trashing a healthcare program which, while not perfect, did relieve the high rates the rest of us paid to our insurance in co-pays and Mis-Rep Bob is a shiny example of what is wrong with our district's representation! The old days of Sam Rayburn's "to get along, you got to go along" should be a thing of the past! Mis-Rep Bob only represents his campaign contributors, not the majority of our district! There's a new candidate who's running for the 5th district, and while he's from a political family with a long history of service to their constituents, he's got new ideas on justice, fairness, and prosperity for the 5th district...Michael Galbraith. Look him up, go listen to him speak and you'll see a great difference of what we have compared to what we need in our district.

Just east of Paulding, as you travel down the Charloe Trail, you will come to the Village of Charloe. A small quaint village that boasts of R and B Fabrication, the Charloe store and gas station and a small park that welcomes travelers, and local residents. The Big Auglaize River flows along the eastern side of Charloe making it a summer residence for campers.

The park has a shelter house and picnic tables and a playground. But like all parks, it needs some love.

A container was placed at the Charloe store for people to donate their coins or dollars to continue the upkeep of the park.

Over time around $700.00 was collected. A big shout out to everyone who helped to raise this amount. Now the grass can be mowed and the electricity will be paid along with whatever upkeep needs to be done.

Charloe Park also has a resident named Charloe Pete.

Pete is a Native American Indian and for many years his picture was painted on a rock. This needs to be refreshed. It is hoped that someone might step forward and paint Charloe Joe. Please contact John Pier 419-594-2750 if you can help in anyway.

As you lay on the ground in a tight fitting shooting coat, cuddling with your rifle, you clutch a single round of ammunition in your hand, you go over a mental check list: Sling on tight? Rifle sights "zeroed"? Correct number of rounds to be shot at hand? Just then your concentration is broken by the range officer barking out "Ready on the left! Ready on the right! All ready on the firing line! You may fire on my command... fire" As you shoulder your rifle, the air is filled with the sounds of 223,308 and 30-06 rifles firing, but you hardly notice, looking through your sights, squeeze the trigger and you grin as the shot breaks because you just know you shot you first "X" of the day, now just 19 more shots to go, this is what you live for.

On July 28th, 10 competitors gathered at the Antwerp Conservation Club, to try there shooting skills in a 50 shot high power rifle match.

The course of fire is easy, from 150 yards, using reduced sized targets to look like 300 yards, you have 20 minutes to fire 20 shots ,slow prone (laying on the ground), then you fire 10 shots in 80 seconds, rapid prone, starting from standing, we moved forward to the 100 yard line, and fired 10 shots in 80 seconds rapid fire sitting, the match ends with 10 shots in 10 minutes fired offhand (standing unsupported).

With a best possible score of 500-50x (there is a small circle inside the 10 ring with an "X" in it, used for the tie breaker) several competitors shot in the "400's" for there combined score.

This 50 shot rifle match is very similar to the matches held by the National Rifle Association (NRA) and the Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) With increasing firearms ownership, these rifle matches are growing in popularity at both the club level and at the National Match level.

WAHOO IS NO LONGER A CHIEF

By: Stan Jordan

I get asked once in a while about the Cleveland Indians and also the Reds.

Well the Indians have a good ball club, the pitching is good I would say above average, but now and then the bull pen will let the pitchers down.

I've hollered about that all summer, but the Indians, as of today, July 23 are 10 games above 500 percent. Doggone that is still pretty good aver-

I got me a new Indians ball cap the other day. It still has the logo of Chief Wahoo on it, but I understand that is not to be used anymore. I don't see any harm in the use of that, but there probably is.

But getting back to the Indians if they can continue to play as good as they are now, when it comes down to the end of September, then maybe improve a little bit, all they have to do is beat those two teams at the east coast.

We can beat the Yankees and the Red Sox, but we have to continue to play good ball and be aggressive.

Last night was Monday, July 23rd the Indians had an interleague game with the Pittsburg Pirates. For a few minutes the Indians looked like a little league team. Let me tell you how quick things can go bad.

Pittsburg had a man on first and one out. The batter then hit a hot grounder to the second baseman, a chance for an inning ending double play, but he had trouble getting the ball out of his glove so they only had time to get the man going to second base, only one out instead of a double

The pitcher got the next man to pop up by the pitcher's mound and all five of the in fielders crowed around and let the ball drop for an infield hit, this dumb action gave the Pirates five outs, cause the inning would have been over. Well things went bad and before they got the third out the Pirates had 7 runs.

There are three or four real bad things here that shouldn't See ya!

MARY JO AND I

By: Stan Jordan

This story goes right along with last week's story on the Koch boys and families from the Warden Road in Scipio Township over in Indiana. I retired from the route back in 1981 and this story was sometime before that.

There was a couple of Koch families living on Warden Road, but this story is about a pretty little blonde girl that would come out to see me every day and I looked forward to seeing her also.

This little girl was Wilber Koch's daughter named Mary Jo and by now she is a mother and grandmother.

I took a day off and went to Detroit to see a baseball game, so I had my sub to run the route that day. So, when we went to the post office the next morning, my sub was there to tell me of yesterday's 'goings on". Everything went fine, when I got to Wilbur's mail box Mrs. Koch came out to see me. She said, "Yesterday Mary Jo put on her new dress and waited by the mail box to show you her new dress, she was so proud of it, and when the mail man came it wasn't you. She was all excited to show you, but it didn't work out that way and she was heart broken."

I felt like a louse to hurt that child, but I didn't know about her being at the mail box that day. I just didn't do anything wrong, but it was all wrong for Mary Jo.

Well, Mrs. Koch went back to the house and I went on down the road, but I was sure shook up. I just didn't know or I would not have gone to the ball game. I could have

Well, Mary Jo didn't come out to see me for a couple of days, but then she did wait for me with a little orange dum dum sucker like you get at the bank and soon we were the best of friends again.

It was people like those on Warden Road that made my job the best job in the world.

