WHERE ARE YOUR FEET STANDING?

By: Doris Applegate

This morning I woke up with this song on my mind and in my heart (spirit): "On Christ the solid Rock I stand, all other ground is sinking

Yes, Jesus Christ is our Rock that keeps us out of mud and mire of the ugly ways of the world and all things evil. What a blessing to know a place of Safety in this old world! The first part of the song is; "My faith is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness; I dare not trust sweetest frame but wholly lean on Jesus' name!" Talk about security! We are secure in Jesus Christ our Lord. On the other hand, those who do not have their feet firmly planted on this Rock are in Big Trouble! Any place you are standing on is dangerous if not on the "Jesus Rock"!

Jesus plainly taught us what to do so as to be sure of a safe place. In Matthew 7:1-27 we are told: Not to judge others, (take care of your own sins and failures before trying to help others). Do not give holy things dogs or cast your pearls before pigs...In Proverbs 9:7-8 it says: "Do not reprove a scorner or he will hate you, reprove a wise man and he will love you." Jesus also said, if we ask, seek and knock, we would receive from our heavenly father.

We are to "do unto others as we would want them to do to us." We are to "enter in at the narrow and straight gate where we will find eternal life and are NOT to enter in the gate that is wide and the way broad because that leads to destruction." We are to "be on guard for people who are false and don't speak truth" ... we will know all people by the "fruit of their lives."

In the book of Galatians 5:22-23 we see the fruits that we can tell the true from the false people. The fruits are: love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance or self-control. Wow! That's a lot of fruit to look for. Jesus said if we do the things listed above that our "house" (life) will be built strong on the rock, but if we don't do these things, our "house" (life) will collapse when the storms come!

KID'S KORNER

Welcome back!

The question from last week is about who Jesus taught to pray and, as a bonus, where in the Bible that is found. Did you find it?

Jesus' disciples asked Him to teach them how to pray. He taught them the prayer that we know as The Lord's Prayer. It can be found in Matthew 6:9-13 and Luke 11:2-4.

God invites us to pray to Him at all times. The Lord's Prayer is an example of prayer, but not the only prayer we can pray.

Prayer is being in communication with God. It's talking with Him in spoken words or in thoughts. He gives us the assurance that He hears and answers every Christian prayer. Sometimes He says yes, sometimes no, and sometimes not right now. An important thing is that we ask that our prayers be answered according to God's will. His will is perfect, and He knows even better than do we what is good and right for us. When we pray that His will be done, it is done. God would have us pray to Him at all times and in all places. What a blessing it is that our Mighty God listens to us and answers us!

For next week: Did you know that the sun and moon actually stopped moving through space for a while? Can you find when that happened?

See you next week. Pastor Tim mhrtim1951@gmail.com

Please help me connect Psalm 78:9 with the rest of chapter 78. Verse 9 - "The children of Ephraim, being armed, and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle."

Ephraim, Joseph's second son who received the blessing of the first born from Jacob in Genesis 48, became the leading tribe in Israel through the time of King Saul. Ephraim sometimes represented all Is-

I believe "their day of battle" was anytime and most every time they were tested by God. Though they were physically armed and carrying bows, spiritually they failed in faith and courage. They knew what God commanded and their responsibility to obey and teach these things to their children - Psalm 78:1-7, but they were stubborn and rebelled - verse 8. They kept doing it - verses 10-59, so the result was that God refused Ephraim from being the leading tribe and chose the tribe of Judah - verses 67-72.

That is a major lesson for us to obey and teach our children especially in the time of

MAKING SOAP

Penny For Your Thoughts By: Nancy Whitaker

I have never claimed to be a so called Arts and Crafts person, but I do like to cook and create various recipes and try household tips to save time and money. Everyone likes to save a dollar or two, at least I do, because as Ben Franklin said, "A penny saved is a penny earned.

The Internet and social media has made it easy to look up almost anything we might want to know. Of course our grandparents and forefathers had just their hands, perhaps a book and made due with what they had.

I have never been able to sew or knit or even crochet. My grandma used to sit for hours and crochet beautiful lace around handkerchiefs and tablecloths. Me, I always liked to play around in the kitchen.

Of course, one day I begged Mom to let me make custard. I had found a recipe in an old cookbook and basically, I just wanted to do something. I was a proud little girl that evening when it came time for dessert and my homemade custard was served. Well, it sure looked good and I could not wait to

All at once Grandpa let out a choking sound and pulled my little chain bracelet from down his throat and out of his mouth. My little bracelet had escaped from my wrist and had made its way into my pudding. Oh no! I was so embarrassed that I cried. However, I recovered, became a fairly good cook, but never forgot that incident in which Grandpa almost died at the hands of my custard.

Like I said we all like to save money in our homes and I remember my Grandma and Mama making soap. It was the dreadful lye soap, but they used it for laundry, cleaning, mopping, and hand washing. Of course soap making day and laundry day was a big deal. We heated up big tubs of hot water which we poured into our May Tag Washer with the wringer. There was a rinse tub, a starch tub, and another rinse tub which all played a part of washing our dirty clothes.

After I got married and had my children, it seemed as if there was always a load of laundry in the washer or ### dryer. I remember buying the soap detergent called Breeze, which had washcloths, hand towels or bath towels in the box for us to keep. Sadly they do not offer those anymore and I am not sure if Breeze is still even on the market.

Things change, products change, peoples lifestyles change. While good old garden canned vegetables is great from the garden, now Mama and Dad usually both work and there is not a lot of time to do things like we used to. While I love modern, better and improved products, I still miss the smell of that lye laundry soap, the blue thick starch and the agitator of that May Tag clunking around.

Personally, I think I dirty more clothing than a whole family. It seems as if I always have a couple loads of laundry to catch up on. Now they make these pods which you can just throw in your washing machine and they are so

However, about 4 years ago, I found a recipe to make your own laundry soap and you may be able to save a penny. I make this laundry detergent about twice a year and really like it.

