The Harlan Days Midway was filled with people on Friday night! More pictures at westbendnews.net

Gerald Ringenberg

The 2019 Harlan Days commenced this past weekend to much fanfare as the Parade culminated the weekend on Saturday, August 3rd. Many floats, organizations, politicians, and the Grand Marshal and Citizen of the Year were involved in the parade. The kids had a great time on all the rides, and clearly it was easy to eat too much!

On Sunday, August 4 the Harlan High School Reunion took place at Grant's Reception Hall in Antwerp, Ohio. This weekend the beloved Class of 1942, Nellie Beerbower passed away, not able to make it to the Harlan High School Class reunion. The new top dog at the reunion was Gerald Ringenberg also of the class of 1942, age 96.

EMERGENCY FOOD AND SHELTER FUNDS AVAILABLE

Paulding County has been awarded federal funds made available through the Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP). EFSP is a federally funded grant program that is administered by the Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Paulding County will receive $4,081 for Phase 35 and 4,950 for Phase 36 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in Paulding County.

A local board will determine how the funds awarded to Paulding County are to be distributed among the

Under the terms of the grant from the national board, local agencies chosen to receive funds must:

- Be privately voluntary non-profits or units of government
- Have an accounting system

2019 GEM OF THE YEAR: RAY FRIEND

Ray Friend is the 2019 Antwerp Chamber of Commerce Day in the Park Gem of the Year. His nomination came from many of his community peers as they have observed his loyalty and dedication to the Village of Antwerp over the years. Ray was born and raised in Antwerp. He graduated high school in 1962 and right away he knew he wanted to be on the fire department and in 1966 he began his life-long journey of serving his town and its people. Ray dedicated 53 years of service to our community as a member of the Antwerp Fire Department, spending the last 15 years as fire chief.

He also owns and operates with his family, Friend Flooring, located right on North Main St. He has been a successful asset to the business community of Antwerp for 41 years.

duced last August in 2018 and drew a big crowd downtown. Many people said it was the most fun they'd had in Paulding in ages! "We took a risk when we first introduced the event, so we were pleasantly surprised when it took off and was a hit," says event coordinator, Clint Vance.

USDA RELEASES PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO GREATER SAGE GROUSE LAND MANAGEMENT PLANS

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue announced the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Forest Service proposed changes to how the agency manages greater sage grouse in Colorado, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, and Utah after hearing concerns from states and land users. The changes strive to improve the clarity, efficiency, and implementation of the current sage grouse plans.

"The Forest Service continues to promote our multiple use mission while ensuring conservation of greater sage grouse habitat," Secretary Perdue said. "We are sharing the stewardship of the lands with western state governors - their extensive participation throughout this process was the key to landscape-scale conservation that aligns our policies and practices across local, state, and federal jurisdictions."

The Forest Service published the final environmental impact statement in the Federal Register, and the objection period will last 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice of availability. After considering objections, the Forest Service intends to continue the planning process by issuing a final decision document regarding the revised plan amendments in the fall of 2019.

Background:

Greater sage grouse populations have been impacted by a variety of threats including the loss of habitat from wildfire and the spread of invasive weeds like cheat grass. In 2015, the USDA's Forest Service, along with the Department of Interior's Bureau of Land Management, amended land management plans in an attempt to address threats and improve habitat conservation for greater sage grouse.

Stakeholders have since raised concerns that the 2015 plans would impact economic growth and did not align with conservation plans laid out by the states. To address these concerns, USDA engaged in an historic collaboration effort to build partnerships between state and local governments, ranchers, universities, non-profit groups, and businesses in order to better align changes to the 2015 plans with stakeholder knowledge.

USDA applied lessons-learned and concerns voiced by a diverse set of stakeholders, including grazers and other land users, in the 2019 proposed changes. The 2019 plans have been adapted to take into account site-specific conditions to ensure ranchers, permittees, and industry can adapt to their local conditions rather than be forced to conform to a one-size-fits-all, national approach.

Key Changes:

The 2019 plans allow for greater flexibility and local control of conservation and management actions related to sage grouse, ensuring that we can both conserve the habitat and enable grazers to maintain their livelihood. USDA has revised grazing guidelines to shift from rigid, prescriptive standards to common sense, locally-driven strategies.

The 2019 plans align state and federal conservation standards, so ranchers and other land users have one set of standards instead of dealing with multiple, complex layers of restrictions. The new changes also align mitigation options with state-based systems so mitigation strategies on how to ensure no net-loss of habitat are locally supported, not a one-size-fits-all standard.

The 2019 plans maintain the goal of preventing any net-loss to critical sage grouse habitat, but no longer require the unreasonable standard that every action increase conservation. This enables local stakeholders to determine what strategies to implement where and how while still conserving sage grouse habitat.

SCRIPTURE OF THE WEEK

"The unfolding of your words gives light; it gives understanding to the simple."
—Psalms 119:130

Ray has been instrumental in the training of the Antwerp Fire Department volunteers and searching and securing funding for AFD. While on the fire department, he tackled his first fire - a toaster, as well as the tragic and devastating blow to the village of Antwerp with Squad 41 ... to the fire of River Street Market.

Ray knows what it has meant to sacrifice - countless hours and nights missed with family and lost sleep ... to protect the people from fire loss. His dedication to Antwerp and the fire dept is commendable and Gem-worthy.

Other 2019 Nominees:

Laurel Hopkins:
Keeps the town beautiful. Good smile!

Laurel has been active in many civic activities especially associated with the ACDC. The ACDC has donated many thousands of dollars to the community over the years. Laurel has been the ACDC secretary since the inception 12 years ago. The latest ACDC activities have been to build a dock to be installed on the US 24 Carr Lake SW of Antwerp and many improvements at the Veterans Park Riverside canoe launch. Laurel of course was the chair to purchase the flower pots by the ACDC in our downtown and has planted them and watered them for many years. Laurel is a former elementary Antwerp school teacher and has been active in her church, along with always being mindful of the needs of the community and individuals in Antwerp.

Look how beautiful downtown looks with flower pots plants takes time to beautiful town - makes it nice. Spring - summer - fall - Christmas. She does it all - good job, Laurel.

Bob Winslow:

I would like to nominate Bob Winslow for his many years of volunteering for the Antwerp Ball Association through coaching, umpiring and being an active board member. He has coached many generations of kids in the community. Plus, he has donated time and money for different projects that have been completed at the ballfields. He has umpired several games to help the ball association save money to invest in other projects. Youth umpires have received training from so they could have a summer job to earn some cash. He has served on the ball association for several years helping to bring the new restrooms facility to the complex and helped with the new drainage system for these-wee fields. I would like to see him receive this this year since he was diagnosed with Stage 4 colon cancer earlier this year.

Mark Greenwood:

* Antwerp boy scout leader for 21 years

* Antwerp Rotary member for 10 years

* Antwerp business owner of New American Reel for 11 years

* Antwerp Park board member for 6 years

* Initiated & completed removing ash trees in park & related new trees

* Hosted 2 foreign exchange students in 2006 & 2008 and actively participated in other students experience in the states.

* Loves his community

Rex Lichty (posthumously):

He contributed back to the community several ways while he was alive. He did so quietly so as to not draw attention to himself. One way he gave was to totally pay off the loan taken out by the Ball Association to buy the ball fields on Woodcox.

Neil Ramsier:

Neil and his family have been a pillar in this community for a very long time. His outreach in the community varies from helping young kids with farm jobs by baling hay to educating kids of all ages through substitute teaching. Not one person has ever uttered a negative word about him and everyone has one or several funny stories and great memories from time spent with him. I'm honored to call him a friend. Neil deserves this.

Girls Softball Team:

They put Antwerp on the map. Brought community together. Put them on a float in the parade. If not the whole team then Carlie Hanes.

Good News doesn't just happen. It's made!

