the grain. The war in Ukraine and its impact on wheat exports is driving wheat to record prices, leading more farmers statewide to consider planting more wheat as a result.

That's according to Laura Lindsey, a field crops expert with The Ohio State University College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES). Lindsey, a soybean and small grains specialist with Ohio State University Extension, CFAES' outreach arm, said she's already fielded numerous emails, and Twitter messages from farmers statewide wanting to know the feasibility of planting wheat this year and what they can do to take advantage of the record prices for the grain.

The main question Ohio farmers have, Lindsey said, is whether they can get wheat planted this spring to harvest this year and take advantage of the high wheat prices now or if they must wait for fallplanted varieties, which won't harvest until next year.

Most of the wheat Ohio farmers grow is soft red winter wheat, which is planted in the fall and harvested the next spring. This is the kind of wheat that is typically used in pastries, cakes, cereal, crackers, and cookies.

However, while spring wheat can be planted in Ohio, Lindsey said, it doesn't grow as well as winter wheat.

"Is spring wheat an option for Ohio farmers?" she asked. "Yes, we can grow spring wheat in Ohio, but spring wheat yield will be significantly lower than winter wheat yield.

"While in Ohio we usually plant winter wheat, with the commodities market the way it is, more farmers are saying they want to try and capitalize on the record prices. However, although wheat prices are high, spring wheat is probably not the best option in 2022 due to the low yields, high input costs, and uncertainty surrounding selling the grain and its quality."

Wheat prices are surging globally in the wake of the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, prompting farmers nationwide to consider planting more wheat. About 14% of the global wheat supply is produced in Ukraine and Russia, according to Gro Intelligence. The two countries supply nearly 30% of all wheat exports, according to the agricultural data analytics firm.

Wheat prices are surging even higher as the conflict is raising significant questions about the ability of Russia and Ukraine to continue exporting, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Wheat Outlook for March.

The current price of wheat as of April 11 is $10.81 per bushel. Wheat prices reached a 14-year high last month, at $12.09 a bushel.

With Russia blockading ports on the Black Sea, 16 million tons of grain are currently stranded in Ukraine, according to a brief written by Ian Sheldon, a CFAES professor and the Andersons Endowed Chair in Agricultural Marketing, Trade, and Policy, and Chris Zoller, a CFAES associate professor and an OSU Extension agriculture and natural resources educator. "The USDA is forecasting Ukrainian-Russian wheat exports to fall by 7 million tons in 2021–22, with Australian and Indian exports only partially filling the gap," Sheldon and Zoller wrote. "In the short run, the expectation is that there are real limitations on the ability of the United States to meet the shortfall: Winter wheat is already in the ground, stocks are low, drought conditions are likely to impact yields in states such as Kansas, and farmers face an input price squeeze." As it stands now, Ohio farmers are on track to harvest 610,000 acres of winter wheat this year, up 5% from the previous year, according to Cheryl Turner, state statistician with the USDA National Agricultural Statistics Service's Ohio Field Office. Nationally, all wheat planted for 2022 is estimated at 47.4 million acres, up 1% from

Despite the potential for lower yields, some farmers may still be interested in planting spring wheat, Lindsey said.

Lindsey said to prepare for that now, farmers can plant early-maturing soybeans in early to mid-May, which are then harvested in late September to early October. At that point, they can then plant winter wheat.

"This growing season will be a mixed bag," she said. "Corn, soybeans, and wheat prices are high across the board. But input prices-including nitrogen, herbicides, and fungicides—are high (due to the invasion, which created further uncertainty for fertilizer costs) and there likely will be shortages in supplies of these inputs, all of which are needed for farmers to produce good crops with strong yields."

Also, you never know what the spring weather will be, Lindsey said.

"Ohio can be very wet in spring, so there could be challenges there, too," she said. "However, I think there will still be strong interest in growing those small grains,

Roger Cash, District 25B Past District Governor, presented a New Member Orientation to the Heritage Lions club last night. He explained the Lions' mission both for their local communities and for the world. Over 1.4 million Lions worldwide are actively working to better their communities and to help those affected by natural disasters. The motto "We Serve" is their guidepost for every project they do.

