PARSON TO PERSON

By: Dr. James Bachman Dear Parson,

In Ezekiel 3:20 and 18:26, it indicates that if a righteous man turns away from his righteousness he shall die. Does that mean he can lose his salvation?

Both of these passages are speaking about a physical death, not about losing one's salvation. In some cases men can just show an outward righteousness and not be truly born again. In other cases one might be a born-again believer and get caught in the snare of the devil (II Timothy 2:25-26). If that Christian doesn't repent, he will die early. Ezekiel 33:10-11 -"Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live? Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" Let me contrast two apostles: Judas and Peter. Judas had an outward righteousness. He preached and healed and baptized, but was never born again (John 6:64). His righteousness was outward only (Matthew 7:21-23). All the outward good that Judas accomplished did not keep him from dying early.

Almost as wicked as betraying Christ was Peter's act of denying Christ (John 18:15-27). Like Peter, all Christians are capable, when living in the flesh, of committing sins worthy of death. Peter, however, came to true repentance before it was too late and then had a meaningful life. Had he not, I believe he too would have met an early physical death even though he did much righteousness.

Stay close to God and walk in the Spirit lest you too turn to some iniquity which could spell your early death.

FAMILIES FIGHT HUNGER ON "NATIONAL FAMILY VOLUNTEER DAY"

Volunteer Center will observe its first annual recognition of "National Family Volunteer Day" on Saturday, November 19th from 10 am to noon by partnering with Project 216 to assemble meals for Ukraine refugees at Waynedale UMC, 2501

Church Street. Ellen Mann is the Event Development Specialist for Project 216, a local nonprofit food aid organization. She states, "We are excited to partner with Volunteer Center Fort Wayne to give area families an opportunity to experience the joy of volunteering together as a part of National Family Volunteer Day. The meals that these volunteers will make up will be shipped through Feed The Hungry in South Bend to help Ukrainian refugees displaced by war."

National Family Volunteer Day is a global day of service that originated in 1990 through Points of Light. On November 19th, over 40 volunteers of all ages will gather at Waynedale UMC to celebrate the power of working together to support their community and neighborhood.

'Volunteering as a family provides parents the opportunity to spend quality time together while passing valuable life lessons to children and teenagers on the importance of giving our time, sharing our resources and working together towards the greater good of our community" states Volunteer Center Executive Director Ani Etter. MATT'S MISHAPS

Local "street artists" like to paint up every surface they can find, where we live overseas. However, the spray-painted words are rarely cuss words and nasty things about people, but rather political statements. The graffiti on this wall says, "Get out of here Goths!" They attribute wealthy foreigners to medieval Goths - people who have the power to overtake them economically.

"Serving overseas as a small-town boy from America is intense, stressful and humorous! Enjoy a lighthearted story with me from our last 20 years overseas!" -Matt

Goats & Spoiled Milk

Have you ever said a word or phrase you would like to take back? Maybe better to ask if there is a sent e-mail or text you'd like to delete. Well, there is also the world of rude language and cussing that takes on its own form and style. Today's modern media has expanded the possibilities to express oneself in creative and rude ways.

Living overseas added communication challenges with a new language for me. Words that were unintelligible gibberish to a Hoosier, meant really bad things to these locals, but sounded just like garbled up sounds to me. Even seemingly innocent words and phrases meant really nasty things to locals, even though they carry no special meaning to us in Indiana.

Every culture has animals that have bad connotations, if you call someone it or attribute the animal's characteristics to a person. I learned in my new location overseas that goats carried really bad meanings to them. Through error, I figured this out, and it was goats that you never associate with a person. I made the mishap of complimenting a local friend and runner by saying that he could run like a goat on the rough mountain trails. He graciously understood my ignorance and corrected me.

I learned much of my new language through conversations with locals in daily life and not only in the classroom. Natural learning has many advantages and drawbacks. I was with local friends in a café, and someone mentioned that another person was "spoiled milk." "Spoiled milk" seemed like something as innocent as could be. I understood it to mean that the person was grumpy. The best way to learn a new vocabulary word/phrase is to use it, so when at church the next Sunday I practiced my new phrase. I was in a group conversation and it seemed like the right context to say, "that person is spoiled milk." Wow! The group of people went silent, and all had very shocked faces. One of the men pulled me aside and said "spoiled milk" was liking saying a very nasty four-letter word to their ears. I stopped using that milk phrase from

I have decided to just talk about goats and milk when in Indiana.

