grow deeper, producing a vigorous and vibrant lawn. In tests, grass roots have been shown to proliferate around the holes. Aerating will also improve soil compaction and reduce the likelihood of thatch becoming an issue.

To aerate a lawn, use a specialized tool to poke holes or remove cores from the soil. Run the aerator over the lawn several times to make enough holes. It is best to go over the lawn in different patterns. Make sure the soil is moist during aeration, so the aerating device can penetrate it fully. You may have to water the lawn first if there hasn't been much rain to ensure the soil is damp. Some signs that your lawn may need to be aerated are poor drainage, a failure for the lawn to turn green after fertilizing, and a presence of many worn areas. Intensively maintained lawns (those that receive regular fertilizer feedings) should be aerated about once a year. Lawns receiving moderate maintenance (not much fertilizer) only need aerated every two years or so. In this area, aeration can be done in the spring and fall of the year. An aerated lawn will recover faster if fertilized and watered adequately. Apply

Scripture of the Week

"But blessed is the one who trusts in the Lord, whose confidence is in him. They will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream. It does not fear when heat comes; its leaves are always green. It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit."

fertilizer as soon as possible, and water whenever rainfall fails to supply about one inch of moisture per week. If the lawn is thin, overseeding with a high quality grass seed is recommended.

An alternative to lawn aeration would be to use products that encourage soil microbes. These are easy to spread with your fertilizer spreader, and can be used any time of the year. They contain a special formula of soil-reviving ingredients that encourage soil microbes to break down nutrients, while also loosening hard packed soil for greater air, water, root, and nutrient penetration.

If you find your lawn to be overly lumpy, consider using a lawn roller. This is only necessary if the soil is uneven. If your lawn is very uneven, you can roll the lawn first thing in the spring or after a rainfall when the soil is still moist. The next best time to do this is in the fall. The key is to use a light roller. Heavy rolling on wet, heavy clay soils can cause harmful soil compaction. When soil becomes overly compacted, the grass roots have a much harder time growing deeper to help the grass thrive. It is not recommended to roll a new seedbed, since the new seedlings will take root easier in loose soil. Simply use a garden rake to level the soil in newly seeded areas.

SPRING AND 200 TOADS

Penny For Your Thoughts By: Nancy Whitaker

I do believe that spring is finally getting close. First of all, the days are getting longer and soon we will be turning those clocks ahead.

Now I haven't personally, seen any robins yet, but several people have .

Some days, some of that warm sun will come out and a light breeze will be lifting our spirits and help us get rid of those winter doldrums.

The laughter of children as they play and ride their bicycles is a sure sign that spring in all its glory will be landing here in Northwest Ohio every living creature comes out of hibernation as they awake from a long winter's nap

They say in the spring time that "love is in the air,"which holds true for the birds, and many other creatures.

This holds true for many kinds of animals. One such animal is the amorous toads who migrate to Upper Roxborough, located just outside of Philadelphia. In fact the city street department has issued a permit to close two different streets for the neighborhood's annual toad migration; whenever the toads get around to making it, that is.

The migration is a mating ritual in which the toads leave the woods around the Schuylkill Center and head for the Roxborough Reservoir in Pennsylvania, to find a toad of the opposite sex.

Rainy weather and warm days are the signal the toads need to prompt their journey and aids them in their conquest to find a mate. They have spent the winter dormant, so they burrow their way out, kick up their heels and with a hop, skip and a jump, they are on their way to find "true love"

There are groups of volunteer toad-spotters who prowl the roads at twilight and when they spot the toads arriving, temporary detour signs are put up. This is due to a drive driven by animal activist, Lisa Levinson, to keep the brown and green toads from being squashed by oncoming traffic. Levinson noted, "For the past three years during mating ritual, the the population has toad declined due to steadily traffic fatalities. Witnesses report that approximately fifty percent fewer toads are migrating each year. Levin-son said. "On the main migration night in 2008, 100 dead toads were counted on the road, while only 25 were observed crossing the road over a two-hour period. Levinson said that she observes the toads trying to get across the road and has stood in the roadway and asked drivers to stop while groups of at least 200 toads cross the street. (it is too bad the toads don't have a look out guy!)

When Levinson was observed trying to stop traffic, regarding the toads, the police were called and they all wondered what she was trying to do. The next year she attempted to get the authorities involved and she said, "They told me to call 9-1-1. So I did. Law enforcement was very understanding and helpful and this system was formed."

First, if toad-spotters sight the amphibians, then a phone free text message and e-mail is sent and brings out about 50 volunteers to help with temporary road-detour signs. It is usually in April that the toads begin their mating ritual.

Now, would you stop and let a group of toads cross the road? I guess that toads need to find a partner too.

Another sign spring is here is last year's Christmas lights are being taken down, people are wearing flip flops, allergy season is back, income taxes are due, Valentine's Day candy is on clearance, goodbye Net Flix and hello people, baseball spring training will be started, you can't see your breath anymore when you go outside and we can take those warm booties off of Rover.

Other ways to know that spring has arrived is that guys "rev" up their motorcycles, outside concert line ups are announced, the root beer stands are going to open, you go on a diet to look good in your bikini, and you see groups picking up branches. We will say goodbye to: warm drinks, hot soup, cough medicine and hot toddys. We can safely take off our long johns and put our coats, scarfs and gloves away. We can see our pussy willows, asparagus and rhubarb peeking out and those pesky dandelions are peeping through.

Yep, this is what we are waiting for. Longer days, lots of sunshine and warm temperatures just makes us feel renewed.

What do you think are the signs of spring? Have you ever watched as 200 toads migrate across the road? Don't you just love spring? Let me know and I'll give you a Penny for Your Thoughts and USDA Climate Hubs partnerships to bolster climate research and connect and share climate-smart solutions directly with the agricultural community.

"The Cooperative Extension system and the USDA Climate Hubs have unmatched capacity to reach agricultural, Tribal and underserved communities, as well as educators and students, and our nation's farmers directly," said Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack. "This partnership will strengthen climate research efforts and accelerate the development, adoption and application of science-based, climate-smart practices that benefit everyone?