Send us your good news and let everyone know of the great things happening in your community

Thank You

The family of Bill Hammond would like to thank Dooley Funeral Home, Divine Mercy Catholic Church, Father Joseph Poggemeyer, Father John Sites, Deacon Bob Nighswander, Deacon David Laker, the Antwerp EMS and CHP Defiance Area Hospice Center, along with all of our family and friends who helped us through this difficult time. THREE RECENT GRADUATES OF THE FORT WAYNE MEDICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM JOIN LUTHERAN HEALTH PHYSICIANS

Lutheran Health Physicians is adding a distinctively local feel with the addition of three new providers. David Furman, DO, Anna Menze, DO, and Justin Weirich, DO, each completed their family medicine residencies with the Fort Wayne Medical Education Program in June. All are located at 10307 Dupont Circle Drive, on the Dupont Hospital campus, and will officially start with LHP Thursday.

Family Medicine Residency with FWMEP gives physicians the opportunity to expand their training as they round throughout various local healthcare facilities. In turn, close connections are established with patients, nurses and other providers during their three-year residency in Fort Wayne.

"The Fort Wayne Medical Education Program has turned out fantastic physicians in the past and partnering with them is also good for our patients," said Lutheran Health Physicians Chief Executive Officer Dan Konow. "The physicians that train here have already built strong relationships in the medical community and outside of work making the tively, both call the Summit City home. They also elected to stay in the Hoosier state to advance their education. Dr. Menze completed her undergraduate and graduate work at Purdue University in West Lafayette. Dr. Furman completed his undergraduate education at DePauw

David Furman, DO

University in Greencastle and a master's degree at Ball State University in Muncie.

Dr. Furman earned his medical degree at Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine in Spartanburg, South Carolina, while Dr. Menze obtained her medical degree at Lincoln Memorial

Justin Weirich, DO

University's DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine in Harrogate, Tennessee.

Dr. Weirich joined FWMEP from the East Coast, having earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry from the University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg, Virginia, before completing his medical degree at the West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine in Lewisburg, West Virginia.

"I am always excited and look forward to bringing new providers into our community," Konow continued. "Fort Wayne and northeastern Indiana are a great place to raise a family and I like sharing my home town with those who we invite into the community because I know how great it is."

ZUMBATHON SET FOR BREAST CANCER RESEARCH

Mary Jane Fast, licensed Aqua Zumba instructor, will host an Aqua Zumba Zumbathon on Wednesday, August 7, starting at 6:15 p.m., to help the Vera Bradley Foundation for Breast Cancer. Event co-hostess is Lynn Blakeley, retired Zumba Jammer.

The charity event will be held at the Delphos Swimming Pool, 1000 Park Ave. in Delphos.

Doors will open at 5:30 pm. Phone number of the pool is 419.692.4486. Handicap parking is available near the pool house entrance. Handicap restrooms and a ramp for easy entry into and out of the pool are also available.

The evening will include a 50/50 raffle, a few door prize giveaways, including a donation by Vera Bradley of a pink Hipster handbag, as well as a floral tote bag. There will also be a 60-minute Aqua Zumba class coled by the hostesses for the evening. Aqua Zumba integrates the Zumba Formula and Philosophy into aquatic fitness disciplines and creates a challenging and invigorating aqua workout. The Aqua Zumba class is limited to ages 13 years and above, with a completed waiver signed by a parent or legal guardian. All participants must sign a waiver to be in the pool.

Aqua Zumba is perfect for everyone: healthy adults, both men and women, as well as older adults, people recovering from osteo-articular injuries, cardiac post-rehab, or chronic conditions, and overweight/obese individuals — anyone wanting a complete workout in half the time using water for resistance and buoyancy.

"We are honored to partner with Mary Jane Fast and Lynn Blakeley to raise funds for breast cancer research," says Lynda Houk, executive director of the Vera Bradley Foundation for Breast Cancer. "It is with the support of partners such as Mary Jane that we are making a difference in many lives affected by breast cancer.

"The researchers we support are working to discover ways to treat, prevent, and cure breast cancer," Houk added. "While we are making great strides, our work is not done."

One in every eight women will be diagnosed with breast cancer and 85 percent of all breast cancers are found in those with no family history. Area residents should consider participating August 7 in the Aqua Zumba Zumbathon at Delphos Swimming Pool.

The Vera Bradley Foundation for Breast Cancer raises funds for breast cancer research to find a cure and to improve the lives of the many affected by this disease. Vera Bradley's co-founders began raising funds after the loss of a dear friend to the disease in 1993. The Foundation has contributed $32.5 million to the Vera Bradley Foundation Center for Breast Cancer Research at Indiana University School of Medicine in Indianapolis, Indiana. Funds are raised through special events, partner events, and individual donations. Learn more about the Vera Bradley Foundation for Breast Cancer at www.verabradley.org.

KIWANIS TALKS BARGAIN BIN

Kiwanis members got the opportunity to learn more about the Bargain Bin of Paulding County at their most recent meeting. Rhonda Smalley, the Bargain Bin president informed members that the Bargain Bin first opened its doors in 1962 after a group of women had very successful rummage sales. The idea for a rummage sale all came about in the 50s during the polio outbreak and the goal was to raise money for those affected by the disease. To this day the Bargain Bin donates their profits to the Paulding County Hospital to buy physical therapy equipment. Not only does this help the hospital and the people of our community, but it also sticks to their roots of helping people overcome a struggle in their life.

The Bargain Bin outgrew their old location and built a building after receiving an anonymous gift of $80,000, donation of land, and many other donations from businesses and people in the community. Their new doors opened in 2017 and they have been booming since! They have expanded to Facebook, Market Place and Ebay and make great use of their Facebook page to sell vintage items and hidden treasures.

The Bargain Bin just donated funds to the hospital to help them purchase a machine that helps patients with vertigo. Attempting physical therapy with extreme vertigo can seem impossible, so the device will allow patients to better focus and improve their progress. The Bargain Bin is also looking to add a new front porch to their building to create more of a curb appeal and utilize the space for "sidewalk sales".

The store is open Friday and Saturday, but the volunteers work tirelessly to sort and organize the incoming items for resale. "We truly have smart, creative, wonderful, and hardworking volunteers," says Smalley. Kiwanis thanks all the volunteers who make the Bargain Bin such a success! Kiwanis members will meet next Thursday over lunch.

GETTING TO KNOW JESUS

Oakwood Church of Christ
Peter's Denials
Read Matthew 26:69-75.

The third time he denied being one of the Lord's disciples he began: a) to cry; b) to shake his fist; c) to curse and to swear.

Immediately he heard the rooster and remembered that Jesus had said: a) that he would deny him four times; b) that he would deny him three times; c) that others would do worse.

Then Peter went out and: a) called for John; b) cried bitterly; c) hid from everyone.

We know that Peter soon repented of this, but he had learned a bitter lesson that one should never be boastful about how spiritually strong he might be under pressure. Some may think that they could never fall. Paul wrote: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" (I Corinthians 10: 12).

First Trial Before Pilate
Read John 18:28-38.

They would not themselves go into the Roman governor's judgment hall because: a) they thought it would defile them and keep them from eating the Passover; b) they feared the soldiers; c) they were not invited.

Pilate told them to judge Jesus according to: a) their own law; b) Roman law; c) Greek law.

They said they could not because it was unlawful for them: a) to be judges; b) to condemn one of their own nation; c) to put him to death.

Pilate asked Jesus whether he was: a) a murderer; b) a thief; c) king of the Jews.

Jesus explained that his kingdom: a) is not real; b) is not of this world; c) has men ready to fight.

Because this is the nature of his kingdom: a) his servants do not fight; b) no one will ever be a part of it; c) Jesus will call for angels.

TIF. Jesus was born into this world in order to be "a king."

After asking "What is truth," Pilate: a) was surprised at the answer; b) did not wait for an answer; c) argued with Jesus about it.

Pilate told the Jews that he found: a) that Jesus was a criminal; b) no guilt in Jesus; c) that Jesus ought to be crucified.

Second Time Before Pilate Read Mark 15:6-15. (For a brief time Jesus was taken from Pilate to King Herod (Luke 23 :6-12). Pontius Pilate was the governor of the province, but Herod had been given a position as a minor king over part of the territory. Pilate sent Jesus to him. Then he was brought back to Pilate.)

Barabbas was in prison because of: a) envy; b) insurrection & murder; c) blasphemy.

39. Pilate knew that the Jews had brought Jesus to him because of: a) envy; b) loyalty to Rome; c) real crimes Jesus had committed.