BREAKFAST FOR SUPPER?

Penny For Your Thoughts By: Nancy Whitaker

Sitting here thinking about what I want for breakfast is always fun and interesting. My usual "go to" breakfast is either cookies, toast, Pop Tarts, eggs or hot cereal. I was always taught that breakfast was the most important meal of the day, especially the coffee. Yes, there are a lot of coffee drinkers who must have that first cup of caffeine to get woke up in the morning. I am one of those.

Some of the fast food chains are offering their breakfast menus all day long. Is breakfast supposed to be a morning meal? Not anymore. Some of us, including myself, love the thought of cooking breakfast for supper. There is nothing better for an evening meal than some bacon, eggs, home fries, toast or biscuits, topped off by a glass of orange

Not everyone indulges in the morning waker-upper, coffee. Many like the old English beverage, a spot of tea. However, there is not always time for breakfast and different food items are hurriedly picked up to eat. One of the popular foods being eaten for breakfast is cold pizza. If your stomach can handle pizza in the morning, this may be the breakfast for you. In fact, you can make your own breakfast pizza if you have time.

One thing I found interesting was seeing what other countries eat for breakfast. (of course, I like to know what everyone has good to eat) If you have a queasy stomach and you happen to travel to one of these various places, you may want to skip breakfast. Right here in the United States, the preferred meat for breakfast in

YANKEE CANDLE

Alaska is reindeer meat. Oh no! Poor Rudolph. The ideal breakfast in this state is the reindeer and a cooked egg nestled in a pancake. If I did not know it was reindeer, I could possibly eat it.

In Japan, it is tofu soaked in soy sauce along with rice and fish and you have one socalled delicious breakfast.

Breakfast in India consists of Indian tofu scramble, lentils, vegan sausage and hot pepper toast. (I think this may not be too bad)

If you are planning a visit to Ghana, your morning breakfast dish will be waakye. It sounds suspicious, but it is actually just rice and beans. Over in Thailand, a choice breakfast is spicy fish with a sweet and sour pork and served with rice.

Moving on to Australia, the main ingredient traveling Aussies may carry in a backpack is a thick, brown salty paste which they spread on toast. It is called vegemite.

If you ever eat your morning meal in Turkey, you will get cheese, butter, olives, tomatoes, cucumbers, honey and a spicy meat. (no thanks for that in the morning)

In Mexico, nachos, rice, cheese and beans are featured with beef tips and chiliquiles. Yes and eggs may also be included. (I could eat this for supper)

In Germany, the first meal of the day is usually a wurst, cheeses, homemade bread and a good strong

We all like French cuisine, so in France, breakfast is usually a croissant packed with almonds, butter, chocolate or

In Columbia a dish called changua is served for breakfast. It is made with milk, scallions and cheese.

Over in Scotland the Scottish are fond of haggis, fried eggs and square sausages called Lorne. What is haggis? It happens to be sheep heart, liver and lungs all minced up and mixed with oatmeal, suet, salt and some stock. No thanks to haggis.

All of these breakfasts from foreign places may be very good and tasty, but as for me, I still prefer pop tarts, toast or cookies. Well it is close to lunch time, so I believe I will eat some real breakfast now. I believe I will have bacon and

After the judging was finished, all the little costumed halloween-ers trotted off to their homes or neighbors to wait for the trick or treat time which started at 5:00 p.m. The village was crawling with all sorts of trick or treaters, and as always the hot spot was Park Ave. where people flooded the streets in droves to visit all the houses for some annual treats from generous residents. Not only was there the traditional candy offerings going door to door, Antwerp Manor also had their residents lining the halls to pass out candy to those passing through. But that's not all — a Trunk or Treat at the Presbyterian Church on W. River St., Hot Dog tent on North Main (Riverside Christian Church), and I heard there was hot cider too!

What a day! Thank you to all the households who gave out candy to everyone, to the Antwerp Fire Department and EMS for hosting the costume judging, to the Antwerp Police Department for leading the Parade and patrolling the streets to keep our children safe, and to the Antwerp Chamber of Commerce for providing prizes to all the

CELEBRATING 75 YEARS OF SERVICE

By: District Governor Sandy Zeigler

The Bluffton Lions Club is inviting the public to share in an evening of celebration on November 15th. The Bluffton Lions Club is celebrating 75 years of service to Bluffton and the surrounding area. Most known is the eye care offered starting with screening nursery and preschools that are offered without charge to the collection of used eyeglasses throughout the community. This idea of using these collected used eyeglasses for third world countries was the innovation of Bluffton's own, the late Lion Past District Governor William (Bill) Trubey. As reported in the News-Banner article from May 25, 2000, "Dr. Trubey participated in the Volunteer Optometric Service for Humanity, a medical missionary service in at least 23 medical missions delivering "medical care to at least seven countries including Dominican Repub-Honduras, Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Nicaragua, and Tanzania."