When you have an outing on the street or park it is a law that you must have places available for people to rest and refresh themselves and that just makes sense that you have enough of those handy little gadgets to get the job

The Bathroom Issue

Your guests will forgive poor food, weak beverages, and an out-of-tune band. They won't care that they parked in a cornfield or couldn't find a place to sit. What they will never forgive, however, is the lack of facili-

Food, drinks, entertainment—these are luxuries. Having a facility to use when nature calls? Now, that's a necessity. Nothing kills an outdoor event faster than an agonizingly long line to use the porta john. Line up your portable restroom rentals first. You can plan a potluck or truck in a cooler, but you won't be able to supply your own portable toilets.

Before calling to find out portable bathroom availability, ask yourself these questions:

- 1. How many people are attending the event? The minimum requirement for portable restrooms is one porta john per 100 people for up to four hours. However, that's a basic estimate. Longer than four hours? More than 100 people? Serving alcohol? You'll need more porta pot-
- 2. Will there be a higher percentage of women than men? Take a good, hard look at your guest list. Do you have more women on your list than men? If you do, you'll need more porta potties than the average event. If you have an extremely high percentage of women (a women's retreat, for example, or a bridal shower), you'll need to plan on having for more portable restrooms.
- 3. Are you serving alcohol at the event? If you answered "yes" to both #3 and #4, then you'll need to plan on having three portable toilets for every 100 attendees for events after four hours.
- 4. How long will the event last? Obviously, the longer the event, the more people will have to "go." After four hours, you'll need two portable toilets per 100 people.

They were never meant to be restful, just for you to get the job done. The guy who invented the Port – A – Potty is the same refugee from an insane asylum that designed the rest room in a jet air liner, no knowledge at all that some people are not tall and skinny.

If you sit on the stool they slam the door in your face and spread your knees apart till you are flat against the wall and roll of paper is jammed into your mouth. You are very uncomfortable and you soon say, "To hell with this, I'm getting out of here. I will just have to be extra careful till we get on the ground in Phoenix."

That goes back to the old timers saying: you are either a pointer or a sitter, there is no in between.

I observed a smart young father in the terminal, he had six kids and they were flying to Spokane, Washington and he lined them up at the restroom door and each one was given 10 minutes in the restroom, if you needed it or not. To me that father had been over the ropes, but he had learned from doing.

THOSE BLUE DRIVING LIGHTS

By: Stan Jordan

I hear that those blue headlights on our automobiles might soon be outlawed. That can't come soon enough for me. I've heard that they have already passed a bill over in Indiana to do away with In my way of thinking, the powers that be should have never allowed the auto industry to put those blue lights on the new cars to start with. We older folks are darn near blinded by their brightness, it is down right miserable to meet them at night. All the police people talk safety on the highway, well get rid of those blue lights or any other extra bright light. Get off the safety belt pressure and do something about those bright blue lights. Any and every law enforcement officer and politician should ask their own parents or grandparents about the discomfort when meeting a car with those type of headlights.

To me this is so obvious, so dangerous they should be outlawed at once.

PAYNE ELEMENTARY NAMES ITS NEW PRINCIPAL

HAVILAND - In a special meeting of the Wayne Trace School District the board unanimously approved Paul Jones as the new Payne Elementary principal. Jones received a three-year contract and will replace former principal Jody Dunham who recently retired.

Most recently, served as the high school principal at Edgerton this past school year. Prior to his one-year stint at Edgerton, Jones served as the elementary principal for five years at North Central in Pioneer.

"I have lived in Edgerton all my life and when the high school principal position came available at Edgerton I thought it would be a good move. It was a good experience but I realized that I missed the elementary age students and when the Payne opportunity opened up I felt it would be a good way to get back to my true passion," said a concentration in Elementary Education and History in 2000. Upon graduation he received certification in Elementary Education (grade 1-8). In 2005 Jones received his Masters in Educational Leadership and Administration at Bowling Green State

Jones started his teaching career at North Central where he was in the classroom at the elementary level from 2001-

"My passion is with the elementary age group. When I was away from them last year I really missed them. Being from Edgerton and the tie between Edgerton and Wayne Trace in the Green meadows Conference, I knew about Wayne Trace. I have a sincere admiration for the Wayne Trace district. I am comfortable in a rural setting and getting back to the elementary age kids is exciting. I believe Wayne Trace and Payne Elementary is a good fit for me,"

Jones is married and he and his wife Melinda, an early intervention specialist at Edgerton, have three sons and a daughter.

An avid Ohio State and Bowling Green fan, Jones realizes that he may be getting a late start to his new position but is excited about working with the Payne staff.

"I really don't think the later-than-usual start and making the transition will be that difficult. I am excited about the new school year and working with the elementary age students," Jones concluded.

23RD ANNUAL MIHSIHKI-NAAHKWA POW WOW AT MORSCHES PARK, COLUM-BIA CITY, IN

This year's Mihsihkinaahkwa Pow Wow will offer both an educational and cultural event. We will start the week end with Adam Strack and Mike Mowry on Friday evening, 8/10. This is a concert with Adam and Mike singing with guitar accompaniment. It will be an entertaining evening for all in attendance. Start time is 7P.M. with gates opening at 5P.M, so there is time to enjoy a buffalo burger and visit our 38 vendors before the concert. Soarin' Hawk will be in the family tent from 6 to 8pm. They will have demonstrations with their birds of prey.

8/11-The Pow Wow is open from 10 A.M. until 9P.M.

On going events both Saturday and Sunday: 38 vendors with Native American products and crafts, as well as traditional food favorites, such as buffalo burgers and fry bread. Stop by the Kennedy's booth and watch Ken make arrow heads by flint knapping. Visit the family tent with scheduled demonstrations in the afternoon. Soarin' Hawk will be with us from 10 am -12noon. Adam Strack will perform at 11:00 am and 4pm. Bid at the silent auction for that special gift or try your luck for a Pendleton blanket, all under the information tent. GRAND EN-TRY -dancers in regalia enter the arena at 1:00 pm and 6:30 pm. Watch the dancers feet, when the MC announces everybody dance, you are invited into the arena to dance along with the dancers-fun

Ohio Sesquicentennial Farm is an intriguing title for a farm, but it has deep meaning to many in the Zuber family, the Steve and Sandy Zuber family, that is. The farm's dba is Carryall Farms and Carryall Seeds, and in all the generations of Zuber farming is set to celebrate its 168th year this year.