This investment is part of the National Institute of Food and Agriculture's Agriculture and Food Research Initiative (AFRI), the nation's leading competitive grants program for agricultural sciences. This new AFRI program area provides effective, translatable and scalable approaches to change address climate through regional partnerships, including the USDA Climate Hubs, and further extends outreach through organizations such as the Cooperative Extension Service.

"These new NIFA-funded projects will work toward netzero emissions in agriculture, working lands and communities adapted to climate change, training a diverse workforce that can communicate and incorporate climate considerations into management and climate justice that is appropriate for unique U.S. agronomic conditions," said NIFA Director Dr. Carrie Castille.

The initial six funded projects include:

• University of California (Davis) will develop multifaceted pathways with the California Climate Hub to climate-smart agriculture through stakeholder needs assessments, climate-smart agriculture trainings for technical service providers, regional workshops for farmers and ranchers, and student education with Extension service-learning opportunities. Participatory program development and delivery through extensive network of stakeholders, collaborators and supporters are at the core of this integrated proposal. ($1,500,000)

• Pennsylvania State University will create an education program to help private forests adapt and mitigate climate change, prepare minority owners to take advantage of carbon market opportunities, and prepare the forestry extension workforce to better serve their clients in forest carbon and climate issues, in collaboration with the Northern Forests and Southeast Climate Hubs. ($1,500,000) Montana State University will collaborate with the Southwest and Northern Plains Climate Hub staff and regional education and extension stakeholders to develop improved educational materials, modes of communication, and issue expertise that will help in assisting farmers and ranchers to better assess the sources of past crop and livestock production losses due to weather and climate disruption, as well as explore future projections for these causes of loss. ($1,500,000) • Ohio State University is partnering with the Midwest Climate Hub and multiple universities to increase Midwest adoption of regionally scalable climate-smart activities. The project will improve shared understanding of needs of the Midwest's diverse stakeholders, develop shared roadmaps for livestock and cropping systems, elevate perspectives and voices of historically underserved communities including black and indigenous communities, and strengthen climate science infrastructure through a reimagined Extension-Midwest Climate Hub partnership. ($1,500,000)

• The Desert Research Institute Native Climate (Reno, Nevada) project team will strengthen the role of USDA Climate Hubs in Indian country by enhancing Native agroecosystem resilience through expansion of climate services and outreach in the Southwest and Northern Plains Climate Hub regions. Activities are designed to foster trust between Climate Hubs and Native farmers, ranchers, and resource managers through equitable and culturally appropriate information sharing, putting community at the center of solutions for climate change and food and nutrition security. ($1,500,000)

• The USDA Caribbean Climate Hub is partnering with minority-serving universities, including the University of Puerto Rico and the University of the Virgin Islands Extension, and nonprofits to help historically underserved communities throughout the U.S. Caribbean and other coastal areas adapt to a rapidly changing climate and extreme weather events. They will develop education and Extension programs aimed at increasing climate literacy as well as helping land managers employ climate-smart agriculture and forestry techniques. Educational materials will be created in Spanish and English. ($1,500,000)

AFRI Background

AFRI was established by Congress in the 2008 Farm Bill and re-authorized in the 2018 Farm Bill. The program was re-authorized to be funded at $700 million a year, with the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 funding AFRI at $435 million. NIFA provides AFRI grants to support research, education and Extension activities in six Farm Bill priority areas: plant health and production and plant products; animal health and production and animal products; food safety, nutrition, and health; bioenergy, natural resources, and environment; agriculture systems PAGE 3 – WEST BEND NEWS – MARCH 22, 2022

Community Members enjoying Breakfast

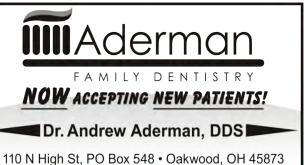

By: Fairview FFA Reporter Elizabeth Bok

Fairview FFA held their annual Pancake Breakfast on March 12th, from 8-11 am. A great deal of preparation and work had been put into this event. This event is run entirely by the chapter members. Many businesses and families generously donated silent auction items and funding for food supplies. The chapter prepared 130 pounds of sausage, 50 pounds of pancake mix, and 45 dozen eggs. In the cafeteria photo boards of various events over the past year that the chapter has participated in were displayed. The silent auction was set up outside of the cafeteria for people to look at and bid on. The chapter worked very hard to make the event run smoothly and enjoyable for the community members. The turnout was very good, with over 260 people attending the breakfast. The money raised from this event helps to pay for member registration fees for State Convention, activities such as petting zoo, and CDE contests. Thank you to everyone that came out to support the Fairview FFA Chapter!

"Serving overseas as a small-town boy from America is intense, stressful and humorous! Enjoy a lighthearted story with me from our last 20 years overseas!"

Pedaling for your dinner

How long could you live without a car? After having our van totaled in a collision with a bus overseas, insurance companies squabbled for weeks over our payout, which drug out to months. By the time there were funds to replace our vehicle, there was a slowdown in production and ports to get us a vehicle. In the end, we were without a vehicle for over 6 months. To many Americans it would be unfathomable for a family of five to live without a car for half a year. My Amish friends would laugh and say, "Big deal!" We discovered in some ways, it wasn't a big deal to live without a vehicle.

First, we had our feet. Despite living in an overpopulated urban area, it is very similar to living in some small towns in Indiana - you can get to many things you need on foot. We would carry heavy groceries in what is commonly called a "Granny cart." In the photo, you can see one of these commonly used carts that can carry bushels of groceries. A quick lesson learned was to buy your groceries at a store uphill, so you just had to brake with the heavy load to get it back home.

Second, we had public transportation. We have a bus system, but the metro train near our apartment is much more reliable. It runs all day long and all year. Except for annual powerful flash floods, it never stops. Taxis are another affordable option to get around overseas. It is a normal practice for the driver to show off how fast he can (unsafely) get you to your destination, with the hopes of a tip. Taxis also work as EMS vehicles as the real responders are very slow and it is best to call a taxi in an emergency.