In case you want to try making the soap here is how you make it:

- 2 bars of Fels Naptha Soap;
- 2 cups of washing soda 2 cups of Borax.
- 5 gallon bucket

Directions: Shred up the bars of Fels Naptha or you can use Zotes

Shredding up the Fels Naptha is probably the hardest part. I bought an old fashioned shredder especially to make soap.

Once the Fels Naptha is shredded finely, add the shredded soap to about 2 quarts of very hot water leaving it on the stove to melt. Stir and stir as you watch the soap pieces melt.

Next Fill your 5 gallon bucket 1/2 full of warm water. Add your melted soap mixture; a cup of washing soda, a cup of Oxide and a cup of borax. (20 Mule Team) Now it is time to stir and stir. There will be chucks to break down so your soap will be smooth. An immersion blender works good to stir the soap. Get a family member to help stir too. This will keep kids busy also. Let soap rest for 24 hours; then stir some more.

When soap is smooth, add some freshner beads if you want a scented soap.

Put into bottles and enjoy your homemade soap.

I really enjoy making and using it Have you ever made your own soap? Do you remember the old wringer washing machines? Is a Penny earned a Penny saved? Let me know and I'll give you a Penny for Your Thoughts.

Depending on the nature of your business, you may have spent the past several months more concerned about today than tomorrow, given the serious economic repercussions of the COVID-19 pandemic, which is still placing stress on a great many business owners across the country.

Establish a retirement plan. If you don't already have a retirement plan, it's never too late to set one up. As a business owner, you have several options, including an "owner-only" 401(k), a SIMPLE IRA and a SEP-IRA. All these plans are fairly easy to establish and can offer potential tax advantages, as well as providing you with a source of retirement income in the future. You may want to work with a financial professional to pick the right plan for your needs.

Coordinate your business assets with your investment portfolio. Like most business owners, you may have a great deal of your personal wealth tied up in your business. And, as the past year has certainly shown, this

MILITARY HISTORY OF PAULDING COUNTY

By: Mark Holtsberry Samuel Rolla Mott Jr.

One of Paulding County's highest ranking officers was Samuel Rolla Mott Jr. He was born January 12, 1831 in Knox County, Ohio, the son of John G. and Anna (Rieder)

His early childhood education in schools were of the normal studies. As he grew older he learned the molders trade in St. Marys, Ohio and Buffalo, New York and he stayed with this trade for 6

In 1852, Samuel had taken to the liking of Miss Martha Apgar, the daughter of Peter Apgar, from New Jersey. They were married February 1, 1852, Auglaize County, Ohio. With this marriage, which will be a happy and congenial one, six children were born: two sons and four daughters.

Wanting to do other skills, in 1855, he engaged in the saw mill and lumber business, but he had to move back to Auglaize County, Ohio. In 1858, he met and friended, Colonel John Walkup, who Samuel studied and read law with. At the breaking out of Civil War, Samuel abandoned his

In April 1861 Samuel joined Company K. 15th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. The company was mustered into service, April 27, 1861 at Camp Jackson, Ohio. On May 6, 1861, Samuel was appointed to serve as 1st lieutenant. The company was mustered in to serve three months. Samuel's desire to serve led him to reenlist. The 57th Ohio Volunteer Infantry was formed in Camp Dennison, Ohio in October of 1861 and Samuel was with Company C 57th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Mustered into service September 18, 1861 at Camp Vance, Findlay, Ohio, where at that time, Samuel R. Mott was appointed captain on October 20, 1861. His Company saw action at Shiloh April 6-7, 1862, where he was wounded in the hip. The company would be engaged in four more battles, before Captain Samuel R. Mott, would be promoted to Lieutenant Colonel of the 57th Regiment, which was on April 16, 1863. Samuel was wounded in the neck at Vicksburg sometime between May 18 and July 4, 1863. He was wounded for a third time in Atlanta, between July 22, 1864 and September 2, 1864. He was promoted to colonel of the 57th Regiment on August 14, 1865.

Samuel served until September 26, 1865 and was discharged with the rank of Brevet Brigadier General. At an 18th annual reunion of the G. A. R. in Minneapolis where General William T. Sherman spoke, the question was asked of him, "Whatever happened to Mott, Colonel Mott"? Sherman said, "Mott was a soldier and a good one. I remember once, near Kenesaw, a big display of our men in plain view of the rebels. After you had started back to your camp in the woods, the rebels sent shells after you lively, and one of them exploded almost between Mott's legs, tearing off half of his coat tail! Mott laughed as though it was very funny! He never flinched. He was always on hand."

Returning home, Samuel resumed his law studies, and was admitted to the bar in 1866 and began practice in Wapakoneta, Ohio. In 1867, as a Democrat, he was elected recorder of Auglaize County, serving one term. Also on March 11, 1867, Samuel filed for his Civil War Pension, Listing himself as invalid. In 1870 he was elected to the Ohio House of Representatives and served two terms, representing Auglaize Coun-

In 1874 Samuel located in Paulding and continued in the practice of law, holding at times, the office of mayor and justice of the peace, which he held for 12 years. Samuel was ever ready to defend his principles of his faith, either in fluent speech or friendly argument.

The Van Wert, Paulding and Michigan Railway was incorporated in December 1874 to build a short branch from Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway at Cecil to Paulding. The Paulding and Cecil Railroad was incorporated for the same purpose in December 1879 and opened in 1880. Samuel was one of the promoters of the Paulding and Cecil Railroad, in which this enterprise, Samuel suffered severe financial loss.

In the 1880's, Samuel and family continued to live in Paulding and Samuel was still practicing law. Samuel became a charter member of Paulding Lodge # 502, F. & A. M. where he began the first master. In the 1890's, Samuel and Martha were still living in Paulding, but Samuel's health started to decline. Samuel and Martha lived long enough to see their children grow up to be ladies and gentlemen.