Six generations of Zubers have been farmers now and it is ingrained as a family legacy and tradition. The family has Swiss roots from the borders of Germany, and the family emigrated to the USA in 1850. all males with same middle name - Austin Carryall Farms is located outside of Antwerp. Nathan has stepped up and works right alongside his father, Steve, since he was 12 years old. He tried flying solo for a few years, but decided it would be more beneficial to combine efforts with his Dad.

Nathan had this to say about the significance of the family farm's historical milestone, "Farming is a family legacy. My dad, Steve, made

PAYNE RELIEF 5K

The runners are on the line to start the race. More pictures at westbendnews.net

9th annual Payne Relief 5K took place on Saturday, July 28th bright & early at 8:00 a.m. at the Payne Ball Park across from the elementary school. There was a small group of runners and walkers that turned out for this event while juggling other summer activities. Each year the Payne Relief 5K chooses a charitable organization to support with its proceeds and this year they chose to support P.A.S.S.

The runners started in the road in front of the elementary, and then ran along a marked out path out of town and back in. The old track that wraps around the ball field was the last leg of the race.

Geoff Hyman of Payne Chamber of Commerce coordinated the event. Irene Benschneider manned the snack station for the runners after they finished. Several other sponsors volunteered their time to direct runners along the path or man water stations.

Sponsors included: Benschneider Auto, Hooker Enterprises & Painting, Paulding Dairy Queen, Puckerbrush Pizza, and Schultz Automotive

DEWINE ANNOUNCES PLAN TO PURCHASE SAFETY VESTS FOR ALL OHIO OFFICERS

Citing the danger Ohio law enforcement officers face every day as they work to keep Ohioans safe, Attorney General Mike DeWine announced that as soon as he takes office as Governor, he will ask the Bureau of Workers Compensation to purchase safety vests for every Ohio peace officer subject to shooting risk.

"Workplace safety is part of the mission of our workers compensation system," DeWine said. "We owe to our first responders to do all we can to see that they have the best possible protection when facing the dangers that come with the job of keeping Ohio communities safe."

DeWine said the program is estimated to cost $5.75 million.

"Many police departments and sheriff's offices across the state are suffering a financial pinch from the opioid crisis," DeWine said. "As Ohio's chief law officer, we need to ensure that the officers of these departments have state-of-the-art protection."

Phone: 419-258-2000 • Email: info@westbendnews.net

LATTY IS MAJOR BOYS PAULDING COUNTY CHAMPIONS

DeWine compared the program to a similar one already in effect at BWC in which fire departments can seek grants to purchase protective clothing for fire-fighters that insulates them against cancer risk from chemicals at fire scenes. The program would include replacement of older vests now in service.

"We first became aware of this at our own Bureau of Criminal Investigation. We learned that some vests had been in service longer than the manufacturers recommended replacement cycle and we are in the process of replacing those now. My view is that if this is right for my office's people, it's right for officers across the state," DeWine said. "We already are in discussions with BWC about this program, and if a way to implement it before I take office in January can be found, I support that. But if it must wait, I will ask BWC to begin the program my first day in office.

"Historically in Ohio, this kind of protection has been focused on major cities where shootings were a significant issue," said Dave Johnson. "The cost of vests is especially difficult for smaller departments to buy. I'm glad to see Mike DeWine put forth a plan to pay for this as Governor. It's the right thing to do for our law enforcement."

BWC funds are restricted by the Ohio Constitution to use for worker injury purposes. One of those purposes is workplace safety, and BWC currently is in a strong financial position that will be unaffected by this expenditure.

AMERICAN PICKERS TO FILM IN OHIO!

and their team are excited to return to Ohio! They plan to film episodes of the hit series AMERICAN PICKERS throughout the region in September 2018!

AMERICAN is a documentary series that explores the fascinating world of antique "picking' on History. The hit show follows Mike and Frank, two of the most skilled pickers in the business, as they hunt for America's most valuable antiques. They are always excited to find sizeable, unique collections and learn the interesting stories behind them.

As they hit the back roads from coast to coast, Mike and Frank are on a mission to recycle and rescue forgotten relics. Along the way, the Pickers want to meet characters with remarkable and exceptional items. The pair hopes to give historically significant objects a new lease on life, while learning a thing or two about America's past along the way. Mike and Frank have seen a lot of rusty gold over the years and are always looking to discover something they've never seen before. They are ready to find extraordinary items and hear fascinating tales about them. AMERI-CAN PICKERS is looking for leads and would love to explore your hidden treasure. If you or someone you know has a large, private collection or accumulation of antiques that the Pickers can spend the better part of the day looking through, send us your name, phone number, location and description of the collection with photos to:

DEMOLITION SET IN ANT-

The Paulding County Land Bank is excited to announce the demolition of its first blighted and vacant residential property located at 114 E. Woodcox Street in the Village of Antwerp. The demolition is scheduled to start on Monday, August 6, 2018.

The Paulding County Land Reutilization Corporation (PCLRC), also called the Paulding County Land Bank, was formed in July 2017. The Land Bank's mission is to reclaim, rehabilitate, and reutilize vacant, abandoned, tax-foreclosed, or other real property in Paulding County. The Land Bank Board is made up of two County Commissioners, Tony Zartman and Roy Klopfenstein, the County Treasurer, Lou Ann Wannemacher, a municipal representative, Greg White, and a township representative, Mike Kauser. The Land Bank currently owns 9 properties and is working to acquire vacant and blighted residential homes in the Villages of Antwerp, Broughton, Cecil, Grover Hill, Oakwood, Payne, and Paulding.