They demanded that Barabbas be released and that Jesus be: a) beaten; b) imprisoned; c) crucified.

PARSON TO PERSON

By: Dr. James Bachman
Dear Parson,
What does the Bible say about women preachers?

It indicates women should not be pastors.

Women were very active and important in the ministry of Christ (Matthew 27:55; Luke 8:2-3, etc.). In the early church some prophesied (Acts 2:17, 21:9), some taught other women (Titus 2:4); many witnessed (John 4:39-42; Acts 2), many prayed (Acts 12:12, 16:13; I Timothy 5:5); many ministered hospitality (Acts 16:15), others helped in many ways (Romans 16:1-15). Most of these were important supportive roles. However, Christ did not choose any women apostles, nor did the apostles appoint any women pastors.

There are direct denials in I Corinthians 14:34-35 and I Timothy 2:12-13 - "But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence. For Adam was first formed, then Eve. (Women were not to teach men nor usurp authority over them.) There are also inferred denials such as being the husband of one wife and the "he and "his" references in the qualifications for being a pastor in I Timothy 3:1-7 and Titus 1:6-9.

It is not just a matter of ability. There are many brilliant Christ-like women with great speaking, counseling and administrative qualities.

Some also have a caring spirit and teaching competence. The issue is God's chosen order.

As for pastoring a church or leading a family, God has chosen the man to represent Christ as the head (Ephesians 5:23-27). In I Peter 5:1-4, the elders are clearly pastors, and the root word for elder is in the masculine in Greek.

The gender choice for pastors was neither yours nor mine, but God's. Thus, we are wise to follow His choice.

PAULDING COUNTY WREATHS ACROSS AMERICA EXPANDING THEIR IMPACT!

Last year was the first year Paulding County's Wreaths Across America Chapter honored our veterans. They did this by raising enough funds to place over 370 wreaths on the graves of veterans at 3 cemeteries in Paulding County. This year the goal is to place wreaths on veterans' tombs at 6 cemeteries which equates to 500 wreaths.

"It's a lofty goal but it's worth every penny to honor the men and women who so bravely served our country and that's why we need wreath sponsors/donors," said Paulding Wreaths Across America Chair Linda McCain.

Your next opportunity to honor a veteran will be during the Tunes, Brews, and BBQ event being held in Downtown Paulding on August 9th, as well. Volunteers will also be at the Flat Rock Creek Fall Festival September 20 - 22 and at Susie's Bakery in late October. For exact details on booth locations, watch the Paulding Wreaths Across America Facebook page: www.facebook.com/PauldingVeteransMemorial-Wreaths/

If you are not familiar with Wreaths Across America, every December the organization holds wreath-laying ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery, as well as at more than 1600 additional locations across the world. Paulding County was lucky enough to have several local volunteers take the initiative to make this effort a priority for Paulding County in 2018.

Wreaths Across America's core mission is Remember, Honor, Teach. Remember the fallen, Honor those who serve and their families, and Teach the future generations about the sacrifices made to preserve our freedoms.

For more information you may call Linda McCain 419-670-2659 or visit the web site at www.WreathsAcrossAmerica.org.

PUT ON THAT ARMOR

By: Doris Applegate

Many reading this remember how the second World War started, just as I do. The very time the Japanese were planning to bomb Pearl Harbor, they sent an ambassador to Washington D.C. acting as if all was well between our countries. This is also the way our enemy, Satan, comes to the born again believers in Christ Jesus. He is crafty, subtle, deceiving and uses anything to hinder our progress with the Lord. This is why we are told to "put on our full armor" (which is Christ Jesus). Read Ephesians 6:13-18 and realize that without it we are a "sitting duck" just waiting to get wounded or worse.

When we are fully armed we can be "strong in the Lord and the power of His might" It is NOT our ability to fight the "fiery darts" that "wizz" around us constantly. Our shield of faith will stop them every time. This faith shield comes from the word of God as also the "sword of the spirit" We must read, study and meditate this word to fight our battles.

Many people don't realize that, we, as Christians, are "enlisted" as soldiers the moment we take sides with Jesus Christ. Were you ever taught the seriousness of this? So much sorrow, fear and discouragement happens to us because we are NOT ALERT. God is a loving God and is not responsible for the pain, heartache, and loss that we go through. We are told what to do as Christians and must "buck up" and become the strong church that will defeat Satan EVERY time. We need each other, unified in love and prayer to help each other bear burdens and ease the load. Jesus gave authority and great power to us but we don't know it yet!

When we finally "wake up" put on our armor and do what Ephesians 6:13-18 says, we will bring down much evil of which our world is "reeking" in. When Jesus returns; His church will be ready. Now is the time to wake up, get up and armor up, don't you think? Our HEAD, Jesus, is waiting for His body, the church, to move.

AMEN!

Shrider was killed in a motorcycle accident in 2018. Shrider was a Payne and Stryker fire fighter, employed by Defiance Metal Products, Harbor Freight, and Superior Auto. He was also a member of the Yankee Motorcycle Club.

The family started this fund to help raise awareness for motorcycles. In 2016, over 5,000 deaths were as a result of a motorcycle accident. Looking twice when in a vehicle at a stop sign/light increases motorists' awareness of their surroundings helping to promote safer roads for motorcyclists.

OHIO STATE STUDENTS NOW HAVE NEW LATE-NIGHT TRAVEL OPTION

Students at The Ohio State University Columbus campus have a new late-night travel option. Lyft Ride Smart at Ohio State will launch August 1, and provides discounted rides between the hours of 9 p.m. and 3 a.m.

"This new service offering is a direct result of our work with the Undergraduate Student Government and adds a transportation option our students have been requesting for years," said Beth Snoko, director of Transportation and Traffic Management.

Lyft Ride Smart replaces the university's previous Safe Ride program after user demand outgrew service capacity.

"The new program will reduce wait times and allow Ohio State to serve a larger portion of our student population," Snoko said.

Each month, 10,000 discounted rides will be made available to students on a first-come, first-served basis. Ohio State will contribute $5 per ride, and the remainder will be paid by the rider, with the average cost expected to be $2 or less. Once the monthly allotment of 10,000 discounted rides is exhausted, Lyft's normal service rates will apply for the remainder of the month. Prices may be impacted by distance, traffic, time of day, special events and prime time rates. To qualify for program discounts, users must select "shared ride" when booking in the Lyft app.

"We [USG] believe this partnership provides students with a service-model that reflects their common means of transportation," said USG President Kate Greer. "This resource will make ridesharing more accessible, and we really encourage all students to save their subsidized rides for situations when they feel unsafe walking home in the areas around campus."

Safety remains Ohio State's top priority and users are encouraged to keep their own safety in mind when using ridesharing by:

Following the vehicle on GPS via the app

Visually confirming vehicle info/descriptions matches information in the ridesharing app (license plate, model, etc.)

Matching the color: Most Lyft drivers have a dashboard display that acts as a beacon, changing color to match the rider's app and help identify their Lyft more easily

Asking the driver to say who they are picking up

If you feel unsafe, leaving the area and contacting law enforcement

When using a program discount, only shared rides can be requested. To qualify for the discounted rate, all rides must start and end inside the designated service area:

North to Hudson Street
South to Fifth Avenue
East to Conrail railroad tracks (past North Fourth Street)

West to North Star Road
North boundary west of Olentangy River Road is Ackerman Road

Additional program information, including an FAQ, are available at ttm.osu.edu/ride-smart.

HOW DOES SOCIAL SECURITY FIT INTO YOUR RETIREMENT INCOME STRATEGY?

It might not be on your calendar, but Aug. 14 is Social Security Day. Since it was enacted on Aug. 14, 1935, Social Security has provided some financial support for millions of Americans during their retirement years. While Social Security benefits, by themselves, probably aren't enough to enable you to retire comfortably, they can be a key part of your overall retirement income strategy - if you use them wisely.

To help you make decisions about Social Security, you will need to answer these questions:

When should I start taking my benefits? You can take Social Security once you reach 62, but if you wait until your full retirement age, which will probably be between 66 and 67, you'll get much bigger monthly checks, and if you wait until 70, you'll get the biggest possible payments. Before deciding when to begin receiving your benefits, you'll need to weigh a few factors, including your estimated longevity and your other sources of income.