Lion PDG Dr. William (Bill) Trubey was the first Bluffton Lions Club member to go through all the local offices and then the state positions to become the first District Governor from the Bluffton Lions Club. Since then, two additional Bluffton Lions Club members have also obtained that status. The last two District 25B District Governors are members of the Bluffton Lions Club, Lion PCC Jerry Zeigler and currently Lion DG Sandy Zeigler.

Once again, the public is invited to join us as the Bluffton Lions Club celebrates 75 years of service of putting into practice the Lions motto of "to serve." LETTER TO THE EDITOR

America lost

Yes, we are losing our country as we know it every day a little at a time with this current administration.

Recently there have been a couple of letters to the editor saying the same thing. One talked about us being pushed towards Marxism or communism, basically the same thing, where government controls every aspect of our life from what we own, eat, say or where we go. Sounds like the same thing Hitler tried to do to Germany and the European countries back then, and see how that worked out. Until his defeat and death, millions of people suffered in unheard of ways that shocked the world after the war.

This letter also covered other things going on to bring our country down... high prices on everything, rising crime rates, lack of needed supplies, groups of people pushing their beliefs and un-God like lifestyles on us, brainwashing in our schools and people turning themselves into something they aren't and competing in sports and activities they have no right to be in. God made two genders, what you were born as is what you will die as, no matter what you do.

The other letter went on about the country being financially destroyed by the high cost of everything and how our illustrious, so called President, is saying he's doing a good job and we shouldn't be complaining!! Gas is at all time highs, 8.3% inflation and Biden says that's ok, that going from 8.2-8.3 was only an inch? This man is comparing marks on a ruler or tape measure to what it costs to live and says we are doing fine. There a huge difference in money and inches Joe, you just don't get it!

Our gas supplies are getting worse and a few days ago they said we only have a 25 day supply of diesel fuel? So they will shut the truckers down and what will we do? He's trying to get Saudi Arabia to help, but they are just laughing because our "government" won't even take care of its own country so why should they help. They may have some standards we don't agree with but at least they take care of their own country.

All of this destruction of our own country and what are the Democrats focusing on? Of course, taking our guns and gun control and letting criminals have their way with us at any time and place. Crime is out of control and those illegal immigrants that he's letting in is bringing more crime and drugs into our country, and he wants us taxpayers to pay for their upkeep!

Now with winter coming on I've heard figures of what some people in different states, especially the bitter cold ones, may be paying for heating supplies and it's ridiculous. His administration doesn't care how people are going to keep warm, buy gas to get where they need to or afford food to live.

This "Green everything" they are shoving down our throats isn't going to happen overnight as they want. Nothing wrong with the idea, and I'm sure most people recycle and do as much as they can to cut wastes, I do but there are limits. They think they can do this in four years but all they have done is destroy our country as we knew it.

Electric cars 100%, not feasible or going to happen soon. Look at California, told people not to charge their cars because of an electric shortage awhile back. Of course AOC thinks she knows everything but knows nothing and pushes this ecology crap while using fossil fuel to fly and drive everywhere while telling us we should give it up and wants taxpayers to pay off her schooling loans. Yes, our country is being destroyed in a way most of us would never have believed, and in less than two years. The Great Depression, WW11, and the 9-11 attacks didn't do as much damage combined as the Biden administration has done in less than two years. In those, we recovered and became stronger and were all Americans, now we keep getting weaker and everyone is at each others throats complaining about everything and blaming everyone else for what's going on in our country. We are a joke in the worlds ranking and other larger countries and nations know it. Biden's administration wants to defund our law enforcement, hardly supports our military and is putting us in a very vulnerable position for a war or attacks against us, and people still believe that what's happening in our country is just fine. I hope they are suffering just like the rest of us and holding their breath as the bills arrive or it's time to buy food.

One more thing, recently saw an editorial in another paper that said there were 300-400 million known guns in America and it would take a hundred years to take them away, if they even could. Biggest army in the world is the civilian gun owners and don't think they will give them up without a fight.