On June 7, 1899, Samuel Rolla Mott passed away in Paulding, Ohio and was buried Friday June 9, 1899 in Live Oak Cemetery (block E. Lot 16, grave 6) under the auspices of the Widow's Son Lodge #502 F. & A.M. with Revs. Townsend and Magill officiating. The funeral was a large and impressive on, the solemnity of which will long linger in the hearts of those who attended. On June 23, 1899, his wife, Martha, filed for the Widow's Pension. Until Next Time

KEEPING MOMS AND BABIES SAFE DURING THE PANDEMIC

The delivery of babies has been a happy event for the labor and delivery teams at Lutheran Hospital and Dupont Hospital over the past year. Thousands of infants born over the past year have been a welcome sight in the midst of the global pandemic.

While the virus has changed many things in the world - The Birthplace at Dupont Hospital and Lutheran Hospital are a pleasant constant, located in a separate area at each hospital to provide specialized care and services. "It is a privilege to care for moms as they bring new life into this world," said Amy Thomas, MD, OB/GYN and medical director of the OB safety in mind and our compassionate team is committed to making this an exceptional, safe experience."

Labor and delivery proceed as they always have and most adjacent procedures remain available. Tubal ligation after delivery is an option if a mother is negative for COVID-19 and circumcisions can also be performed. Breastfeeding is encouraged, even for moms who test positive for COVID-19 and can protect their infant by wearing a

As for prenatal classes and postpartum support, virtual classes and online support groups have temporarily replaced onsite options. CPR classes are offered by appointment only to enable expectant parents to learn this important skill in a safe environment.

Three Junior High School teams have qualified for the state FIRST Robotics Competition on Saturday, March 13th. The event, which will be held virtually, involves high-energy competition in the STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering & Math) fields, using those sensibilities "to build industrial-size robots to play a difficult field game in alliance with other teams, while also fundraising to meet their goals, designing a team "brand", and advancing respect and appreciation for STEM within the local community."1 Similar to the Northwest State Community College Cryptic Cyborgs team, these FIRST teams are competitive, but for a younger age group. All three teams are led by female coaches, and one of the coaches (Jani Tisovic) is an adjunct faculty member at the College. The teams also use NSCC facilities and materials for compe-by Head Coach Erin Riley, and consists of four members - three returning from last year, and one new member who is a sibling of a returning member. The team members reside in Bryan, Napoleon and Wauseon. The team has had fun this year, despite the challenges of COVID-19. "We applied our love of gaming to this year's challenge by designing a project solution that helps gamers become and stay more physically active. We were then able to see how this solution could be helpful to people of all ages and physical abilities, as well as users of electronic devices other than game consoles." • The Octobots are from

St. Patrick Catholic School in Bryan, with team members attending St. Patrick's, Bryan and Hilltop Schools. The name originates from the original team having 8 members. Head Coach Jani Tisovic noted the team started the year hosting in-person meetings, but moved to virtual meetings in November. "Our team has a lot of energy and we liked to play Frisbee, bocce and corn hole at the end of our meetings. This excess energy inspired our RePlay project, Taking 5 in the Triple A Field for middle and high school students. We built a solid robot with attachments that ride the wall and dump bocce blocks."

The Country Club hails from Alvordton, and is composed of nine members – four sets of siblings from Montpelier, Pioneer, Alvordton and Fayette. Their name stems from all members living in the country. Head Coach Jill Graham notes "Since this is our second year together as a team we have been able to increase our capabilities with the robot so that we can accomplish missions with greater reliability. Our shared love of nature and technology has helped us to think "outside of the box" to come up with innovative solutions to our problem. This year specifically we have used the two to create a solution to help our elderly friends become more active while enjoying nature!"

SAIL TO AMERICA?

By: Caroline Longardner

SIGNS AND WONDERS About 1617 the history books tell of a group of whales near the beach, nearest to The Hague. They were most likely sperm whale. It was written by historian: Carleton, that "They were thought to "indicate the coming" of "both famine and plague". An abundance of rats then appeared along the Rhine River and Cologne and finally a pestilence that was either "smallpox or bubonic plague" began to show up. It appeared to be a bad sign of the future. A comet in the sky in 1618 was seen around the world that caused a lot of concern about the future.

The thousands of native Americans who may have lived in ancient New England before the arrival of the Mayflower may have seen this comet as "they expected strange things to follow". According to Indian historians Although no one really knows exactly what happened, there were thousands of deaths of the Indian culture before the Pilgrims got there. There were graves and bones all along the shore line with no real evidence of "a battle". Whole tribes and families were dead. REASONS TO SAIL TO THE NEW WORLD Moving to Leiden, Holland from England to escape religious problems and controvera very good industry and a lot of potential, however, there was a deepening social division. Taxation, wage unrest, + actual exiling of those who worked in the sy in 1609 was catching up with them again. Leiden had textile trades (disease because of bad available living conditions). The Pilgrims lived mostly near a stagnant canal where some privys drained directly into them.

William Bradford gave four reasons for leaving Leiden, Holland: 1. To leave "the hardness of the place, poor conditions, endless work, and a harsh diet." 2. Because of. "The gradual weakening of morale, as in Leiden the Pilgrims aged prematurely, because of the hardships of manual labor. (they were exposed to flax dust, and workers with linen suffer from byssinosis, a lung disorder that causes a chronic cough)." 3.Because of - "The burdens inflicted on the children." They had to work from an early age. In Nottingham shire, even the smallest boys and girls hand knitted woolen stockings, but they also worked hard in the fields and in the town. Many times the children turned to crime to survive or choose to ship out on the Dutch vessels bound for the East Indies. (In the 17th century, half of those who did so never returned). 4. Bradford had hopes that the Pilgrims had of spreading the Gospel to the New World.