After forming, the Land Bank applied for funds from the Ohio Housing Finance Agency through the Neighborhood Initiative Program. The Land Bank received $350,000 in reimbursable funds to acquire, demolish, green, and dispose of vacant, abandoned, and/or tax delinquent properties. For more information on the Land Bank, visit www.mvpo.org/

The Monday night junior high girl's league consisted of 12 teams that battled to the best finish of the week. The number one seed Bishop Luers waited on Wayne Trace to oust Fairview 7th grade 16-4 before taking out the Lady Raiders 28-6. In the other half of the top bracket Archbold knocked out Lakewood Park then took out Antwerp 17-14 to lock in their spot in

In the lower bracket the number two seed Fairview 8th grade team waited on Holgate to end the Hicksville season 28-12 only to end the Holgate season 34-18. Tinora beat Ft. Wayne St. Jude 20-4 and then just edged Woodlan 18-17 to face the Fairview Lady Apaches in the final

Lopsided first round games in the final four showed Luers defeat Archbold 44-10 while Fairview had their way with Tinora 35-15. The final game was one that will be talked about in basketball circles for a while. Undefeated for the entire season, all bets were on the Bishop Luers Lady Knights but the talented Fairview girls had other plans. The game was played on the

CHOW LINE: SUMMER A GOOD TIME FOR SWEET CORN, TOMATOES, OTHER IN-SEASON PRODUCE

I know that summer is a great time to get fresh sweet corn and juicy watermelons, but what else is in season

> Summer heat and long days make it a good time to indulge in a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables like berries, melons, sweet corn and tomatoes, among a wide range of plentiful produce. Not only are these items extremely fresh and flavorful because they're in season, they're also widely discounted because of the abundance of supply based on the time of

As mentioned in a previous "Chow Line," improved technology and agricultural innovations mean that consumers can access fresh fruits and vegetables year-round.

But because fruits and vegetables naturally grow in cycles and ripen during a certain season, produce typically is fresher and tastes best when ripe. Seasonal fruits and vegetables are also typically cheaper to buy because they are easier to produce than fruits and vegetables that are grown out of season.

In fact, the top advertised items on sale in local grocery stores this week were fruits and vegetables, accounting for some 99 percent of sale ads, according to the July 20 edition of the National Retail Report, a weekly roundup of advertised retail pricing information compiled by the U.S. Department of Agricul-

Blueberries, cantaloupes, cherries, grapes, mangoes, nectarines, peaches, plums, strawberries and watermelons were the top 10 fruit items advertised in grocery store sale ads for the week, according to the report. The top 10 veggies on sale in grocery ads for the week included sweet corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, salad, squash and tomatoes.

Summer is also a good time for agritourism, where farmers and producers open their farms to the public for consumers to hand-choose their own produce. Also known as U-Pick farms, these operations not only provide consumers with fresh, locally grown produce but also teach them about the farming in-

Experts with the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) at The Ohio State University offer a variety of educational programming for producers who want to incorporate agritourism on their farms. CFAES also offers tips for consumers when visiting agritourism operations.

There are several varieties of fruits and vegetables in season now in Ohio.

While this is not an all-inclusive list, generally speaking, the following produce (among others) is in season in Ohio during the summer, according to the Ohio Farm

Apples, Asparagus, Lima beans, Snap beans, Broccoli, Cabbage, Cantaloupe, Carrots, Cilantro, Collards, Sweet Corn, Cucumbers, Currants, Dill, Eggplant, Endive and escarole, Gooseberries, Grapes, Kale, Leaf lettuce, Leeks, Mustard greens, Okra, Onions, Green onions, Parsley, Peaches, Sweet peppers, Potatoes, Radishes, Black raspberries, Red raspberries, Rhubarb, Spinach, Summer squash, Winter squash, Strawberries, Tomatoes, Turnip greens

So, now's the time to enjoy fresh summer produce and, if you are able, to get out there and enjoy learning more about agriculture as you pick some fresh produce yourself.

"The United States is recognized as the world leader in grain production with harvests that offer high-quality, consistency and variety," said Perdue. "Members of the Grain Inspection Advisory Committee are valued USDA partners who deliver precious advice on grain inspection and weighing. Their recommendations ensure that FGIS services meet the needs of all our stakeholders. Ultimately that supports the American economy.

Established in 1981, the Advisory Committee represents the interests of all segments of the U.S. grain industry from producer to exporter. The 15-member committee typically includes grain processors, merchandisers, handlers, exporters, consumers, grain inspection agencies and scientists.

More information about the Advisory Committee is available on the FGIS page of the AMS website.

SECRETARY OF STATE ANNOUNCES VERIFIED SIGNATURE TOTALS FOR PROPOSED CONSTITUTION-AL AMENDMENTS

Ohio Secretary of State Jon Husted certified the number of valid signatures collected by advocates for two separate citizen-initiated constitutional amendments. A proposed amendment concerning drug treatment and rehabilitation has met the necessary requirements and will be on the November General Election Ballot as State Issue 1. The proposed amendment regarding kidney dialysis failed to meet all of the necessary requirements to be placed on the ballot and petitioners have 10 days to address petition deficiencies. As stated in Ohio law, petitioners are required to submit at least 305,591 valid signatures, a number equal to 10 percent of the total votes cast for governor in the most recent gubernatorial election, 2014. As part of the total number of signatures needed to place the measure on the ballot, petitioners must also submit signatures from at least 44 of Ohio's 88 counties, and within each of those counties, collected enough signatures equal to five percent of the total vote cast for governor in the most recent gubernatorial election, 2014. Petitioners for the proposed amendment regarding drug treatment and rehabilitation submitted 351,095 valid signatures and met the five percent threshold in 50 counties, satisfying the constitutional and legal requirements to be placed on the ballot. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as State Issue 1 in the General Election on November 6, 2018. Advocates for the proposed amendment concerning kidney dialysis submitted 296,080 valid signatures, and met the five percent threshold in 48 counties, failing to meet all of the constitutional and legal requirements to get on the ballot. As required by the constitution, petitioners will have 10 additional days to make up the difference. Additional signatures must be submitted to the Secretary of State's office by August 2.