I'd like to thank the two people for their letters in the last two weeks, they know who they are. More people should express their own opinions in this great paper that allows us to speak our minds. Too many liberal papers won't.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Christians Stand Up Before I get into this letter, permit me to say "well done" to Chuck Schroeder who knew my last letter was an invitation for all of you to respond. His thoughts came across perfectly. It was one of the best I have ever read. If we can do it, you can too. It only takes a paragraph or two and a desire to keep Christian America free. Let this be your

Remember 9-11! What did most of America experience right after that attack on our shore by an enemy of Christianity and America? People filled our churches searching for answers plus God's peace and protection.

What are our churches filled with today? Many are filled with empty seats that you and your family should be in. Are we going to require another attack in order for you to attend church? America was a much better place to live before Democrats started their attack against God and everything Christian. If war is what it takes to wake you up, remember this: It will be earth shattering and probably on our shores. You can't be a once in a while or once a year (or never) go to church person and expect God to help America. God needs all of us daily and then maybe we'll see miracles hap-

Disengagement from God, church and critical issues we face today isn't an option. We can't remain quiet and shirk our responsibilities as Christians. This is why I write. Now, more than anytime since WWII, we must speak for God, truth and right. It isn't too late to save America, but Christians must make our greatest concentrated effort possible.

Human life, once held sacred, means little today as we murder 1.3 million babies annually as a tribute to their fun and sex gods, plus their Marxist Democrat leaders who need you to keep funding

We're so far astray that things once cherished as good are now considered bad while those things once considered bad have become law, our new, sick, anti-moral, anti-God way of life. Just look at how Democrats have trashed God's marriage design of one man-one woman. They still think they are better than God by allowing same sex marriage. That is right out of Satan's playbook.

Today is a sad story. Many don't think they need marriage. They just choose to live together and have babies until one says enough and leaves. Then you hear of men having a husband or a woman having a wife. All of these blind people were taught by Satan's blind liberal teachers and Marxist Democrat leaders and professors.

I'm sorry folks, but the above and in my previous letters is the very best that you can expect from Satan's socialist teachers and his Marxist Democrat leaders in our government. You will never experience God or true love by clinging to their lies. It will only be empty shelves and lives like you find in all communist run nations. God will be forbidden. Learn to live with it or fight for right and Christians must stand up and fight.

RAIDERS SHUT OUT IN PLAY-OFF OPENER

By: Joe Shouse, Sports

It would be a daunting task for Wayne Trace to complete a 2 ½ hour trip to Ashland to face the Ashland Crestview Cougars who were undefeated and the second seed in Division VI. The Raiders finished their regular season at 5-5, winners of their last three contest, to sneak in as the number 15-seed in the tournament. The Cougars would prove their lofty ranking early in the contest and cruised to a 38-0 win to move on to the second round of tournament action.

Things didn't go well from the start for the Raiders and for the most part continued throughout the game. The Raiders received the opening kick-off, unfortunately the drive consisted of just two plays when Raider QB Kyle Stoller was picked off and Crestview started their first scoring drive. The Raiders defense held the Cougars out of the end zone but a Devin Holloway field goal covering 31yards put the favored home on the board 3-0. Crestview would tack on a first quarter touchdown to take a 10-0 advantage after the initial quarter of play.

The Crestview scoring continued in the second frame with another touchdown. Hayden Kuhn connected with Caden Cunningham on a 75-yard touchdown strike to move the Cougars out in front 17-0. The score would hold at 17-0 at the break.

Needing just 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ minutes in the third period Crestview would continue to have their way while widening their margin to 24-0. A 19-yard gallop by Michael Mays had the Cougars thinking 'first round victory' while the Raiders were staring at a 24point deficit with over nine minutes remaining in the third quarter. Prior to the close of the third quarter Crestview would find pay dirt again when Kuhn found Adison Reymer open for a 21yard romp and the Cougars in control 31-0.

In the final period, Crestview would score through the air again when Kuhn spotted Tyson Ringler open on a pass covering 12 yards of real estate for the final points of the contest.

On the night Wayne Trace ran into a buzz saw defense that allowed the red, white and blue a total of 97 total yards. 50 passing and 47 yards on the ground. For the winners, who move their record to 11-0 totaled 146 passing yards and 238 rushing for a total of 384 yards of offense.