BEAVER FUR THE TRADE Some historians have often portrayed the Pilgrims/Puritans as troubled souls afflicted by the conflict of religion and the stress of wanting to get into commerce. The fur trade (specifically the Beaver fur trade) was being pushed at the time the Pilgrims were getting ready to come to America. Beaver Hats were highly treasured head wear even by King Henry III in 1261 in the Middle Ages. For many centuries they were a sign of prestige and money and power. All parts of the skin, fur, and anal grease were used and sold.

In June 1619 when Jones made the Mayflower ready for sail, the Virginia Company put out a promotional pamphlet that contained the following: "The rich Furres, Caviary and Cordage, which we draw from Russia with so great difficulty, are to be had in Virginia, and the parts adjoining, with ease and plenty." This made an attractive proposition for the Pilgrims and future merchants and new-corners to the New World.

The Pilgrims were not prepared to do any trapping when they arrived on the shores of this country in 1620. They hardly had enough food to survive. These new settlers were deeply in debt to their backers and the North American beaver could be their way out of debt. No other colonial product fetched so high a price in Paris, London, or in Holland. Governor Bradford eventually sent to England for instructions on how to fish, trap and how to make salt. It is thought that as many as 50 beavers may have lived in each square mile or even more densely in places such as Hathan Bog. Wildlife still avails in Maine not too far from there. In 2010 there were more than 400 pairs of bald eagles that were breeding in the state of Maine

LAWN CARE FOR THE HOMEOWNER

Aeration and Rolling

Soil density and general lawn appearance can be improved by aerating and rolling your lawn. Aeration consists of perforating the soil (and any thatch above it) with small holes that opens up the soil, thatch and grass. This allows water, air, and fertilizer to get closer to the roots of the grass, which enables the roots to grow deeper, producing a vigorous and vibrant lawn. In tests, grass roots have been shown to proliferate around the holes. Aerating will also improve soil compaction and reduce the likelihood of thatch becoming an issue.

To aerate a lawn, use a specialized tool to poke holes or remove cores from the soil. Run the aerator over the lawn several times to make enough holes. It is best to go over the lawn in different patterns. Make sure the soil is moist during aeration, so the aerating device can penetrate it fully. You may have to water the lawn first if there hasn't been much rain to ensure the soil is damp. Some signs that your lawn may need to be aerated are poor drainage, a failure for the lawn to turn green after fertilizing, and a presence of many worn areas. Intensively maintained lawns (those that receive regular fertilizer feedings) should be aerated about once a year. Lawns receiving moderate maintenance (not much fertilizer) only need aerated every two years or so. In this area, aeration can be done in the spring and fall of the year. cover faster if fertilized and watered adequately. Apply fertilizer as soon as possible, and water whenever rainfall fails to supply about one inch of moisture per week. If the lawn is thin, overseeding with a high quality grass seed is recommended.

An alternative to lawn aeration would be to use products that encourage soil microbes. These are easy to spread with your fertilizer spreader, and can be used any time of the year. They contain a special formula of soil-reviving ingredients that encourage soil microbes to breakdown nutrients, while also loosening hard packed soil for greater air, water, root, and nutrient penetration.

If you find your lawn to be overly lumpy, consider using a lawn roller. This is only necessary if the soil is uneven. If your lawn is very uneven, you can roll the lawn first thing in the spring or after a rainfall when the soil is still moist. The next best time to do this is in the fall. The key is to use a light roller. Heavy rolling on wet, heavy clay soils can cause harmful soil compaction. When soil becomes overly compacted, the grass roots have a much harder time growing deeper to help the grass thrive. It is not recommended to roll a new seedbed, since the new seedlings will take root easier in loose soil. Simply use a garden rake to level the soil in newly seeded areas.

PAGE 7 - WEST BEND NEWS - MARCH 23, 2021 NEW GROVER HILL BRANCH LIBRARY

Wayne Trace Grover Hill Elementary will kick off the first week of March with our annual "Right to Read" week. Mrs. Vicky Noffsinger, GH librarian, has been busy planning the week's activities, and she is pleased to announce that each class will be able to visit the new Paulding County Grover Hill Library branch

Students will be able to see the library, become familiar with the layout of the facility, learn how to get a library card, and learn more about all of the services the library has to offer. This is a great resource here in the community that is just waiting to be discovered. A big "thank you" goes out to the librarians Mrs. Amanda Jewell and Mrs. Tawnya English for partnering with Grover Hill Elementary to make this a reality.

eighth month of pregnancy when she noticed a change in her baby's normal movements — a significant development that needed to be addressed.

After noticing it was taking her baby longer than usual to get to 10 movements and that her baby's movements weren't as strong as usual, Cathleen alerted her doctor who started testing right away and determined her baby would need to be deliv-

"It was immediately discovered that Margot had a complete knot in her cord, that the cord was wrapped around her neck two times, and her hands were also tethered by the cord. Thankfully, she was healthy and after a very brief stay in the NICU was able to come home to our family," Cathleen said. "I am very fortunate that my OB office shared the Count the Kicks information with me through posters on the room walls and a brochure, as it encouraged me to download and regularly use the Count the Kicks app, which is how I knew that my baby's normal movement pattern had changed."

Count the Kicks, an evidence-based public health campaign, educates and empowers expectant parents to track their baby's movements in the third trimester of pregnancy. Research shows a change in a baby's movements could be the earliest, and sometimes only indication that something may be wrong with a pregnancy. Thanks to a partnership with the Ohio Department of Health, nurses, doctors and hospital staff have been able to order free Count the Kicks brochures, app download reminder cards, and posters to place in offices that care for pregnant patients and to share with expectant parents since 2018.

Ohio Department of Health, along with many other organizations in Ohio, are committed to reducing stillbirths through increasing awareness and community intervention. This is the second baby that we know of to be saved in Ohio through the Count the Kicks awareness campaign.