Almost 100 years ago, Helen Keller gave a speech to the Lions national leadership. In part she said: "The opportunity I bring to you, Lions, is this: To foster and sponsor the work of the American Foundation for the Blind. Will you not help me hasten the day when there shall be no preventable blindness; no little deaf, blind child untaught; no blind man or woman un-hearing, you who are strong and brave and kind. Will you not constitute yourselves Knights of the Blind in this crusade against darkness?" After her plea, the Lions dedicated themselves to serving the sightless and helping provide eye care all over the world. They have provided over 9 million cataract surgeries around the world and distributed many millions of eyeglasses for those in need. Tom Bullerman said that Pack Away Hunger would let us use their truck to pick up any donations after the Hawks Nest garage sale on June 3-4, as well as any other donations we could secure on those dates.

Light refreshments were served following the meeting. The Heritage Lions motto is "We Serve" and we welcome anyone who wishes to help their local community to contact a Heritage Lion.

PARSON TO PERSON

By: Dr. James Bachman Dear Parson,

Matthew 13:32 indicates the mustard seed was the least (or smallest) of all seeds. That is not true. Is the Bible wrong?

There are several possibilities. Most likely, Christ was referring to a mustard seed different than the one with which we are most familiar. Next, the seed of the black mustard was smaller than any seed commonly known in that day. The context appears to be that of herbs: "...when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs."

Taken in context, Matthew 13:32 is a true statement.

FINDLAY POST TO TARGET FTY VIOLATIONS IN HANCOCK COUNTY

One of the main contributing factors in crashes in Hancock County is failure to yield. In an effort to reduce the number of serious injury and fatal crashes, troopers from the Findlay Post will be working a targeted enforcement effort through the month of April. Violations that troopers will focus on during this effort include running red lights and failure to stop at a stop sign. "We look at traffic crashes from the perspective of education, engineering, and enforcement. All three play a pivotal role in preventing injuries and deaths. We try to educate the public on a regular basis through the media and public speaking engagements. We speak to students at driver's educations classes and others through local civic organizations. We work hand in hand with ODOT and our local partners when it comes to looking for ways to improve our roadways. Our final approach is enforcing the traffic laws, when those driving choose to violate it" said Crow.

During this enforcement effort, there will be zero tolerance for failure yield violations.

We encourage everyone to come to a complete stop at red lights and stop signs. Please take an extra moment to ensure it is clear when proceeding from a stop sign. Remember to always wear your safety belt and never driver distracted or impaired.

MATT'S MISHAPS

"Serving overseas as a small-town boy from America is intense, stressful and humorous! Enjoy a light-hearted story with me from our last 20 years overseas!" – Matt

TRYING NEW FOODS

My world was pretty small growing up in small-town middle America, which was often a good thing! I took my first plane ride when I was 19 years old. Everything was new and exciting on that first plane trip nearly 30 years ago. Since then I have taken hundreds of flights and there is nothing glamourous about it! I would much rather travel by car, train or bus - more wiggle room and friendlier people along the way!

For a while airlines would offer special meals at no extra charge on international flights - Indian, Arabic, Kosher, etc. These meals were prepared much better than the standard meals. I enjoyed making requests for these meals a few weeks beforehand for me or

Specialty meals are often made in smaller quantities, so the food seems to be prepared better than the regular factory line economy class my wife. My wife would get embarrassed on the flights, when I ordered special meals for her, as the stewardess

There is nothing like trying to be comfortable in a tight economy seat on a long flight with a toddler on your lap and then trying to eat meals and keep the kid entertained would call out her name, so that had to stop, but not for me! We learned that the stewardesses and other passengers assumed only a person of that background would order that kind of meal. Why would someone not from India order Indian food? ... let alone someone from Indiana!

On one transatlantic journey, we had a young son with us and when wiggling into our row on entering the plane, his little foot bumped the seat in front of us. The person in front, a woman from Germany, stood up, glared at us and asked us to not bump her seat again. I apologized and thought, "Wow!, this is going to be a long flight with a toddler sitting behind a person with First Class expectations in Economy Class."

Well, meal time eventually rolled around and the stewardess walked to our section and asked, "Matt with the kosher dinner!?" The German gal turned around with a face of shock, assuming I was Jewish, and probably feeling collective guilt for the terrible abuses her nation had done to the Jews long ago. From that moment on, the German woman treated me and our son like we were royalty and went out of her way to be friendly and helpful the entire flight. I guess sometimes it can be helpful to be adventuresome and try different

TOO MANY CHIEFS?