Lastly, we have twowheeled vehicles. Our little 11hp motor scooter can transport two people and many bags of supplies to the roar of what sounds like a supercharged lawn mower engine. We also have bicycles which work great in flatter parts of town, but not where there are serious mountains. Once, we had been invited to dinner and fellowship with friends who lived up hill from our place. I didn't want to bother them for a ride. Underestimating the steepness of the hill, I told our sons that they could ride the bikes and Mom & I'd take the motor scooter. We encouraged and coached them along the way over the buzz of the motor scooter. They weren't fooled, they knew full well who had the better deal. We did make it eventually to that dinner with the boys drenched in sweat. I guess transportation is a big deal. How you travel is what gives spice to life, but pedaling uphill is often too much spice. It is like the top falling off the spice jar when you're adding ingredients into the mixing bowl of life.

Something similar ever happen to you? Contact me and let me hear your story!

IF MY PEOPLE

By: Doris Applegate

The read in 2 Chronicles 2:14 "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways then will I hear from heaven and forgive their sin and will heal their land." What a wonderful promise for us to grab hold of if we want to see America get back to God and be strong again. There is no other way. The next thing is to understand who are God's people and called by His name. If you are a child of God (born again by the spirit of God) then this burden of prayer and repentance rests on you.

We cannot ask God to bless America if we do not quit sinning. God is talking here about His people. As we humble ourselves and pray and turn from our wicked ways, such as abortion, same sex marriage, gender changes and only God knows how many more sins we allow and do, we cannot ever see break through for us and our country. Let's quit playing dead and kidding ourselves thinking all is well. All is not well. God is watching and waiting for us to respond to His word.

God is no different today than He ever was. Great judgement came on His people when they would not turn from their sins and back to Him. We need to get together as God's own blood bought people and repent. I include myself in this group too. Just think what our prayers can accomplish. We are the greatest for this earth. The very Body of Christ Jesus. He is depending on us to do the fasting and praying. Let's do it! Together we

Let's do it! Together we win the good fight of faith. This is the day and this is the time, our God is calling, so wake up and shine. Let go of the world and the sins that ensnare, this time in the Kingdom will show that you care.

Amen

PARSON TO PERSON

By: Dr. James Bachman Dear Parson,

Is Sunday the Christian's Sabbath?

The Sabbath was, is, and always will be on Saturday. It is the seventh day and in remembrance of the day God ceased from six days of creation (Genesis 2:1-3).

The keeping of the holy Sabbath did not begin until the law was given to Moses on Mt. Horeb. The Sabbathkeeping was a sign between God and Israel only. Exodus 31:13 – "Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the LORD that doth sanctify you."

The old covenant was abolished at the cross (Ephesians 2:15; II Corinthians 3:7-11). "Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross." – Colossians 2:14. It was replaced with a new and better covenant which is the law of Christ (Galatians 3:24-25, 8:6-13).

Sunday became the preferred day for Christians to gather for worship and edification in celebration of the day of Christ's resurrection (I Corinthians 16:1-2). "And unto the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight." – Acts 20:7

However, it should not be a matter of contention (Ro-

DOCUMENTARY ON OHIO WATER AFFORDABILITY DEBUTS ON WORLD WATER DAY

A documentary film that explores the complexities of water access and affordability in Ohio will debut both virtually and in person on March 22, World Water Day.

The film, And Water for All, was written, directed, and produced by faculty, staff, and students from The Ohio State University School of Environment and Natural Resources (SENR).

Building and maintaining the physical infrastructure to deliver high-quality, affordable water to Ohio's citizens is a costly endeavor, and how to pay for these important investments can lead to heightened levels of social and political conflict. The documentary examines the challenges that governmental and nongovernmental actors will face to secure access to clean, affordable water in the coming decades.

"With this film, I set out to explore the complex conversations about water affordability across the state of Ohio with the goal of amplifying the voices of those who work toward providing clean, affordable water for all," said Ramiro Berardo, SENR associate professor of environmental and natural resources policy and the film's writer and director.

An 8 a.m. viewing of the documentary and a panel discussion will be offered as part of the Environmental Professionals Network (EPN) monthly program at the Nationwide & Ohio Farm Bureau 4-H Center, 2201 Fred Taylor Drive. The program is free for students and virtual participants. For those attending in person, doors open at 7:15 a.m., with a 7:40 a.m. break-

HAPPENINGS AT ANTWERP MANOR

Welcome to Antwerp Manor Assisted Living. We are located at 204 Archer Drive in Antwerp, Ohio. We are currently accepting new residents.

March has been an eventful month for our residents. We have celebrated eight resident birthdays, so we have enjoyed a lot of birthday cake! Thank you to our friends at Mount Calvary Lutheran Church for their faithfulness in continuing to send birthday cards to us.

The residents and staff turned Saint Patrick's Day into another good reason to party. Mr. Gene Zenz entertained us with his musical talents. We enjoyed an adorable leprechaun cookie made by Meeks Pastry shop in Defiance, Andes mints, and some green grapes...keeping with water access means to their ra residents and neighbors, to assess water's true value, and to fo better educate people about in how we can better protect and fin improve this vital resource in ou our communities. A team of SENR researchers answered this call, starting with preproduction in March 2021, and traveling the past year across Ohio asking residents about the challenge of water affordability.

^aThe film reviews the financial challenges to build and maintain the expensive infrastructure to clean both drinking and waste water in rural and urban settings," Bethe green theme. Our raffle for the party was a decorative box filled with fun green items. Annette Beck was the winner of the raffle.

The residents want to say thank you to Mrs. Mary Smith and the AHS students for allowing us to attend the musical, "The Sound of Music". We certainly appreciated the opportunity to be able to watch the wonderful performance.

We have also enjoyed following the Antwerp Archer Boys Basketball team. Listening to our awesome team on the radio has been a lot of fun. We are so proud of their success this season.