"Count the Kicks is a powerful tool in helping mothers evaluate and track their baby's movement," said Ohio Department of Health Maternal, Child, and Family Health Bureau Chief Dyane Gogan Turner. "Mothers are in a unique position to feel changes in their pregnancy, and Count the Kicks empowers them with a method to better track and document these changes for health experts who may be able to help. We are so excited to know that these resources were able to help save a life and hope they will save many more." Research indicates that keeping a daily record of a baby's movement — includ-

jabs — is an easy, free, reliable way to monitor a baby's well-being in addition to regular prenatal visits. After a few sessions on the free Count the Kicks app, parents will start to notice a normal movement pattern for their

Changes to that pattern can indicate potential issues with the pregnancy. Parents who notice a change should call their healthcare provider immediately. Every year in the U.S. 24,000 babies are born still, according to the CDC. Stillbirth affects every 1 in 167 pregnancies in the U.S.

About Count the Kicks Healthy Birth Day, Inc.,

We have a free Count the Kicks app in Google Play and iOS app stores that is available in 12 languages and has been downloaded more than 130,000 times in all 50 U.S. states, and more 140 other countries. The app allows expectant parents to monitor their baby's movement, record the history, set a daily reminder, count for twins and more. Count the Kicks has Ambassadors in 30 U.S. states (including Kari Davis, Heather Johnston Welliver, Jasmine Abraham and DaShonda Watkins in Ohio), plus Washington, D.C., Canada and India. We have appeared on Good Morning America, in O Magazine, and produced a national PSA that has generated more than 300 million viewer impressions.

In the first 10 years of the Count the Kicks campaign in Iowa (2008-2018), the state's stillbirth rate decreased nearly 32 percent, according to the CDC. In the same timeframe, the stillbirth rate in the U.S. as a whole has remained stagnant. ### LATTA, CHABOT INTRO-DUCE THE FIGHT FENTANYL

Ohio Congressmen Steve Chabot (R-OH1) and Bob Latta (R-OH5) introduced legislation to provide the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) the ability to criminalize the manufacturing, distribution or possession of fentanyl-like drugs. Specifically, H.R. 1910, the Federal Initiative to Guarantee Health by Targeting (FIGHT) Fentanyl Act will permanently list all fentanyl analog drugs as schedule I controlled substances under the Controlled Substances

Three years ago, the DEA temporarily scheduled fentanyl analogs as controlled substances. Last year, Congress passed a temporary extension that continued to criminalize fentanyl analogs until May 6, 2021. By making this important designation permanent, the FIGHT Fentanyl Act will end the necessity to continue passing temporary extensions.

"Fentanyl is 80-100 times stronger than morphine," said Latta. "According to the Ohio Department of Health Violence and Injury Prevention Section (VIPS), this extremely powerful, addictive, and dangerous substance was involved in 76 percent of overdose deaths in Ohio in 2019. fight fentanyl, we will continue to see thousands of Americans lose their lives for years to come. The FIGHT Fentanyl Act permanently lists fentanyl as a schedule I controlled substance so that we can better prevent fentanyl from destroying and taking even more American lives. I am encouraged this bill builds on previous work in Congress to stop the spread of fentanyl in our communities."

'The opioid crisis facing distribution of fentanyl analogs, which will help to keep these dangerous drugs off the streets and reduce overdose deaths across the country."

Representatives Latta and Chabot introduced nearly identical legislation in the 116th Congress.

American families is far too severe for temporary measures that are not guaranteed to be renewed or extended," said Chabot. "One of the most dangerous opioids on the streets is fentanyl, with thousands of overdose deaths every year attributed our nation and devastating to fentanyl and fentanyl-related drugs. Our legislation will permanently provide the DEA the ability to fight the production, importation and

UV RADIATION KILLS VIRUS THAT CAUSES COVID-19 IN LAB, STUDY FINDS

COLUMBUS, Ohio -- A specific wavelength of ultraviolet radiation killed more than 99.99% of SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19, in laboratory tests, a new study has found.

The results could offer an encouraging option for inactivating the virus that causes COVID-19 from surfaces or, potentially, from the air. It is the first study to demonstrate that specific doses of UV222, a relatively short wavelength of ultraviolet radiation, may be a feasible and safe approach to disinfecting COVID-19.

The study appears on a preprint server and has not yet undergone a formal peer review by other scientists.

The special thing is that this wavelength is effectively absorbed by the SARS-CoV-2 genome and the proteins of the virus," said Natalie Hull, lead author of the study and assistant professor of civil, environmental and geodetic engineering at The Ohio State University. "And because of that, it was likely able to damage the proteins that perpetuate the virus infection cycle. And we think that's why this is so effective."

The findings mean that UV222 could be a safe way to disinfect spaces contaminated by COVID-19, the researchers said.

"This is the first time anyone has done something with the real virus, and as best we can tell, this is a wavelength that's safe for humans," said Richard Robinson, co-author of the study and associate professor of microbial infection and immunity at Ohio State. "And so theoretically, this could be a way of decontaminating that would be safer for people, and would also kill the virus." There are caveats to the study. The findings, while encouraging, are "a starting point," Hull said. The researchers tested the effectiveness of UV to destroy SARS-CoV-2 in a liquid solution, which is usually a more difficult medium to disinfect But the study did not test UV222's ability to kill the virus in the air or on non-liquid surfaces, and any real-world solution to fighting the virus in spaces where people live, work or play must be effective in those spaces. An open room would include other factors not tested in this study, including varying temperatures, humidity and air flow, Hull said.

She said the UV light destroys the proteins and nucleic acids that make up the virus, essentially disabling it. Destroying the proteins and nucleic acids makes it impossible for the virus to replicate and complete the cycles necessary to infect people.

"It's basically like scrambling a protein with heat," Hull said. "You're applying energy and it breaks the bonds to change the structure. And these cell processes responsible for replicating the genome and making more virus components or binding to the host cell don't happen in the same way, so it halts the infection cycle."