Penny For Your Thoughts By: Nancy Whitaker

As I think of my grandma and grandpa, I just wonder what they would think of the world today. The streets where they lived and walked, the houses they lived in and everyone they may have known are gone. Would they embrace cell phones, computers, Netflix and cable TV?

I know they would be surprised at the price of gas, a gallon of milk and a loaf of bread. They would be amazed at the new high schools, the technicality of the ways of farming and the informality of what people wear to church.

I don't think they could even fathom what big changes have taken place on our "downtown" or should I say "uptown" streets. They would in no doubt be looking for the corner drugstore, a dime store, restaurants, shoe stores, dress shops and oh yes a movie theater.

Instead they would find offices, banks, and a few restaurants to get a cup of coffee or a piece of pie. We all know there are not too many of the Mom and Pop stores left in which to shop. This has encouraged people to go to bigger cities to get what they

My ancestors would all be surprised at the so-called Super Centers where you can buy everything you need under one roof. I do believe in shopping locally and try and do that, but we all know it sure isn't like even 25 years ago. Big corporations have moved in and while they offer employment and perhaps better prices, the friendly corner grocer who knew everyone by name is no more.

Kudos to the remaining small businesses that keep their doors open. Thank you to the small independently owned restaurants which still serve home cooked meals.

While we cannot stop change and progress, we can all still get on the same page and have the common goal of making our downtown a place we can be proud of and where people can see and visit their neighbors from the surrounding area

We live in a world where things are constantly changing. We have always been a country of change, good and some bad. But, you know, we still live in America and can support our local businesses. We can all begin to build and work on our own town. Leaders, citizens, clubs, businesses and hard workers could accomplish a lot by working together.

There is an old saying, "There are too many chiefs and not enough Indians." Is this the problem? Well as for me I want to help but I just want to be an Indian. Remember shop local and we will all ral Resources will receive $83,395 to replace dredge equipment that has been in operation on the lake for the past 21 years. "This is a critical replacement for the lake," said Manchester. "This updated equipment is needed to help the lake healthy." Over the past several years the dredge has been less productive due to failing parts. These funds will be used to replace major functions of the dredge to include, the electrical, hydraulic and computer hardware. "These improvements are not only vital in improving the lakes natural habitat, but also protecting a major economical attraction to western Ohio," said Riedel. Grand Lake St. Marys over the past decade has been plagued by dangerous algae blooms that have affected the water quality and aquatic animal life. The addition of upgraded dredging equipment will help with water quality by removing phosphorus that has built up in the sediments on the bottom of the lake.

The lake was originally constructed as a feeder reservoir for the Miami-Erie Canal. Today, it is one of the region's top recreational attractions, offering boating, camping and swimming opportunities.

form of communication and is one of the primary ways for people with dementia to communicate their needs and feelings as the ability to use language is lost. However, some behaviors can present real challenges for caregivers to manage. During this program, participants will learn to decode behavioral messages, identify common behavior triggers, and develop strategies to help intervene with some of the most common behavchallenges Alzheimer's disease. "As individuals move through the stages of Alzheimer's disease and dementia, nonverbal behaviors become a more common way for them to communicate," said Pam Myers, Alzheimer's Association Northwest Ohio Chapter program director. "This program will give you tools to understand those behaviors and respond to them in a caring way."

In 2021, there were 421,000 Ohioans caring for 220,000 people living with Alzheimer's disease, according to the Alzheimer's Association 2022 Alzheimer's Disease Facts and Figures.

"It can be tough to see changes in the way your loved one communicates," Myers said. "Caregivers attending this program will learn how to best connect with individuals progressing through the stages of dementia."

Following all current state and local health and venue site guidelines regarding masks, social distancing and meeting size, the Alzheimer's Association Northwest Ohio Chapter will begin offering programs and support groups both in person and virtually. While masks are optional (unless required by the venue site), unvaccinated and compromised participants should consider wearing masks when attending programs and other meetings.

PANTHERS HOST TRACK TRI-MEET

Paulding Track hosted a tri-meet on Tuesday April 12th against Continental and Lincolnview. It was a beautiful day for a track meet with it being in the high 60s and little wind. Panthers competed well and had quite a few kids who beat their personal bests on the season.