The Ohio Ballot Board will convene in the coming weeks to approve ballot language for qualifying state issues. The Secretary of State is responsible for determining the ballot order and title for state issues, as outlined in Sections 3505.06 and 3501.05 of the Ohio Revised Code respectively.

SECRETARY HUSTED ANNOUNCES TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT FUNDS FOR LOCAL ELECTIONS OFFI-CIALS

As part of ongoing preparations ahead of the November election, Secretary of State Jon Husted announced the release of $760,000 in funding for Ohio's 88 counties to help offset the cost of mandatory poll worker training for boards of elec-

"Poll workers are on the frontlines of our democracy and lay the groundwork for a smooth election," Secretary Husted said. "Making these resources available to our local boards will help to ensure that poll workers are ready on Election Day." Under state law, poll workers are required to participate in an education program that instructs them as to the rules, procedures and laws pertaining to elections administration in Ohio. New poll workers must complete training prior to working an election, while those who have previously served must go through retraining a minimum of once every three years. The July directive ensures all poll workers are ready for the 2018 General Election. Each county will receive an amount based on the number of registered voters in that county. This funding will provide for the mandatory training each poll worker is required to complete under state law. These funds help to offset the cost associated with training poll workers for county boards of elections, which are facing tighter budgets.

To date, the Secretary of State's office has awarded nearly $3.1 million to ensure individuals staffing polling locations are properly trained ahead of Election Day so voters have a positive experience.

The Secretary of State's office also assists with the recruitment of new poll workers through DayFor-Democracy.com. This comprehensive website provides online training tools and resources for county boards of elections and poll workers alike, as well as an online sign-up for Ohioans to become poll workers. To date, retary of State's Office.

WATERSHED WONDERS

By: Patrick Troyer, Paulding SWCD

This term may or may not be familiar to many of you reading this article. Let us get one thing covered: a watershed is not a shed that ter quality is certainly everyone's business as we all play a role in how good or bad that our water quality is based on our daily activities. Through this week's article, we will explore what the term watershed means, how water moves through our environment, basics about factors influencing water quality, why we need healthy watersheds, and what we can all do to ensure a healthy water source.

question on your minds, defining a watershed. A watershed describes a set area of land in which all the water within said area will drain to a common location. This includes all the small creeks, ditches, rivers, and lakes within this area in addition to the air, soil, groundwater, and municipalities within the area. Watersheds are defined from small scale such as a farm field or larger such as the Upper Maumee Watershed, which describes all water that drains to the Maumee River between Fort Wayne and Defiance. The largest watershed in the United States in the Mississippi River Watershed, which drains an astounding 1.15 million square miles comprising of 31 states and ter within the watershed is greatly defined by the water into the soil profile into underground reservoirs known as aquifers that is eventually pumped out of the ground by a rural well. Water could also flow across the landscape directly into local rivers or streams. When water flows across the surface, it is going to pick up several substances or pollutants with it such as oils from cars, litter, fertilizers, pesticides, or eroded soil. We hear a lot recently about water quality, especially as it relates to Lake Erie, which makes this article very relevant. It is easy to think that we do not live right next to Lake Erie so we do not have an impact on the quality of the water in the lake. This could not be farther from the truth. There is a saying that "all roads lead to Rome", in our case all our water leads to Lake Erie as all of our bodies of water whether it be a small stream or large river will eventually lead to Lake Erie. Within Paulding County, there are several small creeks like Blue Creek, which are eventually going to flow into the Auglaize River or the Maumee River. In the case of Blue Creek, water will travel to the Auglaize River that will then drain into the Maumee River at Defiance. Water will then travel down the Maumee to Toledo where it will empty into Lake Erie.

While it may take some time for this water to get from Paulding County to Lake Erie, the important thing to know is that everything that we do upstream here has an impact on the quality of the water for our neighbors downstream. Be mindful of your activities by doing things such as making sure your car is mechanically sound with no oil or fuel leaks. Soil test your field or garden to see the current inventory of nutrients and to see what additions may need made to ensure that your plants have enough nutrients they need while not leaving behind excess nutrients they do not. Farmers can install practices such as cover crops when they do not have an actively growing crop to hold their soil in place and prevent soil erosion. Any rainfall event can carry these excess nutrients or car fluids away in what is called runoff and make its way to our local streams and then rivers. Sediment from soil runoff clogs the gills of fish while the presence of excess nutrients creates conditions that are conducive to the growth of toxic algae.

So why all the talk about watersheds and water quality? According to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) an estimated $450 billion in foods, fiber, manufactured goods, and tourism rely on a healthy and clean watershed. This can be maintained by being mindful of what goes into our local waterways. Water is all around us as our Earth is covered 70% by water. According to the Nature Conservancy, 50-60% of US waters are designated as "impaired or threatened". An impaired designation means the body of water does do support an intended use such as drinking, swimming, or fishing, which is what the Ohio EPA has designated for Lake Erie. The key thing to ensuring our water quality is understanding that we are all in this together and if we do,

everyone can enjoy a clean and healthy waterway. caption: A watershed de-

The Paulding County Commissioners proposes to request that the State of Ohio release Federal funds under Section 104 (g) of Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended; Section 288 of Title II of the Cranston Gonzales National Affordable Housing Act (NAHA), as amended; and/or Title IV of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, as amended; to be used for the following project(s):

Project Names: Paulding County, Melrose Storm Drainage & Paulding County, Oakwood Street Improvements Source of Federal Funds: CDBG Critical Infrastructure Funds; B-X-17-1CF-1

Purpose: Street improvements and updates to stormwater infrastructure Locations: Village of Melrose and Village of Oakwood Estimated Cost of Projects: Village of Melrose $720,000 & Village of Oakwood $350,555

(CDBG; B-X-17-1CF-1) The Paulding County Commissioners has determined that the project(s) will have no significant impact on the environment. Therefore, an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended is not required. The Paulding County Commissioners has prepared an Environmental Review Record (ERR) for each of the projects listed above. The ERR(s) documents the environmental review of the project(s). The ERR(s) is (are) on file and available for the public's examination and copying, upon request, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday (except holidays) at the above address.