How should I consider potential spousal benefits? If you are married, or if you're divorced but were married for at least 10 years, you could receive up to half of your spouse's full retirement benefit (offset by your own benefit, and reduced if you claim early). If you outlive your spouse, you could claim survivor benefits, which can provide either your own benefits or 100% of your deceased spouse's, whichever is larger. Consequently, the higher-earning spouse might want to postpone taking benefits for as long as possible to maximize the survivor benefit.

How much can I earn without reducing my Social Security benefits? If you are younger than your full retirement age and you are receiving Social Security, the Social Security Administration will withhold $1 from your benefits for each $2 you earn over a certain threshold (which, in 2019, is $17,640). For the year you reach your full retirement age, your benefits could be withheld by $1 for every $3 you earn over $46,920. But once you reach your full retirement age, you can earn as much as you want without your benefits being withheld, although your benefits could still be taxed, depending on your income.

How much of my pre-retirement income will Social Security replace? Generally speaking, you should expect Social Security to replace slightly more than a third of your pre-retirement income. However, the higher your income during your working years, the lower the replacement value of Social Security will be.

What other sources of retirement income should I develop? Contribute as much as you can afford to your IRA and your 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan. You may want to consult with a financial professional, who can look at your entire retirement income picture and recommend moves to help you achieve the lifestyle you've envisioned for your later years.

Keep in mind that your decisions about Social Security filing strategies should always be based on your specific needs and health considerations. For more information, visit the Social Security Administration website at socialsecurity.gov.

One final word: You may have concerns about the stability of Social Security. While no one can predict the future, many potential solutions exist to put the program on more solid footing. Consequently, try to focus on the actions you can control.

This article was written by Edward Jones for use by your local Edward Jones Financial Advisor.

This information is believed to be reliable, but investors should rely on information from the Social Security Administration before making a decision on when to take Social Security benefits. It is general information and not meant to cover all scenarios. Your situation may be different, so be sure to discuss this with the Social Security Administration prior to taking benefits.

MY IDEA OF AN 18 YEAR OLD

By: Stan Jordan

As I understand the state of Ohio just passed a law that prohibits teenagers from smoking until they are 21 years of age.

Who is a teenager? What is a teenager?

I'm an old man, but I haven't smoked since 1951, but smoking is a right and a privilege. Back in 1941 the government classified an 18 year old as a grown man. They didn't care if you smoked or not, you were old enough to fight and maybe die for your country and the right to smoke.

The government even cut the taxes on packs of cigarettes and sometimes you got a free ration of cigarettes. The federal government thought it was okay for a young man to smoke, it's his privilege.

Riding a motorcycle, driving a car, flying in an airplane, you can die from those also; just like the doctors say you can die from smoking.

To me if you're considered a grown man and wise enough to vote when you are 18, that to me, means you are a grown person of at least average intelligence and you can handle what's good and not good for you.

I understand and know that smoking tobacco is not good for you, but neither is drinking, over eating, being lazy, doing drugs and a dozen other things, but they're being done.

What I think is a teenager is given two classifications, two types of rules and laws. The state government usurps the federal government sometimes.

Yes, I know there are laws, but some of them are made by a group of old cronies who forgot that they were once teenagers. Like I have said before, when they use their civil rights they are stepping all over someone else's civil rights.

It all boils down to a teenager can't belong to a volunteer fire department and a half dozen lodges and other organizations like city police until he is 21. Okay, put the voting age back to 21 and the selective service act back to 21 and see what you get. Stop the two classifications of our teenagers. That Ohio bill is not right.

Treat these people right! Those under 21, are they adults or not?

NOW AND THEN

By: Stan Jordan

I love this country, I love our life style and above all, I appreciate it.

We are one of the most advanced countries in the world. We have some of the best labor saving devices that are made, we have the best and the newest ideas for comfort and easy living.

So, I look back into the past of the 1920's and 30's and think of the things we didn't have. These last few days have been in the 90 degree range, it is supposed to be 92 degree today, but we had those kind of days back in the 20's and 30's. There was no such thing as air conditioning, not even electric fans, but it was still hot and humid. You slept with the doors and windows open and hoped for a breeze. Yes, we had screens on the doors and windows. We didn't all have running water or electricity yet.

We have gotten used to all the comforts I think we have come to be slaves to our life styles. When the a.c. goes down, it is torture until the man comes and fixes it. Same thing when the furnace goes bad in the winter. You don't have to carry in water or coal or carry out the ashes, just call the man.

The car you drive to work has a fine heater and now an a.c.; you don't have to shift gears any more and you can start your car from the kitchen and it is nice and warm for you. Now we have wash and wear clothes, don't have to iron them, don't have to hang them out...just wear them.

We even have a place to get your car washed. Some fellows have a zero turn lawn mower and they enjoy mowing, and ladies too.

Yes, you are right, I use all of these inventions and wait for more. America might not be in first place, but we are way ahead of the one in second place.

See ya!

THE AMERICAN ROBIN

By: Stan Jordan

The robin is probably the most common song bird in North America. You can find them in any of our 48 states and south into Mexico.

They are called the American robin because there is only one species of this robin, but in some places they are bigger or fatter. They have built their nests in the city as high as 1200 feet, but mostly they like woods or farm land because their favorite food is earth worms, but they will eat other worms or bugs and insects. Robins have been known to ruin a cherry crop (any and all colors of cherries).

Where I used to fish in Florida there were large cherry trees beside the lane and the robins would be migrating north and in two days the robin were gone and the cherries also.

I like to see and hear them. I have one nest in our red maple tree. I watched a male robin pulling on a big fat earth worm, time and this went on and on, the robin pulled and the earth worm was hanging on to his hole. Well the worm broke in two and the robin fell over backwards, but he still had part of that worm.

There is a restaurant nationwide chain called Red Robin and they are nice places. Back in 1920 or so, there was a hit song: When the red, red robin goes a bob, bob, bobbing along, get up you sleepy head, get up, get out of bed and hear his joyful song.

There was more to the song, but I can't remember it. Any how, the robin is well liked all over.

Again, I say, spend a little time and watch our wild life.

See ya!

EAGLES LIFE TIME

By: Stan Jordan

I talked to Mr. Brown the other day and he told me that eagles might live to be 50 years old.

Well he is right, as I understand they live to be 20-30 years old in the wild, but in captivity, as a zoo, they can live to be 50 years old. Mr. Brown, I thank you for your interest.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE MRS. PELOSI

By: Stan Jordan

Mrs. Pelosi is politicking with the line, she is not in favor of the death sentence.

I wonder what she thinks now. In Texas, that guy killed about twenty people and injured that many more. He was caught and is in jail.

In old Texas, that guy would have been hung before the sun went down. But, now he will be in jail for months, then a worthless trial and if he is found guilty, he will be given a new trial and he will live for years and those poor people and their families will weep and be in sorrow forever. And Mrs. Pelosi wants to let him live.

I am in favor of the death sentence, and soon!

HISTORY, HISTORY

By: Stan Jordan

This photo is of the Bee Argus Print Shop in its final years, but to me its history goes way back.

As far back as I remember about 1930, in that building was the Frank Reeb grocery store and I think later on his son, Ray, and his boy, John, helped out there.

I have had people tell me that there was another building here on our right, now that might be right, but it

In June of 1914, D.C. Bickhard and his family arrived and took over the print shop and the weekly paper, The Bee Argus, from the original owner, N.G. Osborne.

The Bickhard's owned and operated the paper for years in another location and then moved down to this address.

There has been a number of owners, the last being the James Temple family.

June 10-14 and July 22-26, NSCC successfully held its second annual GenCyber teacher camps at the College's Scott Park location in Toledo. In the week-long camps, faculty and staff from NSCC and BGSU provided hands-on instruction in cybersecurity awareness and best practices to teachers from Toledo Public Schools (TPS) and Springfield Local Schools, as well as a representative from Imagination Station, while helping them find ways to incorporate these concepts into their curriculum.