Boys: Dawson Lamb finished 3rd in discus, 84'4" and 3rd in long jump, 16'1". Ronnie Goodwin finished 2nd in shot put, 38'7.5". Jesse Shaffer finished 1st in long jump with a new personal best, 17'4", 3rd in high jump, 5'4", 4th in the 100M dash, 12.75 seconds and was a part of our 4x100 relay that finished 1st, 49.06 seconds. Drake Ankney finished 1st on pole vault, 10'6". Caleb Larson finished 1st in the 100M dash, 12.57 seconds, 3rd in the 200M dash, 25.5 seconds and was also a part of the 4x100M relay team. The other two members of the 4x100M relay were Sheridan Matty and Jacob Fife.

Girls: Sophia Fisher finished 2nd in discus, 81'2" and 4th in shot put, 25'1.75". Caydence Rue finished 3rd in long jump, 13'4", 2nd in the 100M hurdles, 18.97 seconds and 2nd in the 300M hurdles, 56.22 seconds. Jamy Hunt finished 1st in the 400M, 1:07.5. Claire Miller finished 1st in the 1600M, 6:24.09 and 3rd in the 800M, 3:03.66.

"After each meet, it is clear that we are improving with each day. Our times are decreasing, our lengths and heights are increasing and overall, we are becoming a stronger team. It is great to see that they are really putting in the work and it is showing" stated Kim Bick-

PANTHER TRACK TEAM COMPETE AT CG BULLDOG INVITATIONAL

On April 14th, Paulding track team attended the Columbus Grove Bulldog Invitational and were one of thirteen teams in attendance. They knew there was going to be a lot of good competition from the other competitors and the weather at the meet was also very uncooperative: cloudy all meet with strong winds and heavy wind gusts.

Boys: Caleb Larson was the only athlete who placed and he placed 8th in the 100M dash with a time of 13.28 seconds. Even though they didn't place, Paulding did have a few boys beat their personal bests on the season. Dawson Lamb improved his discus throw by 10' 10" with a new best of 101' 11" as well as increasing his long jump by 10" with a new best of 16' 11". Josh Lemieux improved his 200M dash by .17 seconds with a new time of 28.93 seconds which is impressive given that he had to sprint into the wind most of the race. And Alex Hobart and Eli Jones both improved their 800M run times by 5.58 seconds and 3.65 seconds with new best of 2:33.42 and 2:31.97 respectively.

Girls: Claire Schweller place 1st in the pole vault with a height of 11' 3". She improved her season best by 3" and is only 3" away from her career best of 11' 6". Claire has been dealing with a tail bone injury for the past 2 meets but it was nice to have her back as she is a very strong competitor in that event. Jamy Hunt placed 2nd in the 800M run

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Your vote to re-elect Judge Michael Wehrkamp to the Paulding County Probate/Juvenile Court is a vote for continuing the accomplishments of the court during Judge Wehrkamp's first term.

Judge I supported Wehrkamp's candidacy in 2016 because I believed he would follow through on his promises to improve services to children and families and he has done what he said he

Judge Wehrkamp said he would create lines of communication and collaboration with our schools and other organizations in the community to better serve children and families. During his first term, the court has formed partnerships with more than 20 community entities, including schools, law enforcement, Family & Children First Council, faith-based groups, behavioral health providers

Judge Wehrkamp said he would develop programs to hold juvenile offenders accountable and help them get their lives back on track. Under his leadership, mentoring, literacy, community service and diversion programs have been implemented to help our court-involved youth to contribute meaningfully to the community.

Judge Wehrkamp said he would maximize valuable taxpayer dollars by applying for grant funding that would improve and increase access to the court's services. During his first term, the court has applied for and been awarded over $715,000 in competitive state grant funding and local grant dollars. These dollars have allowed the court to create programming for youth and families, update its technology and create a website containing a probate case record search and online marriage license application.

I am a retired juvenile justice professional with 40 years of experience, most recently as a juvenile court administrator, and served as an interim court administrator and probation officer during Judge Wehrkamps's first term. Based on this experience, I can say with confidence that Judge Wehrkamp has followed through on his campaign promises and is the best person to lead the court into the future. I invite you to join me in voting for Judge Michael Wehrkamp's re-election to the Paulding County Probate/Juvenile Court in the Republican primary election on May —Kathleen Nern

Antwerp, Ohio

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am writing in support of Judge Michael Wehrkamp's candidacy for re-election to the Paulding County Probate/ Iuvenile Judge.