No further environmental review of the project(s) will be conducted prior to the request for release of Federal funds.

The Paulding County Commissioners plan to undertake the project(s) described above with the Federal funds cited above. Any interested person, agency, or group wishing to comment on the project or disagreeing with this Finding of No Significant Impact decision may submit written comments for consideration to the Paulding County Commissioners at the above listed address by 5:00 p. m. on August 15, 2018 which is at least 15 days after the publication of this combined notice. A notice regarding the responsible entity's intent to request the release of funds is listed immediately below.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS (NOI/RROF)

On or about, but not before, August 16, 2018, the Paulding County Commissioners will submit a request to the State of Ohio for the release of Federal funds under Section 104 (g) of Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended; Section 288 of Title II of the Cranston Gonzales National Affordable Housing Act (NAHA), as amended; and/or Title IV of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, as amended; to be used

The Paulding County Commissioners certifies to the State of Ohio that Tony Zartman, in his/her capacity as Paulding County Commissioners, Chairman Board of Commissioners, consents to accept the jurisdiction of Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to the environmental review process and that these responsibilities have been satisfied.

The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the Paulding County Commissioners may use the Federal funds, and the State of Ohio will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended.

The State of Ohio will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following grounds: (a) the certification was not, in fact, executed by the responsible entity's Certifying Officer; (b) the responsible entity has failed to make one of the two findings pursuant to Section 58.40 or to make the written determination required by section 58.35, 58.47, or 58.53 for the project, as applicable; c) the responsible entity has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at subpart E of 24 CFR Part 58 for the preparation, publication, and completion of an Environmental Assessment; d) the responsible entity has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at subparts F and G of 24 CFR Part 58 for the conduct, preparation, publication, and completion of an Environmental Impact Statement; e) the recipient has committed funds or incurred costs not authorized by 24 CFR Part 58 before release of funds and approval of the environmental certification by the State; or f) another federal agency, acting pursuant to 40 CFR Part 1504, has submitted a written finding that the project is unsatisfactory from the standpoint of environmental quality.

Written objections must meet the conditions and procedures set forth in subpart H of 24 CFR Part 58 and be addressed to: State of Ohio Development Services Agency; Office of Community Development; Environmental Officer; P. O. Box 1001; Columbus, Ohio 43216-

Objections to the Release of Funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the State of Ohio. No objections received after September 3, 2018 (which is 15 days after it is anticipated that the State will receive a request for release of funds) will be considered by the State of Ohio.

PAULDING AMATEUR RADIO CLUB HOLDS WORKDAY

The Paulding County Ohio Amateur Radio Club held a repeater work day on Saturday, July 14th. Eight members removed the old coax and antennas and installed new hardline and antennas. The repeater allows amateur radio operators to extend the range of their handheld and mobile radios. It also allows the amateur radio operators in Paulding County to communicate with operators in surrounding counties. During threating weather the repeater is used to transmit spotter information to either Fort Wayne or Defiance where it is relayed to the National Weather Service in North Webster, IN.

For those with a scanner wishing to listen to the repeater, we operate on a frequency of 147.135 FM. Monday evenings at 7:00 p.m. we hold our "net". A net is where a group of amateur radio operators report in and converse with each other. It is basically a practice session preparing us for communications in the event of an emergency situa-

USDA INVITES COMMENTS ON THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE E-CONNECTIVITY PILOT PROGRAM

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue today announced USDA is inviting comments on the implementation of the e-Connectivity Pilot Program established in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2018 on March 23, 2018.

USDA is developing this pilot program to catalyze private investment and bring broadband to unserved rural areas of the country. The new program provides a uniqu opportunity to develop modern methods to leverage federal funds to increase private investment in broadband services for as many rural American homes, businesses, farms, schools and health care facilities as possible.

"I have traveled extensively across the nation, and everywhere I go I have heard how important broadband is to rural Americans," Secretary Perdue said. "Reliable and affordable internet e-Connectivity truly is the key to prosperity in the 21st Century, and I'm pleased Congress recognized this need and has provided this critical funding. Broadband e-Connectivity is the next interstate highway system of global commerce, and connecting rural areas to broadband will be a game-changer for our entire nation. It is not just a federal issue; our success will be forged through partnerships."

According to a 2018 report by the Federal Communications Commission, 80 percent of the 24 million American households that do not have reliable, affordable, high-speed internet are in rural areas. Without e-Connectivity, rural Americans cannot reach their full productivity in the workplace, receive the best education in schools nor the finest health care in hospitals.

This rural broadband pilot program was proposed by President Trump and was made possible by a $600 million appropriation from Congress in the Consolidated Budget Act of 2018. As a result, USDA is excited to be able to create new funding and finance offerings through this pilot program to expand rural broadband in underserved rural and tribal areas.

The framework outlined by Congress allows these new federal funds to be deployed in rural areas with a population of 20,000 or less. A wide variety of entities is eligible for funding, including incumbent and competitive rural telephone and broadband service providers, rural electric cooperatives, private firms (but not sole proprietors or partnerships), nonprofits and governmental bodies. Rural areas with current internet service speeds of 10 megabits per second (Mbps) download and 1 Mbps upload at the household will be eligible to apply for the pilot program funds. The requirements on build-out speeds are not specified by the law and are therefore under development. See page 52 of the legislation for the full text (PDF,

USDA is seeking input as we develop the rules and requirements of the e-Connectivity Pilot Program. All stakeholders with an interest in rural broadband deployment are welcome to contribute. Specifically, comments on the following issues are sought:

Ways of evaluating a rural household's "sufficient access" to broadband e-Connectivity at speeds of 10 Mbps downstream and 1 Mbps upstream, and how broadband service affordability should be factored in.

Best options to verify speeds of broadband service provided to rural households.

Best leading indicators of the potential project benefits for rural industries such as agriculture, manufacturing, e-commerce, transportation, health care and education, using readily available public

USDA's goal is to make the most effective use of these new and innovative funds through utility partnerships, where possible. Public input on methods to evaluate the viability of applications that include local utility partnership arrangements is also being sought.