"The NSA GenCyber 6 Cybersecurity Concepts are cybersecurity best practices for anyone using a computer on a network," said Tami Norris, Training Coordinator at NSCC and Lead Instructor of the camp. "The group of teachers we had at the camp were fantastic. It was obvious they have a deep regard for their students as every person in attendance was very interested in learning information that they can take back to their classrooms," Norris continued.

ABOUT THE GENCYBER PROGRAM

The GenCyber program is co-funded by the National Security Administration and the National Science Foundation. Northwest State Community College was one of only 3 higher education institutions in Ohio to receive the GenCyber grant. The camps, open to all teachers K-12, provides expert training designed to enhance the safety and educational experience for students. Topics covered in the camps included online ethics, cyberbullying, coding, networking basics & security, robotics and more. Additional information on the GenCyber camps is available at gen-cyber.com.

CYBERSECURITY AWARENESS MONTH

As a follow up to the camps, NSCC will be hosting an event in October for Cybersecurity Awareness month. This will be a resource fair at our Toledo location. Area teachers will be able to connect with resources to help further their ability to incorporate cybersecurity into their classrooms.

OHSAA FALL SPORTS PRACTICES GET UNDERWAY THURSDAY

Preseason practices officially begin this Thursday, August 1, for OHSAA member schools for the fall sports of football, girls and boys golf, girls tennis, girls volleyball, boys and girls soccer, boys and girls cross country and girls field hockey.

UPDATED OHSAA IN-

CLEMENT WEATHER POLICY

A modification to the OHSAA's inclement weather policy is now in effect, which states, "At night under certain atmospheric conditions, lighting flashes may be seen from distant storms. In these cases, it may be safe to continue an event if no thunder can be heard and the flashes are low on the horizon." Otherwise, if thunder is heard or lightning is seen, outdoor activities shall be suspended for 30 minutes and all personnel, athletes and spectators shall evacuate to available safe structures or shelters. The full policy is posted at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/sports/inclementweatherpolicy>

HEAD, HEAT AND HYDRATION

The OHSAA has many resources and guidelines for schools to take precautions in extreme heat. In addition, the OHSAA reminds student-athletes and coaches to follow the proper medical regulations when there is any chance a concussion may have occurred. Those regulations and other helpful tools are posted at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/sportssafety>

NEW FOOTBALL PLAY CLOCK REGULATION AND PLAYOFF SCHEDULE

In football, 713 schools will field varsity teams this season. Divisional breakdowns, tournament regulations and statewide composite schedules from MaxPreps are posted on the OHSAA football page at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/sports/football>

A national rule change this season is that a 40-second or 25-second play clock will be used to determine delay of game, depending on the result of the previous play or the officials' signal. Previously, the ball was marked ready-for-play when, after it had been placed for a down, the referee gave the ready-for-play signal and the 25-second count began. The new play clock regulation is posted at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/Portals/0/Sports/Football/Play-ClockInstructions.pdf>

The complete NFHS release is posted at: <https://bit.ly/33liGFm>

The first Friday night of the regular-season is August 30. Looking ahead to the playoffs in November, Division I, II, III and VI teams will play on Friday nights, while Division IV, V and VII teams will play on Saturday nights. All playoff games during the first four rounds will kick off at 7:00 PM. The state championship games return to Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium in Canton December 5-7.

New divisions and regions were announced in June and are posted at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/Sports-Tournaments/Football/Football-2019>

FOOTBALL PRESEASON NOTES

Football teams must follow the five-day acclimatization period. During practices within the acclimatization period, players may wear helmets only on the first two days. On days three and four, helmets and shoulder pads are allowed. From day five onward, full pads are allowed. Prior to the sixth day of practice, no full contact is permitted. During the first five days of practice, athletes may engage in conditioning, speed, strength and agility drills and may use "dummies" for drills and walk-throughs. All athletes joining the team for the first time at any point during the season must participate in a five-day acclimatization period prior to any contact drills.

Coaches must ensure that there is adequate recovery time between practice sessions. Sundays, August 4 and 11, are mandatory days off. After full contact is permitted, teams must also adhere to the OHSAA's contact regulations. Details are posted at: <https://www.ohsaa.org/Portals/0/Sports/Football/FootballPracticeGuidelines.pdf>

A reminder that kickoffs are no longer permitted in freshmen games, and they are only permitted in junior varsity games if both head coaches mutually agree. Kickoffs are already not permitted in junior high games. In games with no kickoffs, the ball will be spotted at the 35-yard line to start halves and after scores. The ball will be spotted at the 50-yard line after a safety.

DAY IN THE PARK: #SMALLTOWNBIGPRIDE

The morning of August 3rd dawned sunny and warm. A perfect day to spend in the park. Antwerp Chamber sponsors A Day in the Park each summer. Many began this day with the EMS breakfast and then waltzed down the streets to get ready to watch the parade which began at the school, marched down Canal St., to Main St., onto River St. going right past the park where all the food vendors and crafters and games were finalizing their set ups... and then the paraders concluded back at the school. The opening ceremonies included announcement of the Gem of the Year: Ray Friend. Acknowledgment of Antwerp's Small Town Heroes - Fire, Police & EMS... as well as the history making students of the softball, baseball and track teams. MC, Barry Delong kept festival goers informed with the many contests, raffles, silent auction and voting opportunities going on throughout the park.

There was no possible way for anyone to leave the Riverside Memorial Park that day hungry or without purchasing a gift for someone. The crafters all had very unique and amazing pieces displayed for purchase. Crocheted hand towels, plastic bag holders, wooden bowls and stools, home-based businesses with books and teas and wax melts and prints, and there was even homemade slime to buy as a gift for that birthday party next week!

Good food was found on all corners of the park — the Boy Scouts nailed it with their freshly dipped corndogs, funnel cakes and curly fries; the Music Boosters' Archer Burgers are always a hit; and the Student Council tickled the comfort food vibe with mashed potatoes and chicken & noodles on their menu. Bethel Church always comes through with their delicious homemade ice cream - yum! South Scipio Church added a new menu item which was a hit this year — mixed fruit cups that were very cold and refreshing on the hot day.

Mt. Calvary were grilling bratwurst which tickled the olfactory senses of many causing them to stop by and grab one for a donation.

NSSC PRESIDENT PARTICIPATES IN JULY 26 COMMUNITY COLLEGE MEETING WITH GOVERNOR DEWINE & LT. GOVERNOR HUSTED

NSSC celebrated its first construction specialist pathway program graduating class, a partnership with Defiance Dream Center and other community organizations.

On July 26, Governor Mike DeWine and Lieutenant Governor Jon Husted hosted the community college presidents at the Governor's mansion to discuss our role in the future of Ohio's economy.

A majority of the community college presidents attended the breakfast, including Northwest State Community College's President Michael Thomson. The presidents expressed strong thanks to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor for the supportive work they did in the recent budget session.

The conversation rotated around two key themes. First, there are some opportunities in the new budget for community colleges to work with businesses and other partners to help better Ohio's economy. In particular, the "Tech Cred" program was discussed as a primary tool to help Ohio's incumbent workers upscale and stay current in today's fast-changing economy. Tech Cred provides funding for in-demand jobs, and deepens the partnerships that community colleges already have with Ohio businesses. It will be a major tool for economic development organizations to keep, grow, or bring new businesses into Ohio.

Another opportunity in the upcoming budget is the new community college accelerated program. This program, already piloted by three Ohio community colleges, has shown incredible promise to improve graduation rates and speed up progress of students to a credential or a degree. Dr. Thomson, who ran the original pilot program at his previous post and Cleveland, noted "We've made great strides in getting 15 to 20% higher graduation rates and students to a community college degree in three years or less. The Ohio data mirrors previous successes in New York - and could provide an express route to get more graduates into the workforce faster."

The second theme of the conversation was the importance of building new partnerships to leverage our strengths as we move forward. Community colleges already have long-established relationships with local businesses, career centers, K-12 schools and four-year universities. New partners in our work include Ohio's Job and Family Services, faith-based partners, addiction recovery services, foster care parents, and correctional facilities. Dr. Thomson thanked Lieutenant Governor Husted for his visit to the Defiance Dream Center where the first batch of graduates received construction skills -- a highly sought after career path in this area.