I have been in education for thirty-one years, including nine years as a principal for Antwerp Local Schools, five years as the superintendent for Wayne Trace Local Schools, and two years as the superintendent for the Western Buckeye Educational Service Center. It was during my tenure with Western Buckeye, from 2016-2018, that I worked most-closely with Judge Wehrkamp and the Paulding County Juvenile Court.

Shortly after beginning his first term, Judge Wehrkamp contacted me about establishing a school-court liaison position that would serve all three of the county's school districts. Judge Wehrkamp was on a mission to bring stakeholders to the table to discuss truancy and other barriers to education that our students were facing. Together, we established the schoolcourt liaison position, which helped bridge the gap between the schools and the court.

Judge Wehrkamp didn't stop there. He and his staff have maintained regular lines of communication with Paulding County school administrators. The court also hosts an annual meeting between county school administrators, the county prosecutor, and court personnel at the beginning of each school year. Under his leadership, Judge Wehrkamp's staff members are in the schools weekly to collaborate with school officials on what are often challenging cases. Doing the best we can to serve our community's students and young people is something for which I feel very strongly. I know that Judge Wehrkamp is passionate about that matter as well, and that is why I am supporting his re-election. The students in Paulding County

SUCCEED

The youth of today are balancing between innovation and tradition which has helped them create their own pathways forward and harvest their entrepreneurial spirits. This is true of local entrepreneur, Ethan Schlachter. Ethan, a 2018 graduate of Ayersville High School, is currently a student at The University of Toledo majoring in electrical engineering... and a successful business owner. While Ethan was still a senior in high school, he purchased his first residential home and created a lot of the credit to their support system, specifically their parents Brad and Trisha Schlachter. "My parents are very supportive of our endeavors, provide a wealth of knowledge and have guided my brothers and me along the way," Ethan said of his parents. "The number of hours our dad has spent helping us renovate our properties is incredible. While having his own business ventures outside of his day job, he has consistently sacrificed evenings and weekends since we started buying houses to help us out" he adds. Although his mom doesn't typically help with the renovating, she still plays an important role in their success. "Our mom is the glue of our family. From doing little things like mailing our Menards rebates for us, to helping us clean up our houses once we are done working on them, and everything in between, her impact is huge" Ethan says.

and Tyson, although they give

Ethan also credits his roommates, girlfriend, and family friends because he believes it takes a village to accomplish his business goals. He specifically wanted to mention the following people and companies who have helped him with his houses: Dave Delano, Steve Hoffman, Phillips Home Improvement, Scott Seigman, Rich Gamby, Rensi Dirt Works, Valerio's Roofing, United Heating & Conditioning, Baumle, and Carpet Mart. "They are all honest, hardworking people that have treated me great" he says.

How it All Started

purchased his first rental home with money he had earned mowing lawns and the financial backing of his parents. After he had made improvements to the property and found a tenant, Ethan was able to use that first property as collateral for his next rental home purchase. He recently sold the last house he completed with the help of Cari Kost, owner of Go Giver Real Estate. "Cari was awesome to work with. I'd highly recommend her for your real estate needs" he mentioned. Ethan now owns several rental homes with minimal debt and has since paid back his parents' initial investment with

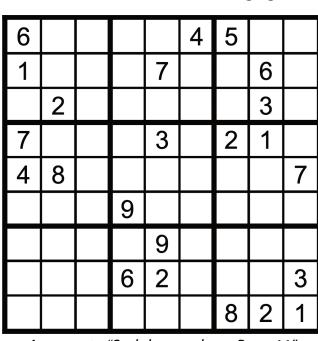

With the housing shortage throughout the country including here in Defiance County, it is amazing to see this type of initiative from community members. Ethan added that he believes "it is truly a win-win situation. We've been able to purchase properties that need work at a fair price, renovate and repair them, and then provide people the opportunity to rent and live in Defiance." Ethan and his younger brother (who also owns rental homes) work on the homes themselves relv-

ing on their support system for guidance. One thing Ethan did mention was to not be afraid to try something new and shared about how many times he started and failed during this process. It was very interesting to hear that this was a driving factor for his business and that he saw each failure as a learning experience to grow which wasn't really a failure" after all. Ethan said, "Each house has presented its own unique problem which I've had to find a solution for. I enjoy the challenges I'm faced with as they give me the chance to learn something new and improve my skills.