Comments are due on or before 5 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Monday, Sept. 10, 2018 and can be submitted by either of the following

The Market Facilitation

'This is a short-term solution to allow President Trump time to work on long-term trade deals to benefit agriculture and the entire U.S. economy," Secretary Perdue said. "The President promised to have the back of every American farmer and rancher, and he knows the importance of keeping our rural economy strong. Unfortunately, America's hard-working agricultural producers have been treated unfairly by China's illegal trading practices and have taken a disproportionate hit when it comes illegal retaliatory tariffs. USDA will not stand by while our hard-working agricultural producers bear the brunt of unfriendly tariffs enacted by foreign nations. The programs we are announcing today help ensure our nation's agriculture continues to feed the world and innovate to meet the demand."

iffs imposed on the United States, a disproportionate amount was targeted directly at American farmers. Trade damage from such retaliation has impacted a host of U.S. commodities including field crops like soybeans and sorghum, livestock products like milk and pork, and many fruits, nuts, and other specialty crops. High tariffs disrupt normal marketing patterns, affecting prices and raising costs by forcing commodities to find new markets. Additionally, there is evidence that American goods shipped overseas are being slowed from reaching market by unusually strict or cumbersome entry procedures, which can affect the quality and marketability of perishable crops. This can boost marketing costs and discount our prices, and adversely affect our producers. USDA will use the following programs to assist farmers:

Program, authorized under The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) Charter Act and administered by Farm Service Agency (FSA), will provide payments incrementally to producers of soybeans, sorghum, corn, wheat, cotton, dairy, and hogs. This support will help farmers manage disrupted markets, deal with surplus commodities, and expand and develop new markets at home and abroad.

Additionally, USDA will use CCC Charter Act and other authorities to implement a Food Purchase and Distribution Program through the Agricultural Marketing Service to purchase unexpected surplus of affected commodities such as fruits, nuts, rice, legumes, beef, pork and milk for distribution to food banks and other nutrition programs.

Finally, the CCC will use its Charter Act authority for a Trade Promotion Program administered by the Foreign Agriculture Service (FAS) in conjunction with the private sector to assist in developing new export markets for our farm products.

FEDERAL AID TO OFFSET TRADE WAR IMPACTS

Weeks before Ohio corn and soybean farmers put seed in the ground this past spring, the threat of a trade war loomed.

Now both crops are thriving amid a trade war that's likely bringing down prices of the two commod-

"I hear about it every day. There's great concern out in the countryside," said Harold Watters, an Ohio State University Extension agronomy field specialist. OSU Extension is the outreach arm of the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) at The Ohio State University.

"Farmers are not quite sure how this will get fixed."

Yesterday (July 24), the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) unveiled a $12 billion package of emergency aid for farmers, including producers of soybeans, dairy and hogs, whose incomes are being threatened by the trade war. The aid includes direct payments to those farmers along with funding for developing new export markets and for government food purchases.

Since March, when the Trump administration announced a 25 percent tariff on foreign steel and 10 percent on foreign aluminum purchases in the United States, countries have countered with tariffs on U.S. products, including soybeans, corn, pork and other agricultural products.

The price for corn has decreased 14 percent in the futures market since April, while soybean prices declined by 17 percent during the same period, according to the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. The futures market is the price offered to farmers today for their crop to be delivered at a specific time in the future, months or years later.

Tariffs on U.S. soybeans sold to China, the world's largest consumer of sovbeans, were a major blow for Ohio farmers. Soybeans are the state's top agricultural export; last year, exports totaled $1.8 billion.

the price of U.S. soybeans sold in China, which can deter the Chinese from buying the product, encourage them to produce more or lead them to buy soybeans from other countries.

While sales of U.S. soybeans and corn are expected to decline this year, yields are projected to be better than last year's. The National Agricultural Statistics Service says 72 percent of the national crop is in good or excellent condition, which is 10 percent higher than at this time a year ago.

With the tariffs in place, if farmers can hold off selling their crop, they might benefit from a higher price in the future if prices rebound, said Ben Brown, manager of the farm management program in CFAES.

"Farms short on cash and without access to storage could be harmed the most because they might have to sell their crop in the current market," Brown said. "Farms with higher cash flow can stick the crop in the bin and wait for a potential higher price."

In Ohio, 42 percent of farmers were able to sign contracts selling this year's crop before the downward swoop in prices, Brown said, citing results of a CFAES

"But I know farmers who are now regretfully taking their corn out of the bin and selling it for $3 and change per bushel. In May, it could have gone for $4 a bushel," Watters said.

Despite an expected decline in Chinese imports of corn and soybeans, other countries are partly making up the difference, importing U.S. soybeans at relatively low prices. Egypt has nearly tripled the amount of U.S. soybeans imports, according to data from the USDA. The Netherlands has increased soybean imports by 17 percent.

But for 2018, total U.S. soybean exports through July 5 were down by about 3 million metric tons compared to the total in 2017. Corn exports too were down by 2 million metric tons.

June. The growth was the largest quarter in four years.

'The best quarter for GDP growth in four years is another indication of how strong the economy is performing," said Latta. "Because of pro-growth policies under this Congress, like the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, more Americans are able to find work and keep more of their hard-earned money.

"It's not just growth, either. The unemployment rate recently matched its lowest rate in 49 years and unemployment claims are at alltime lows. In fact, there are currently more jobs available than those looking for work - a first in American history. This also highlights the need to ensure we have strong job training and career education programs. Our workforce should be equipped with the necessary tools to be successful in the modern economy. This week, the House passed the Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act to provide more flexibility to local stakeholders and states to develop and implement the job training programs that work best for their area."

Washington, D.C. - Congressman Jim Banks (IN-03) today hosted Jay County High School Principal Chad Dodd during the House Committee on Education and the Workforce's Innovation Forum and Showcase, which highlighted 23 innovators who are running education and workforce development programs in their communities.