At the meeting's close, the community college presidents reiterated their thanks to the administration for providing much-needed resources to help Ohio stay vibrant in today's fast changing economy, and expressed a strong willingness to collaborate and create new and innovative solutions for our state.

ipated! Pie in the Face, sponsored by the Antwerp Rotary Club. Rotary members volunteered to be in this fundraising event. When the money was tabulated Shawn Dooley received the most voting to his mock chagrin. Coming in a close second was Don Oberlin followed by Tyson Mowery. Brave Annabelle Mowery was given the opportunity to throw the pie. Many cheers and laughs succumbed to this event.

As the afternoon at The Park was coming to an end, winners were announced. Cutie Pie contest winner was Vivian Sensabaugh who won a photo session with Memories by Tawnya Photography and tickets to the Fort Wayne Children's Zoo. 50/50 Raffle winner was Steve Feasby and all the silent auction winners were announced and they gladly ran over to the auction tent to claim their prize they were watching all day.

Chamber volunteers commenced then with tearing down the tents provided by Antwerp residents and it was heartening to see the camaraderie that goes on with working together for a common cause. To make a small town viable and successful it takes each resident doing their part — using their gifts and strengths for the common good. #smalltownbigpride

BETH JOHNSON WINS DAVID LLOYD NEW EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF THE YEAR AWARD

Beth Johnson, Executive Director of the Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne, recently received the David Lloyd New Executive Officer Award from the Executive Officers Council (EOC) of the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) located in Washington, DC.

The council represents the staff executives who manage the more than 650 state and local home builders' associations that comprise the National Association of Home Builders.

This award, in honor of the late David Lloyd, Executive Officer of the Home Builders and Contractors Association of Palm Beach, is presented to an Executive Officer who has served no more than three years in an association management position, but who is judged to have made major contributions to the profession during that time.

"I'm honored to represent our organization and humbled by the recognition for our work over the past 12 months," said Beth Johnson. "This accomplishment would not have been possible without the support of our leadership and involvement of our members. I appreciate them all being open to new ideas."

Johnson's dedication and commitment to this industry serves as an inspirational how-to for other executive officers striving for excellence in association management.

"Being a new Executive Officer for a Home Builders Association presents many challenges," said Mike Means, president of the NAHB Executive Officers Council and Executive Vice President of the Oklahoma Home Builders Association. "Beth has not only demonstrated her ability to navigate the new role but provide invaluable resources to the HBA of Fort Wayne to help the Association and its members prosper. Beth exemplifies all the qualities represented in the David Lloyd New Executive Officer award. She and her members should be very proud."

Johnson has been in the role of Executive Director at the Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne since June 2018, currently serves on the Executive Officers Council of the Indiana Builders Association as Secretary/Treasurer and participates as an active member of Young Leaders of Northeast Indiana.

WARNING TO ADULTS: CHILDREN NOTICE EVERYTHING

Adults are really good at paying attention only to what you tell them to - but children don't ignore anything.

That difference can actually help children do better than adults in some learning situations, a new study suggests.

Researchers surprised adults and 4- and 5-year-old children participating in the study by making information that was irrelevant at the beginning of the experiment suddenly important for a task they had to complete.

"Adults had a hard time re-adjusting because they didn't learn the information they thought wouldn't be important," said Vladimir Sloutsky, co-author of the study and professor of psychology at The Ohio State University.

"Children, on the other hand, recovered quickly to the new circumstances because they weren't ignoring anything. I'm sure a lot of parents will recognize that tendency of children to notice everything, even when you wish they wouldn't."

Sloutsky conducted the study with Nathaniel Blanco, a postdoctoral researcher in psychology at Ohio State. Their research was published online in the journal Developmental Psychology and will appear in a future print edition.

The results show that children tend to distribute their attention broadly, while adults use selective attention to focus on information they believe is most important, Sloutsky said.

"Distributing attention may be adaptive for young children. By being attentive to everything, they gather more information which helps them learn more," Blanco said.

In one study, the researchers had 34 adults and 36 4-year-old children take part in a learning task.

They were presented with colorful images of "alien" creatures on a computer that had seven identifiable features, including antennae, head and tail.

Participants were told there were two types of creatures, called Flurps and Jalets, and that they had to figure out which ones were which.

One feature was always different on Flurps and Jalets - for example, the Jalets may have a blue tail and the Flurps an orange tail. In addition, the children and adults were told that most (but not all) of the Flurps had a certain type of feature, such as pink antennae.

One of the features was

PAULDING PUTNAM ELECTRIC MEMBERS DONATE $12,126 TO 11 LOCAL GROUPS

Small coins make a big difference when Paulding Putnam Electric Cooperative members join together to fund change in their communities. In fact, $12,126 in second-quarter grants was distributed to 11 local organizations through the co-op's Operation Round Up program.

Participating members "round up" their monthly electric bills to the next dollar, with the extra pennies being used to help fund community charities and groups.

Since Operation Round Up's inception in 2010, it has provided more than $429,382 to over 147 organizations in Indiana and Ohio. The most recent recipients include:

- Main Street Van Wert: $1,000
- Lima Symphony Orchestra: $1,000
- Putnam County YMCA: $1,500
- First United Methodist Church (Van Wert) - Operation Back to School: $1,000
- Friends of Paulding County Parks: $1,200
- Hands of Hope Pregnancy Services (Paulding): $1,000
- House of Love Ministries (Paulding): $1,450
- Paulding Soccer Club: $1,000
- Enouf Cats (formerly Nips N Snips) of Paulding County: $1,000

Van Wert Middle School: $500

Antwerp Local School: $1,476

A board of trustees, composed of co-op members and separate from the PPEC board, oversees the application process. Organizations can apply for Operation Round Up assistance by contacting Paulding Putnam Electric Co-op at 1-800-686-2357 or visiting www.ppec.coop/operation-round-up. never mentioned in the instructions and it did not differ between the types of creatures. This was what the researchers called the "irrelevant feature."

After training, participants were shown a series of images of the creatures on the computer screen and indicated whether each one was a Flurp or a Jalet.

But halfway through the experiment, the researchers made an unannounced switch: The irrelevant feature became the feature that would determine whether the creature was a Flurp or a Jalet. This feature, which had been the same for both creatures before the switch, was now different.

After the shift, the adults were more confused than the children were - they were less likely to learn the importance of the new feature.

In contrast, children were quick to realize that the formerly irrelevant feature was now the feature that would always reveal the difference between Flurps and Jalets.

Adults tried to use the probabilistic rules (such as "most of the Flurps have pink antennae") to guide their choices after the shift.

In this study, adults suffered from "learned inattention," Blanco said. They didn't pay attention to the formerly irrelevant feature because they believed it wouldn't be important.

Children as young as those in this study often have difficulty focusing attention in the way that the adults did, Sloutsky said.

"The immediate reason is the immaturity of their pre-frontal cortex," he said. "But we believe that distributing attention broadly also helps them learn more."

Sloutsky emphasized that adults have no problem distributing attention broadly if necessary. But in many tasks that adults do every day, selective attention is helpful.

"It is clear that for optimal performance at most jobs, selective attention is necessary. But distributed attention might be useful when you're learning something new and need to see everything that is going on."

The study was supported by grants from the National Institutes of Health.

OLD FORT VANDALIZED

In the morning hours of August 2, 2019, Fort volunteers discovered that the Old Fort had been vandalized with spray paint. An unknown vandal sprayed "no pride in native genocide" on the south-facing exterior façade on both sides of the gate. The Parks Department has been notified and a formal police report was made earlier this afternoon. Presently, the Old Fort plans to remove the vandalism with soda blasting, which will cause minimal damage to the Fort itself while still removing the spray paint. This will likely be conducted tomorrow afternoon (Saturday, August 3).

About Historic Fort Wayne, Inc.: Founded in 2004, Historic Fort Wayne is a Non-Profit Organization that manages the Old Fort in Fort Wayne, IN. Our goal is to educate the community about Historic Fort Wayne and its significance to the Northwest Territory, the State of Indiana, and the United States during the 17th and 18th centuries through interactive programming. We are a 100% volunteer organization. All of our events are free to the public. All programming is funded by private and corporate donations.