The Future is Bright for the

Mr. Schlachter is quite the ambitious young man. He is working currently Marathon Petroleum Corporation through a co-op program traveling the country gaining experience while earning his engineering degree at UT. Ethan spends the week at school and spends his weekends working on his properties. The future is bright for Ethan as he focuses on what comes next with his engineering career, but his passion for rental houses and real estate continues. "I thoroughly enjoy it. I don't think I would be able to devote as much time as I do to it or have come this far if I didn't truly love it" he added. Jokingly, Ethan said he might need to buy his girlfriend a ring before he buys another house.

The business spirit also runs in the family with Ethan's younger brothers, Logan and Tyson. Logan is a sophomore at the University of Toledo, dual majoring in electrical and computer science engineering. He also owns rental homes. Tyson is a junior in high school who runs a successful lawn care service. Their grandfathers had their own businesses, one being an excavation company and the other being a used car dealership. Their dad has invested in real estate since he was in college. "My brothers and I were lucky to have successful business owners to look up to and learn from growing up. Since we saw family members have success as entrepreneurs firsthand, I think naturally we always believed we could find a way to have some as well"

Ethan said. Starting a new business can be intimidating but also be fulfilling. Personally, I noticed Ethan was very driven and had a great work ethic which are good qualities to have as an entrepreneur. Although he believes a college degree is worth pursuing for certain careers, he wanted the young people of today to know that you can be successful without going to college. 'College isn't for everyone.

Some of the most successful people I know either went to a trade school, started their own business, or went to work right out of high school" he stated. The best advice Ethan had for future business owners was to not be afraid to try something new and fail, find people that you can trust and rely on, and follow your passion.

SINN'S NO-HITTER LIFTS WT OVER OG; MILLER GETS WIN IN GAME TWO FOR RAIDERS'

Tianna Sinn struck out 11 and pitched a no-hitter to lead the Wayne Trace junior varsity softball team over Ottawa Glandorf 18-1 in the first game of a doubleheader Saturday in Putnam County. The Lady Raiders jumped out to a 6-1 lead after one inning and never looked back, expanding the margin to 8-1 after two and 9-1 at the end of three frames. Wayne Trace then put up eight runs in the fourth to widen the advantage to 17-1 before wrapping up the contest with a single run in the fifth.

Brenna Parker had two hits for Wayne Trace with Sinn, Kassidy Lewis and Anna Miller all having one hit.

In the second game, Miller tossed the complete game with a nine strikeout effort as Wayne Trace cruised to a 25-12 victory.

Miller and Sinn both had three hits for the red, white and blue while Allison Noggle and Parker recorded a pair of hits each. Noggle and Tianna Sinn scored four times apiece while Storm Tracy, Lewis and Miller touched home plate three times apiece.

RAIDERS STAY TIED ATOP GMC STANDINGS

Wayne Trace stayed tied atop the Green Meadows Conference baseball standings Thursday night with a slim 1-0 win over host Ayersville.

The Raiders got a second inning run and made that stand up as the red, white and blue improved to 8-1 overall and 2-0 in the league. Wayne Trace is tied atop with fellow Paulding County schools Antwerp and Paulding along with Tinora.

The game's only run was ignited by a Cooper Wenzlick walk followed by a sacrifice bunt from Allen Minck. Kyle Forrer then picked up the game's lone run batted in with a single that plated Wenzlick to put the Raiders on top.

Minck made that run stand up for the win, giving up only three hits and one walk while striking out six for Wayne Trace to get the win on the mound. Blake Hauenstein was the tough-luck loser for Ayersville, surrendering two hits, one earned run and three walks in six innings of work while fanning six. Weston McGuire had a single and a double for the Pilots, who fall to 2-5 in all games and 1-2 in the Green Meadows Conference. Cale Winans paced Wayne Trace with a single and a double.

WT OPENS GMC PLAY WITH WIN

Wayne Trace started the Green Meadows Conference season with a victory after defeating Hicksville 11-0 Tuesday night.