Berardo's academic work focuses on how policy actors interact with each other to find sustainable solutions to our most challenging societal issues. This is his first foray into documentary filmmaking.

To make the film, Berardo worked closely for over a year with director of photography and video editor Kirk Mason, owner of Kirk Mason Productions in Columbus, and executive producer Joseph Campbell, an SENR lecturer. The production team included undergraduate and graduate students from Ohio State.

In the 60-minute documentary, Berardo talks with more than 15 Ohioans working on water affordability from different sectors: utilities, academia, neighborhoods, water plant operations, nongovernmental organizations, and Ohio EPA staff. They were concentrated in Toledo, Cleveland, New Waterford (a small rural community close to the Pennsylvania border), and Mount Air (an even smaller community north of Columbus).

Golda G. Kilpatrick was born April 20, 1891, in Payne, Ohio. The daughter of Emmit Kilpatrick, born 1862 in Ohio, and Tacie Ellen (Holloway) Kilpatrick, born in 1867 in Darke County, Ohio. Emmett's parents were William Harrison and Hannah Kilpatrick. Tacie's parents were David and Mary Holloway. Emmett and Tacie were married in Paulding, Ohio, August 7, 1899.

In 1900, the Kilpatrick's, along with four children, were living on a farm, in Benton Township, Payne, Ohio. Golda was in school. By 1910, the Kilpatrick family added a new child, Joseph, born in 1904. The family was still living in Benton Township. Golda had become a school teacher, probably in Payne. In 1914, her mother Tacie, passed away. She was buried in Lehman Cemetery.

By 1918, Golda found herself serving as a nurse with the American Red Cross. Records are unclear as to if she was overseas or state side. In 1920, Golda was still single living in Van Wert on South Race Street. She was a student nurse working at the Van Wert Hospital. Many others were living at the same complex, which were either nurses or student nurses Golda finished her nurses training and became a registered nurse. She also received nurses training at the Cincinnati General Hospital. By 1930, Golda was still single, was living in Youngstown, Mahoning County, Ohio. She was staying at Youngstown City Hospital Residence home at 215 Francis Street. She was a night resident nurse. Probably to make sure that the student nurses were well behaved. She received her B.A. degree from Youngstown University.

By 1940, Golda was still working at the Youngstown Hospital as a nurse. Living at the Nurses Home, Youngstown Association Hospital. She became a night supervisor and held that position for years. She also served as pharmacology instructor.

In 1949, her father Emmit, passed away and was buried beside his wife in Lehman Cemetery. She was moved to Memphis, Tennessee, to serve as the head of Practical Nursing School stay at the Hospital until 1951, where she filed for Social Security. By 1960, she was living with her brother Joseph, who became a widower in 1950. They lived at 723 Hartzell Road, New Haven, Indiana. By 1961, Golda retired from nursing. July 11, 1969, Golda became ill and was taken to Parkview Memorial Hospital, Ft. Wayne, Indiana where she stayed until September 1, 1969, where she passed away due to a multitude of health conditions. Services were provided by E. ANTWERP ATHLETICS IN REVIEW

By: Tim Copsey

Folks have asked for some historical data about the OHSAA State Tournament game this week. Well... this is new territory. We have no history for the varsity boys basketball team. However, the Antwerp Local School District is not a stranger to state tournament play.

It started in 1980. Coach Ken Focht guided a Junior laden team of young ladies who joined Seniors Janis Mc-Calla and Kim Reinhart and started winning ... and just kept winning. Juniors Lana Hughes, Sue Brown, Mary Vail, Nean Franklin, Cindy Savage, Joni Smith and Sophomores Julie Cross, Lynn Meyer, Marcia Bute and Lisa Spryn finished 18-2 in the regular season, including 101-16 win over the North Central Lady Eagles, before winning the sectional. A district semi-final revenge game win against a Kalida Wildcat team, who was a regular season loss, set up a district finals win for the Lady Archers against Delphos Jefferson Wildcats. A regional win against the Vanlue Wildcats set up the first ever regional final game in AHS history against perennial power Archbold Blue Streaks. A low scoring 38-31 win put the Antwerp Archers Athletic Boosters in Columbus at St. John Arena. This is the only state tournament game the Archers participated in that has been played in Columbus still to date. Unfortunately, a parochial school power Mansfield St. Peter's was too strong to overcome. The Lady Archers closed out their best ever season at 24-3. Cheers of "Whomp em upside the Head" were led by an energetic group of young men including the fashionable John Peffley, Bruce Meyer, Jeff Crabill, Denny Boecker, and Rick Meyer. This tournament run was a first true community unifying sporting event experienced in years.

It only took 6 years for the Lady Archers to return. This time at the home of the Akron Zips at the University of Akron. A Coach Mark Hartman led team cruised through a regular season 20-0, scoring 85 or more points 5, then raced through tournament play with wins over Delphos Jefferson, Ohio City, Ft. Jennings, Bluffton, Ashland Crestview, Rockford Parkway and a 67-33 Regional final win over Bascom Hopewell Loudon to again play at state against Tipp City Bethel Lady Bees. D1 Old Dominion commit Sr. Kelly Lyons was just too much to handle as the Bees handed the Archers their only loss to end the season 27-1. Sr twins Pam & Tammy Rasey, Cindy Banks, Cindy Mansfield & Amy Elliott joined Jrs Lonnette Bostelman, Nancy Sawyer, Chris Christine Marlin Blue, Cindy Klima & Patty Fulk Young and Soph. Kelly Cook.