The researchers knew that ultraviolet radiation could inactivate coronaviruses, a broad category of viruses that includes SARS-CoV-2. (The common cold, for example, is also a coronavirus; UV radiation has been shown to destroy it as well.) But most commercially available UV lamps emit rays that are long enough to penetrate skin, making them a potential cancer risk. And little information is known about how much UV radiation is necessary to kill SARS-CoV-2.

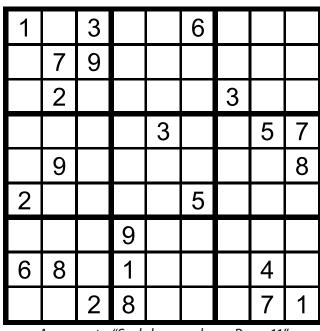

UV222 is a shorter wavelength of ultraviolet radiation than the rays that reach people from the sun, and previous studies have shown that UV222 is not likely to cause skin cancer and other health problems associated with UV radiation. (The 22" refers to the size of the wavelength - 222 nanometers. These wavelengths from the sun are mostly consumed by Earth's atmosphere before they reach us.)

The study was performed on samples of the COVID-19-causing virus that were cultivated and reproduced in a special laboratory on Ohio State's campus designed to manage biologically dangerous pathogens and viruses. The research team obtained the samples from the Biodefense and Emerging Infections Research Resources Repository, an arm of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

Researchers directed UV222 at samples of the virus held in a liquid suspension, then tested to see how much of the virus was destroyed and how long the UV radiation took to destroy it. They tested times ranging from 15 seconds to 15 min-

Robinson, who has studied tuberculosis and other lung pathogens and who is associate director of Ohio State's Biosafety Level 3 lab where the tests were conducted, said he was overwhelmed by what they saw: A near-total destruction of the virus, after only a few minutes.

When we started these experiments last summer, it was at the time when nothing was working to stop COVID," Robinson said. "And this was so rewarding, because immunologists were still unsure what to do and here was this thing where we could just zap the virus and see this immediate effect."

Hull and Robinson intend to continue testing UV222 in real-world conditions, and Hull said she is optimistic.

'We found the virus is really wimpy when confronted with UV222," she said. "And our findings are a conservative estimate - liquid is this nice place where the virus is much happier than in a room full of air. We don't know for sure, but I think it's reasonable to think it might work in the air, too. We need to do the experiments to find out

Barry also asked about meet-ing time. Council member Rister said the meeting time can be reviewed when council discusses for 2022. Michelle Walker was in attendance

Bill Boylan addressed council about a property he owns at 610 S. Erie Street. He heard that the CIC wants to put a driveay in the lot south of his property (612 S Erie Street) to go back to an undeveloped area for when it is developed. He has con cerns that this will lower his property's value and that his son will have no pri vacy on his property at all. He stated that currently there are security cameras from the doctor's office on the other side of the property and they had to have a fence put ip for privacy. Mr. Boylan suggests using up for privacy. Mr. Boylan suggests using Water Plant Drive for access to the prop erty. Administrator Keeran will talk to CIC about his concerns.

Bryce Steiner was in attendance to discuss the zoning map. He wanted to in-form council that the map had not been updated since 2012 other than the admin-

He asked that the zoning map be updated continually and be available on the village's website. John Hilton was present at the meet-

He is no longer interested in having Buffalo Street ex-tended vacated. Solicitor Farr will look into how to proceed with ordinance no. 2021-06 Prior to the final reading. Police Report

The Planning Commission met on Tuesday, March 9, 2021 at 5:00 p.m. in Town Hall to review the resolutions passed by council on proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance and the of-ficial zoning map. Due to the large num-ber of residents that attended and with nowhere to safely social distance at Town Hall, the meeting was not held and was re-scheduled for Monday, March 22, 2021 at 6:00 p.m. at the Community Church at 704 S. Also, the meeting will be advertised and placed on the village's website and Facebook page.
Proposal for income survey to be

The administrator contacted Maumee Valley Planning Organization (MVPO) about conducting a village wide income survey. The village's last income survey was good for 5 years and expired in October of 2020. An income survey is helpful in getting low interest, zero inter-est and grant funding from the different funding agencies used for water, sewer, storm and road projects. The procedure followed would be for MVPO to send out surveys to residents and have the residents either fill out their information online or by mailing in a postage paid return envelope. The surveys are confidential and names are not required on the form. Total household income is marked along with the number of residents in the house. According to MVPO, 400 surveys/ post cards would be mailed out and in or-der to have a qualified survey, 350 would need returned. The village would have 6 months to complete the survey from start to finish. Second mailings are usually re-

continuing:

Jeff Cook, future owner of the Hometown Pantry buildings, is applying for community reinvestment area tax abatement through the Paulding County Economic Development office. Once all paperwork has been submitted and the amount of investment is determined, Diamount of investment is determined, bi-rector Copsey will approach the village on the proposed abatement. It should be noted that the village granted Dr. Mow-ery a CRA Abatement when she built the new dental office in the downtown. The abatement only addresses real property improvements made to the building. Mr. Cook has approached the administrator and asked if he could place a roll off container for his business on Mercer Land-marks property, directly across the street from his buildings on Railroad Street. There is no area behind his buildings that a dumpster can be put. Mercer Landmark would allow him to place his dumpster on their property and Mr. Cook has offered to construct an enclosure around the container. Council did not see a problem with this as long as an enclosure was made and it looked nice.

Inspection completed of house on 107 E. River: The home located at 107 E. River Street was inspected by the village's housing inspector on Monday, March 8th. The inspector met with the property owner from Fort Wayne, several contractors that he brought with him and council member Mike Rohrs. Rohrs gave a report on what was determined from the inspection. Mrs. Beregszazi will be kept up to date on the process of bringing this home into compliance.