Wayne Trace scored once in the first for all the Raiders would need but added six more in the second and three in the third. The red, white and blue chipped in one more run in the fourth.

Paige Alber finished the night with two singles and three runs batted in for Wayne Trace with Kaitlin Slade posting two doubles and four runs batted in while scoring once. Laura Thornell added two singles, two runs scored and a run batted in with Tatum Tigner singling once while driving in one and scoring twice.

CHOW LINE: GROW YOUR OWN VEGGIES EVEN WITHOUT ACCESS TO A GARDEN

I'd like to grow my own fruits and vegetables so that I can increase my access to fresh, healthy foods. But I live in an apartment and don't have access to a garden or patio. Any tips on what I can do?

First, I want to commend you on seeking innovative ways to add more produce to your diet by choosing to grow your own vegetables.

And even though you don't have access to a plot of land or space in a garden to plant vegetables, you can still grow your own produce indoors using home hydroponics.

In fact, home hydroponics is one of the hottest ways for you to grow your own fresh vegetables and herbs indoors, says Tim McDermott, an educator with Ohio State University Extension, the outreach arm of The Ohio State University College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES).

McDermott, who runs the Growing Franklin food production blog, demonstrates how to grow tomatoes, lettuce, basil, and other healthy, tasty garden produce inside your home, during a recent episode of "Extension Today," a production project done in NBC4 partnership with WCMH-TV. The weekly segment offers stories about gardening, cooking, and other tips, and resources for improving Ohioans' gardens, lives, families, and local communities.

Hydroponics is a form of controlled environment agriculture that allows growers to control all the inputs that are required to plant, grow, and produce fruits and vegetables, McDermott explains.

That includes controlling the lighting with LED light panels, feeding the plants through the circulation of nutrients within the water that is used to irrigate them, and using a timer on the plants' lighting to simulate the amount of light that is needed similar to what the plants would experience outdoors during spring or summer, he

"The key to successful produce growing through hydroponics is to have the right equipment to enable success," McDermott says. "That includes a grow light, nutrient solution, and rockwool cubes to start your seedlings in.

"The nice thing about growing using some hydroponic units is that you are giving the exact amount of nutrition with the exact amount of irrigation, lettuce SO seedlings, for example, can mature into large, edible heads of lettuce in a much faster time than they would do growing outside."

COMPLETE EFFORT LEADS RAIDERS TO SOLID WIN

By: Joe Shouse, Sports

Writer HAVILAND - In its last warm up before hitting the conference portion of their schedule the Wayne Trace baseball team played host to Ottawa Glandorf. Played last Monday the Raiders posted a 5-3 win to move their record to 6-1. With the score even at one run a piece the Raiders managed three runs in the third frame to give them a little breathing room down the stretch. In the decisive third inning the Raiders started things off with Tucker Antoine being hit by a pitch and Cale Winans grounding out but advancing Tucker to second base. Kyle Slade secured a walk to put runners on first and second. Sophomore Cooper Wenzlick provided a needed hit; smacking a double to right-center, scoring Tucker while moving to third. Following a walk by Allen Minck, Kyle Forrer delivered a single driving in Slade and Wenzlick. The Raiders were up 4-1 after three innings of up play. "Our kids competed tonight. They responded and we were at our best when we needed to. I feel like tonight was our most complete game so far this season. We certainly have room for improvement but our offense, defense and pitching in all three phases; our offense, defense (no errors) and pitching, collectively won the game for us," commented Head Coach Ryne Jerome.

The Raiders held a slim 4-3 advantage when a hit-by-pitch turned into a run for the red, white, and blue. adding another run in the sixth inning. Lane Morehead was hit by a pitch allowing Breven Anderson to bunt him over to second, The Raiders scored when Winans drilled a double to left field scoring Morehead.

Tyler Davis got the win on 5 2/3 innings of work. The junior gave up three hits while striking out three and walking two. Coming up with the save was Nate Maag who allowed one hit while striking out three and walking one one 1 1/2 innings on the mound.

"Our pitching was very good. Tyler's pitches kept them off balance and when Ottawa-Glandorf managed to connect with the ball it was usually a weak hit to our infield. Our pitching was on target as well as our defense allowing limited opportunity for them to score," said Coach