The Archers came back for state tournament play, this time led by Coach Cathy Barnett on the volleyball court in 1992. This tournament is played at the Nutter Center at Wright State University. In one of those things about OHSAA sports that makes you scratch your head, 22-3 Antwerp, representing the SW Ohio region, played defending state champion 24-1 West Unity Hilltop Cadets representing NW Ohio. The Lady Archers avenged a regular season loss in a 15-6, 15-3 two set victory to face Kidron Central Christian in the state finals. Antwerp won 15-2; 15-6 to bring home the first ever state team title finishing 24-3. Seniors Sara Schuette, Melissa Bassett Burnau; Juniors Lisa Parrish, Christina Reinhart, Jennifer Knapp & Rachel West; Sophomores Kelley Peters; Lori Lichty Hines; Tasha Koppenhofer; Tricia Trisha Fools is a comic fable by Neil Simon, set in a small village during the late 19th century. The story starts with Leon Tolchinsky, an ambitious young schoolteacher (played by Aaron Mann), arriving in the village of Kulyenchikov, an idyllic and remote Ukrainian hamlet. Softball teams went to state in Akron. Carlie Haines pitched the Lady Archers softball team, led by Coach Krista Ordway, to a 5-0 victory over Mechanicsburg for the state title. But to get to the finals they needed a Karsyn Brummet lead-off home run to defeat a strong Peebles Indians team 1-0 in the semi final game.

The AHS baseball team won the regional for the right to play the Toronto Red Knights. The Red Knights were led by the Ohio State commit Nathan Karaffa and he was just too much for the Archers first state baseball appearance in a 8-0 win. Pitchers were Austin Lichty, Luke Krouse and Jacob Savina along with players Dylan Hines, Blake Schuette and Cole Seslar to name just a few. Coach Zac Feasby was the Antwerp Baseball coach and was the first alumni to take a team to state. Both these young teams were robbed of the opportunity to repeat trips to state as the COVID pandemic kept the 2020 seasons from being played.

The Antwerp 2021-22 basketball team has set records this year. Their incredible 26-2 record for the season wasn't quite as far as they wanted but certainly better than anything they have done before. Antwerp has never gone to the final four in boys basketball. They fell to New Madison Tri-Village at the state semi-final on March 19, 2022.

However, the Archers closed the first half by getting baskets from Landers and Krouse, the latter of which came at the buzzer, to slice the deficit to 22-14 at the intermission.

Antwerp then continued the run to start the second half as Brewer scored a basket and hit a trey before two Lander foul shots got the Archers within 22-21.

Following a basket by Tri Village's Justin Finkbine, Brewer completed a fourpoint play that put the Archers on top 25-24 with 5:29 left in the third quarter.

The Patriots responded with eleven consecutive points, capped by buckets from Scantlen and Sarver as Tri Village opened a 35-25 advantage at the 1:40 mark of the period.

Antwerp did cut into the deficit as Carson Altimus connected on a three-pointer to help the blue and white get within 35-28 entering the final stanza.

Ohio Republican primary voters. In contrast, true conservative Jim Renacci has repeatedly voiced his support for Constitutional Carry and pledged to sign it as governor last year.

Why the silence from Mike DeWine? Simple: he doesn't truly believe in it. DeWine has a long, notorious record of selling out our Second Amendment freedoms to the gun-controlling left. When he was in Washington, Mike DeWine rightfully earned an 'F' rating from the NRA was ranked as one of the top ten anti-gun Senators - the only Republican on the list along with committed Leftists like Hillary Clinton, Chuck Schumer, Ted Kennedy, and John Kerry. Even now, Mike DeWine is still pushing his red flag law and gun control agenda, and doesn't consider gun rights to be a top priority. Mike DeWine hasn't changed, but his political calculations for his endangered re-election have. Every Ohio gun owner should rightfully be worried about what a second DeWine term would mean for their fundamental Second Amendment rights. Jim Renacci released the following statement in response:

Six straight Archer points to start the period, including a three-pointer from Krouse, to pull within 35-34 before a Sarver jump shot put Tri Village on top 37-34 at the 4:05 mark of the final period.

Brewer pulled the Archers even at the 2:54 mark with a three-pointer but Sarver responded with a trey for the Patriots to make it 40-37 with 2:28 remaining.

Two free throws by Tri Village's Wilson Suggs was offset by a pair of Landers foul shots before an Altimus foul shot got the Archers within 42-40 at the 1:07 mark.

Dalton DeLong was fouled and connected on a pair of free throws to widen the lead to 44-40 with 49 seconds on the clock before Brewer hit one of two charity tosses to pull Antwerp within 44-41 with 28 seconds remaining.

Antwerp had a pair of chances to tie in the final eight seconds but a pair of threepoint shots were off the mark as the Patriots held on for the three-point victory.

The contest ended the careers of seven Archer seniors in a blue and white basketball uniform. Kaden Recker, Gaige

"Ohio gun owners should make no mistake that the only reason DeWine decided at the 11th hour to sign this bill is because his re-election campaign is in serious trouble. He's a fourdecade career politician who will say or do anything to get re-elected. He'd gleefully sign a bill trampling on the Second Amendment without skipping a beat, and Ohio gun owners are rightMcMichael, Jagger Landers, Luke Krouse, Kaden Phares, Hunter Sproles and Mason Steel all wrapped up their Antwerp basketball careers.

McMichael posted two rebounds and a steal for the Archers while Landers scored 11 points while adding nine rebounds, one assist, one steal and one blocked shot. Krouse chipped in seven markers, two rebounds, six assists, one blocked shot and three steals and Sproles hauled down a rebound.

Brewer paced Antwerp with 18 points and picked up four boards, one assist, one blocked shot and two steals. Carson Altimus also recorded five points and five rebounds.

Antwerp was 12 of 37 from the field (32 percent) and hit 7 of 24 three-point field goal attempts (29 percent). Tri Valley won the battle of the boards, 29-24, and had fewer turnovers 13-14.

Layne Sarver topped the Patriots with 20 markers while totaling eight rebounds, three steals, one assist and one blocked shot.

Antwerp wraps up its season with a record of 26-2 overall.

fully nervous about what a second DeWine term would mean for their freedoms. I would not have hesitated to sign this bill even for a moment, let alone view it as a 'tough decision' like DeWine did. Ohioans deserve far better than this--and that's why I'm committed to defeating DeWine and delivering the accountable conserleadership vative we desperately need."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

DEMOCRATS DRIV-ING AMERICA'S FAILURE America was founded and grew on the truths of the Bible. We were once 95% Christian, but I don't think it's more than 50% today. Of that, no more than 15% are committed Christians. America can't survive much longer at the rate Democrats are destroying us.