Discussion on inspection. Another inspection is to be done March 31st and the property owner has until April 12th to make property compliant or fines may be imposed starting April 13th. Solicitor Farr will review ordinance and advise of next steps, and Administrator Keeran will contact owner to see if property sold. 2 Homes on Mervin Street demol-

Two homes owned by Fritz Ehrhart, 104 and 105 Mervin have been demolished this week. The administrator spoke to the contractor on Wednesday, March 10, 2021, and informed him that the site must be cleaned up each night and the depressions left from crawl space must be filled in. Complaints were noted from adjacent neighbors about pieces of electrical components being left on the ground and the crawl space left open. The contractor assured the administrator that the site would be finished today and back fill would be placed in the crawl spaces.

103 Mervin street is owned by the Landbank and is being checked for asbestos. Next steps will be to demolish the structure and sell the property.

Committee Reports
Utility Committee met to discuss engineers. At this time, they would like engineers. At this time, they would like Jones and Henry to attend the April council meeting and Westler to attend the may council meeting and both to make presentations to council. Administratior Keeren will get in touch with both companies and schedule them to attend. Council member West also asked that Curtis Nestleroad attend those meetings to that he can ask and answer questions. so that he can ask and answer questions that will pertain to Antwerp. New business

New Ousness Rohrs asked about manhole cover on s curve. Keeran stated she would contact the state and get it repaired again. Rorhs received complaint about Erie Recycling trash flying all over the neighborhood and that it needed to get taken care of. Keeran will contact business owner. Rorhs asked Keeran if generator and sewer jet were in working condition. Keeran stated that they were not. Rohrs asked that they be scrapped if they do not work. Old Business West asked status of purchasing dump truck through state purchase pro-gram. Rorhs said that the finance committee would meet to discuss. In mean-time, Keeran will look into process with state purchase program. Update on county court matter on violation of junk motor vehicle and litter ordinances. Property has been cleaned up except for a few items that property own-er said he would remove by end of this month. Court imposed sentence of fine and court costs with fine being suspended. The case is concluded. Mayor's Report Mayor's court brought in a total of $1,450.00 in the month of February 2021 with $1,060.00 going to the village, $375.00 going to the state, and $15.00 going to the indigent driver's fund.

Motion made by Rudie Reeb, sec onded by Reinhart, to adjourn the meeting. 4 yeas, 1 nay. Motion carried and approved. Meeting adjourned at 6:24 p.m.

BUILDING SOIL CARBON

There is renewed interest in paying farmers to sequester soil carbon by building soil organic matter (SOM) levels. Building soil carbon is dependent upon temperature, moisture, vegetation, tillage, soil texture, crop rotation, and microbial activity. Soil is a major storehouse for carbon and carbon dioxide. Ohio soils originally had 5-6% soil organic matter (50-60 tons decomposed SOM) in the top furrow slice (6.7 inches) of soil. Most Ohio soils today only have about 2-3% SOM, so an additional 2-4% SOM could be added.

Temperature, moisture, and vegetation controlled most carbon and SOM storage historically. Tropical areas have lower SOM while colder soils store more carbon in SOM. Tropical carbon is stored above ground while colder climates store carbon in the soil due to limited temperature and moisture. Every 100F temperature increase will double microbial activity and releases carbon as carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. The type of vegetation impacts carbon sequestration. Hardwood trees in the Eastern USA have low root turnover, so carbon sequestration is slower and accumulates closer to the surface. Prairie soils have high SOM because 50% of the roots turn over every year, building carbon and SOM deeper and quicker. Vegetation (prairie grasses) and climate have a huge impact on SOM and soil carbon storage.

Tilling soil results in the immediate loss of soil carbon as carbon dioxide. Tillage incorporates soil oxygen, speeding up inefficient microbial decomposition of organic residues. Soil texture is important, with sandy soils being more permeable and able to hold less carbon than silty clay or clay soils. Corn and wheat generally raise your SOM levels while a soybean crop reduces SOM levels. Soybeans have less total biomass and a lower carbon to nitrogen (C:N) ratio which makes it easier and faster to decompose, which results in a loss of soil carbon.

The fastest way to gain soil carbon is to convert to longterm no-till, adding high carbon crops (corn and wheat), and adding cover crop mixtures high in carbon (grasses primarily but also legumes to stabilize soil carbon). Adding root diversity or cover crop mixes allows a variety of roots (tap roots from broadleaves and legumes and fibrous roots from grasses) to populate the soil year-round to increase soil carbon through root exudates (sugars and carbohydrates). Building soil carbon is a slow process because almost 60-80% of carbon in the plant residue, especially surface residue, is lost to the atmosphere annually. Since roots are more protected, the carbon from roots makes up the majority (80-90%) of soil carbon.

Here is a method to estimate how fast you can build soil carbon. It takes 10 tons of decomposed organic matter residue to equal 1% SOM. If you start with 40 tons organic matter residue and lose 75% or keep 25% after the microbes decompose the residue, 10 tons decomposed SOM or 1% SOM is added to your soil. Cereal rye accumulates 4-6 tons of crop residue and loses 75% or gains 25% which equals 1-1.5 tons decomposed SOM or 0.1 to 0.15% (1/10 or 1.5/10) SOM gained annually. SOM is about 58% carbon (we often assume 50%) so you gain roughly .05 to .075 tons of acSudoku solution from page 9

tual carbon per year by using cereal rye with long-term no-Grasses are the most efficient way to build SOM. Planting sorghum or Sudan species for forage or as a cover crop increases root mass 5-10X each time the crop is cut or harvested. Annual ryegrass has 50% more roots than cereal rye, barley and oats. Other grasses include pearl millet, wheat, and spelt. Every 1% SOM requires 1000 pounds of N to stabilize the SOM, so adding legumes and clovers to a cover crop mixture builds SOM faster.