The Raiders, who finish the 2022 campaign at 5-6 will graduate 13 seniors. Playing their last game in the Raider uniform include Lane More-

By: Ron Burt

The 2022 racing season concluded at Gas City I-69 Speedway on Saturday, October 22nd on night No 2 of the Fall Festival of Speed. Despite big car counts and stiff competition, all four feature winners also won their qualifying heats. Three of the four feature winner found victory lane for the first time this year.

Pleasant Hill Ohio driver, Matt Westfall repeated his Friday night win, in the nonwinged sprint feature. This was his third 410 sprint car feature victory of the season at Gas City I-69 Speedway. He took home $3,000 for winning the 25-lap main event during the second half of the two-day, fourth annual Fall Festival of Speed, which put an exclamation point on the 2022 season. The win wasn't easy for Westfall. He had to pass Anton Hernandez of West Lafayette, Ind., twice before he sealed up his victory. Matt started on the pole in the feature. Hernandez, started outside the front row and led the first lap. Westfall took command on lap two, but the pace slowed with three laps down due to the first of two caution flags. Following the restart Westfall continued to lead. On lap five Hernandez retook the lead and by lap ten had a 1.222second lead over Westfall. Matt had cut Hernandez's advantage to just 0.505 of a second on lap 14 when the second yellow waved. Geoff Ensign of Sebastopol, CA. had powered his way into 3rd and Harley Burns of Stearleyville, Ind., and Tye Mihocko of Peoria, Ariz. had also closed in on the leaders. Westfall retook

the lead from Hernandez on the restart and led the final 10 laps. He had about a 1-second lead for most of them, but on the last lap Mihocko passed Hernandez to nail down second, and Westfall had a huge 2.046-second margin of victory. Hernandez finished third followed by Ensign and Dillon Nusbaum the 2018 track champion in the modified division, didn't look back once the green flag waved to start the UMP modified feature. He led all 20 laps and made the victory look easy. He started outside row 2, got a terrific start. The feature only had one yellow with four laps down that closed up the field. Jimmy Hayden, was second in the early going but he ran into problems with four laps down which brought out the race's only caution flag. That gave second to Tyler Loughmiller, who chased Nusbaum for the next 15 laps to no avail. Clayton Bryant passed Brian Ruhlman for third at the halfway point and finished in 3rd. Ruhlman placed 4th and Todd Sherman rounded out the top five in the 20-car field.

Andy Bishop started second in the 15-lap sportsman stocks main event and led all the way despite several vellows that wiped out his advantage. Ryan Freeland ran in second place from the start until lap nine, when Josh Litton took the runner-up position. Litton couldn't do anything with Bishop either. He was 2nd at the checkered flag. Freeland finished 3rd followed by the winningest driver in track history, James Headley and Reece Novak.

Josh Gamlin had the smallest margin of victory of all the feature winners, just 0.288 of a second, but he led all 15 laps of the hornet main event. Kaleb Hinkley took 2nd followed by Jerry Manns.

Until next week, keep your wheels down. Ron Out! ohiosportsblitz@yahoo.com

CHRISTMAS FOR KIDS 2022 SIGN UP

Christmas for Kids is a fundraising effort sponsored by iHeartRadio station Mix 98.1 and volunteers from Marine Corp League Detachment #758. Each year for the past 28 years, this campaign has provided Christmas presents for children of need in Defiance, Williams, Henry, Paulding and Fulton counties. Over 5,000 children are benefactors of Christmas for Kids each year. Starting in the first week of November through the first week in December, we work to collect toy donations and monetary donations to help the cause.

We, along with volunteers, again hope to raise thousands of dollars which will be used to provide toys, books, and other gift items for our children in need. We believe every child deserves a Christmas, and with your help we can accomplish this very special goal. Monetary donations or un-opened toys are accepted as gifts. Help make a difference in a child's life this holiday season!

This year the Paulding County sign up location has changed. It will be November 11th from 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. at the Antwerp Wrestling Gym located at 202 Archer Drive in Antwerp (next to the MAC Gym)

Please remember to bring proof of Paulding County residency as well as your child's social security card or birth certificate and if necessary, custody paperwork. Without this information we will not be able to assist you.

CFAES POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB SELLS THANKSGIVING TURKEYS FOR ANNUAL FUNDRAISER

Lindsey Okuley has been interested in chickens since she was small. A fourth-vear agricultural communications major at The Ohio State University College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES), Okuley joined her local 4-H chapter in the fifth grade and worked with the animals, going on to show them for seven years.