How can any who support today's Democrats claim being Christian? Biden once asked, "How did we, the Democratic party, become known as the anti-God party?" He couldn't or just chose not to remember that all of our anti-God laws originated with Democrats.

Biden claims being a Catholic, but I've never heard him claim being a Christian. Anyone can claim being Catholic, Methodist, or what they choose, but that doesn't make them Christian.

I believe the main goal of the Democrat party is to create a one party government like Russia. They realize they must eliminate God and morality to reach this goal. They actively started this in 1947 and introduced something satanic about every five years. They did it slowly so people wouldn't realize they were following the same Marxist playbook Russia followed in the early 1900's.

Democrats received mountains of help from some Republicans, Big Tech and big American companies selling us out. Example: I discovered my (supposedly American) 2021 Buick Envision is 94% Chinese.

This isn't something that just started. I believe it originated with the Clintons. I've been writing since 2001 trying to lift God up and expose Satan's evils. Who do you feel is behind pushing for America to fail? Why don't more of you speak out? To remain quiet only helps Satan.

If you have studied history you should know that 250 years is considered about the maximum life for any society. With America now being 244 years old, with world turmoil as it is today and Democrats having so many laws that mimic Russia's fall into communism, what do you think are America's prospects for continuing our society? That's right - it's next to nothing.

The way to take over America came in the ACLU's 1930's Humanist Manifesto. God and morality had to be removed first. They found their patsies in the Democrat party. It has always been known that Democrats are less likely to believe in God. They're bold enough today to admit being socialists. You can't believe in God and accept Satan's socialism.

I was gravely saddened a short time back that said more than half of those 16 to 24 feel socialism would be better than today's democracy. Today's anti-God teachers have students all screwed up. They don't realize that government will literally own everything, including them. Better get involved in what kids are taught.

The Biden-Harris slogan "Build Back Better" should be stated as "Tear Down Quicker". We don't stand a chance with them in charge. In his State of the Union he said we fund police, not defund them. I think he is out of touch with the rest of his D.C. Comrades. They really support those things that divide America, like defunding the police, BLM, CRT, Cancel Culture and more.

If you don't believe the bunch of rattlers is all about gaining communist control of America, then I feel sorry for your souls and all of our offspring for decades to come. Some big nations that have fallen to Satan's socialism-communism are Russia, China, North Korea and Venezuela. Some in Washington wish to add America.

I believe we're witnessing America's end as world leader. You have witnessed just how fast we went from being totally independent to being completely dependent on those that hate America with a passion. I'm also sure that you realize how each year goes by faster than the last. With that said, we'll fall harder than any past nation. Once we fall I believe the rest of the world will soon fall because America won't be in position to help.

I could be wrong, but I don't think so. I believe America was designed to help God save humanity and help guide us to Heaven. IF you knew my history you would know why I believe so much in God and what He still does.

God can help you and America overcome the toughest of odds but He requires your assistance. God could do it all for you, but if you don't care enough to offer yourself, why should He. Many of you think you are Christians, but who knows. You don't bother going to church or helping your elderly or sick neighbor. My wife and I attend a small Bible believing church in Hicksville, but it usually only half full. We are in Florida until May, but we would be greatly blessed to see new faces when we return home to our Empower Church. God bless you and America.

100L BOARD MEETING

Brooke and Hannah Molitor were presented an award for gymnastics along with parents, Chad (coach) and Kim - were presented award for paving the way for gymnastics for the school.

Meeting at Antwerp.

Mark Holtsberry spoke at the Antwerp School Board meeting concerning what he has done as part of the Paulding County Commissioners. He is running for Commissioner in this year's May Primary.

The minutes were accepted as presented.

There was no state liaison report from Bob Herber. Dennis Recker gave the report about the new Vantage nursing program and the numbers are 60-70% higher than they were 10 years ago. They are discussing long term plans.

The financial statement: Income: $740,409.36 Interest: $1813.29

Expenses: $1,009,964.21 The wind farm revenue has been received of nearly $40,000 and should be received twice per year. There has been about $240,000 new dollars this year.

Senior Class trip to Tennessee. Summer School will have letters sent out soon. Spring Sports start Monday, March 28. Cheer team placed second at state. Hannah Molitor went to state this year. He stated there have been people who have helped behind the scenes to make the boys basketball team for state preparations. May 7 is Prom date. May 22 is graduation at 2 pm.

Kindergarten registration has already started. April 1st is the last deadline. PTO has been very good. There are 161 kids who earned the AR reward this nine weeks. They will have a root beer float part after the basketball sendoff.

Marty stated in the superintendent report that Kyle Zartman is being hired as the teacher of the innovation center Aquaponics center. There is an after-school program starting Monday for the young kids. Teachers will need to send a recommendation for the kids to get in this program. Building and grounds - many of the new features of the Aquaponics is coming in day by day. Three donations were received and one was for $40,000 as an anonymous donor. All of this should be ready by late August. The Master Gardeners also made a donation for seeds and fertilizer. The Sweetwater Chophouse donated artwork to the school that was made by a previous teacher - Mary Jane. The Range has not broken ground yet. There are still things to review and hopefully a decision can be made by August. A trail is looking to be built around the softball to the "Range" so kids do not have to walk on the road. Another sidewalk near the football field will also be constructed and this should be completed this summer and can be part of the fitness trail.

Harold Gotke gave a technology update with E-rate and should give the school a 60% discount. Many of the wifi devices should help with the speed that has degraded. This will include a fiber connect to the Range building. Harold is looking at a donation for a laser etcher. There are two new TV's going into the Innovation Center.

The SRO is getting new ALICE training that will then comeback to train staff at the school.

Every three years a new emergency plan has to be submitted to the state and then has to be distributed certain staff members. Marty will be traveling to Napa, CA for a training seminar.

The school board voted for the consent items.