Building SOM requires healthy soils with live plants and roots to add soil carbon. Tilled soils are dominated by bacteria which are 20-30% efficient at converting organic residues into soil carbon while fungi are 40-55% efficient. No-till fields with cover crops have a balance of bacteria and fungi which increases and improves carbon sequestration. There are 1,000-2,000X more microbes associated with live plants and roots than in a tilled soil. Soil microbes are 'soluble bags of fertilizer" so healthy soils are more fertile and build carbon faster. The long-term soil humus is mainly composed of dead microbial bodies, so it takes a long time to build SOM and soil carbon stocks. Building soil carbon is good for the environment and improves farming profit-

CUSTOM TRAINING SOLUTIONS CONTINUES TO SERVE AS A STANDARDS RECOGNITION ENTITY

Custom Training Solutions, a division of Northwest State Community College received the distinct recognition from the Department of Labor, Office of Apprenticeship as a Standards Recognition Entity in December 2020. A Standards Recognition Entity (SRE) is a designation given to organizations that have applied and demonstrated expert industry knowledge and ability to recognize high quality Industry-Recognized Programs Apprenticeship (IRAPs) in a set of occupations. CTS may recognize IRAPS within Advanced Manufacturing, Transportation and Warehousing for occupations such as Industrial Machinery Mechanics; Maintenance Workers, Machinery; Millwrights (non-construction related only); Maintenance and Repair Workers, General; Machinist; Tool and Die Makers; Welding; CNC Machine Tool Programmers, Metal and Plastics; Production Workers; and others.

IRAPs have received a substantial amount of negative press in the recent weeks following a decision by the Biden Administration to rescind Executive Order 13801 which former President Trump signed in 2017 and led to the creation of IRAPs. The White House issued a statement stating "Industry-recognized apprenticeship programs have fewer quality standards than registered apprenticeship programs—for example, they fail to require the wage progression that reflects increasing apprentice skills and they lack the standardized training rigor that ensures employers know they are hiring a worker with high-quality training"1.

Custom Training Solutions submitted a highly detailed application providing evidence that we have the expert industry knowledge in the Advanced Manufacturing, Transportation and Warehousing sectors to recognize and uphold high-quality IRAPs that are still registered with the Department of Labor and must meet rigorous criteria to be recognized. IRAPs are meant to be flexible, employer driven, and based on competencies mastered vs. time spent completing on-the-job training. CTS, as a part of our application, created a panel of industry experts in various trades that will recognize all IRAPs to ensure that they are of high-quality. Every recognized IRAP will also be monitored and evaluated annually to ensure the program meets all federal, state, and local requirements.

Northwest State Community College through the Development Workforce division, Custom Training Solutions, was approved as a Sponsor for State Registered Apprenticeship programs in spring 2019. Currently, NSCC sponsors ten companies with a total of 15 registered apprenticeship programs. Being a sponsor for companies in Northwest Ohio allows manufacturing employers that do not have the resources or bandwidth to sponsor their own programs to create and implement Registered Apprenticeship Programs leaving the paperwork and responsibility with Northwest State. Having this capability and experience only adds to the legitimacy of being recognized as a Standards Recognition Entity.

Although President Biden has ordered the suspension of recognizing new SREs, those that have already been given this prestigious status are able to continue their important work and recognize high quality IRAPs. There are currently 27 SREs across the United States. Custom Training Solutions, as an approved Standards Recognition Entity, is able to recognize IRAPs in the states of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan. We are also committed to continuing our work as a sponsor for State Registered Apprenticeship Programs. There is a need in our communities for both apprenticeship type programs. Custom Training Solutions is here to support the needs of Advanced Manufacturing.

To learn more about IRAPs, RAPs, or other training programs, please contact Tori Atkinson, Director of Workforce Development and Innovative Learning at Northwest State Community College by email at tatkinson@northweststate.edu.

OHIO'S LONG-TERM CARE FACILITIES URGED TO CONFIRM PLANS FOR CON-TINUED COVID-19 VACCINE ADMINISTRATION

Governor Mike DeWine and Ohio Department of Aging Director Ursel McElroy encouraged all of Ohio's nursing homes and assisted living facilities to immediately engage with Ohio's Vaccination COVID-19 Maintenance Program to ensure ongoing delivery of vaccines to staff and residents.

Ohio was one of the first states in the nation to launch the federal partnership for vaccinations at nursing homes and assisted living facilities. On December 18, 2020, Ohio administered its first shot as part of the national Pharmacy Partnership for Long-Term Care Program. Through this program, residents and staff across the state were among the first Ohioans to receive the COVID-19 vaccine.

While the federal program winds down, Ohio's facilities have been strongly urged to participate in the Ohio COVID-19 Vaccine Maintenance Program. This program makes it possible for facilities to continue offering the vaccine to employees and residents who chose not to receive the vaccine earlier but now want it, as well as offer the vaccine to new employees and new residents

Brody Rosswurm is a caring and kind young man. He helps students in tech class, has a positive attitude, and is a good friend. Recently, some of the sixth-grade students were throwing erasers in the classroom and when I asked who was participating, Brody immediately put his hand up. He was the only student to admit to it, even though I knew he didn't act alone. The fact that Brody knew he did something he shouldn't have, but was willing to admit to it in front of the entire classroom says a lot about his character. He could have easily just sat quietly and pretended he didn't participate like the rest of the students did. We all make mistakes, but we must take accountability for our actions and Brody does a great job of that. I am very proud of Brody for not being afraid to do what is right, even if no one else is.

coming into the facility.

"I'm proud Ohio is a leader in establishing one of the earliest state-led vaccine maintenance programs," said Governor Mike DeWine. "We need to continue making the vaccine available to residents and employees at our nursing homes and assisted living facilities, because we must continue to protect our most vulnerable population of older Ohioans against COVID-19."

It is important that every Ohio licensed nursing home and assisted living facility complete the online program registration and share how a facility plans to provide the vaccine -- either through the state program or by partnering with another entity.

Thank You!

I would like to take a moment to express my gratitude for every healthcare hero that crossed paths with me during my illness. I also want to thank the community for all of the prayers, calls/texts, cards, and well wishes. Your kindness and support will never be forgotten.