FIELD REPORTS FROM OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE OFFICERS

Central Ohio - Wildlife District One

In May 2018, State Wildlife Officer Adam Smith, assigned to Logan County, received information about subjects illegally taking numerous saugeye with a cast net below the spillway at Indian Lake at night. In March 2019, Officer Smith observed the same male subject from the previous year throwing a cast net in the same area. The subject was observed taking several saugeye from the Great Miami River. Officer Smith contacted the man, and the fish were returned to the water alive. The man was found guilty on charges of taking game fish with a cast net, and taking more than his daily limit of saugeye. He was ordered to pay $400 in fines and court costs in the Bellefontaine Municipal Court. The citizens who called in 2018 were each awarded a $50 TIP reward for providing information of wildlife violations. Wildlife enthusiasts are encouraged to report wildlife violations by calling 1-800-POACHER (1-800-762-2437).

During a wet spring day, State Wildlife Officer Josh Elster, assigned to Pickaway County, was on patrol at Deer Creek Wildlife Area. As Officer Elster approached a parking area, he observed a vehicle driving in the grass and leaving large ruts. Officer Elster stopped the vehicle and contacted the driver. Officer Elster informed the driver that it is illegal to drive in unmarked locations at a wildlife area. Officer Elster issued a citation for operating a vehicle off a designated roadway. The driver was ordered to appear in the Washington Court House Municipal Court and ordered to pay $175 in fines and court costs.

Northwest Ohio - Wildlife District Two

In March 2019, State Wildlife Officers Nathan Kaufmann, assigned to Huron County, and Nathan Cass, assigned to Crawford County, were conducting sport fishing enforcement near Lake Erie in Ottawa County. They contacted several anglers who had just trailered their boats. One individual advised he had a fishing license, but it was in his vehicle and his vehicle was not at the location. After further investigation, it was found that this individual did not have a fishing license, and he also had a warrant for his arrest in southern Ohio. This individual later pleaded guilty for fishing without a license, and his four walleye were seized as evidence. He was later transported to southern Ohio to serve the warrant.

Wildlife officers in northwest Ohio conducted an investigation at several wildlife areas after receiving reports of illegal activity. Multiple violations were discovered, including vehicles driving on undesignated areas of state property. One of the drivers was later contacted while rabbit hunting by State Wildlife Investigator Jason Parr and State Wildlife Officer Matt Leibengood, assigned to Sandusky County. The suspect was found to have been previously convicted of several wildlife violations. He was also found to be a convicted felon and was not allowed to possess a firearm. The gun he was using while rabbit hunting was seized as evidence and the suspect was turned over to local law enforcement for a violation of having weapons while under disability, a felony charge. In court, the suspect entered a guilty plea and was found guilty of a separate misdemeanor. The suspect paid $593 in fines and court costs and was placed on two years of probation.

Northeast Ohio - Wildlife District Three

While on patrol, State Wildlife Officer Craig Porter, assigned to Jefferson County, and State Wildlife Officer Nick Turner, assigned to Harrison County, responded to a call from the Ohio State Highway Patrol regarding several individuals who were allegedly riding stolen ATVs near the Ohio River. One of the suspects was previously arrested in the same area for an assault warrant and fishing without a license. The officers arrived on scene and observed two men on ATVs, one being the suspect they had arrested the year before. The suspect fled when Officer Turner activated his lights and siren, and they were able to detain the second individual. Over the next month, Officer Porter and Officer Turner worked with Jefferson County Drug Task Force Detective Jason Hanlin to conduct interviews and execute numerous search and arrest warrants. Seven stolen ATVs were recovered, and five adults and one juvenile were charged. They were convicted of more than 35 felonies and three misdemeanor charges, and ordered to serve a total of 14 years in prison. They were also directed to pay thousands of dollars in restitution.

During the deer gun season, State Wildlife Officer Scott Cartwright, assigned to Carroll County, discovered a skinned and untagged white-tailed deer on private property. The man who harvested the deer was located. It was later discovered that he had harvested four deer, none of which were properly game checked. He was charged with multiple wildlife violations and appeared in the Carroll County Municipal Court. He was convicted and ordered to pay $520 in fines and court costs. In addition, his hunting privileges were suspended for one year.

Southeast Ohio - Wildlife District Four

During the 2019 spring wild turkey hunting season, State Wildlife Officer Jerrod Allison, assigned to Coshocton County, received calls about two possible turkey baiting sites. Early one morning, Officer Allison and State Wildlife Officer Jeff Berry, assigned to Muskingum County, checked one of the sites. A pile of sunflower seeds was discovered in front of a ground blind. When they approached the blind, the officers asked for anyone inside to step out. An adult male stepped out of the blind with his son and daughter. The officers explained to him that it was illegal to hunt turkeys over a baited area, and explained that the sunflower seeds in front of the blind made it a baited area. The man was issued a ticket for hunting turkeys over a baited area. The officers proceeded to a second location. As they approached the blind, they asked for any anyone inside to step out. A man stepped out of the blind. Officer Berry found cracked corn scattered on the ground near the blind. The officers explained to the hunter that it was illegal to hunt turkeys over a baited area, and the cracked corn scattered on the ground made it a baited area. This hunter was also issued a ticket for hunting turkeys over a baited area. Each hunter paid fines and court costs of $150 to Coshocton Municipal Court.

In January 2019, State Wildlife Officer Darin Abbott, assigned to Lawrence County, was patrolling near Timbre Ridge Lake when he observed a vehicle with expired tags. The registered owner, who was driving, also had a bench warrant. Officer Abbott initiated a traffic stop and was advised by dispatch that the driver was also under a driver's license suspension. Officer Abbott smelled the odor of an alcoholic beverage upon the suspect's person and asked how much and what had he been drinking. The suspect said he had a couple of alcoholic drinks. Officer Abbott contacted Ohio Highway Patrol, which responded to the scene. The defendant was arrested and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving under suspension, and expired tags, in addition to the bench warrant for DUI. Officer Abbott had the vehicle towed as well. The case is still pending in Lawrence County Municipal Court.

Southwest Ohio - Wildlife District Five

In the spring, State Wildlife Officer Ryan Schock, assigned to Hamilton County, received numerous TIP complaints regarding a video showing someone killing a snapping turtle while fishing. Officer Schock investigated and spoke to the person who took the video of the incident. Officer Schock then spoke to the person who killed the turtle. Officer Schock charged the man with taking a snapping turtle during the closed season. The suspect paid $135 in fines and court costs. If a turtle is caught while fishing during a closed season, it must be released without harm. If the hook cannot be easily removed, it is better for the overall health of the turtle to simply cut the line.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is managing environmental cleanup at the Dana Corp. facility located in Antwerp, Ohio, under the authority of the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or RCRA. THE CICADA

By: Patrick Troyer, Paulding SWCD

Have you been sitting outdoors recently and heard a droning buzzing sound coming from the trees? What is making that sound? Is it the power lines buzzing and making that sound? Why is it making that sound? Does it mean anything? The sound that you are hearing is the cicada, a small insect with a small and stout body. The cicada is an interesting insect and one that is always able to be heard in the late summer months with the sign that summer is getting close to its end. Follow along with this article as we learn about the cicada and the unique characteristics that come along with it.

According to National Geographic, Cicadas are recognized by their firm bodies, wide head, translucent wings with visible membranes, and rather large eyes. Did you know that there are over 3,000 different species of cicadas that are found throughout the world? Wow that is a lot! The cicada is an interesting species of insects that have a wide variety of different life cycles that have a lot of variance especially when it comes to the length of time it takes to complete. Some cicadas have been known to disappear altogether for multiple years at a time only to make a comeback at regular points over the course of time such as the 17-year cicada which is known to come back in 17-year cycles.

National Geographic writes that cicadas typically follow an annual life cycle because there are at least some adults which come back every year. This cicada is known as the annual cicada. The cicada starts out as an egg which develops into a nymph that enjoys the liquids of plant roots to obtain their nutrition. At this stage, they will spend their time under the ground surface which can last most of their young life before they come above surface upon reaching the adult stage.

Some cicadas follow the periodical cycle which they will reappear and disappear in a given amount of time. A cicada that follows this life cycle is the 17-year cicada. There are many similarities that exist between the periodical and annual cicada life cycle with a few exceptions. The nymphs will live under the ground for a period of 17 years and consume sap from trees. Once they reach 17 years, the nymphs will tunnel their way to the surface using their front legs which will create a small mound of mud on the ground surface.