"I'm excited that Principal Dodd was able to explain this innovative program before the committee," said Banks. "The Jay-Blackford Manufacturing Council is helping to fill the skills gap in a unique way by providing students a career-driven education program in advanced manufacturing. Once again, Indiana is serving as an example to the rest of the country on how we can empower students through workforce development at the local level."

LATTA VOTES TO SEND ANNUAL DEFENSE BILL TO PRESIDENT'S DESK; APPLAUDS HOUSE PAS-SAGE OF CAREER AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION LEGISLATION

Two important pieces of legislation are now headed to the President's desk after the U.S. House of Representatives voted to pass them over the last two days. Congressman Bob Latta (R-Bowling Green) voted to pass the bipartisan National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), the nation's annual defense bill, that provides troops with their largest pay raise in nine years and continues the rebuild of the U.S. military after years of drawdowns. In addition, the House passed H.R. 2353, the Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act, to revamp job training and career education programs for the modern economy. The bill updates the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act which had not been reformed since 2006. H.R. 2353 passed by voice vote. Congressman Latta is a supporter of the bill and a member of the House Career and Technical Education (CTE) Caucus.

The NDAA includes a 2.6% pay raise for members of the armed services, the largest increase in nearly a decade, and improves readiness through more training and flying hours. It replaces aging equipment and authorizes the purchase of additional aircraft and naval ships. It also strengthens our nation's cyber defenses and prohibits the U.S. government from recognizing the annexation of Crimea into Russia.

Latta served on the Conference Committee that ironed out the differences between the House and Senate NDAA bills.

"I was honored to serve on the NDAA Conference Committee and help craft this final piece of legislation to rebuild our military and ensure Sudoku solution from page 13 they need to confront global threats," said Latta. "By investing in new state-of-theart equipment – and boosting our cyber defenses – we're ensuring that the men and women in our military have the ability to meet the demands of the modern battlefield. Reducing the Federal role in the programs and puts more decision-making in the hands of local stakeholders, overseen by state leaders

"For the first time in our history, the amount of available jobs is greater than the number of people looking for employment," said Latta. This is great news, but it also underscores the need for Career and Technical Education programs that prepare students for good-paying jobs in the modern economy. Allowing local stakeholders and the states to develop the best plans for their area will better ensure that we are building a workforce that has the tools needed to compete for these jobs and succeed in them."

This week at Kiwanis member Corey Walker introduced Shelby Reinhart, Diversion Officer and Elizabeth Zartman, Chief Probation Officer with the Paulding County Juvenile Court. In 2017 there was a 3-year grant given to the court through the Department of Youth Services. These funds were used to create the Paulding County Diversion Program. The diversion program is used in cases where a child has done wrong but through the diversion program has a chance to complete the program and have no charges. The new deveolpment is around a year old and has already been successful in many cases. The program keeps low and at rise youth out of the justice system. Studies show early intervention is beneficial and can help children not re-offend. The program requires 12 hours of commuleast 3 months. This is a voluntary program, but most children and their guardians choose the diversion program in order to give themselves a second chance. "Just because kids make one mistake when they're 13 doesn't mean their life has to be ruined forever," says Zartman. As Kiwanis serves the children of our community we thank both ladies for their dedication to our youth. Members meet next week on Thursday at noon.

2018 ANTWERP GEM OF THE YEAR

Phone: 419-258-2000 • Email: info@westbendnews.net

Roland "Pudge" Kennedy has been named 2018 Gem of the Year. Each year the citizens of Antwerp nominate an outstanding member to be recognized at the opening of Antwerp's Day in the Park, and this year's responses were overwhelmingly in Pudge's favor.

Pudge Kennedy was born to Paul and Fairy Kennedy on December 5, 1951. He has five siblings that live in the surrounding area: Barbara Thiel, Carrie Jones, John Kennedy, Hazen Kennedy, and Diane Hostetler. He has lived in Antwerp all his life except for the 2 years after high school he was in active duty for the U.S. Army for 2 years with a tour of duty in Vietnam. Pudge was a 1970 graduate of Antwerp High School. While in high school, he worked at the Antwerp Shell station (where the Pit Stop is located now), he was a paper boy for the Journal Gazette, and also worked with his dad in the family business, Kennedy Trenching & Excavating. He later took over the business for his father.

Pudge married his wife, Linda, in 1975 and they have two children: Sarah (Dale) McCorkle of Ossian, and Greta (Jeremy) Kosch of Antwerp. They also have four grandchildren: Brendan, Spencer, Griffin and Olivia. To Pudge, his grandchildren are his pride and joy.

There is a common theme with Pudge — work. He just loves to work. When asked what his hobbies are, his answer was his work. Whether that be taking care of the cemeteries in Antwerp; digging up broken water mains for the Village or backhoe work & trenching for residential & commercial customers, Pudge is at his best when he is doing these things. For a short time, Pudge and Linda also ran Kennedy Flower Shop (now Petals & Vines) for seven years, but when Linda was offered a position at a local bank, they decided to sell the flower shop. In the winters, Pudge plows snow out of driveways and parking lots in the area.

activities that Other Pudge has been involved in in Antwerp include: a member of the Antwerp Fire Department for 32 years and EMS for eight years; a member of the Divine Mercy Catholic Parish; life member of the American Legion and VFW; and an Antwerp Chamber member.

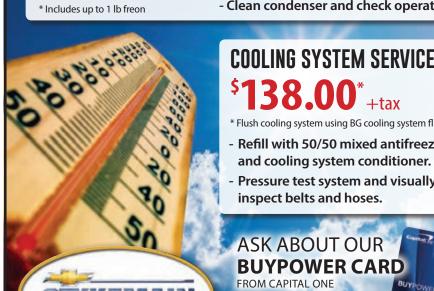

There is a definition of the word 'humility' that seems to fit Pudge Kennedy: "True humility is to recognize your value and others' value while looking up. It is to see there is far greater than ourself into who we can become, who others can become, and how much more we can do and Pudge Kennedy is a humble man and an asset to the village of Antwerp. Congratulations on being Antwerp's Gem of the Year.