FIELD REPORTS FROM OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE OFFICERS

Central Ohio – Wildlife District One

In February 2022, State Wildlife Officer Maurice Irish, assigned to Delaware County, presented a twohour course to Otterbein University students enrolled in the wildlife, fish, and wildlands science major. Topics covered included an overview of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, a wildlife officer's authority and duties, as well as specific case studies. Officer Irish has presented this information to Otterbein University students since 2016.

During the 2021-22 white-tailed deer hunting season, State Wildlife Officer John Coffman, assigned to Fayette County, received information that a hunter had unlawfully checked a buck deer using a landowner permit. After further investigation, it was revealed that the hunter failed to purchase a valid Ohio hunting license and deer permit. After harvesting the buck, the individual game checked the deer using a landowner permit for which he did not meet the requirements. The hunter was found guilty and paid more than $300 in fines and court costs. The venison and antlers were forfeited.

Northwest Ohio Wildlife District Two

In November 2021, State Wildlife Officer Michele Butler, assigned to Erie County, received a call on the Turn in a Poacher (TIP) hotline regarding a fisherman who had kept additional walleye past his limit of walleye that morning. Officer Butler reached out to State Wildlife Officer Reid VanCleve, assigned to Ottawa County, and the two officers contacted the fisherman later that afternoon. The angler admitted to taking 10 walleye over his limit while fishing from shore in Sandusky. The daily limit for walleye in Lake Erie is six. The 10 extra walleye were seized as evidence and the fisherman received a citation for taking too many walleye. He was found guilty in the Sandusky Municipal Court and was ordered to pay $610 in restitution and court costs. The seized walleye were donated to a local food pantry. Anyone observing a wildlife violation can report it anonymously through the TIP hotline at 1-800-P O A C H E R (1-800-762-2437).

A few days before Christmas in 2021, law enforcement personnel attended the Operation Santa's Sleigh event in Sandusky. Those in attendance included State Wildlife Officer Brian Baker, assigned to the Lake Erie Unit, State Wildlife Officer Michele Butler, assigned to Erie County, State Wildlife Investigator Travis Abele, assigned to the Lake Erie Unit, and Lake Erie Law Enforcement Supervisor Matt Leibengood. The event pulled together law enforcement and first responders in their patrol vehicles. Just after dark, the caravan drove by local children's hospitals and veteran's centers while flashing their emergency lights and sirens to boost the residents' spirits. In addition to patrol vehicles, Officer Baker was towing the Lake Erie patrol boat and flashing its lights. Operation Santa's Sleigh is a statewide effort. In addition to the event in Sandusky, law enforcement also gathered in Akron, Phone: 419-258-2000 • Email: info@westbendnews.net est when he was flagged down by a woman standing on the side of the road. She explained to Officer Huegel that she went hiking on her property with her elderly father and they got separated. She was worried something happened to him. Officer Huegel advised the woman to stay with her vehicle in case he came back. Meanwhile, the officer conducted a perimeter search on the 64-acre lot. After about an hour of searching, the man was located and safely reunited with his daughter. Southeast Ohio Wildlife District Four

State Wildlife Officer Ryan Donnelly, assigned Athens County, and State Officer Wildlife Chris Dodge, assigned Hocking County, were patrolling the Wallace O'Dowd Wildlife Area during the white-tailed deer gun hunting season. The officers came across four people who had finished up a deer drive. While the officers were checking the hunting licenses and deer permits, the rest of the group emerged from the woods, which totaled 20 people ranging in age from 8 years old to 78 years old. This was a large group of family and friends from across the state who met on the area to hunt for the day. Two of the members of the group had failed to purchase deer permits and were issued a summons for hunting deer without first obtaining a valid eithersex deer permit. They were issued summons totaling $260 in fines and costs.

During the 2021-22 white-tailed deer hunting season, State Wildlife Officer Anthony Lemle, assigned to Guernsey County, received information from the Turn In A Poacher (TIP) hotline that someone in the city of Cambridge was killing deer after dark using a bait pile and a light in their backyard. The information indicated that the individual was shooting them while remaining inside his house. A search warrant was conducted at the residence in question. The individual had shot and recovered eight deer from October 2021 to February 2022, three of which were antlered. The individual used a crossbow to shoot through his kitchen window. Seventeen items were seized as evidence, including one whole deer, two compound bows, and five crossbows. The individual was charged with five counts of deer hunting violations.

He pleaded guilty and was found guilty in the Cambridge Municipal Court, where he received a six-year hunting license revocation and paid $2,520 in fines in court costs. In addition, he was sentenced to 60 days in jail with 60 days suspended, and was placed on probation for three years. All evidence seized was forfeited to the state except a cell phone and one compound bow. Anyone observing a wildlife violation can report it anonymously through the TIP hotline at 1-800-POACHER (1-800-762-2437).

Southwest Ohio · · Wildlife District Five

During the 2019 whitetailed deer archery season, State Wildlife Officer Matt Hunt, assigned to Greene County, was contacted by a landowner in Bellbrook. The property owner suspected that a hunter was trespassing on their property. They found evidence of a blood trail and a hole cut in the fence. The neighboring property was owned by the City of Bellbrook and did not allow hunting on it. Officer Hunt checked the area and located a tree stand, trail camera, and bait site in the middle of the city's land. For the remainder of the season, Officer Hunt checked the location as often as he could but never contacted any hunters. In 2020, the tree stand, bait, and trail camera were again in the same location. Officer Hunt frequently checked the area hoping to find a trespasser, and again no hunter was found. In October 2021, Officer Hunt checked and found the same set up. On the third day of checking, Officer Hunt contacted a hunter in the stand and hunting without permission. The hunter was issued a citation for hunting without permission. He paid $300 in fines and court cost.

State Wildlife Officer Jasmine Grossnickle, assigned to Miami County, recently delivered 80 pounds of venison to help feed the wildlife being housed at the Bruckner Nature Center. This facility provides educational opportunities for the public to view Ohio's native wildlife, and rehabilitates sick and injured animals to be returned to the wild. The venison was confiscated from individuals who had committed wildlife hunting violations and was deemed not of a quality to be donated to a food bank for human consumption.