Has there been a large sighting of cicadas in Ohio recently? Ohio Country Journal published an article back in May of this year where a large swarm or "brood" of 17-year cicadas were sighted throughout northeast Ohio. Many residents were not too thrilled about the presence of the cicadas, but Eric Barrett of Ohio State Extension reminds us that they do not bite, harm trees, or cause any other kind of significant damage to be a problem. When does northwest Ohio see the 17-year cicada next? According to David Shetlar, Professor Emeritus with OSU, the western counties of Ohio will see a brood of cicadas in 2021 with those in southern Ohio seeing a brood of cicadas in 2025. Stay tuned!

According to Colorado State University Extension, the male cicada is well-known for the song they use to attract their mates. The sound is quite loud, whiney, and hazing a buzzing tone. More than likely, you do not just hear one cicada but multiple cicadas that are all "singing" together throughout the trees. Your first question at this point is how exactly they make this sound. Male cicadas make the droning sound by vibrating their membranes on their abdomens using a structure called a tymbal, which is found on the abdomen, according to Colorado State Extension. As a response to this sound, the female cicada will flick her wings as a signal to the male.

It is important to point out that there are different sounds the cicada will make for mating and if they are in distress, although they both sound the same to us as humans making it difficult to tell the two apart. Colorado State Extension notes that those who do not sing their droning song will make a ticking noise.

Next time that you are taking a walk through the woods or enjoying a leisurely afternoon in your backyard take a moment to enjoy the sights and sounds that are all around you. Now you know one of those sounds in the late summer is likely the cicada!

NEW 3D MILKY WAY MODEL SHOWS DETAILS OF GALACTIC "WARP"

An international research team has built the most in-depth 3D model of the Milky Way galaxy to date, using light from thousands of stars. Their report, published today in Science, shows greater detail of the Milky Way's "warp."

"The problem astronomers have typically had in studying the Milky Way is that, because we reside in it, it is hard to see the parts that are far away - we cannot move outside the galaxy and look at it," said Radek Poleski, co-author of the study and a postdoctoral astronomy fellow at The Ohio State University. "What we were able to do in this study that hasn't been done before is to take a very large sample of objects - uniformly selected and organized - to build a model of the Milky Way galaxy."

For years, astronomers thought the Milky Way was a disk-like spiral, with stars arranged in long, sloping branches, on one flat plane. Last summer, this team presented its findings to a group of astronomers, showing a slight warp in the galaxy, giving researchers their first indication that the galaxy might not be a perfectly flat disk.

The study published today shows more details: The warp, it turns out, is more pronounced than astronomers first believed.

The international team behind this study mapped more than 2,300 classical Cepheid stars using data from multiple survey telescopes. Classical Cepheid stars are young star standards - less than 400 million years old - and are super-giants, burning very brightly. Because of that, they are ideal objects for astronomers to use to track distance and changes in space.

The research team, which is based in Poland, has deep connections to Ohio State: In addition to Poleski, the two lead authors, Dorota Skowron and Jan Skowron, and another co-author, Szymon Kozłowski, are former astronomy postdoctoral fellows at Ohio State.

The team mapped the classical Cepheids in the Milky Way primarily using star images from the Optical Gravitational Lensing Experiment (also known as OGLE) and the All-Sky Automated Survey for Supernovae (ASAS-SN for short), which is led by Ohio State and is made up of small telescopes around the world.

When the research team began mapping out the stars, they saw a significant warp developing at the edges of the Milky Way. The farther stars were from the galaxy's center, the more extreme the warp.

The findings add to astronomers' understanding of the structure of our galaxy and provide new insights into how the galaxy formed.

"It's an important link to knowing which stars have formed and how they've evolved, and what constraints might be on where life can start and evolve," Poleski said. "It's one of the oldest questions humanity asks: You go outside, you see some stars, and you wonder what our place is in that universe. And many of the stars you see are in the galactic disk - what we are studying in this work."

ENERGY STORAGE COULD REDUCE EMISSIONS THAT CAUSE CLIMATE CHANGE

Electricity grids that incorporate storage for power sourced from renewable resources could cut carbon dioxide emissions substantially more than systems that simply increase renewably sourced power, a new study has found.

The study, published today in the journal Nature Communications, found that storage could help make more efficient use of power generated by sources such as wind and solar and could help power grids move away from relying on fossil fuels for energy.

"With solar and wind, you can't flip them on immediately when you need more power," said Ramteen Sioshansi, a co-author of the study and professor of integrated systems engineering at The Ohio State University. "So the more renewable energy you put into your system, the greater your need to be able to forecast when those energy sources might be available - unless you can find an affordable, reliable way to store that energy."

The study was among the first of its kind to evaluate the role energy storage might play in making renewable resources more reliable on a grid-wide basis.

The researchers looked at the power grids in California and Texas, then modeled the ways in which energy storage might make better use of energy from renewable sources - and the ways in which storing energy from renewable sources might affect the amount of carbon dioxide the energy grid pumps into the atmosphere.

They found that in California, without energy storage, one-third of the renewable energy could be lost or never collected in the first place. And adding energy storage technologies - batteries and the like - could reduce carbon dioxide emissions by 90 percent.

Under the study's models, holding energy from renewable sources also made the system much more efficient: Just 9 percent of renewable energy was lost.

In Texas, a state that generates a smaller percentage of its energy from renewable sources than California, the researchers found that adding energy storage technologies to the grid could reduce carbon dioxide emissions by about 57 percent. Under that model, just 0.3 percent of the renewable energy in Texas's system would be lost.

"Renewables are good, but they have their own challenges," said Maryam Arbabzadeh, a research fellow at the University of Michigan and lead author of the study. "The sun is not always shining; the wind is not always blowing. Sometimes the amount of solar and wind power doesn't match the demand. As we think about how to decarbonize our systems, a combination of all of these technologies could be beneficial for the system to minimize carbon dioxide emissions."

Though it is not yet a problem throughout much of the United States, which still largely relies on coal and natural gas for energy, some countries and states - including California - have begun producing more energy from renewable resources than the grid is using. That means that some energy from renewable resources is either lost forever or never collected in the first place.

"One of the unique characteristics of electric power systems is that you have to maintain supply and demand balance at all times," Sioshansi said. "The analogy is if you have an airplane with 109 seats, you have to have exactly 109 passengers - if 108 or 110 passengers show up, then everything falls apart."

Maintaining that exact balance of the supply of energy with the demand for it makes producing a reliable power grid technically challenging. Over the last century, power companies have figured out how to adjust the output of energy from a coal- or natural-gas fired plant when demand increases, Sioshansi said: They simply fire up or power down a turbine.

Power companies largely know they need to hold energy from renewable sources in order to make those sources work for their grids - but so far, batteries and other storage options have been costly.

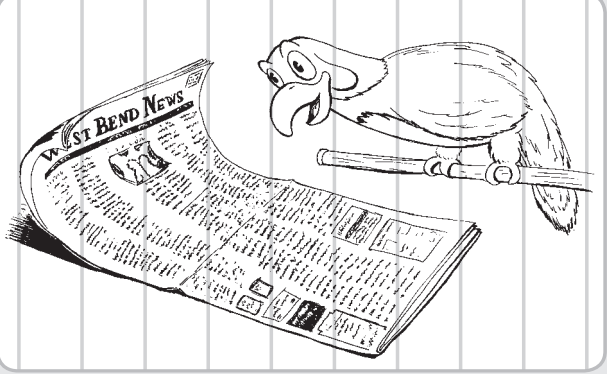

Sioshansi, who chairs a subcommittee on energy storage for the U.S. Department of Energy, said this research sets the stage for future studies to eliminate fossil-fuel sources from the energy grid. Future models, he said, could predict what might happen to fossil fuel emissions if a state or country combined a greater investment in renewable energy sources with different energy storage solutions and policies like carbon taxes.

"This study focused on a very narrow application of energy storage for systems that are adding more renewable sources to their energy supply," he said. "Looking forward, we could perhaps make a more complex model to show how to achieve greater reductions in carbon dioxide emissions."