When she arrived at Ohio she discovered CFAES' Poultry Science Club (PSC) and has been a member since, serving in her second year as the club's secretary. She is coordinating its annual Thanksgiving turkey

"The great thing about the sale," Okuley said, "is that it supports the Poultry Science Club. People are directly supporting students."

The fundraiser, now in its 72nd year, raises money that allows the club to serve meals at meetings, host social events, conduct poultry-related career development events for the Ohio chapter of Future Farmers of America each spring; and, most importantly, send a group of students to the International Production & Processing Expo. The event is held in Georgia each year, and is the world's largest display of all things pertaining to live bird production and poultry prodeggs) processing industries. "It's a really good opportunity for our members," Okuley said. "They meet with at least one industry professional, one-on-one, and have an interview. They also get to meet other chapters from different universities, which is

Exposure to industry professionals is one of the ways that the PSC brings in new members. The other is through social events, Okuley

"We do a lot of socials," she said. "We recently went to a Columbus Blue Jackets game and were able to cover the ticket costs for everyone. Since the pandemic, we're trying to expand and do fun things. For people who are interested in poultry, the club's a no-brainer. But if someone isn't really interested in that side of things, we need to get you in the door and keep you around. So we use socials and a really good group of people to draw them in." Each year, the PSC takes about 300 orders for whole smoked turkeys, bone-in turkey breasts and whole freerange turkeys. Last year, 289 people ordered 471 products. The birds come from Bowman & Landes, a familyowned and -operated company near Dayton, Ohio.

"Every year, someone from Bowman & Landes comes to speak to the club," Okuley said. "He talks about the quality of the products and the integrity of the company. All of the turkeys are free-range, meaning they have access to pasture. He's shown us pictures. Sometimes the turkeys stay outside too long, he said. They'll just be standing in the rain because they like it so much."

The turkeys are all antibiotic-free and fed a vegetable diet, Okuley said.

"For some people, that really resonates," she said. "They like to know what the meat goes through before it gets to the dinner plate."

In addition to buying the bird they want, people ordering from the PSC can get suggestions for how to prepare it.

"When you pick up your order, we have a QR code people can scan for tips," Okuley said. "People can also ask questions. Our adviser [Michael Cressman, assistant professor in the Department of Animal Sciences] does a lot of meat science and animal science classes on campus so he knows his stuff. It's cool. You buy the bird, and you can know that when you pick it up, we'll answer all your questions."

The spirit of camaraderie is one of the things that makes the PSC special, Okuley said. It's a group that welcomes people from all majors. Current members include students pursuing degrees in fashion and retail studies, psychology, and nursing, as well as the more traditional agricultural majors.

"It's really cool where people come from, or what they're interested in," Okuley said. "They all come back together for some good food and some good people."

CHANGING FOOTPRINTS TO BE AT CHRIST CHILD FESTIVAL

Changing the World Two Feet at a Time

Changing Footprints will have a table at this year's Christ Child Festival, located in rooms A-C on 1st floor of the downtown Allen County Public Library. All are encouraged to bring in your used shoes on November 23 from 3-8, and again from 10-5 on November 25. Chervl Brockmann, leader of the local Changing Footprints shoe collection organization, reported that the group had collected 3392 pairs of shoes in October. These donations came from 26 different locations, including school and church shoe drives, shoe bins in the Allen County Libraries, local YMCAs, Indiana Physical Therapy offices, and several other sites. Changing Footprints distributed 6633 pairs of shoes to 13 different locations. They also sent many shoes to the Indianapolis office. Changing Footprints is a 100% volunteer, non-profit, without any paid staff. No one is ever charged for shoes. There are 5 main distribution locations in Indiana: Rushville, North Indy, South Indy, Greenfield, and Fort Wayne. Over 500,000 pairs of shoes have been distributed statewide by the 5 locations in the past 17 years. Shoes are collected from a variety of sources: collection bins at shoe stores, athletic facilities, businesses, and churches; and shoe drives held at schools, churches, Collecting and redistributing shoes saves them from ending up in landfills. Changing Footprints accepts all styles, types and sizes of shoes, no matter their condition. Damaged athletic shoes are converted into playground padding or running tracks through the Nike Grind program. Anyone interested in donating their used shows can find a shoe donation bin here:

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY LEADS DISCUSSION FROM LOCAL PAULDING COUNTY

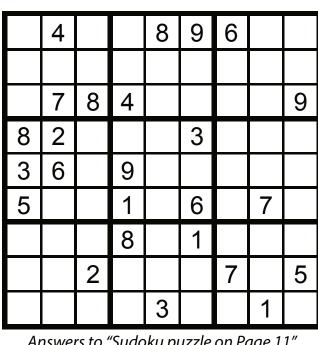

The

Antwerp/Payne/ Paulding County Community Improvement Corporation (CIC) met recently with a light agenda. The newly formed Property Assessment Committee (PAC) shared that they will soon meet to discuss potential properties for review and purchase. The discussion led into delinquent tax properties identified by the Paulding County Auditor office. Ideas were also shared in regard to review of available downtown business buildings, located around the county. Possession of commercial buildings would allow help in accommodating new businesses as needed. The CIC is additionally looking to identify a committee to review the 2023 budget and understand how much funding is allocated and how much is currently available for additional property acquisitions.

The group did a quick review of the board member list to decide what a pipeline of new members should look like. The CIC nominating The West Bend News

WESTERN OHIO

ANNOUNCES NEXT CEO

Scouts of Western Ohio's board has named Aimée Sproles as the next Chief Executive Officer of the council, succeeding Roni Luckenbill, who will retire at the end of December after 44 years with Girl Scouts.

Sproles is currently the Chief Operating Officer for Girl Scouts of San Jacinto in Houston, Texas. Like Girl Scouts of Western Ohio, the San Jacinto council is one of the largest Girl Scout councils in the country.

Sproles will join Girl Scouts of Western Ohio in December, working closely with Luckenbill to transition leadership of the council, which includes 30 counties in western Ohio and Dearborn and Ohio counties in Indiana. After Luckenbill announced her retirement in May, the board conducted an extensive national search. Sproles' passion for girls, women, and Girl Scouts shone through.

"Aimée is a visionary leader. Her breadth of experience in operations and her deep understanding of and passion for Girl Scouts will build on the strong foundation of our council and propel it forward to help more girls discover the life-changing benefits of our program," said Victoria Nilles, chair of Girl Scouts of Western Ohio's board of directors.

During her 14-year tenure in Houston, Sproles successfully managed membership, programming, product program, property management, oping and executing longrange strategic plans, problem-solving, and building and maintaining relationships. She is highly regarded across the Girl Scout Movement and participates in many national leadership roles. "I am thrilled to join Girl Scouts of Western Óhio and follow in Roni's footsteps," Sproles said. "I look forward to planting roots in southwestern Ohio and continuing the council's efforts to ensure that every girl has the opportunity to grow in courage, confidence, and character as she builds lifelong leadership Prior to Girl Scouts, Sproles worked for IBM Global Services and PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) Consulting. A Certified Public Accountant, she holds degrees from Trinity University in business administration and Russian. In 2021, she received a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Workplace Certificate from the University of South Florida.

Sproles has been an active community volunteer, dedicating time to the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, her faith community, and other youth development organizations. She is a Lifetime Member of Girl Scouts, and a member of Leadership Houston Class XXVI and the Houston chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

snowplow truck." Eight unique names will be assigned to eight snowplow trucks in service at maintenance buildings located in Pioneer, Swanton, Elmore, Castalia, Amherst, Richfield, Windham, and Canfield along the 241-mile Ohio Turnpike.

IH PICK EM UP

By: James Neuhouser I shall never forget the day that we came home from Hicksville with a brand new International Harvester Pickup. We farmed with a Farmall H, and they had a dealer at Leo but occasionally we would have to search for parts at Hicksville. The dealership building is still standing, with its large showroom window, and I see it every time I drive through and park to eat at McDonald's.

This shiny new 1951, blue international Harvester pickup was in the showroom. We bought it in 1952, as it had not been sold the previous year. It was the previous year's model. It was a one ton pick up with a creeper gear with the shift on the floor. It had a top speed of 50 mph. It was geared so low you could plow or disk, and it spent many of its days in the field.

This pickup became my date machine. A source of freedom from the world. My dad also had a new four-door Dodge Coronet, but that was a boat, and I almost prefered the pick up. There was always something to drive, and there was always gas in the farm

I got my driver's license the day I turned 16. At that time, Grabill had a license bureau in the bottom of the bank. My birthday is in the middle of the summer, and we were busy making hay. I drove myself to the license bureau and waited in line a block long, that went north those days it was run quite efficiently. Only to find out I had to have a parent sign. I hurried back home and convinced my mother to go with me, and I was a licensed driver.