HEALTHY SOILS MAY REDUCE AGING

New Penn State University research shows that tilled soils have reduced levels of an essential amino acid called ergothioneine (ERGO). ERGO is an amino acid or vitamin that promotes longevity or reduced aging. Healthy soils that are not tilled have more healthy bacteria and specific fungi that make this "longevity vitamin" to fight the detrimental effects of chronic diseases on human cell aging. ERGO is an antioxidant/vitamin used to keep human cells healthy. Plants, animals, and humans cannot make ERGO themselves but they can absorb it, either from the soil or from plants that absorb it. The Penn State study demonstrates that soil disturbance may directly impact a key dietary factor associated with longterm human health.

In the Penn State Study, researchers evaluated the effect of intense tillage (mold board plow, disking, harrowing), to medium tillage (chisel plowing, harrowing) to complete no-till. These plots were established in 1978, so these are long-term tillage plots. Researchers found that ERGO concentrations declined as tillage intensity increased. ERGO content declined 32% for corn, 33% for soybeans and 28% for oats in the grain. Tilled soils have more bacteria but less beneficial fungi that produce ERGO. In these long-term replicated plots, increased tillage also reduced crop yields. So over time, healthy soils with more bacteria and fungi grew healthier plants with higher ERGO absorbed from the soil, which suggests a human health benefit. The higher crop yields on no-till plots also increased farmer profit while protecting the environment. A Win-Win for everyone!

A lack of ERGO in the diet may result in increased diseases associated with aging including Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's Disease, memory loss, cancer, and reduced life expectancy. ERGO is used to treat liver damage, cataracts, Alzheimer's disease, diabetes, heart disease and is used in skin care products to prevent wrinkles, reduce signs of aging skin, and reduces sun damage.

As we age, our human cells (skin, nerves, brain, reproductive tissue, etc.) eventually give up fighting against free radicals, toxins, and harmful substance which damage human cells. Our bodies are bombarded with these harmful substances on a daily basis. Free radicals are uncharged molecules which are typically short-lived and highly reactive, causing many degenerative aging diseases through cell damage and cell death. ERGO as an antioxidant reacts to oxidize or neutralize these harmful substances, keeping our human cells safe and increases our "vitality". A lack of ERGO in the diet reduces human life expectancy.

Imagine you are making a fruit salad from apples, bananas, fresh peaches, oranges, strawberries, and kiwi. After a few hours, the apples, bananas and fresh peaches start to turn brown due to oxidation. The oranges, strawberries, and kiwi are high in Vitamin C; which is an anti-oxidants like ERGO to prevent browning. Adding lemon juice (high in Vitamin C, an antioxidants) to the salad reduces the browning effect by keeping the fruit fresh for a longer period of time.

Researchers have found five benefits to high ERGO levels in the human body. ERGO may defend again and reduce inflammation in the body. For example, ERGO may reduce inflammation in patients with rheumatoid arthritis. Second, ERGO is used as a supplement for Alzheimer's and Parkinson patients. ERGO protects brain cells from oxidative damage and stress from free radicals and toxins. ERGO may even prevent or delay brain cell death. Third, ERGO is a favorite supplement in liver disease. Fourth, ERGO is often a supplement in anti-aging skin creams because it reduces skin cell damage, aging, and wrinkles. Fifth, ERGO is being studied as a supplement to fight lung diseases. ERGO has many potential health benefits and is now being more actively studied.

There are several good food sources for getting more ERGO in your diet. Mushrooms which come from fungi, are the highest source of ERGO. Only a few distinct types of fungi and mycobacteria produce ERGO. Oyster mushrooms are high in ERGO as are Porcini mushrooms. Porcini mushrooms are harder to find because they cannot be commercially cultivated. Other good sources of ERGO are king crab, cereals, oats, kidney beans, black beans, and animals who have consumed plants high in in the ERGO vitamin.

six-month positions to work in the field.

An internship opportunity for one Ohio State student has also been made available within Marathon Pipe Line's rights-of-way vegetation management team. "This internship will be a hands-on, experiential learning moment where everyone learns from one another," shared Lyon.

SENR diversity and inclusion efforts will also get a big boost with scholarship monies earmarked to students who add diversity to SENR and/or who actively contribute to nurturing a more diverse and inclusive community within the school. Up to $6,000 could be awarded annually per recipient.

Monies from the new SENR fund may be used for research-related costs, tuition, and fees, and other education expenses. Sharp noted that support may be awarded in varying amounts based on student enrollment, available funding, and other factors.

SENR co-administers the SUSTAINS Learning Community experience with Ohio State's Sustainability Institute. Students live alongside their peers who share common interests in exploring sustainable solutions for local, national, and global issues. "The gift from Marathon will allow for the SUSTAINS Learning Community to return to in-person programming after almost two years of delivering a virtual curriculum due to COVID," said Matt Griffin, program coordinator and co-lead of the SUS-TAINS Learning Community. By: Fairview FFA Reporter Elizabeth Bok

On Thursday, March 7th, the Fairview FFA chapter traveled to Fulton County Fairgrounds to compete in the Spring Contests. The contests that were participated in were Agronomy, General Livestock, Meat Judging, Nature Interpretations, Poultry, and Wildlife. In Agronomy, contest participants looked at crop production and management. The members that competed in agronomy did very well and placed 4th overall as a team. The general livestock participants judged and answered questions on Market Lambs, Market Hogs, Breeding Gilts, Market Steers, Breeding Ewes, Market Goats, and Breeding Heifers. Out of 369 individuals and 49 teams, 27th was Elizabeth Bok, Emma Zeedyk was 28th, and the team placed 8th overall. The Nature Interpretations and Wildlife contests identified species native to Ohio. In Nature Interpretations, Brooke Philips placed 10th overall. Poultry and Meat Judging consisted of evaluating various cuts of meat. These contests are great ways for members to show off the skills they have learned in the classroom or their SEA projects.