I had taken driver training at Leo high School, which was a hoot. We boys had driven from a young age and had a ball watching the girls struggle with the straight stick which was in our brand new Ford. Our instructor was quite a unique character, and we frequently made a hot dog run to Coney Island. My dad later had a 61 international pickup that was nearly the same as the old 51, and I became the proud owner of the old pickup. I drove it until I had to get a better one, and was amazed when Garmater's junkyard used it to haul their welder for years afterward. I guess you might say they don't make them like that anymore. I've always thought if they made new 55 Chevy Bel-Airs, I would buy two of them.

In those days we took a senior trip to New York City and Washington DC. This practice was stopped just a couple of years after we graduated. Some of the students got into trouble and had to be sent home, and that was the end of senior trips. We spent 4 years raising money, and one of the things we did was have a paper drive, in the good old days when everyone took a newspaper. I can't imagine paper being worth much today. We also gleened fields for ear corn. In the days when they were just beginning to have corn pickers, seems they missed a lot of

PAULDING COUNTY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT HOSTS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Paulding County Economic Development (PCED) office recently hosted their annual Business and Industry Appreciation Banquet. Over 200 guests gathered at Grant's Catering in Antwerp to network and join in the evening

Key-note speaker for the evening was Dr. Marty Miller, Superintendent of Antwerp Local School. Dr. Miller shared his Paulding County upbringing and compared the vast difference in today's business climate with the climate when he graduated in the early 1980's. Dr. Miller emphasized that culture trumps strategy, noting that the current business culture dictates future decisions for graduates each year. As a Paulding County graduate, and now working with today's youth, Dr. Miller has seen both ends of the spectrum first-hand.

PCED Office Manager Kristen Schilt presented four new county business videos to market the businesses to the group. The videos for Ties & Bows Craft Shop, Antwerp; Pin-A-Rama Bowling, Diner & Pizza, Antwerp; Fur-Tastic Pups Dog Grooming, Cecil; and Maid to Achieve Cleaning Services, Paulding were created in conjunction with the Paulding Putnam Electric Co-op marketing team, PCED Board member Sarah Noggle and Schilt.

Economic Development Director Tim Copsey introduced PCED board members: Larry Manz, President, representing business and industry; Jim States, Vice-President, Development Oakwood Corp; Jeff Mumma, Treasurer, Financial Institutions; Sarah Noggle, Secretary, OSU Extension; Mike Kauser, Township Association; Bud Koenig, Planning Commission; Greg White, Mayors Association; George Carter, Paulding Community Improvement Corporation; Brett Wagner, at-large member; Ryan Whitaker, at-large member; Don Oberlin, Antwerp/

Payne/Paulding County Community Improvement Corporation; and Joe Burkard, legal council but non-voting mem-

Copsey shared many incredible statistics in regard to the 2022 business success of Paulding County. It was presented in the annual report that the current investment membership includes 234 business and individual entities from around the region. There were ten of those businesses identified by having been investment members of PCED for 20 years: Arthur Mutual Telephone Company, Paulding County Carnegie Library, Pleasant Valley Golf Course, Insource Technologies, Harrison Township, Tri-County Roofing, H.E.Orr Company, Village of Antwerp, Village of Cecil and the Village of Paulding.

Additionally, there was $65,302,241 capital investment reported by businesses in the county. Another point was that there have been 22 commercial property sales reported in the county this year. This brings the 3-year total to 56 properties changing hands since 2020.

Also noted was 191.92 new miles of fiber-optic cable put into the ground in 2022 with additional projects still being submitted. The hope is to use high speed internet as a draw to keep young people in the county and to offer an opportunity to bring back those that work from home.

Copsey then shared a narrative of how the business climate may change in the future with two 1000+ acre "mega" development sites within 20 miles of Paulding County. One is located just east of the Paulding County line in Defiance County, and the other in Van Wert County along US30. The development of one, or both of these sites, could drastically change and affect the Paulding County economy unless we plan ahead. There was additional presentation in regard to the subject. PCED board President

Larry Manz opened the event by welcoming attendees and sharing that for the second consecutive year, the economic development office posted 30% income growth over the previous year. Following the Pledge of Allegiance and prayer, a nourishing meal was served by Grant's. Wonderful dinner music was provided by Vivace String Duo.

PC CARNEGIE LIBRARY HELPS DIVINE MERCY SCHOOL FUNDRAISER
